Charlevoix county's allottment for April is approximately $15,000 for direct and work relief. The county welfare commission meets Wednesday, right at Boyne City to arrange details of the program. A committee will be appointed to settle upon an equitable wage scale. Future monthly allottments are unknown at this time.

April 15th has been set as the date for the completion of clerical details connected with the old CWA program and an appropriation of $522 has been allowed for this work. Several members of the office force have been discharged.

It is understood all uncompleted projects will be finished, especially those where material has already been purchased. However, no new projects will be accepted. It is unlikely the new program will reduce the number employed, but it will cut down the amount of the payrolls.

Ladies' Extension Groups Will Meet April 10 and 11

Over 200 ladies in this county will complete their 1933-34 project on clothing with two leader's training meetings scheduled for April 10 at Charlevoix, and April 11 at Boyne City.

For many months the ladies in the various communities have been busily engaged in carrying out the requirements of the project and are now approaching achievement day, which is the big event of the year. At these two meetings the definite plans will be made as to the location of the achievement day and the other plans necessary to make it a success.

Northwestern Michigan Radish Seed Growers' Assn. Hold Meeting

The members making up the organization of radish seed producers in Charlevoix county met Friday to discuss plans for the 1934 season. This small group started out last year to sell their own production and not contract through large seed organizations. The production in 1933 was rather light because of the extremely dry weather and as a result only 4,000 pounds were available for sale.

The farmers have verbally agreed to proportionately share in both expenses and receipts. They always maintain or ship all their own seed, therefore, are not at a loss when their seed is not sold as they still have it at the warehouse, where in the old system, seed is sent to the big seed houses and if rejected for any reason, they have the seed and the farmers get nothing out of it.

The results thus far have been very encouraging. Half of last year's production has already been sold at a considerably higher price than has been paid to those who contracted. Fifty acres will be raised this year by those in this organization and for the first time, two fields of certified seed will be raised which will develop a market never before developed.

Last year a seed plot was put in from transplanted stock and in the greenhouse trials, this seed has turned out better than seed developed by the big seed houses with one exception. It is felt that this little association will develop as the years go by and afford an outlet for a much larger production of radish seed.

He outlined what had been done with the reduction of wheat, cotton, tobacco and the present corn-hog reduction program as well as the dairy program which will start shortly after the first of April.

"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 8.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 32:28): "And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel: for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 298): "To material sense, the unreal is the real until this sense is corrected by Christian Science. Spiritual sense, contradicting the material senses, involves intuition, hope, faith, understanding, fruition, reality."

YESTERDAY and TODAY

WHO would want to go back to the standards of even a generation ago. We have travelcd far since then. Inventions and scientific discoveries have furnished the principal vehicles: New conveniences, improved merchandise, better foods, added health-conserving means.

But the thing which has hastened us on to the knowledge and acceptance of their benefits is advertising. It has brought new things quickly to all of us and sped us toward a different, better mode of living.

Modern advertising sells us, not only things, but IDEAS. The advertising of soaps has sold us the health advantages of more frequent bathing. The advertising of modern bathroom equipment has made bathing a singful pleasure.

The advertising of improved razors and beard softeners has made whisking off whiskers a simple daily ditty instead of a weekly major operation.

Tooth-paste, tooth-brush and mouth-wash manufacturers and retailers are saving us untold aches and years of marred smiles, by advertising the importance of oral hygiene.

As a result of the advertising of food manufacturers and purveyors, we have escaped from the drowsy dullness caused by heavy breakfasts and are full of forenoon vim and clear-headedness.

The clothes we wear, furniture we use, fuel we burn, car we drive, telephone we've installed—all these would not so quickly have come home to us, were it not for the silent but irresistible force of advertising.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from unwise dosing with harsh cathartics may cause bowel strain, and even set up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be safely relieved in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.

Coats on the Spring Style Program

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE calendar declaring advent of spring, the thermometer contradicting the glad news by registering winter's lingering touch, and in the meantime the spring style parade schedules for an early date—what to wear, aye, that's the question! With what tantalizing persistence does the clothes problem disturb our peace of mind at this time of the year.

However, here's to take cheer, for we believe you will agree with us that in the perfectly stunning topcoats in the picture we find the answer. It is not only that the soft, downy light-as-a-feather rabbit worsteds which fashion these coats assure protection against almost anything which is apt to happen in the way of weather, but when it comes to "looks" it would be difficult to conceive of a new spring outfit which could surpass either of these distinctive models.

Both are developed in reversible fabric of soft rabbit woolen, with one side pastel monotone and the other side plaided in harmonizing shades. This type of material is well suited to the draped lines favored for spring, being especially adaptable to the styling of the hood or monk collars, which so smartly detail many of the newer coats. The fabric feels very soft against the flesh, having only the finest rabbit fur woven into it. In its modernized version it has no resemblance to the so-called hairy fabrics introduced last fall, which were oftimes rough in surface and inclined to feel scratchy. Combining as it does, light weight with warmth, weaves of rabbit woolen are acceptable for wear from now into late spring and then-some.

Nor has the half been told of the charm of this material since mere black and white print fails to convey the message of beguiling color which these reversible weaves carry. The very spirit of spring breathes through the lovely pastel monotones reversed as they are with large plaids in harmonizing shades. All you have to do is to know your colors and the salespeople will do the rest, placing before your eager eyes either the materials to be bought by the yard or the very garments themselves, styled as in the illustration, of rabbit worsteds in exquisitely springlike grayed greens such as stand foremost on fashion's color carol, or in the misty pastel hues which are of wide appeal or mayhap in a voguish dusky pink, or if you prefer in one of the new yellowish tones which spell chic with emphasis, the color symphony ever enhanced with a blended reverse plaiding.

In the model to the left the coat and long cape are made all in one. It is interesting to note, too, that the coat part is backless to the waist, so that the cape clings closely at the shoulders. The wrap-around effect is characteristic of this season's slenderized silhouettes.

The shorter caped ensemble to the right is styled along unusual lines. The unique side closing with buttons which look like shells from the seashore, and the standup collar which fences the throat are smart features. The plaid-lined cape is made with long belt-ends which pull through a slit at the back, tieing at the front casually and adjustably, so that the garment can be fitted exactly to the wearer's figure. A one-piece dress with elbow-length sleeves is worn under this cape. It has a high neck closing with a narrow tie of the reversible fabric swatches of the plaid appearing on the tops of two little pockets.

FOR HER TROUSSEAU

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

This lovely nightdress, you'd almost think it a summer evening gown, was one shown at the spring fashion openings in Paris. It is exquisitely made and would bring joy to the heart of any debutante. For the spring bride's trousseau it is ideal. It is fashioned of pale blue georgette. The same choice lace which makes the shoulder ruffles and yoke, is cut out to form the double hand incrustations and the cunning bow tie.

Spring Fabrics

New fabrics include "feathered" organdies barred and dotted with cotton chenille, and organdies embroidered in big chenille dots for summer evening frocks.

FEMININE STYLES LOSE MASCULINITY

Dresses are finally appearing without mannish cut. A whole parade of little beauties wear sports outfits that are soft and breezy with ruffles.

The tie silks, which a year ago would simply have shrieked masculine attire, are this year's feminine delights. Whether soft or stiff tie silk, the collars are ruffled or pleated. This frilly touch takes care of all the trimming touches on the dresses.

It's a positive fact now that spring is to be lively, and very hot tamale. The Mexican style and coloring have caught on in a bright way.

In the sports department the two-piece dress is being shown in a tuck-in style with the top and the skirt in different colors. It's a nice idea as it offers an alternative blouse. If you don't like this idea, you can trim the blouse with the skirt fabric, giving it a nice ensemble touch.

Bows at Heels Are Fad in Spring Footwear Styles

The back of the shoe will have no reason to feel slighted this spring, in keeping with the extensive use of bows at the back of dresses, new footwear styles include dainty little bows at the heels.

In some of the styles this new heel bow is of ribbon matching the dress in color and carried through loops at the side of the shoe.

Shankless kid open pumps, with no sole under the arch, are another innovation in footwear fashions—one on which a designer is said to have spent five years of experimentaiton. Instead of a sole the upper of the shoe is brought down under the arch and seamed.

Spring Note in Scarfs

Scarfs of crinkled taffeta ribbon, of fluffy chenille wound around the throat or of shining cravat silk sound a springtime note contrasting with winter styles.

Matter of Diet and Weight

Abundant Proof That It Is Not Always the Amount of Food Eaten That Regulates the State of Fat; Definite Program Needed.

Again comes a headline in a newspaper: "Scientist says weight is merely a matter of calories—all fat persons eat too much." Well, all of us know some people who eat largely and remain thin, and vice versa.

When I have talked to some of the research workers after hearing a lecture with the above text, I find that practically all of their experiences have been with persons who are so fat that they are obese. The specialists talk glibly about reducing people 50 to 100 or more pounds. They speak of original weights of 350 to 400 pounds. I have never been able to get them to commit themselves about cases of persons slightly over normal who would like to be thinner for the sake of comfort and beauty. Until I do I shall go on believing that there are some other facts besides the amount of food eaten, which regulates the state of fat.

There is one other admitted factor now, and that is, of course, exercise. Light diet, combined with exercises, if followed regularly, is most certain to bring results. People, however, sometimes get tired walking, as in some cases it takes several weeks to begin to lose, while water replaces fat in tissues. Not long ago some one wrote to ask me what I thought of the use of glandular extracts in weight reduction. That is, of course, a question for a physician, but it has been shown that what will work with one person will have no effect upon another, perhaps because the activity of the extract is destroyed by the digestive juices. Sometimes two or more glandular extracts will be combined in treatment under the almost daily supervision of the physician—sometimes there are the desired results—and sometimes not.

Dieting also should usually be done under the direction of a physician. The specialists who work with really obese persons find it necessary to have them under hospital care, not only to see that the principle of the prescribed diet is followed but to see that no more food than is ordered is given sympathizing families. Persons who are slightly overweight must depend upon their own self-control in the selection of food.

It is however, much easier to follow a definite program made out by the doctor or dietitian than to attempt to follow orders by cutting down quantities just anywhere and any way.

The reason some published schemes of diet have worked in some cases is usually because diet directions were specified. If a plan is not definite enough, there may be one of them quite different in results—either too much food to reduce really, or too little food for health, may be taken.

A man told me the other day that he had been able to reduce his weight naturally by the simple method of giving up going out for lunch, and instead, having a bottle of milk sent in. One woman takes one day each week for a diet of fruit alone, and says she keeps fit. Another woman gave up eating all sweets and bread. The most pleasant and generally most practical method is to reduce sweet or starchy foods, and fats, to a minimum, at all three meals. It is a good plan to take a cupful of hot bouillon, or tea, or a glass of milk between the frugal meals. In the meals themselves should remain plenty of fruit and vegetables.

Foamy Omelet.

6 eggs
6 tablespoons water
Pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter

Separate the eggs and beat the whites until stiff. To the yolks add the seasonings and the water. Beat until light. Cut and fold the whites into this mixture and pour into a hot pan in which the butter has been melted. Cook slowly, shaking the pan, until brown underneath, and place on the grate of the oven until dry on top. Fold and serve on a hot platter with tomato and onion sauce.

Mineral Mayonnaise.

¼ teaspoon mustard
1 teaspoon salt
Cayenne
½ teaspoon sugar
1 egg yolk
Lemon juice
Vinegar
1 cup mineral oil

Mix the dry ingredients and add the yolk of egg. Mix well and add one-half teaspoonful of vinegar. Add the oil gradually, drop by drop at first, then more quickly, beating with an egg beater. As the mixture thickens, thin with lemon juice or vinegar and continue adding oil. Mix with the materials for salad just before serving.

Spinach Salad.

1 pint boiled spinach
2 hard cooked eggs
Special french dressing

Chop the spinach. Chop separately the whites and yolks of the eggs and arrange them, mixed in little mounds on the spinach. Pour over the salad a french dressing.

Wolf Wins Honors as Super "Police Dog"

Around the world has gone the fame of a wolf, probably the sole illustrious wolf on record, and it is in a Chinese magazine that one learns of him now, though he lives in Austria, and rates as Europe's smartest, says the Literary Digest.

He was a cub in the Bosnian woods when a Vienna police clerk, out hunting, captured him six years ago, and began to train him with animals already in service. Last year the wolf took first prize at an international police dog show, making not a single mistake in tests for training, skill, and accuracy. He had won more than two hundred prizes before that.

Commenting on his brilliant career, the China Journal remarked, "We are not surprised to learn of this wolf's accomplishments, for it is the experience of every hunter who has matched his wits against wolves that they are possessed of an intelligence which is uncanny in its human qualities, and to it is added super-sharpened senses of hearing and smell as well as an unerring instinct in detecting danger from man. Unquestionably the so-called Alsatian owes its superior intelligence to the fact that it is little more than a domesticated wolf, notwithstanding that many lovers of this breed hold views to the contrary."

Canadian Butter

The butter exports in 1933 from Canada amounted to about 4,000,000 pounds, most of which went to the British Isles.

FABRIC STICKS TO METAL

A worker at a prominent institute has devised a method of combining metal with any sort of fibrous material by means of a metal adhesive consisting of certain low-melting alloys which will cling to both metal and fiber without affecting the properties of either. One of the first commercial results of the development is a form of corrugated roofing in which sheet metal is protected on either side by asbestos fiber firmly attached. Other materials such as wool, felt or paper, can be bonded equally well to metal.

Manchu Bible Useless

One hundred years ago the English Bible society, at great expense, put an edition of the Bible in the Manchu language, then the official language of the Chinese court and government. When sent to China the books were found useless, as the Manchus were able to read Chinese, preferring Chinese to their own language, which had become almost confined to official use only.

THE BRAIN TRUST

We are inclined to believe that the accusations hurled against the "brain trust" will more or less disappear into thin air when the real facts become known. It might be conceivable that some of the members of this overrated body of trained intelligence, who were to keep the world from destruction through academic pronulgations, may have because of the publicity given them a few months ago visioned a Stalin in Washington, but that need not cause anybody alarm. Today most of them have returned to their classrooms and the rest are likely to follow shortly. Good old American self reliance and grit, combined with native common sense, is what is going to eventually bring us out of this muddle and if we are to have practical conduct of national affairs the professors will have a hard time fitting into the picture.

WHAT ABOUT TAXES?

If government ownership of power plants and railroads is established, from what source can many subdivisions of government hope to secure needed revenue heretofore furnished by power and railroad taxes? Railroad taxes in some communities and counties have been the sole support of their public schools. Without this revenue the activity and well being of these communities will be seriously impaired.—From the Manufacturers Record.

STATE DOES NOT FURNISH ANY FREE SEED

Issue Statement Because of Very Frequent Requests

The state department of agriculture reports that it not infrequently receives requests for information as to where free garden seeds may be obtained.

There is no federal or state agency distributing free garden seeds. In some instances the seeds may be obtained from the county. In the case of a farmer who needs money for seed, fertilizer, spraying materials, etc., application should be made to the secretary-treasurer of the Production Credit association of the district in which he is located, the entire state being divided for this purpose into eighteen districts.

Further information relative to this matter may be obtained from the department of agriculture.

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

Official certification of the special election to be held April 30 on the question of authorizing the expenditure of $37,874,458 for state unemployment relief, was made last week by the department of state.

Election instructions sent to county clerks did not mention the controversial subject of qualification of voters. New state laws permit only taxpayers to cast ballots on elections involving issuance of bonds, and the attorney general has given an opinion that only real and personal property taxpayers will be qualified to vote on April 30. The method of deciding which voters are taxpayers, is to be left to local election officials.

The state makes money by spending money. This statement is substantiated by records of the gasoline tax division of the department of state. In 1931, a total of $23,830,271 was collected at a cost of 22/100 per cent, while $2,333,187 was paid out in refunds.

In 1932, $119,000 was spent in pressing the state's suit to collect $1,600,000 from the Standard Oil company. $21,757,834 was collected in taxes but due to a more rigid system of investigating refund applications, refunds were reduced to $1,359,385. Because of the cost of the law suit and the additional cost of investigating refunds, the cost of collection amounted to 51/100 per cent.

Last year $20,460,256 was collected at a cost of 4/10 per cent, while refunds were reduced to $1,001,798.

These records show that by the additional expenditure of about $55,000 a year, the state's net revenue has been increased by more than $1,000,000 a year.

EMMET SPORTSMEN SEEK DUCK REFUGE

Suggest West End of Burt Lake, Crooked River, As Site

Petoskey sportsmen have mailed letters to the state and federal waterfowl commissions asking there be established duck and wild fowl refuges in this region.

Under the new wild fowl stamp tax act money will be raised through a federal stamp on hunting licenses to establish bird refuges and Petoskey suggests one on the west end of Burt lake, on Crooked river or Round lake.

Petoskey sportsmen declare these waters are on the direct route of the flight of thousands of ducks from Canadian waters to Saginaw bay and Lake St. Clair marshes, and believes that if a refuge is established that it will quickly become one of the largest on the Great Lakes.

The letters to the Michigan department of conservation all carried this information, it is said.

Other spots suggested are Pickerel lake and Crooked lake.

BASKETBALL TEAM IS HONORED AT BANQUET

Affair Given Last Wednesday Night at Monte's Cafe

Over fifty attended the banquet given Wednesday evening at Monte's Cafe in honor of Coach Ray Kipke and members of the Charlevoix high school basketball team. All members of the 1933-34 squad were present with the exception of Bob Pearl, who was unable to attend because of illness.

An excellent banquet dinner was served. The menu and decorations were in the school colors, red and white. Several responded with brief remarks in praise of the team and its record when called upon by City Attorney Rollie L. Lewis, who acted as chairman of the banquet. The evening was a very enjoyable one for all attending.

TAME PARTRIDGES WAKEN THEIR FRIEND FOR MEALS

Bill King, the bird king, whose home is near Burt Lake, has again this winter been feeding the partridges. He has been doing this several years, but this year his number of birds is larger than ever. He believes he now has about 100 birds which come to his home early every morning. Many times they are there for breakfast before Mr. King is up and they will fly on his windows and doors and awaken him. Mr. King is probably the only man who has ever tamed the wild partridge to eat from his hand. Several years ago the department of conservation had moving pictures of Mr. King and his partridges taken. The feed for these birds is furnished by the conservation department. — Emmet County Graphic.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Keep Your Baby Well

You can prevent your baby from being sick—not always—but in very many cases.

The large majority of babies are well when they are born. The big problem is how to keep them well.

Preventing illness in babies is frequently much easier than curing it.

Many diseases of babyhood are much less common today than they used to be because modern science has found out how they can be prevented. Some diseases can be prevented by feeding the baby properly and by giving him plenty of direct sunlight and some by vaccinating or inoculating him with a protective substance. Some diseases can be avoided only by keeping the baby from contact with persons who have them and by keeping flies and other insects away from him, for these insects carry disease. Sterilizing all artificial food and everything that he is likely to put in his mouth—sterilization through boiling—is recommended as a sound preventative measure.

Regularity in the care of the baby and the establishment of routine health habits are necessary if the baby is to be kept well. The daily round of bathing, dressing, feeding, sleep, outdoor life, including sun baths, play, exercise and elimination must always be regular. These are some of the things that physicians and Miss Winnifred Colley, the Charlevoix county nurse, have been stressing in their visits to mothers.

To keep a baby well there should be continued supervision by a doctor trained in the care of babies. The mother cannot know or recognize many of the early signs of trouble because she is not trained to do this and because she is too near the baby and sees him too often to realize that any change is taking place. The doctor, who sees the baby once or twice a month, or the nurse, looks at him with a trained eye and can see whether he is rosy as usual or is becoming a little pale, whether he is active as he should be, or whether he shows other early signs that are the fore-runners of trouble.

A mother cannot know just when her particular baby needs to have his food changed or increased, nor when is the best time for her baby to be protected against diphtheria and vaccinated against smallpox. Such things as these the doctor will know and his advice is of the greatest importance to every mother who would keep her baby well.

The doctor's supervision of a baby, supplemented by that of a nurse if one is available, as one is in Charlevoix county, should begin as soon as the baby is born.

Grow More and Bigger and Better Chicks

Allen G. Cummins of Calhoun county has his own figures to prove Mermash is the No. 1 starting and growing mash for him. Couple of season ago he tested by feeding one batch of chicks Mermash and at the same time another batch a nationally advertised starter, usually selling for more money. Here's what happened:

Age Chicks in Weeks	Mermash 16% Chicks	Other Ration Chicks
2	3.40 oz.	3.12 oz.
3	6.05 oz.	5.17 oz.
4	10.15 oz.	7.02 oz.

Only Mermash contains Pacific ocean kelp (a plant) and ocean fish meal, both rich in digestible iodine and other minerals essential for health and growth. Michigan crops and soils lack these elements.

"HOW SOON CAN YOU PUT OUR TELEPHONE BACK IN?"

We are asked this question many times daily. For people have missed the convenience and protection of telephone service. They have missed both the social and business advantages of having a telephone in their homes.

They have found it inconvenient, and often embarrassing, to use a neighbor's telephone. They have learned that the extra carfare, driving expense and cost of public telephone calls would more than pay for a telephone of their own.

Fifty Famous Frontiersmen

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

An Adventurous Ice Man

IN THE spring of 1831 some of the citizens of Boston were vastly amused at a camp that had been established on an island in Boston harbor. For Nathaniel J. Wyeth, an enterprising merchant who had made a great success in the ice business, was planning to engage in salmon fishing and fur trading in the Pacific Northwest, and in the island camp he was trying to train the men of his expedition for their future careers in the Wild West.

He had prevailed upon some fellow-Bostonians to outfit a ship which would sail around Cape Horn to the mouth of the Columbia river while he was leading his expedition overland. His Yankee ingenuity had devised an amphibious wagon to travel both on land and water, but when he reached St. Louis in the autumn of 1831, the jeering laughter of seasoned trappers and traders there who knew the western country caused him to abandon his queer vehicle.

At Independence Wyeth's company fell in with a party of trappers led by William Sublette and Robert Campbell, who allowed the eastern tenderfoot to travel with them up into Wyoming where the "down easters" received some unexpected thrills in battles with hostile Blackfeet. Some of Wyeth's men deserted him but he pushed on and in October, 1832, reached Fort Vancouver, only to find that the expected ship had been wrecked and he was stranded in the wilderness. But Dr. John McLoughlin, Hudson's Bay company factor at Vancouver, received the destitute Americans hospitably and gave them food.

Undismayed by this experience, Wyeth returned to Boston, organized another expedition, sent out another ship and set out again across the continent.

In the summer of 1834 he built a fort on the Snake river in Idaho to which was given the name of Fort Hall. Leaving part of his men here, Wyeth pushed on and built another, named Fort Williams, on an island at the mouth of the Willamette. This time his ship did arrive safely and he started on his trading enterprise. But he had not counted on the competition of the Hudson's Bay company and this soon forced him out of business. Finally, on the eve of the panic of 1837, he gave up his dreams of profit in Oregon and returned to his ice business in Boston. But his labors had not been in vain. To him fell the honor of raising at Fort Hall the first American flag ever to float over that part of the country. Some of the men he left behind in Oregon stayed there to farm and formed the nucleus of the settlements which were later to make that country American rather than British territory.

The Bents of Bent's Fort

WHAT Fort Laramie was to the Oregon trail, Bent's fort on the Arkansas was to the Santa Fe trail. It was a landmark for pilgrims to the New Mexican capital; it is one outstanding name in all the literature dealing with that historic highway into the West; though the fort itself has long since passed away, its name is a perpetual memorial to four brothers and more especially to one of them, William Bent.

William, George, Robert and Charles Bent were scions of Massachusetts Puritan stock. Their father, Silas Bent, settled in St. Louis about 1804 and became the first district judge in that city. Living in the "fur capital" led his sons naturally into that business.

In 1826 the four Bents and Ceran and Marcellin St. Vrain, French-Canadians, built a trading post on the Upper Arkansas between the present cities of Pueblo and Canon City, Colo. Finding it necessary to be nearer the best hunting grounds, they moved down the river two years later, and began to erect the giant adobe structure which was to become so famous.

When it was completed in 1832 they gave it the name of Fort William, in honor of William Bent, who by this time had emerged as the natural leader of the company. But visitors to it—trappers, traders, explorers, army officers—called it Bent's fort and that name stuck. Expansion of their business called the two St. Vrains and the other three Bents elsewhere much of the time, but William Bent remained in his citadel of the plains.

He married a Cheyenne Indian woman and when she died, he married her sister. His influence over all the tribes grew and grew. "His integrity, his truthfulness on all occasions and his remarkable courage endeared him to the red and white man alike, and Fort William prospered wonderfully under his careful and just management," says one historian who knew him.

In 1852 the War department tried to buy the fort. Finally, tired of their haggling ways Bent set fire to the fort and the gunpowder which he left to blow it up. Then he moved farther down the Arkansas to Big Timbers and there built a stone fort in which he continued his trading operations until 1859 when he sold it to the government, who changed its name to Fort Wise and later to Fort Lyon. Bent died on the ranch of his son-in-law near the present city of Las Animas May 19, 1869, and lies buried in the country where his fort made his name famous throughout the West.

DEFINES BANKERS' PART IN RECOVERY

Head of American Bankers Association Assures the President of Confidence and Desire to Cooperate Among Bankers

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Roosevelt in his address before the NRA conference here on March 6 announced that he had received the following telegram from Francis M. Law, President of the American Bankers Association:

"On this your first anniversary please allow me in behalf of the country's banks to express our full confidence and our sincere desire to cooperate in your courageous efforts to bring about recovery. The banking structure of the country is sound and liquid and banks have never been in stronger position to function effectively. Conditions have improved to the point where it is no longer necessary for banks to be super-liquid. There is a definite call now for banks, not to extend loose credits or to make improper loans, but for a most sympathetic attitude toward legitimate credit needs and for a recognition of responsibility for their proper and vital part in the program of recovery."

The Soundness of Banking

In an address before a recent trust conference of the association's Trust Division in New York, Mr. Law said:

"A depression cannot long survive a sound banking structure if the banking structure is responsive to legitimate needs and functions in a way that is virile and alive. The most cheering fact of the present situation is the knowledge that banks are in strong position.

"Recovery, even to the most pessimistic, is no longer a myth or a rumor, nor is it merely psychological. Abundant evidence and proof lie on every hand—tangible proof. With a return of confidence the wheels have begun to go round and a great many well managed businesses may look for a profit during this calendar year with fair assurance at least. For what has been achieved let us thank the President, who has labored with courage and patience and vision. Let us thank the Congress, whose members during the emergency have put the public welfare above partisanship. Let us thank one hundred twenty-five million of our own citizens who have refused to be stampeded, but rather who have kept alive the divine spark of faith and hope.

Cause for Confidence

"We may reasonably expect that the recent action of the government in stabilizing the dollar will have a marked tendency to encourage industrial and other business commitments. Business men need not be so exclusively engaged in taking counsel of their fears now that uncertainty does not haunt them.

"Much has been said about the loosing of credit by banks. During the acute period of the depression banks for the most part have not been lending normally, nor should they be blamed. With public confidence shattered the banker was properly concerned in liquidity, having in mind his primary obligation to pay off deposits. The situation has improved to the point where superliquidity no longer seems necessary. Conditions have materially changed. Banks will desire, for every reason, to return to a more normal lending policy. This means a sympathetic attitude and a recognition of responsibility for his proper part in the program of recovery by the banker as he passes upon and meets sound credit requirements of business as it swings into and continues on the upward turn."

Public Confidence Returns

Direct information indicates conclusively that the banking situation is showing definite and steady improvement, J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency of the United States, said in a recent address. He pointed out that the decided drop which has occurred in money in circulation shows the public has largely ceased hoarding.

On March 1, 1934, the Federal Reserve Board reported that the volume of money in circulation amounted to $5,355,000,000, which was a decline of $1,077,000,000 since March 1, 1933. It was a drop of $2,226,000,000, or over 29 per cent from the all-time peak of $7,581,000,000 reached on March 13, 1933. About one-half the decrease, it was pointed out, reflected the return of currency from the public.

Money in circulation declined rapidly after the reopening of the banks in March, 1933, and has continued since to decline from week to week, "notwithstanding the increase in the demand for currency arising from enlargement of pay rolls and increase in the volume of retail trade," the Comptroller said, which, he added, "indicates a continued return of money from hoards as banking facilities were reestablished."

THE DAIRY

NOT ALL ANIMALS REVEAL INFECTION

But Losses by Abortion Can Be Minimized.

This question has been asked us: "Is it advisable to attempt to rid a herd of contagious abortion by selling every cow as soon as she aborts?"

Little or no benefit will be secured from any such program, because many animals that have the infection present do not give any evidence of it and cannot be detected except by a blood test.

Doctor Metzger of the New York State College of Agriculture suggests that breeders who are unable to use the blood test to detect the disease, can reduce their losses by the following practices:

Isolate every aborting animal.

If possible have a maternity stall with a concrete floor and clean and disinfect it thoroughly.

Raise no replacements on the farm except the herd sire. Research shows that heifers born of an aborting dam have the infection at birth, but by the seventh or eighth month the infection generally leaves. After breeding, they become highly susceptible.

Everything should be done to guard the bred heifer from taking the infection into her system. This means watering them only in the barn lot while on pasture.

All cows and heifers should be pastured separately from all outside stock, for aborting animals will often infect all bred animals in the pasture.

For replacements, some dairymen are buying four and five-year old cows hoping that they have had abortion. Generally such cows are not as susceptible to the infection as heifers.—American Agriculturist.

Testing Necessary for Keeping Check on Cows

In these days of banks uncertainty how long would a banker last if he simply accepted the deposits that were offered and cashed the checks that were drawn on his bank, without going to the trouble and expense of keeping a check on each customer and entering each transaction in his records?

It sounds ridiculous, doesn't it, but it is no more ridiculous than for a dairyman to say he can't afford to test his cows simply because prices are down and conditions trying. The banker individualizes each account. If you are one of his customers and you write a check to pay the gas bill when there is no balance in your account, the check does not pay the account and possibly you will go in bad.

In like manner, the successful dairyman will individualize his cows; and when he is not keeping the deposits of feed and care up to standard, the cow is going to return the drafts marked "Insufficient Funds;" or, if she is doing her part up to the letter all the time and the cow isn't honoring the checks, then there is something wrong, and the cow herself is very apt to be in bad.—H. E. Colby, in Iowa C. T. A. Report.

Two Horses Per Farm Is Illinois Estimate

With only enough horses being raised in the United States to maintain an average of two to the farm, a horse shortage looms in the near future, according to H. C. M. Case, farm management department, University of Illinois. During the past 12 years the number of horses on farms has been cut one-third by the introduction of power machinery. In the main this substitution has been economical, he points out. However, it is reasonable to believe that an average of two horses for each farm in the United States will not be adequate for economical power supplies in the future, he points out.

Present low prices of feed is a factor which should encourage an increase in horse and mule production.

Low prices for eggs have led to a more rapid disposal of hens than is normal at this season. This has accomplished an unusual reduction in the number of hens and pullets in farm flocks.

FEED COWS MORE HAY TO GET LESS BUTTER

Farmers Sign Contracts Lower Production Can Use Method

One way in which Michigan dairymen can qualify for the benefit payments to be paid to those who sign contracts to reduce the amount of dairy products is to change their feeding program from intensive use of concentrate to more liberal use of roughages, according to the dairy department at Michigan State college.

This means is also recommended by O. E. Reed, chief of the bureau of dairy industry, U. S. D. A. Mr. Reed was formerly head of the dairy department at Michigan State and is thoroughly familiar with the problems facing the dairy industry. Mr. Reed's statement on this way of decreasing butterfat production follows.

"When we have good roughage to feed and cut our full grain ration in two, we get approximately 10 per cent less milk than on full grain feeding," says Mr. Reed. "When we depend on roughage alone, we get about 30 per cent less milk than we get on full grain feeding.

"This drop in production does not involve a corresponding drop in profits. Dairy farmers who plan to feed less grain and grow more roughage will benefit themselves and also agriculture as a whole.

"Less intensive feeding of dairy cattle involves an increase in pasture and roughage acreage at the expense of cultivated crops, a shift already taking place in many regions. It helps to solve the grain surplus problem and to reduce the output of livestock products.

"The dairy farmer's gross income may be less if he has his cows on roughage and pasture; but his costs of production will be less also. It is net income rather than gross income that counts.

"In all regions where grasses or legumes grow well there are opportunities to shift advantageously from grains to grass and other roughage. In some regions, legumes do not grow well. Recent scientific findings indicate, however, that other grasses cut in an immature state contain as much protein as do legumes cut at the ordinary stage. The shift to grass and roughage is practicable to some extent almost everywhere.

"Erosion losses are terrific on many lands in cultivated crops. These same lands in pastures and legumes would be protected. Cultivated crops are hard on soil fertility. Pastures and legumes are a partial answer to this problem.

"It is generally assumed that many cows would have to be butchered to accomplish the proposed reduction, but the fact is that a shift to roughage and grass might make even more cows necessary because of a smaller yield per cow."

Other methods recommended by the dairy bureau for meeting the requirements of the proposed dairy adjustment program are: (1) Raising fewer heifers and extending the period of whole milk feeding; (2) Delaying the breeding of heifers; (3) Using more dairy products on the farm; (4) Culling unsound and diseased cows; (5) Slaughtering low producers for home meat.

Farm Hints

Agriculture is the foundation of all business.

• • •

Keep each cow up upon right continuously throughout the breeding season.

• • •

Experiments show value to have about the same acreage of grass for pasture as red clover.

• • •

Haphazard exchange of seed frequently leads to a wider spread of disease, weeds and insects.

• • •

There is no absolute limit to farm products for a good many years to come. Buying public is willing to pay for quality.

• • •

Drive the cows as you feed a crossing of good farmers. It won't pay to salt it but it won't do any particular good and has been found to be dangerous.

• • •

A layer of broken stone or gravel 3 or 4 inches thick, placed under a concrete floor will prevent dampness and moisture from coming through the floor.

• • •

Alfalfa meal is about the best source of vitamins for pigs in dry lot. A small amount daily of some green crop, such as kale, can also be used to advantage.

STRAITS BRIDGE DREAM SHATTERED

IS NOT SELF-LIQUIDATING PROJECT, CLAIM

Full Faith and Credit of State Behind Bond Issued Required for PWA Assistance

Hopes for a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac faded Saturday when it was definitely learned that the full faith and credit of the state of Michigan would be required in support of bonds financing the project.

Dispatches from Lansing declared that Harold L. Ickes, public works administrator, announced that the bridge has a chance of approval only if the state is willing to assume the debt burden.

The plan of the promoters of the project was to issue revenue bonds with only the revenue derived from the bridge in support of the obligation. Such a plan required that the bridge be a self-liquidating proposition.

Regarding the self-liquidating aspect of the bridge, Ickes declared "that it would be cheaper for the PWA to drain Lake Michigan."

The state legislature, shortly before adjournment, created a Mackinac Bridge Authority to negotiate with the public works administration for the bridge, which would start near Cheboygan and extend to Bois Blanc, Round and Mackinac Islands before reaching the upper peninsula.

The act creating the bridge authority included the paragraph:

"Nothing in this act shall be so construed or interpreted as to authorize, or permit, the incurring of state debt of any kind or nature as contemplated by the provisions of the constitution of the state of Michigan in relation to state debt."

The act provides specifically that any bonds issued shall be strictly revenue bonds. They would be secured not by the faith and credit of the state but only by bridge revenues.

The constitution forbids the incurring of state debt in excess of $250,000. The only way in which the bridge could be financed with faith and credit bonds would be by adoption of a constitutional amendment authorizing such an issue or by declaring by law that the construction of the bridge is necessary to meet the emergency of an "incipient insurrection."

Passage of a constitutional amendment binding the state for construction of the bridge is impossible in the opinion of political experts. To enact a law declaring the matter an emergency would require a special session of the legislature. As the bill creating the bridge authority was approved by only a small majority, it is highly doubtful that such a law could be enacted.

Governor Comstock is now in Florida on a vacation. His subordinates, however, declared that the governor would probably not consider calling a special session to consider the bridge matter.

As presented to the PWA the bridge proposal asks an outright grant of $7,920,000 from the federal government. The remaining $22,080,000, the petition declares, would be financed by revenue bonds to be retired by tolls collected at the bridge.

Ickes declared that the great weakness of all major projects submitted to the PWA from Michigan is that the state wants the federal government to take the entire risk involved in the proposed projects.

WILL REVIVE GAYLORD POTATO COMPETITION

Northern Counties Plan Dates and Elect New Officers

Representatives of twelve counties in northern Michigan decided last week to hold the Top O' Michigan potato show at Gaylord this year, and selected officers for the event which is scheduled to take place October 31 and November 1 and 2.

D. D. Tibbitts of Buyne City, was chosen president of the association, with Charles Herron, Alpena, vice-president, Arthur Glidden, Otsego county agricultural agent, secretary, Norman Glasser, Gaylord, treasurer, and Paul Barrett, Cheboygan county agent, business manager.

The late dates of the potato show were chosen with the idea in mind of allowing the various counties to hold their individual shows earlier, and sending the winners to the Top O' Michigan show. It will be held in the gymnasium of the new public school recently erected at Gaylord.

No potato show was held at Gaylord in 1933, due to lack of funds for the event. This year enough money for the show has been assured, partly through taxes on horse racing.

LEGION AUXILIARY
By Lois L. Sevrey.

Sixteen were present at our business meeting Monday evening and we were very glad to see such a fine attendance.

Our secretary informed us that we have reason to be proud of our efforts in behalf of the McKinney Memorial at Otter Lake as the proceeds from our card party for that benefit on January 27th was $6.00. Many auxiliary units only turned in one or two dollars as their bit toward this very appropriate and beneficient institution. We also had already done this before we received the letter asking us to do our bit, so consequently we have the honor of being among the first as well as possibly above the average in our donation.

Our next social meeting will be announced next week.

METHODIST EASTER SERVICES THE MOST IMPRESSIVE EVER HELD

The Easter and Lenten services at the local Methodist church were outstanding, very largely attended and unusually impressive and spiritual.

Easter worship began in the morning at 7 o'clock with about sixty in attendance together with the full choir, which rendered beautiful Easter music. The pastor conducted the worship and Mrs. Hurd gave the message. At the regular service there was a large attendance. The music was especially fine—some of the new music recently procured by the church. The mass of lilies at the foot of the great, rugged cross, with the artistically painted background of the rocky peaks of Calvary, gave a fine setting for the service. Seven adults were received into membership, and four baptisms.

The Good Friday service was more largely attended than at any similar service in several years, the lobby filled with chairs. As announced the church was in absolute darkness, the "absolute silence" was observed, the musicians came from Traverse City in spite of the blizzard in that town at the time. Mrs. Manns gave "Green Hill," by Gounod, and with Mrs. Downer gave the beautiful "Alone," by Ben Reis. The tableau of "The Three Marys at The Cross," was repeated from last year with the additional feature of the angel, high over the cross, beautifully represented by Miss Carey. The communion was in the light of the cross only, the largest number partaking in any of these similar services.

The Passion Play, fifty-two illuminated views, original photographs taken at Oberammergau, were given last. The audience left the church as they entered, without communication or distraction, singing "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," the entire seven stanzas having to be repeated for all to be able to leave. This service on Good Friday is an old institution in the Methodist church, coming down through many years of the local church's history, and is much prized by the members. A gentleman from Norway who had visited many of the great cathedral services in Europe, and travels constantly in America, was present this year and pronounced it the most impressive Good Friday service he had ever seen.

During the other weeks of Lent services were held each Wednesday evening with worship and lessons appropriate to the season.

Club this Thursday with Mrs. Clarence Withers, State street. Very important meeting of Missionary society next week Wednesday changed to the parsonage. Bring in the Lenten crosses. Business, plan for the district convention to be held here.

Group No. 2, under Captain Bob Ashdon, won out in the Missionary contest in the Epworth League. Forty-six were in attendance. A fine banquet is being arranged.

The sermon topic includes: "Where and What Is Heaven? Any Bones There? Locality — or Condition? Also, Ultimate Victory of Christ."

Slightly over 300 were in attendance at the Good Friday service. Over 140 partook of the communion, the largest group here in many years.

LEGION ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

In order to avoid conflict with the benefit dance to be given by the high-school band on Friday evening, April 6th, the Legion keno party, originally scheduled for that date, will be postponed for one week, falling on Friday evening, April 13th.

However, as Friday, April 6th, is Army day, Legionnaires will celebrate. On that evening there will be smoked fish and other accessories at the dug-out and an especially powerful all-wave radio will be provided to get the fifty thousand dollar program of the national Forty and Eight, in which speakers friendly to the Legion will endeavor to correct some of the gross misconceptions which are current in the public mind relative to the Legion and its post-war activities in behalf of the disabled veterans. Refreshment at this affair will be free to guests of the post and as many ex-servicemen as possibly can avail themselves of the privilege are urged to attend and enjoy themselves.

Membership in the post is being followed up vigorously. With sixty-two eligible ex-servicemen still to sign up, the Legion in Charlevoix should soon reach a high-water mark never before equalled in the history of the post.

In Appreciation

I wish to extend to the citizens of Charlevoix my sincere appreciation of their support at Monday's election. The people have spoken and their will is my will.

I pledge my whole hearted support to the administration and to all progressive plans for Charlevoix.

OUTLINE SANITARY NEEDS OF SCHOOLS

URGE NEW PROJECTS UNDER WORK RELIEF PLAN

A. R. Renwick, Sanitary Inspector, Speaker Before Child Health Committee Tuesday

The sanitary needs of Charlevoix county rural schools were outlined Tuesday afternoon by A. R. Renwick, Dr. P. H., sanitary inspector with the District Health Unit, in an address before the Charlevoix County Child Health committee, a group of laymen and women which keeps in direct contact with the doings of the District Health department.

Dr. Renwick indicated certain projects which school districts should make every endeavor to carry out under the new Federal Work Relief set-up which provides any worthy projects will be undertaken if the beneficiary furnishes the materials.

Dr. Renwick pointed out that:

It is our common desire that rural school children should have just as many of the advantages enjoyed by city school children as it is possible for them to obtain. As a sanitary inspector it is his particular desire that rural school children have certain essential sanitary equipment.

To be specific: (1) the school children should have a well on the school grounds which is so located and so constructed that it leaves no potential source of danger to its water supply. (2) The school children should have, preferably, indoor septic tanks or septic closets. At the least, they should have approved outdoor toilets.

The type installed at some schools as a result of the community sanitation program of which Dr. Renwick was district supervisor, are approved. They are approved because, as constructed, they are fly-tight and thus minimize the danger of the spread of intestinal diseases by means of flies. (3) The school children should have, preferably, a satisfactory drinking fountain. At least they should have a covered container which is satisfactory if the children use individual cups. The reason a fountain of the right sort is preferred is that it does away with the common drinking cup. With a covered container, it is a hard matter to keep children from using each other's cups, and thus opening an avenue for the spread of communicable diseases from mouth to mouth. (4) The school children should have a lavatory for washing if possible. At least they should have facilities for carrying on a handwashing drill—liquid soap, paper towels and a container for pouring the soap on the hands. The object is to do away with the use of the common basin and the enhanced possibility of passing on skin diseases from one to the other by this means. (5) The school children should have a window arrangement for ventilation to supplement the ventilation obtained from jacketed stoves. Dependence wholly upon the ventilation obtained from jacketed stoves is not satisfactory. Window ventilation by pushing windows up from the bottom is not satisfactory in winter. The use of top windows is better, but windows are not usually easy to regulate from the top. Transoms are better. Perhaps the best method is the use of window boards or deflectors. These, when made of window glass, do not cut off any of the precious window light. (6) The school children should have at least five or six adjustable seats in the class room. Thus if any are too large or too small for the regular seats, they will be able to be fitted to adjustable seats. Thus the development of posture defects is held in check. (7) The school children should have the windows so arranged in their class room that the light comes from the left. Thus the problem of cross lighting is eliminated; and there is much less danger of aggravating or for the beginning of vision defects. As a result of school programs, there was a wholesale changing of the lighting arrangements at rural schools. The Bay Shore, Maple Grove, Burgess, Unionville, Norwood, Irunton, McGeagh, Clark, Phelps, Marion Center, Hilton, Hetrick, Curfew, Knop, Deer Lake, Wildwood, Lakeside, Tainter and Woodward schools all had the windows changed.

Under the new set-up whereby Work Relief is to furnish the labor, any worthy project will be under-

MERGE REEMPLOYMENT DISTRICTS

HEADQUARTERS FOUR COUNTIES AT PETOSKEY

Charlevoix County Committee Will Continue to Function in Interest of Employment

The National Reemployment office, located in the Brown building here, has been abandoned by orders of Clarence E. Weiss, state director, and will be combined into a district composed of Emmet, Cheboygan, Charlevoix and Otsego counties. Headquarters for the district will be at 409½ Lake street, Petoskey, with Edward C. Schneider as manager.

Records of the local office will be transferred to the new headquarters and all business transacted from that point. The Charlevoix county reemployment committee, composed of Arthur Bergeon, Charlevoix, Alex Heller, Boyne City, Samuel E. Rogers, East Jordan, and J. M. Foster, this city, chairman, will continue to function so that the manager of the district will be able to secure direction and information regarding the placement of men on Public Works projects to be done in Charlevoix county, and to provide a county committee interested in the employment of Charlevoix county men.

The personnel of the local office, consisting of J. Warne Davis, manager, and Miss Ethel Staley, clerk, have been released.

In the future persons desiring to register for employment will do so with the new district office at Petoskey. The transfer of headquarters to Petoskey does not alter in any way the fact that help for Public Works projects done in Charlevoix county are to be furnished from residents of this county who reside within traveling distance of the project.

SCHOOL BAND SUCCESSFUL IN FUND CAMPAIGN

Tag Day Planned Saturday to Enlarge Purse for Battle Creek Trip

With success rewarding their efforts to raise funds, it appears quite positive the Charlevoix school band will be able to make the trip to the state music festival at Battle Creek, May 4 and 5.

Mothers of band members, sponsors of the recent bake sale and benefit dance to raise funds for the organization have asked the Courier to express through its column their appreciation of public response.

On Saturday of this week the band members are conducting a Tag day to raise more money. They will appear in uniform to solicit donations from the public. About $80 has been realized so far and any further contributions will be greatly appreciated.

LOCAL EXTENSION GROUP MEETING NEXT THURSDAY

The Charlevoix group in the M. S. C. extension work will hold its next meeting Thursday afternoon, April 19th, in the room directly above the community room in the grade school building. All members are requested to be present at this meeting, at which time plans will be made for achievement day to be held May 4th. For this reason it is quite important that all intending to finish the lesson be present.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS FORM A FITZGERALD-FOR-GOVERNOR CLUB

The initial move to consolidate Charlevoix county Republicans under the party banner for the approaching political campaign was made Monday night when Fitzgerald-for-Governor clubs were organized at Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City.

At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting, Leo Carey was chosen chairman of the local group, with Kenneth Ushgis as vice-chairman and Frederick V. Tyler as secretary-treasurer. Members of the executive committee selected were E. J. Edwards, Charles H. Emery and Fenton R. Hulow.

At a county-wide meeting to be called later this week, the officers and executive committees of the three clubs will select permanent county officers.

The work of organizing the three clubs will follow closely Monday night's meeting. Committees on membership, publicity, etc., will be formed, local meetings held and plans made for a county rally.

COUNCIL ORGANIZED MONDAY NIGHT

ONLY ONE CHANGE IN PERSONNEL THIS YEAR.

Committee Appointments Were Announced by Mayor L. S. See for 1934-35 Fiscal Year

The organization meeting of the Charlevoix city council, first regular session following the annual spring election, was held Monday night.

Only one change was made by the election in the personnel of the city governing body. Joseph J. Hallett succeeded William Higman as alderman from the third ward. Mr. Hallett has previously served as representative from his precinct, so is no new-comer in city politics.

At Monday night's session Mayor Lou S. See named the various committees to handle city affairs for the 1934-35 fiscal year. The committees, reduced last year from eight to six by combining the duties of some, were retained.

Following are the appointments, the first named acting as chairman:

Electric light and water—Webster, Fessenden and Carey.

Streets, sewers and public health—Carey, Ranger and Webster.

Police, fire and license—Ranger, Kibbe and Fessenden.

Finance, printing and purchasing—Fessenden, Carey and Hallett.

Public buildings, parks and bridges—Kibbe, Hallett and Ranger.

Commerce, charter and ordinance—Hallett, Webster and Kibbe.

The council chamber was filled to capacity with spectators Monday night, interest being enlivened by the possibility of appointments to various city offices. The appointments did not materialize.

Two petitions presented by Claude Beardsley, the first requesting curb and gutter and the second sanitary sewer on West Lincoln avenue, were read and referred to the street committee. The petitions carried the required number of signatures and the improvements will undoubtedly be granted.

A payroll aggregating $1,881.64 was approved and ordered met and other routine matters of business transacted. The council adjourned to meet again next Monday evening, April 16th.

HATCHERY READY FOR STEELHEAD SHIPMENT

Sportsman's Club Expects 150,000 Consignment Any Time

Lige Geer, in charge of the U. S. fish hatchery here, has announced that everything is in readiness for the shipment of steelhead spawn expected by the local sportsman's club.

The shipment is anticipated at any time now. After propagation at the hatchery they will be removed as fry to the club's rearing ponds on Stover creek.

The city council recently voted to provide necessary lights and water for the hatching operation and through Mr. Geer's splendid cooperation the hatchery is to be opened for this purpose.

MICHIGAN MILK CONTROL SHARE OVER SIX MILLION

Michigan farmers would receive $6,435,000 in benefits under the milk control plan proposed by the agricultural adjustment administration, it was announced last week.

WORK RELIEF RESUMED IN COUNTY

STORM SEWER, BATH HOUSE PROJECTS APPROVED

Approximately 200 Men Given Employment on New Relief Set-Up Wednesday Morning

Welfare relief work in Charlevoix county, which has been at a standstill since the CWA went out of existence March 30, was resumed Wednesday morning with an approximate total of 200 men at work.

Uncompleted CWA projects resumed in Charlevoix were the Clinton street storm sewer and the municipal bath house. Work was also resumed at Boyne City on the Division street and school projects, and at East Jordan on the city jail project. These projects were resubmitted at Lansing and their approval, necessary before work could be started, was received early this week.

According to J. M. Foster, chairman of the county welfare commission, the number of hours a workman will be employed during a week or month depends entirely upon the amount of his allotment for relief. In other words, if he is allowed $10 per week and his rate of pay is 50c per hour, he will be given 20 hours work. There is no other alternative, it is pointed out, under the new set-up, which is not designed to provide jobs, but rather only relief. "The plan is only a stop-gap to tide the men over until they can find permanent work and we expect every man on the relief roll to get an outside job as soon as possible," Mr. Foster said.

Under the new set-up men will be hired according to their family needs. In this manner a man who has five children will be given more employment than a man who has only his wife to care for. Only those receiving direct welfare relief will be hired.

At a meeting of the county commission held last week at Boyne City, the scale of wages to be allowed was decided upon by the commission and a committee of three representing Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan. The scale adopted was 40c per hour for common labor, 65c for carpenters and painters, and 80c for masons. It is understood the commission was not entirely in accord with the scale, inasmuch as it is lower for skilled labor than under the CWA and tends to break down an established scale. It is possible a change may be made at a future meeting.

Acting to furnish supervision for local projects as required under the new set-up, the city council employed J. C. Marshall to supervise storm sewer projects, and William Higman as supervisor of the bath house project.

It is anticipated the number of men employed on work relief will be increased as more projects are approved. In the meantime those deserving are being given direct relief.

BURGESS HOME MANAGEMENT MEETING APRIL 17

BROWN HAS SUBSTITUTE PAYOFF BILL

Would Release Deposits Up to $2,500 in All Closed Banks

A substitute for the McLeod bill which would pay off deposit claims up to $2,500 in all closed banks, will be introduced by Rep. Prentiss M. Brown, D., Mich., this week, it was learned Monday.

The principal points of difference between the McLeod bill and the proposed Brown measure are the $2,500 limitation of the substitute bill and inclusion in it of all banks. The measure sponsored by Rep. Clarence J. McLeod, R., Mich., placed no limitations on size of deposits and did not include non-federal reserve member banks.

The new proposal would authorize loans of 75 per cent of deposits between $2,500 and $10,000 and loans of 50 per cent on deposits over $10,000.00.

Brown's proposal also would take in banks which have been reorganized and have made part payments to depositors.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT FRIDAY EVENING

PRECEDES FINAL MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHER ASSN.

Excellent Program to Be Furnished at Gymnasium by School—Annual Election of Officers

The last meeting of the Parent-Teacher association for the school year 1933-34, will be held Thursday evening.

A program has been arranged to take place in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The kindergarten band will lead off with rhythmic selections, followed with a two-piano duet by Margery Edwards and Muriel VanAllsburg. The harmonica band of the fifth and sixth grades will contribute several numbers.

The main part of the business meeting will be given over to the election of officers for next year.

Preceding the meeting, beginning at 7 o'clock, there will be on display in each room, specimens of the daily work being done by the pupils in the grades. Parents are urged to come early and look over this work which will be spread on the pupils' desk. This is not in the nature of an art display or a dressed-up affair, but should be of, even greater interest. The grade teachers will be present and glad to meet the parents.

ONLY THOSE WHO PAY TAXES VOTE THIS TIME

Special Election on April 30 to Decide on State Spending

Official certification of the special election to be held April 30 on the question of authorizing the expenditure of $37,874,458 for state unemployment relief was made last week by the department of state.

Election instructions sent to county clerks did not mention the controversial subject of qualification of voters. New state laws permit only taxpayers to cast ballots on elections involving issuance of bonds, and the attorney-general has given an opinion that only real and personal property taxpayers will be qualified to vote on April 30. The method of deciding which voters are taxpayers is to be left to local election officials.

The question to be placed before the voter is whether the state shall issue bonds and use the money for unemployment relief through construction of hospitals and other public works.

MORE LIBERTY LOAN BONDS ARE RECALLED

Local Bank Offers Assistance to Holders for Transfer

Holders of a billion and a quarter dollars of maturing federal government securities are offered the privilege of exchanging them for a new issue of 10 to 12 year 3¼ per cent bonds. The time limit for exchange is April 15.

The bonds maturing are all coupon bonds with letters A or K in front of numbers and with numbers ending in 9, 0 or 1; all registered bonds with numbers ending in 9, 0 or 1. The interest on these issues will be stopped April 15.

The Charlevoix County State bank, through its officers, offers its services in aiding holders of these bonds to make the change.

INFORM PUBLIC ON BOND ISSUE

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN ON PUBLIC WORKS PLAN

Administration to Make Effort to Put Over Thirty-Seven Million Building Program

A state-wide campaign, in which every avenue of information will be asked to lend its services, is being planned by the Employment Recovery Council, a volunteer organization, which aims to bring full information to the public of Michigan concerning the $37,800,000 Public Works bond issue to be voted upon April 30.

Headed by Tracy Southworth, Monroe county legislator, and including in its member-ship, Vernon J. Brown, Ingham county legislator, Governor Comstock, Dr. G. F. Inch, R. M. Foley, E. D. Kelly of Detroit, and Joseph Green of the upper peninsula, the council was formed at the suggestion of the governor. It is having researches made with regard to the need for hospitalization, and the local possibilities of a road building program involved in the proposed bond issue.

"This is primarily a measure for relief of employment," said Mr Southworth. "It is intended, however, that it will proceed through normal employment channels under PWA regulations which differ widely from CWA set-ups. Permanent constructive benefits are expected to ensue rather than mere temporary relief. This council does not intend primarily to urge an affirmative vote, but does propose to furnish full facts to all the people of the state. In doing this, the cooperation of the press, the radio, civic organizations and private interests will be counted upon to the full."

Under the terms of the bill passed by the legislature, the benefits of this program would be distributed to all counties on a basis which takes into consideration their area, population, highway mileage and welfare and CWA case load. This was intended to fit the benefits in proportion to the needs.

Representative Brown declared that the question is one of substituting, if possible, some constructive means of restoring normal employment in place of direct dole.

"The people are entitled to an opportunity to vote on whether they wish to continue supporting a large proportion of the population by the means followed in the past, which have produced little permanent benefit, or whether they wish to substitute some constructive program which will be more in the normal course of employment, and which will give some permanent benefits to the state," he said.

Organization of a state-wide force to convey information to the entire public was launched today by the council.

The organization plan contemplates proceeding through representatives in each congressional district, who will set up county committees in all counties. The county committees are expected to complete town-

A Correction!

In last week's issue the Courier erred in announcing the election results in Charlevoix township. It was stated John Martin was elected member of the board of review, whereas Martin was defeated by Henry Stephan by a margin of 19 votes.

GARDEN SEEN AS REQUIREMENT IF WELFARE RELIEF GIVEN

Plans for welfare gardens are now being worked out through the county welfare commission.

It is understood that each family receiving welfare aid must have a large, fine garden this season. These gardens will be expected to produce sufficient vegetables to maintain the family through next autumn and winter. Inspections of these gardens will be frequent and those who fail to keep their gardens properly cultivated will be penalized.

Thus far the work in Charlevoix county is in the planning stage but within the next week or two it is expected to develop rapidly. Plots of land will be secured in all sections of the county for use of families on the welfare lists. Charlevoix will likely supply a large number of garden plots on a system somewhat similar to that in use here last year.

"I'm No Angel" Typical Mae West Sensation, Star Dominates Film

Mae West came back to town yesterday in a new Paramount picture, "I'm No Angel," booked at the Palace theatre for two days beginning Saturday.

That is real news for picture fans.

Miss West soared to the greatest heights of popularity any screen actress ever has attained, revolutionized feminine styles as the result of her last film, "She Done Him Wrong." The imagination fails in an attempt to figure what her latest picture will accomplish.

Since the movies were in their swaddling clothes, no star ever has so completely dominated a film as Miss West, but Paramount cleverly has surrounded her with a capable cast including Cary Grant, Kent Taylor, Edward Arnold, Ralf Harolde, Gregory Ratoff, Dorothy Peterson, Gertrude Michael, Russell Hopton, William B. Davidson and others.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday evening each month at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 15.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Eph. 6:12): "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.367): "Because Truth is infinite, error should be known as nothing. Because Truth is omnipotent in goodness, error, Truth's opposite, has no might. Evil is but the counterpoise of nothingness. The greatest wrong is but the suppositious opposite of the highest right. The confidence inspired by Science lies in the fact that Truth is real and error is unreal."

YESTERDAY and TODAY

WHO would want to go back to the standards of even a generation ago. We have traveled far since then. Inventions and scientific discoveries have furnished the principal vehicles: New conveniences, improved merchandise, better foods, added health-conserving means.

But the thing which has hastened us on to the knowledge and acceptance of their benefits is advertising. It has brought new things quickly to all of us and sped us toward a different, better mode of living.

Modern advertising sells us, not only things, but IDEAS. The advertising of soaps has sold us the health advantages of more frequent bathing. The advertising of modern bathroom equipment has made bathing a singful pleasure.

The advertising of improved razors and beard softeners has made whisking off whiskers a simple daily ditty instead of a weekly major operation.

Tooth-paste, tooth-brush and mouth-wash manufacturers and retailers are saving us untold aches and years of marred smiles, by advertising the importance of oral hygiene.

As a result of the advertising of food manufacturers and purveyors, we have escaped from the drowsy dullness caused by heavy breakfasts and are full of forenoon vim and clear-headedness.

The clothes we wear, furniture we use, fuel we burn, car we drive, telephone we've installed—all these would not so quickly have come home to us, were it not for the silent but irresistible force of advertising.

Last Word in Bridal Veilcraft

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

AS TO lovely and chic bridal array for the late spring and the summer bride, fashion is positively lavish in offering suggestions which are entirely new and novel.

Pretty as a wedding dress may be, it is, after all, the veiling of the bride, together with the various little accessory items of adornment, which make or mar the picture. The wealth of ideas offered in both veils and headdress and accompanying fantasies is positively thrilling this season.

Time was when the bride-to-be bought yards and yards of tulle, depending on the magic touch of some good fairy who would appear at the last moment to adjust the veil to a point of enchantment. Of course this entailed endless worry and suspense and more times than not ended in keen disappointment.

However, in this present day of efficiency all this uncertainty as to the final touch to the veil has been done away with and a new order of procedure takes its place. The modern bride-to-be goes to the leading millinery department or her favorite shop and asks to be shown the latest and most fetching in bridal adornment. The visions of loveliness which the salespeople will bring forth are enough to make the eyes of any prospective bride dance with joy. Think of it—the entire ensemble all thought out for you down to the last orange blossom bud.

One of the first items of news which will be imparted to the enquiring bride-to-be is, that streamline effects are the last word in wedding veilcraft. Which means that there is going to be a symmetry, a very poetry of motion about the billowy masses of tulle which veil the springtime bride which will delight and satisfy all who behold. You see the idea conveyed in the exquisite lace-trimmed veil to the left in the picture—a model which is now showing in the better millinery establishments. Note that the veil is supported at the top of the close-fitting cap of Chantilly lace in coronet or tiara effect. Of course you have noted the huge lace rosettes, one at each side, which seem to have fluttered down into position on the sweeping wide veil. They bring a message of real news in regard to bridal veil styling for spring-summer, 1934.

And her flower muff! Flower muffs are the correct thing for the modern bride to carry. What's more, the bride's attendants will be carrying them, too, but in fresh springy colors which no word describes so perfectly as "delicious."

Here's something those seeking style hints should know. It is about cunning little flanged molded-to-shape face veils which brides are wearing—ever so flattering! Then, too, it is interesting to note that bridesmaids' hats are sporting tremendously wide brims of mallie. These in a galaxy of springtime colorings are wonderfully picturesque and becoming. In some instances the bride's attendants are carrying quaint colonial bouquets with wide ruffles of mallie encircling the prim cluster of wee flowerets, the mallie matching the wide mallie brim of each hat.

And now this recital of lovely bridal fantasies must be brought to an end but not until we call attention to the resplendent Spanish lace veil on the bride pictured to the right. It is done in true Spanish mantilla effect.

LACE REAPPEARING IN VARIOUS HUES

You just can't keep a good fashion down. With spring dance frocks growing more feminine and alluring by the minute, lace was certain to stage a reappearance, after having been more or less out of the picture for winter.

A black frock, in one of the new dire or cord laces, is just about the most satisfactory evening frock that anyone can own. And a white lace dress, worn with bright colored slippers and accessories, is a fetching youthful fashion.

This spring, however, there is unusual emphasis on colored laces. French women are choosing navy blue lace over satin or taffeta slips, in place of black. Green lace, in lovely leafy shades, makes enchanting evening dresses. One very effective model is made with a tiered skirt, fitted around the hips, and with soft fullness at the hemline. The bodice is made with a slip-length peplum, divided in front and shirred at the back to match the fullness in the back of the skirt.

Definite Leaning Toward Swagger Suits Observed

No one is going to put the American girl in uniform this spring. . . . Suits are as varied as the weather, which gives room for practically a daily design.

There is a definite leaning toward the swagger suit, no doubt due to all this windblown talk which is effective . . . if it does sound a little chilly.

These swaggers come in practically full length coats, frequently tied under the neck, but in bows, not ascots. The coats have the full sleeve, long loosely and are not made to be wrapped around. Skirts have wide self-cloth belts and often the button which marks the belt closing is repeated on the blouse.

Sequin Stoles Appear

Long straight stole scarfs of sequins or lame are draped about the shoulders as an accompaniment to frocks of the same fabric.

WITH BOLERO

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A woman who keeps pace with the times cannot get by without at least one long-sleeved, floor-length dress which sets her apart from the daytime world of practical clothes, and stamps her as a lady of the new leisure. This gown of all-day crepe, the new rayon woven of tulize yarn acetate and tulize viscose yarn is in a new shade called orange bisque. Its simple flowing lines make it a dress of graceful and becoming dignity. Outstanding style points to remember include the bolero effect and the deep armhole sleeves, also the girdle-tie of self fabric.

"Career" Never of First Importance to Women

"Try it—it's important for you to know for the rest of your life that you haven't really missed anything."

The idea contained in this short paragraph called forth the following comment from a widely read woman writer:

"That thought on the things we miss looming so much larger and more important and more pleasurable just because we have missed them! It brought to my mind the thought of the married women who bemoan the careers they have missed, or think they might have had.

"The most happily married woman I know is one who previously had a 'career,' that is, she had an opportunity to work for a living at a profession. She achieved success at it, and then gave it up to marry and settle down in a suburb. She now gives her entire time to her two children and her attractive, one-maid home.

"Wherever that woman goes, she is approached by others, admiring, envious, puzzled, who exclaim, 'Oh—were you a decorator—really—with your own studio? And don't tell me you gave it all up when you married!' Then 'Oh—if I could do the sort of thing you did, nothing would make me give it up! But I never had the chance!'

"But the woman who could do it—who did do it—differed from them in her sense of values. You see, she had not missed anything.

"To the woman who has missed it, a 'career' is very likely to seem all pleasurable excitement. The grinding work necessary to attain and then keep one's place; the strain of competition, the subordinating of all pleasures or interests that might in any way interfere with one's work, the constant and unceasing necessity for concentrating on that one aim, the heartbreak of failures and setbacks—all these are unknown to her. But they are every-day experiences of every man and woman faced with the responsibility of earning a living, of obtaining the wherewithal to keep the wheels of mere existence going 'round in the face of relentlessly recurring firsts of the month!

"The woman who has tried that is not likely to exaggerate its advantages or to feel imposed upon because some one else has taken on that job for her. Also it will not be difficult for her to appreciate the compensating factors in just keeping house. It is too bad for many discontented wives that they 'never had the chance.'"

COUNTY HOME RULE

Michigan's "Toxcart" system of local government has survived because of the inability of taxpayers to get rid of the burden unaided by the legislature. The legislature has been obedient to the dictates of professional politicians at home and has refused to clear up a situation that is a disgrace to the state.

Now there is being launched a campaign to amend the constitution under the initiative and referendum law so that Michigan counties may escape the vicious wastefulness of overlapping jobs and superfluous jobholders.

Although the amendment, which will require 160,000 signatures before it can be voted on next November, is not drafted, the sponsors of the campaign intend that each county shall have the right to determine its own form of government. There is no intention of forcing upon any community reforms that may not want.

The movement is backed by a score of organizations, including a number of rural groups who have first-hand experience with the self-perpetuating political machines that add so heavily to the cost of government.

Michigan is one of the few states that has not abandoned the structure of township and county government which became antiquated when modern civilization extended to all parts of the country.—Detroit Times.

NEW SOCIAL THEORIES

When reformers attempt to remedy inequalities of social positions, they invent new theories of property, distort rights and perpetuate injustice as anyone is sure to do who sets about the readjustment of social relations. They lend the impression that it must be quite disreputable to be respectable, quite dishonest to own property, quite unjust to go one's own way and earn one's own living, and that the only really admirable person is the good-for-nothing. The man who by his own efforts raise himself above poverty appears, in these discussions, to be of no account. The man who has done nothing to raise himself above poverty finds that the social doctors flock about him, bringing the capital they have collected from the other class, and promising him the aid of the state to give him what the other had by work for. The State is thus made to become the protector and guarantor of certain classes. The theories of such social philosophers present a new maxim of judicious living: Poverty is the best policy. If you get wealth you will have to support other people; if you do not get wealth, it will be the duty of other people to support you. Democracy, in order to be true to itself, must oppose any claims for favor on the ground of poverty as on the ground of birth and rank. It must put down classes for making "the rich" pay whatever "the poor" want.—W. Sumner.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

The first year of the New Deal has ended, and comments reviewing the record are numerous. One of the best summings up of all appeared in the United States News. Listed as Administration assets were: Restored confidence in the banks; rapid liquidation of closed banks; insurance of bank deposits up to $2,500; increased farm prices; rescued local relief from breakdown; built up navy; saved property owners from foreclosure; effective campaign against kidnapers; better relation with Latin America; fixed minimum wages; diminished child labor; protection for business against cutthroat competition; revaluation of the dollar at about 60 cents; revived faith of working population; stimulated employment; improved public confidence. On the liability side, the News lists: Largest deficit in history; failure to provide comprehensive revenue-getting plan for future; the securities act; stagnation of capital markets; lack of co-ordination among government agencies; repudiation of gold pledge; wrecking of World Economic conference; damage done by gold purchase policy; usurpation of powers of state; government competition with business; unfairness to aviation industry; tragedy of army fliers; revival of spoils system in public offices; waste and scandals in CWA and war department purchases.

THE NEWSPAPER CODE

In applying the newspaper code which went into effect March 12, some advantages as well as some disadvantages are seen. The plan to bring the newspapers into closer contact and closer understanding with the government without exercise of dictatorship in any quarter would seem constructive. The code forces cooperation among newspapers, and dulls the sharp edge on competition. Whether this bodes for good or ill, time will tell.

It is pointed out that under the code, the cost of producing newspapers will be increased. Costs of materials entering into production are said to be tending sharply upward, and like divergence of prices for factory and farm products, the altitudinal capers of the things a publisher must buy and the cold indifference shown for the things he has to sell at even lowest price levels would appear to constitute a major problem. Like farmers and others in similar boats, publishers will have to wrestle with untoward facts until parities of values are ironed out. In the meantime if any publisher discover how to increase his purchasing power in harmony with increases in cost of production he will be hailed as a wonder.—Wayne (Neb.) Herald

OBTAINING THE FACTS

The coming campaign is likely to witness the small loan law become a leading issue because of the failure of the legislature to adopt the new uniform rate law advocated by the Legislative Council. This will be unfortunate for the simple reason that no candidate for office is going to interest himself in the merits of a measure when votes are at stake. It is always easier to appeal to prejudice, rather than to be concerned with facts. More than 300,000 Michigan citizens are either directly or indirectly small loan borrowers at the present time. With a majority of the banks unable to function in a normal manner, the small loan companies have provided their only source of financial assistance in time of need. To drive these companies out of business and bring a horde of salary-buying sharks back into the state would only be making a bad matter worse. The subject should receive the closest attention by the voters. Secure a copy of the Legislative Council's report from your member in the legislature and form your own opinion. Certainly no fair minded person can find reasonable objection to such a suggestion.

THE BOND BILL

Michigan taxpayers will have an opportunity on April 30 to pass judgment on the $37,874,000 bond bill for recovery purposes. The matter was much discussed during the special session and will come in for still greater discussion during the month remaining before the special election called by Governor Comstock. This is not a political measure. Both republicans and democrats in the legislature voted to submit it to the people. It should not be settled by prejudiced votes. It should be the duty of every taxpayer—and only taxpayers will be eligible to vote—to study this measure and render a verdict accordingly at the polls.

STATE HAS CONTROL

Salvation for the burdened taxpayer lies not in Washington, which is doing a pretty good job at giving us our money's worth. It lies in our state capitols. For the state's sovereign over those overlapping, extravagantly outlined small divisions of government which waste 30 per cent of the money they collect.—Will Irwin in the New York American.

DAIRY CONSUMPTION WEEK IS APRIL 16-21

Exhibits Showing Food Value Milk Products in Three Stores

Charlevoix will join with Dairy Consumption Week from April 16 to 21, and three of the leading stores in the city of Charlevoix are cooperating in the effort.

A feature will be exhibits showing the value of milk, butter and cheese in the stores of Milton Block, H. B. Jacobs and Martin Block, who are donating the use of their store windows for the purpose.

The state department of agriculture, Michigan State college, and County Agent B. C. Mellencamp are cooperating in the effort to acquaint consumers with the value of milk and its products as compared with substitutes. Nothing in the way of food can compare with dairy products cooker for dollar in their health making qualities, it is claimed. A most important vitamin is contained in butter. Cheese, likewise, contains health-giving properties and milk has long been known for its superior food qualities.

The Michigan Dairy Committee is sponsoring this program to promote increased consumption of milk products. Dairying is a leading cash crop in Michigan and the added use of milk products will mean added dollars in the farmers' pockets. Greater use by consumers means not only excellent food, but an economical one.

The public is urged to visit these exhibits and see what milk products are worth in food value.

IF BANK DEPOSITORS Did the Lending

There is a great deal of newspaper criticism of bankers today for not lending more freely—money which belongs largely to their depositors.

Suppose the banker should say to his depositors, "I am tired of being criticized. You decide for yourselves to whom your money shall be loaned —how much of it, and for how long!" Would the depositors be more liberal —or would they be even more cautious than good bankers are today?

Every banker wants all the good, safe loans he can get—but he will not accept any which do not measure up to his standards of safety. Protection of his depositors' interests comes first, always.

TIME NOT WASTED

The irate parent stormed up and down the room before the nervous-looking young man.

"What, sir!" he shouted. "You have the nerve to come to my office to ask for my daughter? Well, I might as well tell you that you could have saved yourself the journey."

The suitor sighed wearily.

"Well, that's all right, sir," he said. "You see, I had another message to deliver in the same building."

A man caught a boy in his garden stealing apples and handed him to the police.

"So I did, sir," replied the boy, "but he caught me before I got over the fence!"—Border Cities Star.

Following Old Custom, Venetian Girls Parade

Twelve weddings will be the result of a score of girls, bent on finding husbands, riding the canals of Venice in heavily bedowered gondolas, reviving a traditional Venetian marriage custom.

In days of old, the doges of the city believed in matrimony and "more babies," just as Mussolini does today. To encourage marriages, the doges used to assign a dowry to 12 girls chosen from among many candidates. The fortunate young women were then paraded in a richly decorated boat through the city canals to attract the attention of all eligible young men. The ceremony unfailingly occurred on the feast of the Purification of the Virgin.

The marriage hunt was commemorated every year uninterruptedly from 944 A. D. until the Fourteenth century, when Venetian girls became self-conscious and shy and refused to submit to the "humiliating" public search for a husband. It was then thought to replace the girls by dummies, but the attempt proved a failure.

Whose Fault?

The Boy or Girl Who Refuses to Eat

"What have I ever done to deserve a child who refuses to eat, and is just skin and bones?" The mother who asks that question might be surprised to learn that she alone is to blame. She knows a lack of appetite is the sign of a clogged system, but does the wrong thing to remedy the condition. A violent cathartic that upsets the stomach pulls down a child like a spell of sickness. It often forms the laxative habit. A more sensible way of regulating children is explained in the column to the right:

It's a lucky girl whose mother knows how to regulate her children's bowels without some strong, evil-tasting cathartic that upsets the system and ruins their appetite! Whenever sluggishness coats the little tongue, makes the whites of the eyes a bilious yellow, or a child is headachy and fretful, just try pure California Syrup of Figs. The senna in this fruity laxative is so agreeable to take, so natural in action! Get real California Syrup of Figs at any drug store. The bottle should say 'California'.

FOOD COSTS REDUCED WITH HOME GARDENS

Fresh Vegetables Add Variety to Meals—Furnish Health Elements

Home vegetable gardens not only cut down the amount of money which need be spent for food but the vegetables grown have a freshness and an appeal that is not present in most green stuffs which are purchased, according to the department of horticulture at Michigan State college.

The quality of home grown foods is helped by the fact that each product can be harvested immediately before it is to be used and at the time the vegetable is at the proper stage of ripeness to provide the most tasteful meal. Dieticians compute that a family of five persons needs 3,100 pounds of vegetables and fruits each year.

Most families will not care to produce the entire quantity of these foods needed and, in some cases, ground is not available to grow the foods. However, size is not the determining factor in the productive power of a garden. The gardener who develops his ground to the best advantage will reap a greater harvest than the man who does not take time to plan his work.

A half acre of ground is needed to grow the 3,000 pounds of vegetables that five persons will consume in a year. Part of this quantity would have to be canned as it would be impossible to consume that amount in the gardening season. It is possible to make selections from 25 different vegetables which will grow successfully in Michigan and this long list increases the family's appetite for food from the garden.

Crops which can be stored can be produced. Potatoes, beets, turnips, celery, onions, and others will keep well if proper storage space is provided. Peas and corn can be canned, as well as snap beans, asparagus and spinach.

The season for many varieties of fresh vegetables can be prolonged by planting early and late varieties or by using varying planting dates. When the garden space is limited, crops like melons, cucumbers, and pumpkins should be left out in favor of other which will produce more food per square yard of ground.

RAIL TAXES 45 PER CENT OF SCHOOL FUND

Railroads Pay $25,429 of Primary Money in County

Of the 1,430 school children in Charlevoix county the education of 2,021, or 45%, is made possible almost entirely through railroad taxes, according to a study by Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary, Michigan Railroad Employes and Citizens League.

Charlevoix county is receiving $56,509 as its share of the state primary school fund, Drake explains, or at the rate of $12.59 per school child. Of the $17,398,203.29 in the 1933-34 fund the railroads through taxes paid $7,829,198.23, or a sum equal to 45% of the total. On this basis railroad taxes made up $25,429 of the sum received by this county.

"The primary school fund is one of our state's most sacred funds, and, basically, finances the education currently of 1,382,630 of Michigan's children," Drake said. "Without this fund their schooling would be impaired or minimized, in many instances would be impossible. The biggest contributors to the fund are the railroads, whose taxes by law go directly into it. Thus railroad prosperity is making possible, at least indirectly, the education of 622,184 of the state's children.

"The railroads' tax contributions to the support of our state school system merely furnishes further proof that the railroads play so vital a part in our economic life that we should not compel them to continue in their present plight of being excessively regulated while they have to combat unregulated competition. In the matter of school finances alone they relieve us here in Michigan of nearly half the cost of public education. The rails face a period in which they need understanding assistance from the public if they are to function as is expected of them, and if such benefits as their aid to our primary school fund is to continue. To help the lines obtain that assistance and, incidentally at least, to assure future contributions by them to our school fund is the aim of our railroad employes and citizens league."

taken if materials are furnished by the beneficiary. Under the old setup we had several worthy projects on which we had asked approval but on which we never had received the necessary OK from Lansing. We have been told recently that if we can get the school districts to furnish the material we will be permitted to go ahead with the work.

One of these projects is for the installation of septic closets at sixteen rural schools to replace unsanitary outdoor equipment. We would very much like to get this work done. The schools in question are: Beechwood, Grand View, Woodward, Hilton, Ceyline, Taintor, Cedar Valley and Clarke. Woodward and Hilton have recently been supplied with approved outdoor privies, leaving six schools not supplied.

Another project on which we had asked approval was for the installation of three new wells and for repairs to eighteen other school wells. The schools for which new wells were requested are Maple Grove, Undine and Hilton. We would very much like to get this work done—new wells and repairs.

We had requested also a new and improved septic tank system for the Boyne Falls consolidated school to do away with the unsanitary condition brought about by overloaded and inadequate septics. A new field for disposal has already been provided and we would very much like to see this improvement put through.

We would like to see schools that have not changed their windows, do so under the new arrangement. Don McHugh, the county project engineer, has made a survey of additional needs. Any of this work may be done if materials are made available by the district.

Certain projects such as grading and landscaping require little or no outlay for materials; and such projects can readily be undertaken.

A meeting of directors of rural schools will undoubtedly be arranged at which time details will be given showing how schools can take advantage of the Work Relief offered.

Anyone wishing an outline of the needs of any particular school can, by asking for such information, obtain it by reference to the files of the District Health department. Dr. A. R. Renwick will gladly answer any requests through the mails relative to this.

INSTALL NEW SAFETY DEVICES AT BRIDGE

Public Works Project Started by State Highway Department

The work of installing new electrically operated and controlled safety gates and devices at the swing bridge on US-31 has been started.

The job is a PWA project approved last fall and held up until favorable weather conditions permitted the work. It is expected about 20 days will be required for the installation and changes necessary.

The job will be the second PWA project handled through the state highway department on the swing bridge. During the early winter new fender piling protecting the pivot pier was built.

CLASS CAGE TOURNEY FINAL FRIDAY

CLASS A FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES FINALISTS

Spring Athletic Activities Outlined and Yearly Report Athletic Association Given

Finals of the annual inter-class basketball tournament, which has been in progress since the close of the regular season with the regional tournament at Petoskey, will be played at 1:15 Friday afternoon.

Friday's contest, bringing together the freshman and sophomore teams of the class A division, will bring to a close the second round of the tournament between 13 teams representing classes from the 7th grade up. An average of 12 games have been played each week since the close of the regular season. The freshman and sophomore class A teams, each with a standing of five games won and three lost, have the best record for the second round.

Classes will be dismissed to enable the entire student body to see the game Friday afternoon and the close of the contest letters will be awarded members of the 1933-34 varsity team.

Close of the inter-class basketball tournamem will be followed by a limited spring out-door athletic program. Up to the present time insufficient interest has been manifest in track to warrant extensive activity. Also the training season has been limited to such an extent by the late spring that the coaching staff feels the time is too short in the remaining weeks of school for training to enter competition.

It is anticipated class teams will be organized for indoor baseball and a series of games arranged for inter-class competition. Tennis, with competition within the school, will be played on the school concrete courts and it is possible a local team will be entered in the district and regional meets.

Any desire on the part of local school officials to bring the district and regional tennis and golf events here is thwarted by lack of facilities. Charlevoix's privately owned golf courses will now be ready for play and the same conditions exist as far as private tennis courts are concerned. The school-owned concrete courts are not suitable for tournament play and in the past have been looked upon unfavorably by other schools competing in these events.

For the information of school patrons, a yearly report of the Charlevoix High School Athletic association has been prepared. The report outlines the purposes and conduct of the athletic program and details of financing as follows:

The purpose of the Athletic association is to conduct a self-supporting program that provides a maximum amount of participation for a maximum number of students.

The association during the past year provided equipment for football, basketball, track, tennis and baseball. Unless of physical disability every boy could participate in some sport.

The plan of the Athletic association is to try and sell each member of the student body a season ticket for all athletic contests, which will make the price of admission less than ten cents per game.

No one has ever been refused admission to any athletic contest providing that they were willing to work for the price of their ticket. There were sixteen boys during the current year that worked their way for admission into the athletic contests.

The association provides for active participation and management on the part of the students giving them actual and vital experience in conducting a business in harmony.

The high school athletics are managed by the students themselves, and in this respect a greater interest and responsibility has resulted.

It costs $20 to equip one boy in order that he may play football and $10 so that he may play basketball. We have 35 boys participating in football and 30 in basketball. Every year it is necessary for us to replace worn out material, mend and clean what material we have. The three largest expense items are cost of transportation, equipment and officials' fees.

Following is a statement of the money taken in and expended during the current season:

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS PARTY AND ELECTION

On last Wednesday evening the Young American Sunday school class of the Methodist church met in the church dining room for a supper and election of officers.

This class, of which Mrs. William Poole is the teacher, recently won a contest in the Sunday school and Supt. L. E. McGhan promised the boys a treat of ice cream and cake any time they wanted it. So the boys asked Mr. McGhan to furnish the dessert for this supper, which he did. The boys cheered for him and also for some of the boys' mothers, who served the supper.

Following the dessert, Mrs. Poole asked Mr. McGhan to conduct the annual election of officers. The officers elected were: Warren Shapton, president; Floyd Eccleston, vice-president; Harold Chew, secretary; Edward Heise, treasurer, and Lewis Brown, librarian. There were twenty-eight regular members of the class present at the party.

FITZGERALD ANNOUNCES AIDES

JOHN LAKE OF PETOSKEY ON STATE COMMITTEE

Rep. Philip Pack of Ann Arbor, Heads Republican Guhernatorial Campaign Committee

A state committee which will direct his campaign for election as governor next fall was announced by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald. It will be headed by Rep. Philip C. Pack of Ann Arbor.

The group, composed entirely of men, will work in connection with a women's committee which will be named later and with local county committees. Circulation of petitions will commence immediately.

With Chairman Pack will be Carlyle A. Gray of Lansing, secretary, and John C. Hicks of St. Johns, treasurer. The executive committee is headed by Former Gov. Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie.

In announcing his board of strategy Fitzgerald denied charges that he is closely allied with certain political leaders, notably John Gillespie of Detroit.

"Nothwithstanding the desire of certain politically ambitious parties to connect John Gillespie, and others with me and my campaign for the governorship, the deliberate and continued attempt to connect me with this group is just another one of the penalties of progress," Fitzgerald said. "If I were not a candidate for governor and therefore in the political pathway of certain ambitious ones this apparent organized effort to link my name with this group would not be made.

"I am a friend of all but an ally of none. My public record ought to be sufficient assurance that, if elected governor of Michigan, my chief concern will be the welfare of all the people. Politics will be shunted into the background."

With Osborne on the executive committee will be:

David H. Crowley, Joseph C. Armstrong, Major O. Z. Iles, Arthur E. Dingman and Paul W. Tara, Detroit; Leslie P. Kefgen, Bay City; Herbert J. Rushton, Escanaba; Felix H. Hyflynn, Cadillac; Gus T. Hartman, Houghton; Henry R. Baird, Port Huron; Paul W. Chase, Hillsdale; Alton B. Clark, Grand Blanc; John A. Lake, Petoskey; Robert S. Armour, Grand Rapids; Arthur Hagen, Owosso; and George S. Barnard, Benton Harbor.

COUNCIL TO AID SUMMER PROGRAM

WILL OUTLINE PLANS AND ADOPT BUDGET

Council Advertising Committee Meets Tonight With Commerce Body to Arrange Schedule

Approval of three applications for beer licenses, various committee reports and the hearing of visitors comprised the business of the city council Monday evening.

Approval was given applications of Oscar Nelson, Min-Eva restaurant and A. T. Jeffery for beer licenses. Applications of the first two named were renewals and that of A. T. Jeffery was for an outside lunch counter which this year is being enlarged to meet requirements for selling beer on the premises.

The council heard Dr. C. J. Winder, president of the Association of Commerce, in an appeal for financial assistance to carry out Charlevoix's summer entertainment program. As a result, the advertising committees of the two groups will meet tonight to outline the various events contemplated for the summer and prepare a budget of expenses to be presented at the regular council meeting next Monday evening.

A request of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club for the installation of flood lights around the shores of Round lake harbor as a means of preventing illegal netting was favorably received. The council directed the superintendent of city utilities to prepare plans and estimates for consideration at the next meeting.

Vincent Madison, electric light and water superintendent, reported all equipment at the city water pumping station was receiving a thorough overhauling and reconditioning. The new pump installed several years ago is being re-installed properly, permitting the metering of all water pumped at the plant and the removal of two high voltage transformers which created a hazard.

Madison also reported plans are being considered for metering power consumed by water pumps and street lights with the object of determining the operating cost of the pumping plant and the street lighting system. Annual repairs are now being made on the Deisel motor at the city electric light plant to put it in condition for the annual inspection May 1st.

HONORS AWARDED FOR SCHOLARSHIP

ALBERT McMILLAN VALEDICTORIAN CLASS OF '34

Miss Mary Schwab Selected Salutatorian With Third Place Awarded to Drew Young

Albert McMillan, with an average of 96.9, has been selected valedictorian and Mary Schwab, with an average of 96.5, has been named salutatorian of the class of 1934 of Charlevoix high school, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Supt. O. P. North.

Albert McMillan, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. F. McMillan, is the second in his family to earn the coveted scholarship honor in the local high school in recent years. In 1932 his sister, Miss Lila McMillan, was valedictorian of the graduating class. McMillan's average represents all A's except one for the four years of high school.

The third highest standing, 95.3, gives Drew Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Young, third place. Others receiving honorable mention are Byrneer Lamphear, Marjorie Partridge, Helen Myers, Lyle Ames, Alyce Usher and Christian Hansen.

In addition to their excellent scholastic standing the honored students were active in all school activities. Mr. McMillan was a member of the debating team his freshman year and served as vice-president of his class. The following year he was class president. He was also active in declamations, oratory and dramatics, was a member of the dramatic club and active in Hi-Y work. He is an accomplished violinist.

Miss Schwab is secretary-treasurer of the senior class and in previous years has taken a prominent part in all activities.

This year's commencement class shows a membership of 52, the largest class in the history of the school, exceeding by five the record graduating class of last June.

While plans for baccalaureate and graduation are now in the process of preparation, no definite announcement as to the dates and speakers is yet available. The same is true of the several pre-graduation activities of the senior class which are now being planned by the class members and their sponsor, Miss Bea Ferneau.

CHARLES DICKENS CLUB CELEBRATES

ANNUAL PARTY AND BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT

Three-Course Dinner and Fine Program Enjoyed by Members and Husbands at Masonic Temple

Tuesday evening marked the close of another very successful year of the Charles Dickens Club, which culminated in a banquet in the Masonic temple.

The tables, which were placed in a circular shape, were artistically decorated in the Club colors of Chinese blue and gold. Dainty candle holders of blue and yellow held lighted candles and were interposed with vases of yellow tulips. In the open center of the tables was a graceful arrangement of yellow snapdragons in a blue vase which was flanked on each side with a potted palm.

Following a delicious three-course dinner a delightful program was enjoyed. Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Richardson, the vice-president, Mrs. Clair Webster, read a greeting from her to the members and their husbands. This was followed by a group of folk songs and dances given by children of the members and other music which included:

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Field Seed Situation

The 1934 seed season finds a great volume of seed in our state, reports the state department of agriculture. This is explained by the abundant crop that was harvested last year, a great deal of which has not yet been moved. The department cautions elevators and other seedsmen to be sure to observe the law regarding the tagging of all lots of seed offered for sale at retail. Every bag or parcel of seed must carry an analysis tag showing both the purity and the germination of the content. These tags protect both the farmer that are buying the seed to sow and the seedsman, as tested seed is invariably of better quality than the ordinary so-called "home grown" seed that is to be found in large quantities throughout the state this season. Farmers are especially cautioned against the buying of seed from out-of-state sources, this seed being usually delivered direct to the farmer and thus escaping the state seed inspection. Seed thus purchased seldom equal in quality to that when the farmer is able to procure from some local seedsmen; and a great many noxious weeds have been introduced into the state in this way.

The Department of State has transmitted to all county election officials the opinion of the attorney general relative to whom may vote on the $7,800,000 bond issue at the election April 30. A portion of the attorney general's letter to Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald, follows:

"I therefore suggest to you the following certificate, to be signed by electors upon making application for a referendum ballot:

"'I hereby certify that, in addition to being a duly qualified elector in this voting precinct, I have property assessed for taxes in the State of Michigan, or that my husband or wife has property assessed for taxes in the State of Michigan.'"

The attorney general also asserted that the certification shall constitute the oath to be administered by election inspectors in cases of challenged votes.

The records of the gasoline tax division or any other division, of the Department of State, are open to audit at any time by any proper authority, Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald declared.

The statement was made in connection with the case now in court in Wayne county where a gasoline distributor is alleged to have failed to pay $22,000 due the state in gas taxes.

Records of the gasoline tax division show that during the past three years the amount of unpaid gasoline taxes has been lower than at any time since the tax was imposed by the legislature.

"POPPY DAY" OBSERVANCE HERE MAY 26TH

Legion Auxiliary Naming Volunteers for Campaign

Charlevoix will be called upon to honor the World War dead and give aid to the war's living victims by wearing Memorial poppies nn May 26th.

This day—the Saturday before Memorial day—will be "poppy day" throughout the United States and will be generally observed by the wearing of the little red flower of Flanders fields.

Observance of "poppy day" here will be directed by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Addie Glossenger, president of the local Auxiliary unit has announced. Women of the Auxiliary will distribute poppies on the streets and receive contributions for the Auxiliary's welfare and relief work among the disabled veterans and their families.

Organization of a corps of volunteer workers to distribute the memorial flowers throughout the city is going forward rapidly under the leadership of the chairman of the Auxiliary's poppy committee. A large supply of poppies has been ordered from U. S. Veterans hospital No. 106, Camp Custer, Michigan, where disabled veterans have been given employment during the winter and spring, making the little paper flowers.

"The purpose of 'poppy day' is to give everyone an opportunity to pay individual tribute to the men who gave their lives in defense of the nation," said Mrs. Glossenger. "The little act of wearing a poppy touches the individual more closely than large public ceremonies in which he is only a spectator and awakens a realization of the individual responsibility to the nation, so greatly needed at this time. 'Poppy day' also gives everyone an opportunity to share in the vast work which the American Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the disabled men, their families and the families of the dead."

Old Car Good Enough

Say, just ride in a '34

YOU'LL change your mind about holding on to the old car the very first time you get behind the wheel of a Nineteen Thirty-four. Are these new jobs smooth and smart and comfortable? And can they "travel?"

Even if you aren't going to buy at present, you should read the automobile advertisements appearing in this newspaper. It's an excellent way to keep up to date on what the spring salons are showing. There are important developments in styling and engineering—interesting features pictured and described—which contribute to new riding and driving ease, new safety, beauty, and e-c-o-n-o-m-y.

Economy is an important point in these messages from leading automobile manufacturers. . . . Exceptional values, long life, unusual freedom from repairs, low fuel and oil consumption! Economy is the reason they advertise in this newspaper, for here they can reach you and many other logical and intelligent car buyers at a minimum cost per person.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper as an economy measure. They save time, energy, money . . . and even now are pointing out that owning a luxurious, up-to-the-minute motor car is often more economical than maintaining an old one.

Ancient Legend Lingers Around Famous Bridge

The famous old bridge of Avignon, France, on which all beginners test their French in kindergarten, is still there for you to see—or, at least, part of it is. Its beautiful old arches and the great palaces of the popes have been sketched by hundreds of artists.

The inhabitants of this section of France still believe firmly in the legend of St. Benedict, who, they say, built the bridge, and who was buried on it. Historians believe that St. Benedict, or Benezet, was one of the Brotherhood of Bridge Builders, a medieval order which built most of the beautiful bridges of the time.

The legend says that Benezet was a poor little urchin commanded by God to build the Avignon bridge. The populace hooted at him when he made this claim, and he was dared to hoist a huge rock which no man could move, to show that he was really favored by heaven. Benezet said a prayer and easily hoisted the rock on his shoulders. So the bridge was built. In the Twelfth century, and its remaining arches are still one of the sights of famous Avignon.

Fifty Famous Frontiersmen

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Mad Anthony's Spies

WHEN Gen. Anthony Wayne started his campaign against the hostile tribes of the Old Northwest in 1793, he resolved not to be taken by surprise by the enemy as his predecessor, Gen. Arthur St. Clair, had been two years before. Therefore, he "employed a number of the best woodsmen the frontier afforded, to act as rangers." He gave command of this force of some 40 men to Capt. Ephraim Kibby, a native of New Jersey who had been one of the first settlers near Cincinnati after the Revolution, a hunter for the garrison at Fort Washington and a scout for St. Clair.

Skilled as were Kibby and his rangers in woodcraft and valuable as they were to Wayne as scouts, the elite of the company was a "division of spies" composed of less than a dozen men. Capt. William Wells, a Kentuckian, commanded them, and the others were Robert McLelland, Henry Miller, and four others identified only by their last names—May, Hickman, Mahaffy and Thorp.

"Captain Wells and his companions were confidential and privileged gentlemen in camp, who were only called upon to do duty upon very particular and interesting occasions," says one of the historians of that period. "They were permitted a carte blanche among the horses of the dragoons, and when upon duty, went well mounted; whilst the rangers commanded by Captain Kibby went on foot." One reason for this favoritism was that three of them, Wells, Miller and May, had been "white Indians"—returned captives who could assume the dress and speak the tongue of the red men so well as to deceive any Indian they met, thus increasing their value as spies.

Miller had a younger brother, Christopher, who was still held by the Indians and by a remarkable coincidence, one of his first spying expeditions, when he, Wells and McLelland were sent out by Wayne to bring in a prisoner for questioning, resulted in the capture of an Indian who turned out to be his brother! Christopher later became one of Wells' spies, whose services were so valuable in the success of Wayne's campaign which culminated at the victory at Fallen Timbers in 1794.

After that, the Millers, Hickman, Mahaffy and Thorp drop out of history, but two of the others were marked for future fame—McLelland as a fur trader on the Missouri and an employee of the American Fur company whose deeds are immortalized in Washington Irving's "Astoria"; and Wells as Indian agent at Fort Wayne and hero of the Fort Dearborn massacre in 1812 when his devotion to his niece, Rebekah Heald, led him to the death which he knew awaited him on the shores of Lake Michigan.

* * *

Two Names on Utah's Map

ONE was a Frenchman, Etienne Provot (sometimes spelled Provost), who was a member of the famous Ashley-Henry expedition of 1822 up the Missouri and later captain of a company of Ashley-Henry men who trapped all through central Wyoming. The next year he quarreled with Ashley and joined the rival Pratte-Chouteau company which later merged with the American Fur company. After that he became head of a group of free trappers and journeyed from Wyoming over into Utah.

Authentic records of this period are scarce but Provot may have seen the Great Salt lake before Jim Bridger did and he may have gone through South Pass before Thomas Fitzpatrick did. A little more authentic is the story of how the site of the city named for him was baptized in blood—when a party of treacherous Snake Indians killed 17 trappers in his company. His long career of adventure came to an end with his death in St. Louis in 1850.

The other was an Englishman, Peter Skene Ogden, the son of a New York Loyalist or Tory who removed to Canada after the Revolution. Young Ogden entered the service of the North-West Fur company and later was a brigade leader for Dr. John McLoughlin, chief factor of the Hudson's Bay company in the Pacific Northwest. As such he explored much of the present state of Idaho and parts of Nevada and Utah. He is said to have been the first white man to see Mount Shasta and the headwaters of the Sacramento river. He discovered the Humboldt river, which for many years bore his name.

Ogden married a Salish woman and won a great influence over many of the tribes of the Northwest. Because of this he was able to rescue some of the captives held by the Indians after the Whitman massacre in 1847.

Whether or not he and Provot ever knew each other personally is uncertain, but it is likely that they met some time while both were ranging through Utah or at some gathering of trappers in that part of the country. And it would be easy to imagine the Frenchman and the Englishman meeting again at the "Last Rendezvous" in that Valhalla where gather the spirits of all the men who made history in the glamorous days of the fur trade and Ogden boasting "A city, a river and a valley in Utah bear my name!" To which Provot might reply "That's three. But I have four that bear my name—a city, a river, a canyon and a county!"

Comes New Enthusiasm for Lace

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

HOW about it, have you caught the Parisian inspiration for lace? Of course you have, or will have, before the season is far advanced. It just isn't possible to tread the highways and byways in fashionland and remain immune to the lure of lace.

In the couturier showings for spring and summer, 1934, comes before our enraptured eyes a continuous procession of frothy, frilly, filmy dance and dinner frocks created of tulle and lace by such artists as Lelong, Mainbocher, Dilkusha and a host of other designers of high degree. A very new, very lovely and very chic idea is to animate slim, figure-fitting soft lace gowns with tayriads of crisp tulle ruffles at shoulders and hemlines. One such is fashioned of shell-pink lace with crisp, sheer ruffles posed at the arms with billowy fullness about the hemline achieved through a front-from of many ruffllings. The all-black lace gown with crisp black tulle ruffles or fine jabberings is a particular favorite.

In contrast to the airy-fairy types of buttery lace and tulle is the gown of classic lines fashioned of handsome soft mat lace, a lace, by the way, which is outstanding in the mode. In the illustration we are showing an exquisite evening dress of white mat lace made especially by Molyneaux for one of the major social events of Paris. It took the first prize at a ball.

It would be a mistake, however, to carry the thought that the new laces are limited to the languid, glamorous social life. As a matter of fact, the most exciting doings of lace are taking place in the realm of tailleurs and sports clothes. Especially attractive and eminently practical for daytime is the suit of beige lace with blouse of navy georgette or the jacket ensemble of green net with blouse of beige alencon lace.

Lace for bathing suits, too, which makes real news, and for hats, for handbags, for ravishing neckwear and for entire dresses, ensembles and blouses, for gloves, too, if you please, and we must not forget the "darling" lace-covered slippers that will dance to sweet strains of music under starlit skies.

Because a dress is fashioned of lace does not mean that it may not be smartly wearable and conservative. The afternoon dress of green wool lace on the seated figure in the picture is just such—one of the outstanding models of the house of Dilkusha. It is a princess model and is finished with a draped collar held by one of the new polished wood clips.

A delicate web of black chantilly lace for the bodice top enhances the feminine allure of the dinner and theater gown centered in the group. Exquisitely thin cobwebby laces of this sort have captured the heart of the fashionable world this season, either in black, in white or pale beige, and in every imaginable pastel tone. The contrast between this lace and the soft mat velvet of the dress illustrated serves to emphasize the high neckline which is held with a crystal bar. The close wrist sleeves display the delicately traced lace patterning to perfection.

PREHISTORIC CAROLINAS

The lost city of Guasili, which was visited by De Soto, was evidently located in western North Carolina. Archeologists of the Smithsonian Institution are excavating the ancient Cherokee Indian mound which, they believe, marks the site of the former city. Old mine shafts recently discovered in the nearby hills were apparently the work of the De Soto expedition.

The excavations have already disclosed pottery, stone implements, trade and Indian beads and historic guns and bullets. The central structure, which the scientists are now approaching and sifting, with the aid of CWA workers, is believed to contain more ancient relics of races antedating the early Indians.

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries

by taking this advice!

Can constipation safely be relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can safely relieve this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, and perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna, a natural laxative; the dose can be measured, and the action thus regulated to suit your individual need.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any fad form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

A Frank Statement Concerning Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

We believe the use of pills and tablets containing mineral drugs is rapidly giving way to gentle regulation of the bowels with a liquid laxative.

We believe Dr. Caldwell's original prescription of fresh herbs, pure pepsin, and senna is the ideal family laxative.

And we know it is a safe preparation for children and expectant mothers because it does not cause bowel strain or irritate the kidneys.

Romance a Help

"Romance and business won't mix."

"Romance never hurt my business any."

"What do you manufacture?"

"Hammocks."

The Dashing Type

We got a shock as we heard this from a flip flapper in the old family barber shoppe:

"Miss, how shall I bob your hair?"

"Bandit style."

"Two things I wanted—"

"...and it was all so simple when I found out my trouble. My physician said I had no organic disease, but I did have what is so commonly and truthfully called a low percentage of hemo-glo-bin in the blood.

"The reasonableness of one of the S.S.S. ads caused me to think that S.S.S. Tonic was just what I needed for my let-down feeling, pimply skin and low resistance. I wanted more strength and a clear skin.

"It didn't take S.S.S. very long to get my blood back up to normal—and as my strength and energy returned my skin cleared up."

If your condition suggests a tonic of this kind, try S.S.S. It is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood.

S.S.S. value has been proven by generations of use, as well as by modern scientific appraisal. Sold by all drug stores...in two convenient sizes:...the larger is more economical.

SHADES OF VIOLET BLOSSOMING GAYLY

Purples and violet shades are blossoming gayly in fashion for spring, 1934. Last season some purple was seen in boucles and knitted frocks, and this year it is out in cottons and linens. For a long time it was felt that heliotrope, orchid, and violet shades were impossible in wash fabrics, as they came out in dull, muddy shades and did not hold their colors. These objections have been overcome, and the new violet range in handkerchief linens, French linens, ginghams, organdies and shirtings are among the smartest of the season's offerings. Cotton frocks in these colors are sometimes combined with little jackets of purple wool or velveteen.

This new trend is as important for children as for grown-ups.

Spring Hats Are Planned to Show Plenty of Hair

Dutch bonnets, Breton sailors' hats and the jaunty turned up brims worn by the musketeers of D'Artagnan's day inspire the first spring hats now shown in modistes' salons.

Eight out of ten roll right back from the face, making clear skins and smart coiffures of prime importance.

The rest tilt forward over one eye in a line as rakish as fashion has shown. But all are as feminine in design and effect as a perfumed handkerchief.

"Show as much hair as possible," seems to be the decree. Many models are worn well back of the hair line, others tilted well to one side (generally the right) to show the other side of the head.

Spring Woollens

This year's wools are woven to fall in soft, heavy folds, cloaking the figure in graceful lines. Most of them are woven "tone on tone" with irregular stripes or bars of the same color making their design.

ORGANDIE CAPE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Capes none of sheer organdies, nets and mousselines similar to the model pictured are writing a charming chapter into the history of summer wraps. The theme of these dainty little shoulded wraps is being made much of by designers. At Paris social gatherings you see them created of the most fascinating colorful sheers fancy can picture. The gown is of white transparent mousseline with large navy polka dots, for dots of every size from pin to coin and larger are the rage this season. There's nothing smarter than white with navy for evening wear.

LEGION ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

Membership in Leslie T. Shapton post is now 92—crowding close to the hundred mark which we ought to pass in a few weeks.

Last regular meeting night showed an attendance of 32 members. This is a record for regular meetings. Hope it will keep up.

The post has installed a new electric ventilator in the dug-out, thanks to the courtesy and efforts of Comrade Spike Goss. Now the bunch can smoke their heads off and it all goes out the window.

A keno party is slated for Friday evening, April 27th, at the hall. It will be held upstairs and will be open to adults and young people as well. Prizes will consist of fishing tackle, baseball equipment, various articles of interest to women and orders for merchandise on local merchants. New tables are to be constructed for the games and for use at banquets by a committee told off for the purpose. The committee in charge of the keno party consists of Comrades Nelson, Wakefield, Goss and Meggison.

Quite a number of the members are planning to see the war motion picture at East Jordan next Friday evening. The title of the picture is "Death Parade" and the scenes are actual battle scenes. It will not be forgotten by those who see it, according to reports.

The post formally accepted the invitation of Rev. Wm. H. Rauch extended to the members of the local post of the American Legion, their auxiliary organization and friends, to unite in a memorial service on Sunday, May 27, 1934, at 10:30 a. m., at the Charlevoix Baptist church.

Bugle and drum corps practice at 8 o'clock p. m. sharp next Tuesday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday evening each month at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 22.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 52:9,10): "Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem. The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.24): "He to whom 'the arm of the Lord' is revealed will believe our report, and rise into newness of life with regeneration. This is having part in the atonement: this is the understanding, into which Jesus suffered and triumphed."

RE-SUBMIT SCHOOL PROJECT FOR WORK RELIEF

Officials Seek to Have Improvements Completed Under New Set-Up

With a balance of $851.60 remaining to the credit of the local school project, which under the CWA resulted in an extensive program of improvements, D. T. McHugh, county director, has re-submitted the project to Lansing for approval and completion as a work relief project.

Remaining to be completed is the kitchen and recreation room in the high school basement, clean-up work, the spreading of gravel on the playground, around the tennis courts and on the driveways and other minor details.

According to a report prepared as a necessity for re-submission, a total of $10,699.49 was spent under the CWA on the school project, which also included library improvements. Of this sum $8,041.22 was for labor, $62.25 for trucking and $2,595.24 for materials. A total of 10,895.5 man hours of labor were used. The report showed the amount expended exceeded the original estimates on the project which called for $6,959.-90 for labor, $2,365.00 for materials and $50 for trucking.

It is estimated two or three weeks will be required to complete the work. Plans for a "house warming" to give school patrons an opportunity to inspect the fine improvements made, are being held in abeyance with final completion of the work.

THREE ARRESTED FOR SPEARING ON JORDAN

Apprehended Last Thursday by Conservation Officer Bonney

The arrest last Thursday of three men for spearing on Jordan river marked the opening of the annual spring rainbow "run" and a campaign to eliminate violations on this famous trout stream.

Those apprehended by Conservation Officer C. W. Bonney were Luke and John Bradley of Green River Station, and James Turner of Simons. Brought before Justice Job England at Bellaire, Friday, Luke Bradley was assessed fine and costs of $16.50 or an alternate of 10 days in jail. CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

We are still wrestling with the general subject of Grace. Under this general topic our next division will be entitled "Life Under Grace." Sunday morning we will give our listeners some truths that will cause a little wonder because they differ from the general thought on religion. Here is a sample: "There is but one issue in this dispensation between God and the unregenerate man, and that is neither character nor conduct; it is the personal appeal of the Gospel of the Grace of God."

If one cannot attend a church service tune in on WCRI, (1520 K.C.) about 11 o'clock. The broadcasts are getting better.

TEMPERANCE GROUP HAD FINE MEETING

Interesting Session at Community Room Last Friday

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union returned to the community room for their meetings last Friday afternoon after holding two regular meetings and three teas in the homes of members. Mrs. A. J. Hamilton served as hostess and Mrs. Palmer presided.

Rev. I. T. Mark conducted the devotionals, using as his topic the importance of the prayer life in the work of every christian organization.

The symposium led by Mrs. Hurd on the subject "Enlisting the Young" in the temperance cause was an innovation. The leader called on Mrs. Dickie, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Kirby and Mrs. Salton-stall to speak respectively on such enlistment through the Loyal Temperance Legion; through the public schools; through music and through the Sunday school.

Mrs. Kolderhouse, chairman of the welfare committee, reported a long list of garments donated and distributed during the winter and highly commended the services of Mrs. Dick in supplying the needs of the school children from stock on hand and other sources.

The play committee reported "An Old Fashioned Mother" would be given at the gymnasium April 27th, proceeds to be devoted to next winter's welfare work.

The next meeting of the Union will be held in the community room May 11th with Mrs. Todd acting as hostess.

Nearly 700 illegal pelts taken by conservation officers during the winter months were sold by the department of conservation under bid in March for $847.50. Receipts of the sale were placed in the game protection fund. Due probably to a rise in the market price of fur, the event drew more bidders than any held during the previous two years. All of the confiscated fur in the department's stock, 688 pelts, were disposed of in one lot.

A campaign waged against predatory birds, animals and reptiles by employes at state fish hatcheries and trout feeding stations during 1933 as a protection to young fish resulted in the deaths of 2,506 predators. This figure was compiled by the fish division, state department of conservation, from reports sent in by the state hatchery superintendents and caretakers of feeding stations. More kingfishers were killed than any other species. There were 1,793. Other predators listed are as follows: snakes, 354; bittern or "shykepokes" 110; great blue herons, 57; turtles, 56; greenherons, 50; muskrats 41; blackbirds 22; mergansers 16; grebe 3; gulls 2; coots and owls 1 each.

EXPEDITION FINDS ANTIOCH HOUSE, 1,600 YEARS OLD

Archeologists have dug up a villa at Antioch that dates from 1,600 years ago. It has colonnades and mosaic pavements, along with domes decorated with colored glass and gold leaf. It was found at Daphne, or rather a suburb of that ancient place in Yakto, a modern suburb of Antioch.

The discovery was made by the Princeton university expedition. There is in the suburb a huge circus or stadium, three times as large as Palmer stadium at Princeton, that seats 55,000, and lead and terra cotta pipes were found in place, along with a huge bath. All were built, it is surmised, in 67-66 B. C. by Quintus Marcius Rex, proconsul of Cellcia.

Antioch goes back to 300 years before Christ, and was named after Antiochus by his son. It was the ancient capital of the Greek kings of Syria, and was located on the Orontes, some twenty miles from the sea. Its port was Seleucia. It is frequently mentioned in the New Testament, and it was there that disciples of our Savior were first called Christians. Syria was first conquered by Pompey and later captured by the Persians and made a heap of ruins. It was restored by the Emperor Justinian in 538. In the Seventh century the Saracens took it and held it for 300 years. Now it is a poor town, manufacturing silks, leather and carpets, and producing goat's wool and beeswax.

Old Virginia City

Old-timers enjoy telling tales of the early days of Virginia City. Some go so far as to predict another "strike" and again see the boom come as it did before. When news of the Comstock lode reached the outside world, prospectors and their satellites came from far and near. The village of 1858 became a city of over 30,000 inhabitants almost overnight. Today Virginia City, while living in its past glories, is just a visiting spot for tourists. The census figures tell the story. The entire county of Storey, in which Virginia City precinct is located, shows that in 1890 there were 8,806 inhabitants. In 1900 this figure had dropped to 3,673. By 1929 there were only 1,409 inhabitants and the census of 1930 gives the entire county only 667 bona fide residents.—Pathfinder Magazine.

BANKING RETURNS TOWARD NORMAL

Reconstruction Finance Corporation Loan Repayments Show Banks Lead Procession in Recovery Movement

Indicating a rapid return on the part of the banks to a normal self-sustaining basis, 54 per cent of the loans which they made from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to tide them over the difficulties of the past two years have been repaid by them, it is shown in a recent official report.

The R. F. C. report, issued on March 6, says that the Corporation since it began operations in February, 1932, had made aggregate cash advances to railroads, agricultural and home loan agencies, insurance companies and various other institutions in the amount of $4,786,410,000. Of this sum banks and trust companies, to the number of 4,783, received actual cash advances of $1,520,540,000 but have already paid back $820,260,000, or 54 per cent. These figures are exclusive of $376,390,000 in loans authorized but withdrawn or not availed of by the banks.

Not counting borrowers received R. F. C. advances in the amount of $3,000,000, and made repayments of $375,830,000, or less than 12 per cent. Among other classes of financial institutions reported as making high ratios of repayments are building and loan associations which had received $114,020,000 and have repaid $53,880,000, or over 47 per cent, and insurance companies, whose borrowings totalled $88,590,000 and repayments $34,340,000, or nearly 39 per cent. None of the major non governmental financial groups showed so high a ratio of repayments as the banks and trust companies as a group.

BANK LOANS AND BUSINESS RECOVERY

Official Describes Efforts of Reserve Banks to Bring Out Deserving Borrowers—Present Situation Typical

Apropos of the part that an expansion of bank loans by banks occupies in the early stages of the business recovery which is now making headway, a Federal Reserve Bank official recently gave an interesting review of the experience of this institution in this connection. In 1932 the Federal Reserve Banks were empowered by law to make direct loans to individuals in unusual circumstances when they had been unable to obtain loans from a commercial bank, he pointed out.

From the middle of 1932 to the end of 1933 there were 1,980 applicants for loans at the New York Federal Reserve Bank under this law. The great majority of these applications proved on examination to be for funds for capital purposes, which are properly supplied as an investment in the business, or else were mortgage loans or others unclassifiable as commercial.

Only Fourteen Qualify

Only 250, or less than 20 per cent, were of the type which merited detailed investigation. The amount involved was $9,525,000. After further study of these, the Federal Reserve Bank was forced to turn down the applications of 236, finally offering credit in the sum of $1,417,000 to 14 prospective borrowers. Of this amount, only $806,000 was actually loaned, more than one-half of which was still outstanding many months later. Two of the borrowers went into receivership.

"Since it was the special endeavor of the Federal Reserve Bank to make every possible loan under the emergency provisions of the amendment, and since their best efforts resulted in the extension of so small a sum as to have no effect on the total volume of commercial loans, it is a reasonable assumption that eligible borrowers entitled to bank credit are being provided for by the commercial banks," says the American Bankers Association Journal in commenting on this episode.

It is hard credits, as shown by studies of past business cycles, for changes in the volume of commercial bank credit to follow changes in traction or expansion of business activity, says a financial writer in the New York Times. This was manifest recently in Thailand's recent recovery where there was a lag between increased business and increased commercial loans.

County Key Bankers

Describing the activities of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, the Director, D. H. Otis, says: "With 2,500 agriculturally minded bankers, designated as county key bankers, there is enlisted a tremendous force for the improvement of agriculture. These key bankers bring organized assistance to progressive bankers, who are led to see the possibility of agricultural work in their communities. Banker-farmer tours are emphasized as a means of acquainting bankers, farmers and other business men with first-hand knowledge of how agricultural improvement methods are working out in practice. These give an opportunity for the key bankers to train country bankers and work out new ideas."

P. M. PROVIDES A NOVEL WAY TO SEE ALL THE AMERICAS

Arrangements were recently completed between the Pere Marquette Railways and the Grace Line whereby the way is made easy for the traveling public to see their own country and at the same time visit our sister republics at comparatively small cost.

The traveler is carried one way by rail—one way by water from his starting point to New York, thence steamer through the Panama canal, via the Spanish Americas, to California (San Francisco or Los Angeles), and return by rail to starting point. This permits of visits on the water trip to Havana, Columbia (South America), the Panama Canal, El Salvador and Guatemala (Central America) and Mexico. On the transcontinental trip commercial centers, National parks or other attractive points may be visited. The Zion, Estes, Grand Canyon, Glacier, Yosemite and Yellowstone parks and the famous Carlsbad caverns of New Mexico are among the objectives which may be seen. The trip may also be made in the reverse direction by rail to California, steamer to New York and rail to starting point.

All the prospective traveler is required to do is see his local railroad ticket agent and to indicate what scenic part of the United States he wishes to visit and what port he wishes to leave and enter on the sea voyage. The rail-water circle ticket does the rest, giving its holder not only a close-up of his country's scenic wonders, but an insight into the living and customs of the sister republics of the south—through the greatest of artificial waterways—the Panama canal.

AT THE MOVIES

"Design for Living" Crammed With Talent by Cinema's Finest

When seven accomplished artists collaborate on a motion picture the result ought to be gratifying, and it is, as revealed in Paramount's "Design for Living" which will open at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

The seven who contributed their great skill, enthusiasm and sophistication to the comedy drama are Fredric March, Gary Cooper, Miriam Hopkins, Edward Everett Horton, Director Ernst Lubitsch, Noel Coward, the playwright, and Ben Hecht, who transferred the play to the screen.

Screen Tells Story of Missing Persons for the First Time

The mysterious and to a large extent secret workings of that division of the police department to which is accorded the credit of kidnapped men and women, and others who annually vanish, are brought to light for the first time in picture with the First National production entitled the "Bureau of Missing Persons," which opens at the Palace theatre Wednesday and Thursday with Bette Davis, Pat O'Brien, Lewis Stone and Glenda Farrell heading the large cast.

No woman ever has a handbag big enough to hold all she wanted to put in it.

GET MOST VEGETABLES FROM PLANNED GARDEN

Utilization Every Available Square Foot Puts Food On Family Table

Every square foot of garden space can be made to produce appetizing foods if proper attention is given to planting plans, and gardening specialists at Michigan State college recommend that all members of the family be given a voice in the planning so each one will have an active interest in the garden.

Succession crops should be used. When one of these is used another can be planted in the space left vacant. Radish, green onions, and lettuce can be harvested and the ground used for late potatoes, beans, or late beets for canning.

Definite planting dates for gardening crops can not be given for Michigan because the seasons vary a great deal and considerable varintions in temperature occur in localities only a few miles apart. The resistance of different varieties of vegetable to frost differs a great deal. Some are not injured by freezing and some are ruined by light frosts.

Vegetables classed as very subject to frost damage are cucumber, egg plant, lima beans, muskmelon, pepper, pumpkin, sweet potato, squash, and watermelon. New Zealand spinach, snap beans, sweet corn, and tomatoes are only a little less injured by frosts. Artichoke, beets, carrots, cauliflower, celery, chard, endive, lettuce, parsnip, potatoes, and salsify are half hardy, and other vegetables can stand hard frosts.

The average dates for the last killing frost in spring and the earliest one in fall have been compiled from years of records kept by the Federal Weather Bureau. St. Joseph and vicinity has the longest growing season with the frost dates at April 25 and October 27. Detroit dates are April 28 and Oct. 14. Dates for other localities are Grand Rapids May 1-Oct. 18; Flint May 10-Oct. 5; Cadillac May 15-Oct. 6; West Branch June 3-Sept. 23; Traverse City May 11-Oct. 16; Gaylord May 27-Sept. 20; East Tawas May 19-Sept. 29; Petoskey May 16-Oct. 6; Alpena May 13-Oct. 1; and Cheboygan May 18-Oct. 1. Dates for upper peninsula locations do not vary much from those at Cheboygan except where changes in altitude affect the temperature.

The home gardener can select his vegetables and make his plans in accordance with the hardiness of the plants and with regard to the frost dates in his locality.

MICHIGAN AIR TOUR IS TO BE REVIVED

Pathfinder Trip Will Be From May 20 to May 26

Revival of the annual Michigan air tour, abandoned last summer, has been announced by Sheldon B. Steers, president of the Michigan Air Tour association. It will be held July 22 to 28 with the annual Pathfinder tour to be staged May 20 to 26.

About 40 planes are expected to participate in the main tour which will extend to both peninsulas. The tour will be sponsored by the association and aviation committee of the Michigan department of the American Legion.

TRAVERSE POLICE ASKED LOCATE LOCAL INDIANS

The Traverse City Record-Eagle says Traverse City officers have been asked to locate Clarence Mishekey and Mr. and Mrs. John Schoman, all Charlevoix Indians who left that city Monday and have not arrived at their destination in Muskegon. Lucy Walker, Charlevoix Indian girl, says she was riding in the back seat of the car in which the party started for Muskegon and, near Acme, had a fight with Mishekey and jumped from the car. She told officers that Mishekey, who is said to have a prison record, then forced Schoman and his wife to drive south and they have not been heard from since. Miss Walker hitchhiked back to Charlevoix.

Dairy Exhibits Attracting Considerable Attention

As a result of the dairy consumption week, our good old friend, the dairy cow, seems to have been elevated to a higher plane. Many folks have already commented that they did not realize the real value of milk, butter and cheese. The displays in the stores of Milton Block, Jacoby Grocery and Martin Block certainly tell the story of dairy products.

This program is sponsored by the Michigan dairy committee with Martin Seidell, Bay City, chairman, and consisting of representatives from all dairy organizations in the state. Mr. Jankoski, inspector of the department of agriculture, is spending the week in Charlevoix. He is speaking before many schools in the county, urging the boys and girls to consume more dairy products. Mr. Jankoski will likewise speak before other organizations spreading the gospel of the increased use of milk for healthier and stronger bodies.

This display will be in Charlevoix during the entire week and it is hoped that all housewives as well as all consumers in the rural sections avail themselves of the opportunity of making a comparison between milk products and their substitutes. We just know that if this is done, there will be only one conclusion reached and that is, that it pays to buy larger quantities of dairy products. Why not, when you do your shopping this week, buy a pound of butter. Put a liberal supply on your bread and note the difference. Why not buy a pound of cheese and give your child a generous supply of it. You will like it and so will they.

Potato Tour to Detroit Being Arranged

A special potato tour has been arranged for Thursday, April 26, in Detroit. This will afford potato producers an opportunity of seeing exactly how our potatoes compare with Maine and Idaho potatoes that are always out-selling our own potatoes. Special railroad fares will be announced later for this tour. It is likewise hoped that bus fares will be reduced for this tour.

This will be a splendid opportunity for you to note exactly the situation in our large markets in regard to the growing of potatoes. I am sure you will come home much better satisfied as to why our Michigan potatoes do not sell as readily as other states. As the program indicates, you should be at the Fort Shelby hotel at 7:30. Why not get some of your neighbors and form a carload for this trip?

From the wise Dr. Oliver Wendall Holmes: "I firmly believe that if the whole materia medica could be sunk to the bottom of the sea it would be better for mankind."

A busy tongue, an idle brain.

IF BANK DEPOSITORS

FDIC

There is a great deal of newspaper criticism of bankers today for not lending more freely—money which belongs largely to their depositors.

Suppose the banker should say to his depositors, "I am tired of being criticized. You decide for yourselves to whom your money shall be loaned—how much of it, and for how long!" Would the depositors be more liberal—or would they be even more cautious than good bankers are today?

Every banker wants all the good, safe loans he can get—but he will not accept any which do not measure up to his standards of safety. Protection of his depositors' interests comes first, always.

TEMPERANCE UNION GIVE BENEFIT PLAY

Will Present 'Old Fashioned Mother' at Gym April 27th for Welfare

The "Old Fashioned Mother," a three-act drama, will be presented at the gymnasium on Friday evening of next week, April 27th, for the benefit of the welfare work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

An additional attraction will be the playing of the school band under the direction of Mr. Maight. They will give the selections prepared for the State Music Festival which takes place the following week at Battle Creek. The band will play from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, when the play begins.

This play was first presented by a group of young people in the Christian church at Springfield, Mo., in October 1917, and has been successfully produced hundreds of times since without losing its appeal to the heart strings.

The heroine is Aunt Deborah Underhill (Sylvia Miles), a blessed old mother in Israel, the widow of a deacon and mother of six children, four of whom have married and moved away, leaving John and Charley at home. John, the youngest, has been led astray by evil companions but in the end returns from his wanderings to save his mother from the poorhouse.

Miss Orchard (Lucille Usher), the spinster who recites, and Jerry Gosling (Earl Shapton), the funny country boy, appear in comedy parts and keep the audience in roars of laughs for all the time they are on the stage.

John Winder acts the prodigal son in his usual inimitable manner, and other parts are played by well known local young people who have pleased Charlevoix audiences in former performances.

SOO WANTS INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE SPAN

Rep. Prentiss M. Brown Introduces Bill to Span St. Mary's River

Authorization of an international bridge over the St. Mary's river between Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is proposed in a bill introduced Thursday by Rep. Prentiss Brown, Michigan democrat.

The bill calls for appointment of an international bridge authority which would contain the following members: Louis E. Levin, George A. Osborne, George J. Laundy, Andrew J. Short, and John W. Shine, all of Sault Ste. Marie.

A railroad bridge now spans the St. Mary's river.

"BERKLEY SQUARE" IS DRAMA CLUB OFFERING

Will Be Presented By High School Group on May 10th

On Thursday evening, May 10, the high school Drama Club will present as the climax of the year's work the unexcelled fantasy-drama "Berkley Square."

In fact it is believed that this play may well be considered the culmination of the club's four years of endeavor. Starting with a membership of seventeen it has increased until the number has reached forty-two. Each year a more friendly and enthusiastic response has been received from patrons. Now this group is about to attempt the most difficult and most beautiful of dramatic forms—the fantasy. Furthermore it is courageous enough to offer a production which does not end with the traditional "and they lived happily ever after."

Much emphasis is being placed upon etting, lighting and costuming. A cast of unusual talent is already hard at work.

MARRIAGE OF "BILL" FESSENDEN AN EVENT OF MONDAY, APRIL 9

The following account of the marriage on Monday, April 9, at Cloquet, Minn., of William J. "Bill" Fessenden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Fessenden of this city, is taken from the Carlton County Vidette, published at Carlton, Minn.:

"A marriage of interest to Carlton people occurred Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Eileen O'Brien, daughter of Mrs. Belle O'Brien of this place, became the bride of William J. Fessenden of Charlevoix, Mich. Father E. P. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Francis Catholic church of Carlton, performed the ceremony at the chapel in the parsonage of St. Casimer's Catholic church in Cloquet. Miss Rosalie Schiedermayer of Carlton and Leslie Panger of Cloquet were the attendants. The bride wore a navy blue swagger suit, with blue and white accessories. Miss Schiedermayer wore a black suit and white accessories.

"The affair was quiet and witnessed only by the immediate relatives, who afterward returned to Carlton, where a wedding breakfast was served them at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Kate McFall. Mr. and Mrs. Fessenden left Monday afternoon for Charlevoix, where they will make their home. The bride is well known in Carlton, having resided here practically all her life. She is a graduate of the local high school, class of 1929, and later on took a course in laboratory technician work. She has been a popular member of the local younger set and has many friends here who will extend best wishes to her and her husband. Mr. Fessenden is quite well known here also, although he never resided here. He is a grandson of Ed. Watson and a nephew of Mrs. James Danphy, and has visited here on numerous occasions. Mr. Fessenden is a graduate pharmacist and is associated with his father in the operation of a drug store at Charlevoix."

The Courier joins "Hill's" many friends in extending congratulations to himself and bride.

Football is played each year at a loss. So are the minor sports such as track, tennis and class basketball. The income from basketball enables up to put on the other sport program. This year in order to cut down the loss in football only three games were played.

The average amount taken in at a basketball game amounts to $52.00. The average amount for officials amounts to $14.00. The visiting school receives their contract which averages $20.00. We receive this $20.00 in return when we play that particular school and that money is used to help pay for transportation, etc.

The material that we have been using in basketball we have used for the last six years and it is now necessary to replace some with new ones. In the last seven years we have only lost one jersey and all the equipment is cleaned at various intervals during the season. For each boy who participates in basketball or football it is necessary that he expend at least $5.00 of his own money for shoes, sweatsocks, etc.

SPECIAL ELECTION ON BONDS MONDAY

VOTERS TO PASS ON THIRTY-EIGHT MILLION ISSUE

Rep. D. D. Tibbitts Terms Arguments Used to "Sell" Proposition Are Untrue

On Monday, April 30, Michigan taxpayers will go to the polls to vote on a $38,000,000 public works bond issue, designed as a work-relief measure for next fall and winter. Under terms of the bill, a $19,000,000 institutional building program and an $18,000,000 highway construction program would be provided.

Under terms of the bill, only taxpayers can vote on the bonding issue. The public has been led to believe the federal government will assume 30% of the total cost. The federal government has given no such assurance. The bill provide that in event the corporation tax and highway funds prove insufficient to meet the bonds, the auditor general shall spread a state tax to meet the balance. The public has been led to believe there will be no increase in taxes to pay the bonds.

On the basis of area, population, miles of state trunk line highways, Charlevoix county has been allocated $135,000 for highway purposes. Wayne county is allocated practically one-third of the entire bonding issue.

Informed observers claim the amount of the bonds is twice as large as needed for the purposes proposed. The Democratic party is using every effort to bring about approval of the issue—seemingly making the proposition the final "grand slam" of an administration which has failed to fulfill campaign promises since it took over the state governmental reigns two years ago this fall.

For the information of our readers we are printing the following communication from Douglas D. Tibbits, representative in the legislature from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district, who expresses his views in no uncertain terms:

"Dear Mr. Editor:

"I wish to call the attention of yourself and your readers to the misleading statements that are being made by those who are trying to "sell" the 38 million dollar bond issue to the voters of this state. It seems strange that it should be necessary to lie about this bond issue if it is all right and something that we should be glad to vote for. I would urge you and your readers to go over this most carefully before voting for it. I listened to one of these 'self-appointed and self-paid' men who are trying to persuade us to vote for the bonds. He addressed a gathering at the Boyne City school on Friday night of April 20. He made the following statements, which are not true:

"He stated that the federal government will assume 30% of the total cost. We have no such assurance from Washington. In no other state have they, as yet, assumed that much of the cost. The average so far is about 12%. Quite a little difference.

"He also stated that there was nothing in the bill to require, or permit, a tax on property to pay off the interest and principal of this bond issue. This statement is deliberately untrue. The bill is very plain on this subject and states that in the event of there being insufficient money left from the Corporation tax and highway funds to meet these bonds, then the auditor general of the state shall cause to be spread a state tax in sufficient amount to take care of the sinking fund and interest payments. There is not the least likelihood that there will be enough taxes from these other sources.

"I would like to point out to you and your readers that in the face of this effort to borrow millions more to add to our bonded indebtedness, debts are around 100 millions of dollars worth of bonds issued by public taxing bodies in this state which are at present delinquent and in default. Many of us are losing our farms and homes from inability to pay taxes. All of us are being taxed for everything we buy. If this bond issue is voted and the projects as outlined are constructed, the people of this state will have to raise by taxation at the very least another five million dollars every year for interest, principal, and operation of the buildings to be constructed.

"I believe that the very small amount of money to be expended in Charlevoix county will not compensate for the added tax burden which is certain to be loaded on our shoulders. I will admit that there

DELIVER CHATTEL PAPERS LOCALLY

MUST BE GIVEN TO THE REGISTER OF DEEDS

New State Ruling Changes Manner in Which Township Clerks Must Handle Mortgages

All chattel mortgages, formerly filed with township clerks, must now be filed with the register of deeds of the city clerk, under the terms of Public Act No. 18, which became effective March 28, and under the terms of this act the township clerks must deliver to the register of deeds their township records in which are recorded the filing of all chattel mortgages.

Frank F. Bird, register of deeds, has received many inquiries regarding this new act and many township clerks have not been adequately informed on the matter.

The newly enacted law says that within 30 days after the effective date of the act, which was March 28, each township clerk in the state shall personally deliver to the register of deeds of his county all mortgages and conveyances intended to operate as mortgages on file in his office, together with all papers pertaining thereto, and the register of deeds will thereafter be the custodian of these records and papers. The township clerk will be reimbursed at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in delivering these records, plus a four dollar fee.

The new law says:

"On and after the effective date of this act, mortgages and conveyances required under the provisions of this chapter to be filed in the office of the township clerk shall be filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the goods or chattels are located, and also where the mortgagor resides, except when the mortgagor is a non-resident of the state, when the mortgage or a true copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the property is. All the rights, powers and duties in this chapter heretofore vested in the township clerk are hereby transferred to and vested in the register of deeds."

VOELKER TO ADDRESS COUNTY STUDENTS ON TEMPERANCE MATTERS

At the annual meeting of the Charlevoix County Sunday School association last fall a committee was appointed to arrange some kind of temperance teaching for young people.

Mrs. G. R. Parker, appointed chairman of this committee, has had the good fortune to secure the services of Dr. Paul F. Voelker, superintendent of public instruction, to speak to the young people of Charlevoix county through the high schools. He will come here on Friday, May 4th, and will give talks at Boyne Falls and Boyne City in the forenoon and at Charlevoix and East Jordan in the afternoon.

The public will be invited to these meetings in the schools. In Charlevoix, after the pupils are in their places, the public will be welcome to the remaining seats. An announcement of the exact time of the address will be made when available.

THREE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT ON MONDAY

Capt. Renehan, Owen Martin, Richard Budish of Manitou Lightship.

Capt. John Renehan of Manitou Shoals lightship, and Owen Martin and Richard Budish of Milwaukee, members of the crew, narrowly escaped death in an automobile accident near Manistee, Monday afternoon.

While returning to this city the car in which they were riding turned end over end down an embankment, presumably the result of a broken front axle. Capt. Renehan was painfully injured about the hips, legs and shoulders, while Martin and Budish received severe cuts and bruises. The car was a total wreck.

The injured men were brought here Tuesday by Capt. Peter Alice and John McDonald, the latter engineer on the Manitou lightship.

COUNTY OBSERVES CHILD HEALTH DAY

PROGRAM AT EAST JORDAN TUESDAY, MAY 1

Affair Sponsored by County Child Health Committee—May Day Observances Planned.

"Mothers and Children First" was the slogan for Child Health day in 1933; and "Mothers and Children First" is the slogan for Child Health day in 1934.

To make this slogan effective, every interested citizen — every friend of children—is invited to join with the Charlevoix County Child Health committee in the health crusade and May day celebration which will be held at the East Jordan high school gymnasium on Tuesday, May 1, beginning at 2 o'clock p. m.

The May day celebration will feature an address by Thos. J. Werle, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis association; a report by Miss A. Winnifred Golley, R. N., of the Children's Fund activities outside of Charlevoix county; and music by the East Jordan orchestra and by the Charlevoix kindergarten band.

On May 1 many of the country schools will have celebrations of their own. The theme of each of these celebrations will be "health"—the idea being to illustrate in a short program some of the health teachings which the modern school is trying to stress in the habits of the growing child.

Health teaching in the modern school program is characterized by the following aims: to establish health habits and standards, to instill a working knowledge of practical facts relating to cleanliness and sanitation; food, fresh air, exercise, rest and sleep, and the causes of preventable diseases, and the means of checking them; to build ideals regarding health, beauty, and service for self, school and community that will result in better living; to develop the individual's sense of his personal responsibility—not only for his own health but for that of the community in which he resides—and to set forth the community standards of health.

To realize these aims, a broad program in which the children, parents and teachers are interested is necessary. It means that all must lend a hand to build into the child the habits, ideals, knowledge and attitudes that will cause him to fully realize the physical vigor so necessary to his happiness. Many approaches are possible, but probably the easiest one is through the child's interest in himself.

"Mothers and Children First" is a fine slogan—one that appeals to the spirit of chivalry, instinct for self-preservation, the sense of fair play which are enriching the lives of all good men and women. As a slogan it implies standards to be maintained at any cost. In times of economic stress, the protection of mothers and children should receive our first consideration. This appeal is one that reaches every heart.

The May day celebration to be held at the East Jordan school at 2 o'clock p. m. on May 1 and each country school celebration should make clear why mothers and children should come first.

BIG SUMMER PROGRAM IS OUTLINED

ADVERTISING GROUPS JOIN IN TENTATIVE PLAN

Program Calls for Entertainment Events for the Months of July and August

Providing the council loosens the purse strings of the city advertising fund and state aid can be procured, Charlevoix will have one of the most ambitious summer entertainment programs in recent years for the 1934 resort season.

At a joint meeting of the advertising committees of the council and association of commerce last Wednesday evening, a tentative program and budget was outlined. The program, covering the months of July and August, includes a 4th of July celebration, Venetian night pageant, a sham battle, the Michigan Riviera tennis championships, a "Charlevoix Day" program, outboard motor boat regatta and swimming meet. Charlevoix's selection as the site for the 1934 Michigan state amateur golf championships, is being favorably considered, it is understood. The tennis tournament date is August 6-13. Dates of other events are yet to be designated. The program will require approximately $2,000, it is estimated.

The committees also recommended formation of an independent baseball team and continuation of summer band concerts. Tentative plans were made for a cooperative newspaper advertising campaign with local summer hotels and purchase of new folders.

At the meeting estimates for additional municipal tennis courts, volley ball diamond, outdoor bowling alleys and shuffle board courts were made for presentation and approval under the federal work relief plan. The city would provide necessary materials.

The program and new outlay, designated to place Charlevoix in the limelight as northern Michigan's outstanding summer tourist entertainment center, now depends entirely upon financial assistance. A committee of five will plead Charlevoix's cause before the state advertising commission at Lansing, and efforts will be made to make full use of the city fund raised by taxation each year for advertising purposes.

NAVIGATION OPENED NOW CLOSED BY ICE

Beaver Island Boat Held at St. James, Government Ships Here

While commercial fishing boats started operations Sunday, and the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat made its initial trip to St. James on Monday, navigation has since come to a standstill due to ice fields clogging the bay off this harbor early Tuesday morning.

The Marold II is being held at St. James. The government lighthouse tender Sumac and U. S. engineering department boat Manitowoc, which made port after battling several miles of drift ice in the bay Tuesday morning, are bottled up here until a shift in wind carries the ice out. Attempts of commercial fishing boats to force their way to open water since Tuesday have failed. Lightships Manitou Shoals and Grey's Reef are awaiting favorable conditions to take their stations.

Ship captains claim the ice is the heaviest in recent years.

ROAD BOARD OPPOSES GAS TAX REDUCTIONS

Cites Movement As Menace to Highway Construction, Maintenance.

Citing that highway construction and maintenance in Michigan is menaced by efforts of certain gasoline and oil companies and individuals to have the state gas tax reduced by constitutional amendment, the Charlevoix county road commission at its last meeting adopted a resolution opposing the movement.

In a further effort to curb circulation of petitions in the county, the commission voted not to patronize dealers handling the petitions.

The resolution, similar to others adopted by road commissions in practically every county in the state, reads as follows:

"Whereas there is a concerted effort being put forth by certain gasoline and oil companies and individuals to have the gas tax reduced by constitutional amendment, therefore be it resolved that Charlevoix county road commission is opposed to such action and further that we discontinue doing business with any persons or companies promoting same."

TROUT SEASON TO OPEN ON TUESDAY

THOUSANDS OF ANGLERS WILL INITIATE 1934 SEASON

All Feeder Streams Open — License Fee Is 50c for Resident and Provides for His Wife

Only five days remain for the army of trout fishermen to burnish up its arms and equipment for the advance on the streams next Tuesday, the opening day of the 1934 season.

With but one exception every stream and feeder creek in the state will be open this year. This exception is a portion of Otter river in Houghton county containing the few remaining Michigan grayling.

Observation has revealed that unless heavy rains occur the streams will be nearly normal for the opening. Low temperatures of the past couple weeks has made thawing gradual, thus eliminating flood water. This same cold weather has been a detriment to the fly fisherman. The "bugs" are liable not to be out and in limit catches are made the opening day they will be on bait.

Fishermen who have purchased the 50 cents general and license on sale since the first of the year will be entitled to fish trout until the close of the season on Labor day. Every individual over 18 years of age is required to have a license. The wife of a resident trout fisherman may fish under her husband's license without additional charge.

The non-resident annual fishing license for all manner of fishing is $2 to all persons over 18 years of age. The wife of a licensee may obtain a similar license for 50 cents. The new law passed by the 1933 legislature provides for a non-resident 10-day license at a fee of $1 and 50 cents additional for a similar license for the wife.

Creel and size limit regulations remain unchanged. The minimum size limit on trout is seven inches; the daily catch or possession limit of the combined species of brook, brown or rainbow trout is 15.

FRESHMEN WIN ANNUAL CLASS CAGE TOURNEY

Those receiving letters were "Bud" Potter, Lysle Ance, Bob Pearl, Jack Foster, Donald Carey, Marcus Boen, Richardson and Harry Goldstick. Ance, Potter, Boen and Richardson will be lost to the team by graduation this spring.

"An Old Fashioned Mother" will be shown at the gym Friday evening, April 27th. School band concert at 7:30. Play at 8 p. m. Admission 15c. Matinee for children at 3:15 p. m., admission 5c. Benefit W. C. T. U. welfare fund.—Adv. 17tf.

MAYOR APPOINTS CITY OFFICIALS

SIX OFFICES FILLED AT MONDAY COUNCIL SESSION

Extension Park Ave., Mason Storm Sewers Voted—Other Important Business Transacted

Several appointive offices were filled for 1934-35 Monday night by Mayor L. S. See at the regular council meeting and the selections were confirmed by the city governing body.

Dr. E. B. Armstrong and Robert F. Sloan were re-named city health officer and city engineer, respectively; Frank F. Bird member of the cemetery board for five years and Robert J. Madill for three years. David J. Erkinger was named harbor master. This office was eliminated a year ago when the duties were combined with those of the chief of police, but has again been resurrected. Charles Marshall was appointed as chief of the volunteer fire department following selection by members of the organization. He succeeds Floyd Brown, who asked that he not be re-appointed.

The appointment of chief of police, which has promise of being a controversial issue, was again delayed. Robert Rife, city treasurer, named his mother, Mary E. Rife, as deputy and this appointment was confirmed.

The matter of extending the storm sewer projects on Mason street and Park avenue to a point beyond that called for in original plans to facilitate better drainage for the affected area was referred to the street committee with power to act after the council had shown an affirmative disposition on the matter.

The appointment of Charles Carey as supervisor of workmen employed painting city buildings under the EWR program, and Peter McFarland as supervisor of sodding the north Bridge street curbing between Belvedere and Hurlbut avenues, another work relief project, was approved.

D. T. McHugh, director of county EWR projects, appeared before the council with a request new work be furnished. He pointed out present projects will soon be completed, stressing the necessity that others be outlined to allow transfer of the men employed at the present time.

The council voted unanimously to meet half the expense of maintaining the ice skating rink at the school grounds. For several years the expense has been shared by the city and school district.

The council advertising committee reported its meeting last Wednesday evening with the chamber of commerce advertising committee, at which time a tentative summer entertainment program and budget of expenses was outlined. A recommendation the council pay expenses of a committee of five which will go to Lansing in an effort to obtain for Charlevoix a portion of the $40,000 set aside from the state advertising fund for special entertainment events, was approved.

Vincent Madison, electric light and water superintendent, reported the cost of installing electric flood lights around the shores of Round lake as requested by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club. This matter was referred to the electric committee for further consideration.

The council adjourned to meet in special session Friday night.

Rev. Edward S. Doan of Petoskey, will conduct services Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Brought to the screen by Lewis Foster and Casey Robinson from the original by Helmut Brandis, "Eight Girls in a Boat" has for its leading players Dorothy Wilson, Kay Johnson, Douglas Montgomery, Walter Connolly and Barbara Barondess. Jackie Cooper Wants To Be Real Rancher After "Lone Cowboy"

Jackie Cooper has a new ambition in life as a result of his most recent Paramount picture, "Lone Cowboy," which comes on Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace theatre. He wants a ranch—a big ranch.

This ranch must have plenty of horses, a lot of cattle and, preferably, some ruined shacks in which to play the game of finding things — lizards, bats and other horrors dear to the heart of a boy.

All this is a result of the location trip to Strawberry Flats, up near Sonora, California, where Jackie went with the "Lone Cowboy" company, which included, in addition to himself, Lila Lee, Addison Richards, John Wray and Gavine Gordon. Paul Sloane, who directed, also wrote the original suggested by Will James' famous autobiography and the screen play was by Agnes Brand Leahy and Bobby Vernon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday evening each month at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Probation After Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 29.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 24: 50,51): "And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.46): "In his final demonstration, called the ascension, which closed the earthly record of Jesus, he rose above the physical knowledge of his disciples, and the material senses saw him no more."

The instant a man brings up the subject of thrift, his wife demands that he quit smoking cigars and playing golf.

TIME TO CHANGE OIL

DRAIN OUT SLUDGE, THE OIL EATER

This New Motor Oil stops sludge formation . . . cuts oil costs

Time now to drain out winter-worn oil and change to heavier grades, and when you change, decide that this summer you'll keep sludge out of your engine. For sludge clogs your oil lines, hinders lubrication, fouls your filter. It makes valves sluggish so you lose gasoline power. Finally, it causes rings to stick and pump oil. It is the greatest cause of high motor-oil consumption.

Keep sludge out by using Iso-Vis "D", the Anti-Sludge Motor Oil. It does not sludge under the hardest kind of driving. It keeps rings lively and free, reducing oil consumption to the minimum. That's why you have to add to it less frequently between drains.

Old Car Good Enough

Say, just ride in a '34

YOU'LL change your mind about holding on to the old car the very first time you get behind the wheel of a Nineteen Thirty-four. Are these new jobs smooth and smart and comfortable? And can they "travel?"

Even if you aren't going to buy at present, you should read the automobile advertisements appearing in this newspaper. It's an excellent way to keep up to date on what the spring salons are showing. There are important developments in styling and engineering — interesting features pictured and described—which contribute to new riding and driving ease, new safety, beauty, and e-c-o-n-o-m-y.

Economy is an important point in these messages from leading automobile manufacturers. . . . Exceptional values, long life, unusual freedom from repairs, low fuel and oil consumption! Economy is the reason they advertise in this newspaper, for here they can reach you and many other logical and intelligent car buyers at a minimum cost per person.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper as an economy measure. They save time, energy, money . . . and even now are pointing out that owning a luxurious, up-to-the-minute motor car is often more economical than maintaining an old one.

Summer Velvets for Day, Evening

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THERE is big news in the fabric world — summer velvets! And when we say summer velvets we mean real summer velvets, not to be confused with the lightweight velvets such as are always used for wraps, trimmings and accessories in the summer.

These summer velvets are new, so now they are being shown for the first time. Already the fame of these made-in-America velvets has spread among leading style creators, both in London and Paris, who are fashioning some of their most fetching summer apparel of these fascinating weaves.

It's the new washable velvets which perhaps bring the greatest thrill. No, your eyes have not deceived you, you are reading about velvets which actually wash, and perfectly at that. These exquisite washable velvet weaves make one marvel at the miracles which science and chemistry and artistry combined are working in the fabric realm in this Twentieth century era of progress. A velvet as beautiful as fancy can picture in a variety of designful weaves and delectable colors, which tubs as easily and satisfactorily as your linens and muslins is well worth thinking about. It is a real achievement.

For resort or cruise or country wear we can think of no more practical, at the same time lovely, evening gown than one of shell pink crinkle washable velvet such as a prominent French designer includes in her summer collection. If you prefer other than pink there is a whole range of beguiling tones and tints in these crinkle wash velvets from which to make choice.

One of the latest innovations is a cotton velvet woven on a cotton loom. It also is washable. It comes in several clever patternings, polka-dotted effects on a sheer self-colored background being conspicuously smart at this time when the dotted theme is so voguish. The pale chartreuse green summer velvet which fashions the gracefully ruffled informal dinner frock posed in the foreground of the illustration is a sheer, fine cotton with self-colored dots. The white velvet ribbon sash in a delicate orange tone completes a breath-taking color scheme of springtime loveliness. Orchids and gardenias form the corsage, for the fashion of wearing natural flowers has been revived.

For sportswear there is nothing smarter in the way of the new summer velvets than a corded weave which is printed in multi-colored Mexican stripes. See the swagger coat made of it, as illustrated to the right in the group. The silk scarf repeats the bright green of one of the stripes. In this same category of summer sports velvets another effect registers which is very striking in two-tone stripes, brown with pink beige being especially attractive.

A wonderful new summer velvet done in a tweedy herring bone weave has just the right look for travel and town wear. The tremendously good-looking coat to the left in the picture is made of this type of velvet. Its "classy" shirtwaist styling and its huge brown buttons give it distinction.

KNIT FABRICS NOW LOOK LIKE TWEEDS

Fashion does on confusing us by bringing out wools that look like silk, cottons that look like wool, and synthetic fabrics that look like a little bit of both.

Then, just when we think we can write authoritatively about the new fabrics, she raises the question "Who said knits couldn't look like tweeds?"

Anny Blatt, Paris designer of knitwear, answers the question in handknit town clothes that feature diagonal stripes of dark, soft green wool yarn and white cotton.

And in New York Emmy Wylie receives fashion recognition as the newest American designer (there are likely to be others before we go to press—they're springing up all around) who handles the tried and true yarns with a light touch.

Her collection is well worth seeing and includes models priced at $22.75 to $39.75. You will like a tweed mixture called "Frostknit." Citron is a grand color that borders on antique gold, smart with navy contrast.

Bathing Suits in Taffeta Like Costumes for Ballet

Taffeta bathing suits that look more like ballet costumes than swimming outfits will doubtless dot our more fashionable beaches next summer—the fad has already started in Paris with folks who have nothing else to do, have gone south to stretch and leave the world to go to pot if it wants to. These taffeta "beach jewels" as one house names them (because of their brilliant coloring) are equipped with taffeta tights and the whole ensemble is waterproof so that when you come out of the wavelets you are as crisp and unwilted as when you went in.

In Full Sail

Warp-print taffetas are being used extensively for evening wear. They lend themselves particularly well to the newest of all silhouettes—the "ship in full sail."

VERY SMART LINEN

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Linen is playing a stellar role on the stage of fashion. Here is an ensemble done in fine Irish linen which is modish and practical for spectator sports. The beauty of this outfit is that it can be converted into a costume for active participation if occasion requires. The suit, with its smart brown and white checked swagger coat of tweedy linen, is appropriate for the clubhouse porch or the street, combined either with brown or beige accessories. Removing the coat a slim sleeveless dress is revealed of unrushable Irish linen ready for a set of tennis or a round of golf. The beige gloves which this youthful sportswoman wears are crocheted of knitting and crochet cotton in a mesh design. They are cool and easy to make.

Idioms Used to Build Up English Language

A savage tribe in Tierra del Fuego has a vocabulary of 30,000 words and are the only savages in the world so richly supplied. We might borrow a few and they'd never be missed. We thus appropriated "hooch" from the Alaska Indians and have much enjoyed using it; that is, using the word. Hooch is a phonetic joy. It has that wild and slightly vulgar sound that seems to fit a crude intoxicant. English-speaking peoples are quick to pick up words odd to the ears from their neighbors, giving them a twist that may make their utterance more or less comic. "Hoosegow," made over from the Spanish "huskado," provokes a laugh. The English in India soon appropriated "loot"; and "bulldoze" arose out of the swamps of Louisiana, where it was for long a neglected verb derived from the French. Other terms that spring into being in the underworld in time get fairly into good society by succeeding gradations and there are now in good standing some from the patois of the pirates of the Spanish Main.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

It Never Has Paid

Crime is caused by ignorance—ignorance of common sense.

THE OLDEST PROFESSION

Three professional men, a doctor, an engineer, and a financier, were debating which of them belonged to the most honorable and ancient profession.

The doctor said: "Mine is easily the oldest. Don't you remember that in the beginning Eve was made out of a rib in Adam's side? Well, there's a surgical operation for you."

The engineer said: "Yes, but before that happened don't you know the whole world was made out of chaos in six days? Now, there's an engineering feat for you."

"Ah," said the financier, "but who made chaos?"—Public Opinion.

"Two things I wanted—"

"...and it was all so simple when I found out my trouble. My physician said I had no organic disease, but I did have what is so commonly and truthfully called a low percentage of hemo-glo-bin in the blood.

"The reasonableness of one of the S.S.S. ads caused me to think that S.S.S. Tonic was just what I needed for my let-down feeling, pimply skin and low resistance. I wanted more strength and a clear skin.

"It didn't take S.S.S. very long to get my blood back up to normal—and as my strength and energy returned my skin cleared up."

If your condition suggests a tonic of this kind, try S.S.S. It is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood.

S.S.S. value has been proven by generations of use, as well as by modern scientific appraisal. Sold by all drug stores...in two convenient sizes...the larger is more economical.

LIVE POWER OF ANIMALS SHOWN IN AD SERIES

Standard Oil company is making "Eve power" the theme of its spring and summer advertising campaign in newspapers throughout its territory.

Illustrations of wild animals in action portray the live power animals hold in reserve, above their normal requirements, to draw on in times of need. Parallel illustrations show how reserve "live power" in gasoline help the motorist. The advertising message relates how the company's laboratories have achieved this additional "live power" by turning heavy molecules which formerly gave little power into lighter molecules which become fast-acting energy units.

Sable antelope, impala, koodoo antelope, and Rocky Mountain goats are a few of the animals used in these parallels. To insure authentic portrayals, assistance was secured from the Field Museum of Natural History. Walter A. Weber, artist formerly with the museum, executed many of the drawings, with Paul Bransom, renowned for his animal illustrations in the Saturday Evening Post, doing others.

Radio announcements throughout the middle west are being used to call attention to the ads, and bill board messages are tied in with the advertising focused in the newspapers.

LOSES HAND IN ACCIDENTAL GUN DISCHARGE

A. T. Jeffery, proprietor of Moonlight Garden, local entertainment place, lost his left hand above the wrist Thursday afternoon as the result of the accidental discharge of a ten gauge shotgun. The mishap resulted when Jeffery stumbled and fell while crossing the yard to shoot a skunk which had been molesting his chickens. The charge struck his hand, necessitating amputation above the wrist.

SOUTH BARNARD

For the first time in many months the automobiles were able to get up to the church doors at South Barnard Reformed church last Sunday. It certainly seemed good to have the roads passable again. From now on we expect to have a full church on Sunday afternoons at the regular preaching services.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Potter is to be open to the young people's class on Wednesday evening of this week. Interest in this class continues to grow. Mr. and Mrs. John Boss, Jr., hope to entertain the class next week Wednesday.

John Longfellow Klooster has undertaken the task of working the Warren Frank farm. He reports that he is very happy in his new place. He says: "My new hat gives evidence to that fact." The coming of spring weather also brought a broad smile to his face, for this kind of weather enabled The Rockford Shoe Company to render him valuable assistance.

Miss Jennie Klooster and Jasper Warner have found an outlet for their services at the Gregory place, while Harrison Warner is lending his brawn and brains to the Ecklund's. We commend the ambitious spirit of all these young people.

Spring weather found many farmers emerging forth from their shells and beginning to step lively behind their plows. There is even a possibility that Ed. Boss will be able to leave his chair and assume the role of field marshall. His young cohorts enjoy this for then they are assured of a coffee hour.

Every day in every way life becomes more complicated.

PLOW DOWN REFUSE TO PROTECT ONIONS

Insect Pest of Crop Controlled by Destroying Breeding Places

Destruction of all cull onions and of all refuse from the onion crop by plowing the material under will save Michigan growers from severe losses caused by the onion maggot, according to the entomology department at Michigan State college.

The maggot is the larvae of a fly and lives in the onion plants after they begin to grow. The infested plants seldom live to maturity.

Before onions are up, the larvae can grow and multiply in piles of cull onions or of onion tops which may be left around the farm. Such refuse should be destroyed and the cheapest method is usually to plow it down. Care should be taken to be sure that all material is covered so that the flies can not reach it.

It is possible to treat soil with solutions of one of the mercurial compounds and this will protect the onion but the cost is high except for the home gardener. Manufacturers give directions for making the solutions and these should be followed carefully.

A Little Bit Humorous

ONE FOR S. P. C. A.

"My husband is a brute, and I've reached the place where I just can't stand him any longer?" said Mrs. Nosey.

"Now what's he done?" asked her dearest friend.

"Well, you know we were on a 4-party line, and he's gone and had it replaced with a private one, so I can't listen in any more," she groaned.

Matches

The physician was giving an informal talk on physiology. "Also," he remarked, "it has recently been found that the human body contains sulphur."

"Sulphur!" exclaimed the girl in the blue-and-white blazer. "And how much sulphur is there, then, in a girl's body?"

"Oh, the amount varies," said the doctor, smiling.

"Ah!" returned the girl. "And is that why some of us make better matches than others?"—Vancouver Province.

BUSINESSLIKE

"Darling," she murmured, and her voice was shaky, "how do I know that you really and truly love me?"

"My pet, I can prove it," he said. "Why, I can't sleep at nights for thinking of you."

"H'm," she muttered doubtfully, "that's no proof. Pa can't sleep at nights for thinking of you, but I hardly think it's love."

Right Size

McPherson was to be married.

"Ye'll be given' us a send-off?"—he inquired of his best man.

"We will."

"With rice and white ribbons?"

"Aye."

"And old shoes thrown after us?"

"Oh, aye, of course."

"Well—I wear tens, an' Janet takes sixes."

Nature Has Qualified Butterfly as Chemist

In a report to the Smithsonian Institution Dr. Austin H. Clark marvels, and with reason, at the curious adaptability of the cabbage butterfly, a small chalky insect with white wings. In Europe the caterpillars feed on the leaves of cabbages and closely related plants. Why these? Because they contain food of the proper chemical composition for the young, and the young are bred from eggs laid on the leaves.

About the middle of the last century the cabbage butterfly was brought to this country. It began to lay eggs not only on cabbage but also on the leaves of the garden nasturtium, which originally came from Central and South America. How did the butterfly know that the nasturtium is chemically of the right composition, although it is not even remotely related to the cabbage? The European ancestors of the cabbage butterfly knew nothing of the nasturtium for thousands of generations.

The wonder grows when Doctor Clark points out uncanny powers in other insects. Two varieties of fritillaries live entirely on the huckleberry tree. If they make a mistake in the tree the young starve to death. —New York Times.

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the right dose of a properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store, ready for use. Member N. R. A.

Whose Fault?

When a Child Won't Study

"Kept after school!" And it isn't the child's fault, or the teacher's. His mother is to blame. How can a boy get his lessons when his senses are dulled day after day by dosing with sickening purgatives? When a child's bowels are stagnant they need help, of course. But not some drastic drug to upset the stomach, perhaps weaken the entire system; or form the laxative habit. On the right, parents will find a happy solution of this problem:

Here's a boy who gets good marks, has time and energy for play. He is never ill, hardly ever has so much as a cold. When he does show any symptoms of being sluggish, his mother knows just what to do. She gives him a little California Syrup of Figs—and that is all. It's a natural, fruity laxative that is agreeable to take, and its gentle laxative action comes from senna. Parents are urged to use just pure California Syrup of Figs. Be sure bottle says 'California'.

PROPOSED BOND FUNDS ALLOTTED

THIS COUNTY GIVEN $135,000 FOR HIGHWAYS

Will Seek Voters' Sanction April 30 for State to Borrow Thirty-eight Million for Public Works

Charlevoix county under the $38,000,000 public works act which is to be submitted to a referendum vote of electors April 30, would receive an allocation of $135,000.00, it has been announced by the state highway department. This sum is based on the hospital and armory building program and on highway construction.

Every county in the state would share in the public works program, which was designed as a work-measure. Allocation of all funds is to be made on a four-way factor of area, population, proportion of trunk line highways, and the welfare case load. A fixed percentage of the part each county is to receive under the measure was worked out in advance.

Charlevoix county's appropriation would be spent for highway construction. The public works act proposes to borrow from the federal government $37,874,458.42 of which $19,284,458.42 would be used on an institutional program for state insane hospitals, tuberculosis sanatoriums, armories, fish hatcheries and other institutions. A $590,000 tuberculosis sanatorium in the upper peninsula is contemplated under that sum, location to be determined by the tuberculosis sanatorium commission. If the sanatorium is not required, the appropriation would be added to highway improvement funds. The act further provides that $18,000,000 be used in highway and highway grade crossing construction.

Specific appropriations are to be made in counties in which the institutional program would be carried on, even though the amount exceeds the proportion owing to that county under the four-way factor. The following counties would receive sums in excess of their allocations:

Calhoun	$ 500,000.00
Grand Traverse	1,557,360.00
Ionia	367,408.00
Kalamazoo	1,729,000.00
Lapeer	1,493,326.00
Livingston	362,000.00
Luce	1,191,864.42
Oakland	2,157,700.00
Otsego	590,000.00
Tuscola	2,569,800.00
Washtenaw	3,655,000.00

The $590,000 set aside for the tuberculosis sanatorium in the upper peninsula exceeds any one county's allocation and will probably be placed in some of the 15 counties other than Luce county. For the purpose of compiling the allocation the $590,000 appropriation was placed in one county, throwing figures in error by two per cent for all other counties.

Specific appropriations will also be made to:

Crawford	$ 25,000.00
Genesee	125,000.00
Gratiot	60,000.00
Houghton	75,000.00
Ingham	24,000.00
Jackson	200,000.00
Kent	507,000.00
Mecosta	60,000.00
Midland	75,000.00
Saginaw	160,000.00
Wayne	1,660,000.00

To these sums highway appropriations have been added if the specific appropriations did not approximate the four-way factor.

GARDEN SEEDS NEED WELL PREPARED SOIL

Thorough Working of Soil Necessary to Start Plants Growing

Thorough preparation of the seed bed for gardens is one way of insuring bountiful harvests of vegetables, according to garden specialists at Michigan State college.

Whether a spade or a plow is used to stir the soil will depend on the size of the garden; either is suitable if six inches of soil is turned over to forme a seed bed. Heavy soils should not be worked when they are wet or the soil will become so hard that plants will not grow properly.

Materials added to increase the plant food of the soil should be well covered. Three inches of well pulverized soil should form the top layer of the garden. Too little work on the ground permits air pockets to remain under the surface and these allow the soil to dry out very rapidly.

Commercial fertilizers may be used to add plant food to poor soils but fine or well rotted manure is better for garden soils. The humus in the manure is needed to help retain moisture and to keep the earth in good tilth. Manure should be covered to a depth of three inches but commercial fertilizers are applied on the surface of the soil after the ground has been spaded. It is then worked into the soil. Four pounds of commercial fertilizer to each 100 square feet is an ordinary rate of application.

Some soils are too acid to grow vegetables well. An application of lime costs little and increases the productiveness of the garden. Simple outfits to test soil for acidity can be obtained from seed stores, county agricultural agents, or the soils department at Michigan State college. The cost is slight and the tests can be made by anyone who will follow the directions given with the outfit. Limestone to correct soil acidity is inexpensive or hydrated lime can be used. Only enough lime should be applied to make the soil neutral.

After the seeds are sown, the ground should be cultivated often enough to keep the weeds down and to form a fine earth mulch on the surface of the garden. Weeds take plant food and water which the vegetables will need. The earth mulch helps to prevent the ground from drying out rapidly. It is much easier to kill weeds when they are small than when they have attained some size. Frequent cultivation that keeps the soil's surface from crusting will serve both purposes.

Plants need more water than usually falls as rain during the Michigan growing season. Watering the garden with an ordinary hose or with the porous hose devised by the agricultural engineering department at the College will increase the yields of green foods. Less water will be needed if it is applied late in the afternoon or at night.

CONSERVATION BODY RENAMES OFFICERS

George R. Hogarth Retained Director Another Year

The state conservation commission, at its annual meeting, Friday, re-elected Commissioner William H. Loutit, of Grand Haven, as chairman.

George R. Hogarth was re-named director and Ray E. Cotton will continue as secretary.

The commission assigned from three to five men to a six weeks' exploration of placer gold mining operations on 1,240 acres of its land in Marquette county. In the same area the federal government owns 680 acres.

In another effort to determine potential values of state property P. J. Hoffmaster, head of the state parks division, was instructed to survey the possibilities of logging timber in state parks.

L. R. Schoenmann was given a leave of absence until July, 1935, to head state participation in land use projects under the AAA. Schoenmann has been directing the state's land economic survey for the past 12 years.

REPORT SHOWS 60,000 ACRES OF PINE TREES

Blister Rust Control Still Needed Over Two-thirds of Michigan Land

The state department of agriculture reports having completed the compilation of its data regarding blister rust activities for the calendar year 1933.

This report discloses that in the wild currant and gooseberry eradication work 20,557 acres of pine were protected. To accomplish this it was necessary to crew-work 49,438 acres of land, on which 3,527,768 Ribes bushes were pulled. In the pine scouting and mapping campaign conducted after the close of the 1933 field season to lay the ground work for the 1934 field season, the mappers located 59,599 acres of pine. To properly protect this timber will require crew-work on 174,726 acres of land and involve 47,171 man-days of labor. Most of this labor will be available from the C. C. C. camps distributed throughout the upper peninsula and the northern part of the lower peninsula.

MANY GAME LAW VIOLATORS ARE ARRESTED

Five Apprehended Jack-lighting for Pike on Birch Lake

Violation of game and fish laws has resulted in the apprehension of six men in the past week, according to a report made Monday by Conservation Officer C. W. Bonney.

Ed. Stantz and Joseph Russett of Kewadin, were arrested last Thursday night by Bonney on Birch lake, Antrim county, for spearing pike and illegal use of jack-lights. Russett, a juvenile, was placed on probation and Staetz will be arraigned Wednesday before Justice Job England at Bellaire.

At the same time Sunday night, Bonney and District Supervisor Harry Dunmore of Boyne City, apprehended Herman Odell, Carlas Hollenbeck and Norman Hubbell, all of Kewadin, on a similar offense. They will also appear before Justice England on Wednesday.

James Turner of Simonds, taken recently by Bonney for illegal possession of a speargun on Jordan river, was assessed fine and costs of $11.50 at Bellaire last Wednesday, while William Little, Alba hotel keeper, arrested by Conservation Officers Bonney, Dunmore and Denell, pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegally possessing game. His case will be heard by Justice England on Wednesday, April 25th.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY PROGRAMS READY

BOYNE CITY ENTERTAINS 4-H CLUB MEMBERS FRIDAY

Extension Groups Gather May 4th at East Jordan—Fine Programs for Both Events

(By R. C. Mellencamp.)

Great interest is being manifested by the 4-H club members in the Achievement day program that takes place in the Boyne City high school gymnasium on Friday, April 27. Twenty-three different groups are putting the finishing touches on their exhibits in preparation for this county-wide display.

You will have the opportunity of seeing some wonderful articles which are of practical use about the farm or home, made by the members of the handicraft clubs, such as pedestals, foot stools, magazine racks, tie racks, and many others too numerous to mention. You will be just as pleased as the girls are when you see the dresses on display that have been made by the clothing club members.

The boys' and girls' 4-H club members and leaders sincerely urge you to see what they have accomplished and enjoy the program that has been planned for your enjoyment.

The following program will be presented:

From 10:00 to 12:00 — Free movies at the Boyne City theatre.

Noon—Picnic dinner at the city park.

1:15—Welcome, by L. L. Close, superintendent of schools. Community singing, musical numbers, club stunts by each school or community. Presentation of awards by A. G. Kettunen, state club leader. Style review and presentation of awards by Miss Sylva Wixon, assistant state club leader.

With this program being offered and having the opportunity to view this large array of exhibits by some 225 club members in the county, you will want to make your plans right away to attend this 4-H club Achievement day on Friday the 27th. Bring your friends with you. Don't forget, the day's activities start at 10 o'clock.

Great plans have been formulated for the annual Achievement day sponsored by the extension ladies in the county who have participated in the clothing project. Eighteen local community clubs have received six lessons in this project under the supervision of Miss Irene Taylor, specialist from M. S. C. A total of 10 ladies have received these instructions and have carried them back to their home community.

The exhibit and program will be held in East Jordan on Friday, May 4th. Of special interest will be a large display of dresses made by the many ladies who have joined the project. Over 200 ladies have carried out this extension program and their exhibits indicate splendid results derived from this project.

A most pleasing program has been arranged by the program committee. There will be both forenoon and afternoon attractions with a dinner at noon at a very nominal cost. From present indications, over 300 ladies will attend this Achievement day. Another feature of the program will be the presentation of certificates to the women who have successfully completed all of the requirements. R. J. Baldwin, extension director of M. S. C., will be the main speaker and will have a message that will be greatly appreciated by the many friends of extension work in the county.

Next week further details will be published concerning this big event. Watch the papers and plan right now on attending the Achievement day as the guest of the ladies who have so faithfully studied under the direction of Miss Irene Taylor.

RUM, BAD DRIVING IN STOLEN CAR, GETS INDIANS IN TROUBLE

Over-indulgence in rum and subsequent bad driving combined to land Alec Anewishke, Harry Judson and Bennett Wakefield, Traverse City Indians, in jail Sunday.

Driving a car stolen from the Chevrolet Auto Sales at the rate of 74 miles per hour, the trio landed in a ditch near the Faculnk corner on US-31 early Sunday morning. Sheriff Floyd Ikens found Anewishke in a stupor at the scene of the accident. Judson and Bennett were picked up late Sunday afternoon near the Martin crossing on the Pere Marquette and all were turned over to Sheriff David Core and Traverse City state police.

The car, practically a new Chevrolet sedan, was almost a total wreck, but miraculously the trio escaped injury.

REPUBLICANS PLAN BIG SUMMER RALLY

Petoskey Gathering Will Have Vandenberg As Speaker

A regional republican rally is being planned for early summer in Petoskey with United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg and Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald as the main speakers, according to John Lake, Emmet county republican chairman. The date will be following the adjournment of congress and will be announced sometime in advance after a conference between the two speakers and Chairman Lake.

Emmet, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Otsego and Antrim counties would unite in the big event. A big banquet session has been suggested with five hundred or more persons the aim for the attendance. Both speakers are candidates for office in the summer republican primaries, Senator Vandenberg for renomination, and Mr. Fitzgerald for the republican gubernatorial nomination.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB CLOSES YEAR'S ACTIVITIES WITH BANQUET

Members of the Shakespeare Study Club gave a banquet Monday evening in the Congregational church parlors in honor of their husbands. The affair commemorated the 370th anniversary of Shakespeare's birthday.

The tables were decorated in club colors, purple and gold. Yellow tulips and snapdragons and purple candles were artistically arranged. Quotations from Shakespeare served to place the guests at the tables. A delicious dinner was served.

Mrs. E. J. Hiller gave an address of welcome. A. L. Fitch and Mrs. A. A. Swinton followed with very clever and amusing toasts.

The banquet completes a very successful year for the club. The outgoing executive committee is composed of Mrs. E. J. Hiller, president; Mrs. E. L. Dawson, vice-president, and Mrs. Louis O'Neil, secretary-treasurer.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

OVER THREE HUNDRED ATTEND PROGRAM AT BOYNE CITY

Displays of Handicraft Work Were Commendable—Certificates of Achievement Awarded

(B. C. Mellencamp)

The annual 4-H club Achievement Day held in the Boyne gymnasium last Friday was an outstanding success. From 10:00 until 4:00 the members of 4-H clubs and their parents and friends were enjoying themselves. At 10:00 free movies were given in the Boyne City theater. The same program was given as during the evening, plus two additional reels. These two reels were on 4-H club subject and showed the Shrines of American History.

The afternoon program began at 1:30 with an address of welcome by L. L. Case, superintendent of schools, followed by club songs directed by G. A. Thorpe, club leader from M. S. C. Next proved to be the main feature of the afternoon program, the long anticipated style review in which some 75 girls participated. Miss Edar Zipp, Bay Shore and Miss Jean Bugai, East Jordan, were selected as the two style champions. They will represent Charlevoix county at the Gaylord club encampment held the first week in August.

Next, the various clubs gave short numbers such as songs, little playlets and musical numbers. Another feature was a short talk by Dr. Carleton Dean, head of the District Health Unit, Charlevoix, who spoke briefly on the importance of health. Every year at Gaylord, two health champions are selected to compete for the state health championship. He made several fine suggestions in regard to health matters that certainly will help club members in this health contest.

Probably the part of the program enjoyed the most by club members was the presentation of certificates of achievement and the selection of the county honor members. Mr. Thorpe briefly discussed the value of club work to club members and then announced the county awards. Miss Sylvia Wilson, club leader from M. S. C. was the last speaker and presented the awards to the clothing club members and the hot lunch schools. It was very gratifying to have the opportunity of seeing all the club members on the stage at one time who had so splendidly completed the requirements of 4-H club work.

In the handicraft clubs, the following county honor members were selected:

First Year: Franklin Ingalls, Ranney school; Leonard Evers, Burgess school; Clyde Kent, Clarion school.

Second Year: Versel Crawford, Ranney school; Rusell Knapp, Advance school; Edwin Gardner, Wildwood school.

Third Year: Bobby Straw, Marion Center school; George Dickerhoof, Bay Shore school.

Fourth Year: Levi Balch, Marion Center school.

In the clothing clubs, the following county honor members were selected:

First Year: Betty Moreau, Clarion school; Eleanor Eeklund, Marion Center school; Jean Bugai, East Jordan; Frances Behling, Knop school. Ilo Bassett, Bay Shore.

Second Year: Gladys Padgett, Clarion school; Martha Hooker, Clarion school; Jane Davis, East Jordan; Lorena Brintnall, East Jordan; Alma Barber, Bay Shore.

Third Year: Pauline Padgett, Clarion school; Shirely Burnett, Bay Shore school.

Fourth Year: Arthella Yahr, Bay Shore school; Lillian Meggison, Marion Center school.

Fifth Year: Bessie Behling, Knop school; Martha Fett, Boyne City.

In the hot lunch project in which four schools displayed a set of four posters, the Murray school under the leadership of Wesley Jolliffe was awarded first place.

In addition to the county honor members, each of the local clubs had their outstanding club members as determined by the state club leaders as follows: In the handicraft clubs:

Marion Center Community Club, Sam Straw, leader: Bobby Straw, Levi Balch.

Wildwood School, Melvin Gardner, leader: Edwin Gardner, Billy Burns.

Burgess School, Elgie Dow, leader: Leonard Evers, Albert Routly.

Bay Shore School, Douglas Ross, leader: George Dickerhoof, Ben Walker, Wilbert Liegel.

STATE BOND ISSUE IS BADLY BEATEN

SNOWED UNDER MONDAY BY A 5 TO 1 MAJORITY

Charlevoix County Among Leaders Against Proposal—Only Eight Counties Favored Bonding

Michigan's taxpayers defeated in no uncertain manner the state administration's $38,000,000 public works building program at Monday's special election. With 85 per cent of the state's precincts reported late Tuesday, it appeared the issue had lost by a 5 to 1 margin.

Charlevoix county was among the leaders in the opposition to the bond issue, the returns show. With 24 of the county's 25 precincts reported, the vote was 119 in favor and 1,758 opposed.

The results from the state showed 3,096 of the 3,438 precincts had voted 230,757 to 47,939 against the proposal. This [illegible] the metropolitan counties of Wayne, Pontiac, etc., where it was expected an affirmative vote would be cast. In the lower peninsula only Otsego county, which would have received a $590,000 sanatorium, approved the program. Upper peninsula counties were largely in favor of the bond issue.

Following is the Charlevoix county vote:

	Yes	No
Bay	1	69
Boyne Valley	6	100
Chandler
Charlevoix	2	30
Evangeline	0	38
Eveline	0	128
Hayes	3	96
Hudson	3	13
Marion	3	93
Melrose	1	93
Norwood	1	32
Peaine	18	5
St. James	1	31
South Arm	3	121
Wilson	2	102
Boyne City	28	179
East Jordan	21	171
Charlevoix	21	350
	119	1758

Eveline and Evangeline townships were unanimously against the proposal, while Peaine township on Beaver Island was the only Charlevoix county precincts casting a favorable majority.

GILBERT DIRECTED VERDICT NO CAUSE FOR ACTION

Held No Proof Shown County Road Commission Active in Operations of Lake Shore Drive

The trespass case of Minnie E. Bedford vs. the County of Charlevoix, the county road commission, and Samuel E. Rogers, W. K. Straw and Frank Waugeman, members of the county road commission, on trial in circuit court here since last Thursday, came to a close Tuesday forenoon.

Circuit Judge Parm C. Gilbert directed the jury to return a verdict of no cause for action, pointing out that the plaintiff had failed to show proof of liability on the part of the defendants.

In his decision Judge Gilbert ruled that no proof had been made of participation of the county or of the Board of county road commissioners, as a board, in the operations of the welfare project known as the Lake Shore Drive. As to the liability of the individual members of the board, he ruled that even though the commissioners may have become liable because of the loaning of county equipment and men, the proofs disclosed that others were also engaged in the acts which resulted in the claimed trespass and that all acted in concert so as to make the liability joint as to all and, unless all were joined in the action, the case failed.

The case, in which the plaintiff sought damages of $52,000, resulted from the cutting of two right-of-ways across the Bedford property in the construction of a scenic drive along Lake Michigan to Norwood. The project, deemed one of the most worthy and beneficial under the old welfare program, was discontinued because of litigation which arose.

Citizens of Charlevoix and the west portion of the county particularly, are of the hope that difficulties may be removed so that the project may be continued under the new work relief program, and ultimately completed. Benefits of the scenic drive as a tourist attraction and the opening of many miles of desirable [illegible] plainly visible and would be a distinct asset to the entire county.

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB HAS BIG PROGRAM

WILL RECEIVE 1500 PHEASANT EGGS SOON

Offering Prizes to Persons Obtaining Best Results from Settings; Rear 500,000 Fingerlings

Preparations for a summer program of fish and game propagation, a membership drive and cooperation with conservation officers in fish and game law enforcement make up a comprehensive campaign of activity undertaken by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club.

Crews of volunteer workers have accomplished considerable in repairing damage caused by spring freshets at the Stover creek rearing ponds, where the organization this summer will raise nearly a half million game fish to fingerling stage for fall planting. Stone retaining walls were erected in several places where the creek bank had been washed out. The by-pass, constructed last fall to control flood water, has been placed in readiness.

At the present time the club members are making plans to handle 1,500 pheasant eggs to be received from the state game farm within the next week for hatching. Richard Paddock is chairman of the committee in charge. Anyone desiring to take eggs is requested to communicate with him. The Junior Sportsman's Club voted Monday night to take 150 eggs. A novel plan is being worked out this year in connection with the pheasant hatching program. As an inducement to sportsmen to obtain the best possible results from the eggs, the club is offering four prizes. First and second awards to the persons hatching the largest percentage of chicks from a setting. It is anticipated this plan will create a greater interest in the pheasant hatching program and bring better results.

The club's patrol boat has been placed in readiness for use on Round lake and Lake Charlevoix and regular patrols to eliminate illegal netting will soon be started now that the lakes are free of ice.

COMMUNITIES MUST ASSIST IN WELFARE

Michigan Allotment for May to Be Greatly Curtailed

Curtailment of federal emergency relief will necessitate that communities prepare to care for their own indigent by inclusion of welfare allotments in 1934 budgets, William Haber, assistant state relief director, declared Friday.

He urged that cities make a thorough study of the welfare situation before drafting new budgets. He said appropriations to care for indigent by the federal commission will be based upon amounts voted locally.

Returning from Washington where he had been conferring with federal officials concerning Michigan's federal allotment for May, Haber said:

"Financial assistance of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration will be decidedly curtailed. The local community will be obliged to make much more substantial contributions to relief than they have in the past."

Haber assumed the office of director of state relief work on May 1 when Fred R. Johnson's resignation became effective.

RELIEF GARDENS TO PROVIDE FOOD

WILL BE REQUIRED OF THOSE RECEIVING WELFARE

ERA Ready and Willing to Assist, But Will Help Only Those Who Help Themselves

The fellow who is too lazy to spade and care for his own garden will be on the blacklist of the Emergency Welfare Relief commission when he comes around looking for help next fall, the local commission announced again this morning.

With the ERA furnishing seeds and fertilizer all a prospective gardener needs is his back yard and some ambition to raise all the garden truck his family needs this summer and a large portion of the family vegetable suply for next winter. If he attends to this and still needs additional help next fall and winter he will be in a favorable position.

The ERA will furnish supervision for the gardens, engaging some experienced person who will keep a general eye on the gardens, give advice where necessary and be generally helpful. The commission will supply the seeds and fertilizer.

Each prospective gardener, before being furnished with seeds and fertilizer, will be asked to sign the following pledge:

"I herewith agree to prepare and care for a home garden of my own this coming season; and for this purpose I accept ——— pounds of fertilizer and ——— cents for the purchase of seeds of my own choice. I shall expect supervisions by some representative of the Welfare Relief Department, and shall welcome his helpful advice. I will do my best to raise enough garden stuff for immediate use, and promise to can or preserve in some other way, where practicable, the surplus produce for later use, in order to make myself as nearly self supporting as possible. In case I fail to carry out this arrangement satisfactorily, I shall have no reason to expect further welfare aid, other things being equal."

Those planning welfare gardens must apply to the welfare office for the seeds, fertilizer and then sign this agreement.

The school property south of the American Legion hall, used last year for welfare gardens, has been prepared again this spring and space is available for those making application. Full details regarding the garden projects may be had by making application at the Emergency Welfare Relief Commission offices.

N, Charlevoix county nurse; Thel Guggisberg, R. N., Otsego county nurse, Catherine Warner, Emmet county nurse; Blanche McCoy, Antrim county nurse; Miss Anna Tuhy, clerk.

In the course of their duties throughout the year, the director spends one day of each week in each county, the dentist three months of the year in each county, and the sanitary inspector one day each in each county. The general purpose is to control those conditions which if left uncontrolled breed disease and death. [illegible] organization against the contagions of childhood, school health inspection, reduction of insanitary conditions, improvement of water and milk supplies, and attention to the individual needs of the individual children make up the program.

During 1934, through the cooperation of the CWA, three additional nurses were provided for a period of two months. They were Miss Myrtle O'Neil in Charlevoix county, Inez Barton in Emmet county, and Margaret Chapel in Antrim county.

In addition to his regular duties, Dr. A. R. Renwick, sanitary inspector; acts as supervisor of the federal health and sanitation program in the district's four counties in cooperation with the CWA. DRAIN OUT OIL-EATING SLUDGE NOW

Change to anti-sludge Iso-Vis "D"—keep sludge out—save oil

It is time to change to a heavier grade of motor oil. And when you change, remember this: The greatest cause of high oil consumption in automobile engines is sludge—sludge that fouls filters, makes valves sluggish so you lose gasoline power and mileage, and causes rings to stick and pump oil.

Also remember this: You can keep sludge out of your motor by using Iso-Vis "D", the anti-sludge motor oil. Because it does not sludge, Iso-Vis "D" keeps rings lively and free, reducing oil consumption to the minimum. That's why Iso-Vis "D" users use less oil—add fewer quarts between drains. It's the most economical, fine lubrication you can buy.

ISO-VIS "D" . . . . 25c a qt.
PLUS FEDERAL TAX . . . . 1c a qt.
TOTAL . . . . . 26c a qt.

Drive into your closest Standard Oil Station. Your Standard Serviceman will drain and change to the proper grade of Iso-Vis "D" in 8 minutes or less. Then you'll be rid of sludge and you'll keep your oil cost to the minimum.

Old Car Good Enough

Say, just ride in a '34

YOU'LL change your mind about holding on to the old car the very first time you get behind the wheel of a Nineteen Thirty-four. Are these new jobs smooth and smart and comfortable? And can they "travel?"

Even if you aren't going to buy at present, you should read the automobile advertisements appearing in this newspaper. It's an excellent way to keep up to date on what the spring salons are showing. There are important developments in styling and engineering — interesting features pictured and described—which contribute to new riding and driving ease, new safety, beauty, and e-c-o-n-o-m-y.

Economy is an important point in these messages from leading automobile manufacturers. . . . Exceptional values, long life, unusual freedom from repairs, low fuel and oil consumption! Economy is the reason they advertise in this newspaper, for here they can reach you and many other logical and intelligent car buyers at a minimum cost per person.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper as an economy measure. They save time, energy, money . . . and even now are pointing out that owning a luxurious, up-to-the-minute motor car is often more economical than maintaining an old one.

The CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Much Admired Windswept Prints

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S smart to be windswept. Hither and thither the winds of fashion do blow until most everything in the spring and summer "mode" is being made to express a very poetry of motion.

The amusing part about the breezes which waft through fashionland is that they are so well trained, blowing ever forward during the daytime hours while at night they completely reverse the order of things. Of course, it is all due to the artful manipulation of pleats and flares and various other devices which designers position at the front of the coat or dress or hat to be worn during the day until you look as if the wind were carrying you forward, while smartest evening fashions take on airplane draperies at the back or fan-spreading trains or similar details which make it seem as if nilady were winging her way in the very face of the winds.

Even fabrics themselves are yielding to the touch of fashion's elusive breezes. There are the new "windswept prints" for instance, which are certain to be much in vogue. These perfectly fascinating prints are developed in flower patternings, but with a distinct difference between the new florals and those of previous seasons. In the modern "windswept" versions flowers are shown bending over on slender stalks as if swayed by gentle breezes.

You'll love these swagger windswept prints. In the new challa construction they are as practical as they are good-looking. And, do they wear well! There's scarcely any "wear out" to them. Neither will the delicate color fade or run in washing and they iron smooth and perfect just like magic. Another grand thing about crepes of this type is that they are such a joy to work with. The texture is so firm and dependable—never pulls out at the seams and stays "put," which makes it easy for the homesewing woman to handle.

The three adorable dresses pictured are made of the new windswept prints. Those dainty white accents at neckline and sleeves—well now, we ask you, aren't the frothy, filmy neckwear fashions simply thrilling this season? The print to the right is that gloriously colorful a mere word picture cannot do it justice, and when one stops to think that this print will wash like new, what more is there to be desired in the way of a perfect print? The filmy white organdie roll-edged petal collar and cuffs add the climaxing touch. The self-fabric stitched belt drawn through a gay colored ring is worth noting.

There is a modest beauty about the spring posies with their delicate tendrils so gracefully windswept in the print to the left which will carry especial appeal to the woman of discriminating taste. In any of its color combinations this print is charming, but in navy with a strain of lighter blue running throughout, together with buttery white spring posies splotched with fresh light green, it is irresistible.

The slenderizing, one-piece dress topped by its matching fitted jacket admirably solves the problem of what to wear for semi-formal occasions. Worn with its jacket of solid color you have the feeling of being correctly attired most any hour of the day. Remove the jacket and the dress goes just formal enough to tone in to most any afternoon occasion. It has quaint drop shoulders and cunning wee puff sleeves. The piquant little velvet tie about the throat is reminiscent of the "gay nineties." The windswept print which fashions it carries a very subdued patterning.

DAYTIME EFFECTS ON EVENING DRESS

A new evening frock which August Abernard makes of her blackish-green crepe marocain has a daytime neckline and short sleeves that are gathered into the shoulder seam at the edges. The front of the bodice is draped into a full-length panel, caught under a rhinestone buckle at the right side front of the waistline.

Adding fashions the skirt and jacket of this an evening suit, of black wool, and the latter has revers of satin and sleeves that are unusually wide between the deep-slitted cuffs and the elbows. The skirt is a simple ankle-length mermaid skirt. The blouse of this suit is made of flowered satin, pinks and greens on a black background.

Grand New Nighties of Satin in Floral Prints

A visit to the shops will disclose lots of new ideas. A few minutes in one shop showed grand new nighties of heavy satin in floral prints, so well done that the result looks like panties.

Then there are tailored pajamas of heavy crepe de chine with three-quarter length coats of similar fabric. These are done in white or pastel shades and are piped in a contrasting color.

Modern Jewelry Adds to Attractiveness of Costume

A leading sportswear shop shows costume bracelet and belt sets tricky enough to renew any costume. These come in narrow and spacious widths, one set in coral, natural color, others in either silver or gold mesh.

The silver combination is accented with white metal trim. Another clever ornament here is a dog's head clip—to be attached to one's hat, neckline or wrist.

EXQUISITE LACE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The summer program heralds a widespread vogue for lace, with special emphasis placed on the gown which is fashioned of the finer sort of lace of delicate cobweb mesh. Molyneux creates this lovely dinner gown of black lace, with its subtle tracery of flowers and leaves on an enchantingly sheer background. The gown gives delightful expression to the new silhouette which calls for crispness and animated lines (the lace is stiffened with horsehair), knee-length tunic, and fullness which interprets a fan-spreading movement, just now so much admired, toward the back.

Fifty Famous Frontiersmen

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

The Man Who Knew No Fear

"WYATT EARP is one of the few men I personally knew in the West in the early days whom I regarded as absolutely destitute of physical fear." Thus was the tribute of Bat Masterson, whose wide acquaintance among peace officers, outlaws and gunfighters made him an authority on the subject of courage as it was exemplified on the frontier.

A native of Illinois, Earp was taken to California by his family as a youth, and at the early age of eighteen became a stage driver from San Bernardino to Los Angeles and then to Salt Lake. Later he worked in a grading camp that was building the Union Pacific across Wyoming, and in the early '70s he was a buffalo hunter in Indian territory and Kansas. That led him to the wild cow towns that were just beginning to spring up in the latter state.

For one brief hour Earp was marshal of Ellsworth, Kan., and in that hour he took his first step to fame by disarming and arresting the notorious bad man, Ben Thompson, a feat of cool courage which has few equals in border history.

Such exploits as these had something to do with his being made assistant city marshal of Dodge City, Kan., in 1876, and so great was his reputation as a dead shot and an officer who had to be obeyed, that during his career in Dodge City he found it necessary to kill only one man to maintain his authority. From Dodge City Earp went to Tombstone, Ariz., when that gold camp was truly "wild and woolly." He became marshal of Tombstone, known facetiously as "Hellcrabadc," with his brothers, Virgil and Morgan, as deputies.

His first test was when he faced a mob of 500 men intent upon lynching a character known as Johnny-Behind-the-Deuce and blotted them out. Later he disarmed a noted outlaw named Curly Bill and hustled him to jail, there to stand between him and another mob.

But the most famous of all his feats and the most desperate encounter he was ever in was the culmination of the Earp-Clanton feud which ended in the historic "Fight at the O. K. Corral." In that the three Earps and "Doc" Holliday faced five men of the Clanton-McLowery faction, and after a battle of blazing six-shooters which lasted less than a minute, three of the Clantons were dead and the other two had fled. Earp died in Los Angeles January 13, 1929, at the age of eighty, one of the last of the old-timers of the West and one of the few famous gunmen who ever "died with their boots off."

A Forgotten Patriot

MANY Americans are unaware of their debt of gratitude to Lafayette, the Frenchman; Kosciusko and Pulaski, the Poles; and Von Steuben, the German; but the chances are that not one in a hundred realizes the greater debt to Francisco Vigo, an Italian. Yet, if it had not been for him, the chances are that George Rogers Clark could not have won the Old Northwest for the American flag during the Revolution, nor have held it after he had won it.

Vigo was born in Mondovi, a Piedmontese town, in 1744. In his youth he went to Spain, became a muleteer in the Spanish army, saw service in Cuba, drifted to New Orleans, joined the Spanish militia there and became associated in the fur-trading business with Don Fernando de Leyba, governor of Upper Louisiana with headquarters at St. Louis. This association was responsible for his becoming known as Francis (instead of Francisco) Vigo, a "Spanish merchant" and one of the wealthiest men in the Illinois country with agencies at Kaskaskia, Vincennes and Mackinac, when George Rogers Clark appeared on the scene at Kaskaskia in 1778.

This merchant prince at once allied himself with the patriot cause and proved that he was willing to back his faith in it with his money. For when Clark confessed that he was without funds to pay his men so that he could go on to capture Fort Sackville at Vincennes, the key to British occupation of the West, it was Vigo who advanced the American commander the money. Not only did he do that but he made a journey to Vincennes, prepared its inhabitants for the coming of Clark and brought back to him the information which made possible the capture of the British post.

Greater contributions followed: Vigo pledged his own fortune to sustain American credit in the newly-won wilderness. But his patriotic efforts only brought disaster upon himself. Virginia, which had sent Clark on his expedition, couldn't or wouldn't repay Vigo the money, amounting to more than $20,000, which he had advanced to Clark.

The claim was passed on to the new federal government and it was suspicious of such claims. Despite the endorsement of such men as Clark, General Knox and Gen. William Henry Harrison, governor of Indiana, the "Vigo claims" dragged on for a century before they were paid. And then they were paid, not to Vigo, but to his heirs. He had died in Vincennes in 1836, a poverty-stricken, embittered old man of ninety-four, repeating endlessly "Everybody has forgotten me—everybody!"

Making Use of Spring Lamb

Many Portions Not Ordinarily Thought Of, if Given Proper Preparation, Make Economical and Dainty Dishes for "Second Meal."

"Spring lamb" is considered among the seasonal delicacies, and chops and crown roasts are priced accordingly. Some of the other cuts are not so expensive even when "baby" lamb is used. Most of us, however, will be content for everyday use with plain lamb. Even so, for economy's sake, it is well to take occasional advantage of special cuts of lamb. The possibilities in preparation are so numerous and its accomplishments are so attractive that the meal including lamb may be especially appealing.

A portion of the lamb not often thought of as particularly "meaty" and yet which weighs from two to three pounds, is the neck. Slices may be cut and boned, then skewered together to make very economical, yet filling, servings of meat.

There are many interesting ways of using cooked lamb for a second meal. To reheat the slices, for instance, in currant and mint jelly or in either jelly, plain, makes a savory dish. A molded gelatin salad, well flavored with tarragon vinegar, with diced lamb and vegetables, is delicious. Sometimes the gelatin is flavored with mint as well.

Here are a few ways of combining lamb with appropriate foods for either luncheon, dinner or supper: Sliced lamb, mint and currant sauce.

Stuffed potatoes
Asparagus Hollandaise
Caramel custard Coffee

Braised neck slices
Potatoes Tomato jelly salad
Creamed turnips and peas
Date blanc mange Coffee

Lamb steaks with apples
Glazed sweet potatoes Light rolls
Buttered green beans
Lemon cream pie Coffee

Creamed lamb with pimentos
Melba toast Mint gelatin salad
Radishes Olives
Strawberry shortcake
Molded lamb salad
Toasted rye strips
Chocolate russe Fig cookies

Braised Neck Slices.

The neck should be cut in slices about one inch thick and boned with a thin knife. Fasten each slice into the shape of a round—either with a skewer. Sprinkle the surfaces with salt and pepper, cover with a horseradish paste, dip the slices in beaten egg and then in crumbs. Sear on both sides, add one cup of stock, cover and braise in a baking dish nearly an hour or until the meat is tender. Make a gravy of the liquid in the pan and serve over the slices.

Lamb Steak With Apples.

Either boned neck slices or steak from the shoulder may be used for this casserole dish:

Dredge the lamb slices with flour to which salt and pepper has been added; sauté until nicely browned. Place the slices in casserole, season well and cover with sliced tart apples. Cover the dish and bake slowly (275 degrees Fahrenheit) for one hour.

Molded Lamb Salad.

Put several tablespoons of well-seasoned aspic jelly in the bottom of a mold and arrange hard-cooked eggs in an interesting pattern. When chilled fill the mold with finely chopped cooked lamb with diced green peppers, celery, chives and hard-cooked egg. Fill the mold with more jelly and chill. Serve on a bed of watercress of endive.

Lamb Terrapin.

3 tablespoons salad oil
2 cups cold diced lamb
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups stock
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 hard-cooked eggs

Heat oil and cook meat in it one minute. Stir in mustard, flour, stock and sauce. Cook until thick and add the yolks of eggs strained and the whites of eggs chopped. Serve on toast or with rice.

Lamb and Lima Beans.

1 pound lamb (from neck).
1 can lima beans
2 cups tomatoes
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons drippings
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Cut lamb in cubes, dredge with flour and brown in drippings. Add tomatoes, seasonings and lima beans, heat to boiling point. Place in casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about one hour.

Authority Shows That Beds Preceded Chairs

The bed is the ancestor of the chair. Such is the conclusion of Dr. Walter Hough, head curator of anthropology of the Smithsonian Institution. He bases his conclusions on a systematic study of primitive furniture and primitive human postures.

His study of the furniture of the most primitive "houses" shows that rest was the prime motive. First appeared the rudiments of the bed when man learned to interpose some buffer between his body and the hard, cold ground. At first the bed was only a pile of furs, grass or leaves. Then came the banquette, a raised pile of earth, upon which the family lounged and slept. And the banquette was the forerunner of both beds and benches; in some parts of the world. The chair made its first appearance in the form of a throne, either as the seat of a king or a god. From this it presumably descended, through various gradations, to become a common article of furniture.—Pathfinder Magazine.

SCHOOL BAND GOES TO MUSIC FESTIVAL FRIDAY

Will Participate in State-Wide Event at Battle Creek

A dress rehearsal in the gymnasium at 7:30 Thursday evening will mark the final preparation by the Charlevoix school band for participation in the state music festival at Battle Creek on Saturday, May 5th. The program will be open to the public.

Early Friday morning the band members and their director, Robert B. Mager, will leave for Battle Creek. Arrangements have been made to accommodate the band for lodging and meals at the Battle Creek sanitarium and it is expected they will arrive there early enough to inspect this famous institution and also visit the large food plants.

Friday's trip will culminate four weeks of strenuous rehearsals before school in the morning as well as the regular practice session, and a campaign to raise funds to defray expenses of the trip [illegible] raise funds, sponsored by the "Band Mother's Club" with Mrs. Clarence Wood as general chairman, has been successful through the splendid cooperation of Charlevoix citizens.

Contrary to general belief, the Battle Creek music festival is not a contest. It is a music festival where groups of school musicians go to perform before and with other groups. There will be bands, orchestras, glee clubs, choral societies and soloists on all instruments including piano, all stringed and wind instruments. Charlevoix will be represented by the school band and in the solo division by Warren Shapton, who will play a baritone solo, accompanied by Alta Lynn Mager.

DRAMA CLUB PRODUCTION NEXT THURSDAY

High School Group Presents "Berkeley Square" at Gymnasium

On Thursday evening, May 10, the people of Charlevoix will have the privilege of seeing "Berkeley Square," the outstanding success of the 1930 theatrical season.

The plot concerns a young American, Peter Standish by name, who falls heir to an old London house. Going through old papers of his ancestor, the first Peter Standish, he becomes so obsessed with the idea that things which hapened one hundred forty years ago are still going on, that he thinks himself back into the 18th century. There follow many humorous situations and also scenes filled with rare beauty and pathos.

Albert McMillan heads the cast in the role of Peter Standish. Marcia Oldham takes the part of Helen Pettigrew with whom he falls in love in his visit to the 18th century. Alyce Usher portrays Kate Pettigrew, Helen's sister, whom the first Peter Standish married. Marguerite Thewins Marjorie Frant of the present century, gives a very sincere characterization of the fiancee of the modern century rejected by Peter because of his love for Helen, dead so long ago. Other members of the cast are Marion Tuhy, Lady Anne Pettigrew; Edward Vratinina, Tom Pettigrew; Mr. Throttle, Bob Emrey; Major Clinton, Harold Mayhew; Lord Stanley, Glen Sneider; The Duchess of Devonshire, Alma Hartwell; Miss Barrymore, Doris Chvatil; Maid, Edna Wyers; The Ambassador, Herman Meyer; Mrs. Barwick, Marie Hansen.

A capable staff is also at work. Byrnice Lampheare, Marjorie Partridge and Helen Meyers are in charge of publicity. Marquis Roen and Jerline Smith are business managers, and Luella Hendrickson and Inn Newman are taking care of the wardrobe. Lloyd Arnold is the electrician and Iva Howe assistant to the director.

JUST SITTING AROUND, . . . NIGHT AFTER NIGHT

Margaret and John have lots of friends—and are well-liked by all. But they have no telephone to enable friends to reach them easily.

So Margaret and John just sit around, night after night, missing many good times. Yet, for only a few cents a day, they could have the countless advantages of telephone service.

Besides being a social asset, a telephone helps in finding employment . . . in keeping in touch with one's work . . . in "running" errands. And it offers priceless protection in emergencies, making it possible to summon doctor, firemen or police, instantly.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right dose of a liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.

A properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin brings safe relief from constipation. It gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative—effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child. PERPLEXED MEMORY

"I'm beginning to wonder," said Farmer Corotossel, "whether I'm not getting symptoms of this ailment they call amnesia."

"Out of courtesy to father, sir," came the reply.

Due to motor trouble, the S. S. Marold is in drydock in Kenosha, Wis.

The Minstrel show which will be held in the community hall Sunday, May 6, is being sponsored by St. James high school students. The event is causing a bit of excitement here, and everyone is looking forward to an evening of amusement. The "Marold" is taking an excursion from Charlevoix for the day and we are also anticipating the arrival of some of our friends from that city.

GOOD PRACTICES GET MORE CASH FOR WOOL

Right Flock Management and Care In Shearing Helps Grade of Fleece

Prices for good grades of wool have raised enough to encourage Michigan shepherds but this advantage is lost unless practices of handling the flock and the wool permit the owner to place the clip in the higher grades, according to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State college.

Care should be used in selecting rams so that the number of gray and black fleeces will be reduced. Sheep protected from external parasites are more thrifty and produce bright, strong wool. External parasites cause rubbing and ragged fleeces. All types of parasites can be controlled by drenching or dipping. Records at the college show that dipped flocks produce an average of a pound more of wool per head than unprotected flocks.

Wool should be clipped only when the sheep are dry. The fleeces should be kept intact and as few second cuts as possible should be made. Fleeces removed carefully can be tied without a wool box. This can be done by folding in the sides and ends, and the job completed by rolling from the rear three-fourths of the fleece and then rolling the shoulder wool around the outside.

Paper twine should be used in tying the fleeces. The tags should not be tied up with the fleece. When the wool is sacked, gray and black fleeces should not be mixed with the white. Fleeces containing chaff and burs should be kept separate.

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

The cost of the special election on April 30 will be borne by the various counties. Many inquiries regarding this have been received by the department of state and many county officials believed that the act authorizing the special election on the $37,800,000 bond issue, provided that the cost would be paid by the state.

The general election law, however, provides that the cost of printing ballots and paying election inspectors be defrayed by the counties in the same manner as regular election expenses are paid.

Over $0,000 of the 250,000 refunds due automobile owners who secured license plates before the rate was reduced, have been mailed out by the department of state.

The warrants are being mailed out at the rate of 5,000 a day and they average slightly more than $5 per warrant. But Michigan's habit of moving without leaving a forwarding address results in approximately 35 letters being returned each day. These warrants are being held in a special file until the department is informed of the correct address.

Michigan's automobile business continues to show a great improvement over 1933.

For the two weeks ending April 14, a total of 2,803 new cars were purchased by Michigan residents as compared with 1,898 cars for the same period in 1933. For the same period, 19,079 used cars changed hands as compared with 15,964 for the two weeks ending April 15, 1933.

Extension Ladies' Achievement Day at East Jordan

Everything is in readiness for the annual Achievement Day sponsored by the extension ladies in the county who have participated in the clothing project. Eighteen local community clubs have received six lessons in this project under the supervision of Miss Irene Taylor, specialist from M. S. C. A total of 38 lenders have received this instruction. Over 200 ladies from local groups enrolled. The exhibit and program will be held at the Presbyterian church, East Jordan, on Friday, May 4. Of special interest will be a large exhibit of dresses, other wearing apparel, muslin paterns, etc. The exhibits shown will indicate the splendid results derived from this project.

A most pleasing program has been arranged by the program committee. There will be both forenoon and afternoon attractions with a dinner at noon served by the members of the South Arm extension group.

We are especially fortunate in having R. J. Baldwin, director of extension work at the M. S. C., present on this occasion to give the main address. R. J. Baldwin has been the director since extension work came in to Michigan and has been instrumental in bringing about the development and activities of extension work from a very small beginning to its present development covering practically all the counties in the state. Mr. Baldwin is recognized as one of the outstanding directors in the country.

It is expected that over 300 ladies will enjoy the Achievement Day. Certificates of achievement will be presented to the women who have successfully completed all of the requirements. Another highly attractive feature will be a style review in which some 50 ladies will display the dress that they have completed. Each dress will be commented upon by Miss Taylor.

Following is the program:

Forenoon program starts at 11:15: Examine exhibits, community singing, roll call, Miss Sidney Lumley, secretary; announcement of election results and choice of new project, county secretary; report of last year's work and new project plans, Miss Irene Taylor, specialist in clothing.

Dinner in Presbyterian church.

Afternoon program starts at 1:15: Community singing, address of welcome, response, Mrs. Verna Hartnell; cello selection, Katheryn Kitsman; Zylophone selection, Buddy Porter; address, "Developing Home Resources," R. J. Baldwin, director of extension, Michigan State College.

The public is cordially invited to be our guests at this Achievement Day. Come and see the wonderful exhibits and enjoy the splendid program which has been arranged for your enjoyment.

Time Extended for Emergency Seed Loan Applications to May 15

We have just been informed that applications for emergency seed loans may be made to and including May 15.

It is desirable for all who desire to apply for this loan to do so at once as it takes approximately three weeks before the money is received. These applications may be made out at the county agent's office, Federal building, Boyne City.

MORE BALONEY

The middle of February a state senator made a typical speech promising to save the wage earner $10,000,000 per year by a reduction of small loan rates to a reasonable rate. He was not bothered in the least by the fact that the figures of the banking commissioner showed the gross income of all the small loan companies in the state to be about half the amount he names.—Howard City Record.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

How Frequent Are the Outbreaks of Milk-Borne Disease

In 1927 Armstrong and Parran (Dr. Donald Armstrong is third vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.; Dr. Thomas Parran is commissioner of health for the state of New York), listed 791 outbreaks of milk-borne disease as having been reported in the literature from January 1, 1881, to January 1, 1927. This represents approximately 17 outbreaks per year for the 46-year period.

However, the number of outbreaks of milk-borne disease occurring in the United States has been and is greater than this, since the above figures do not include any outbreaks which failed to find their way into the literature.

Since 1924 the Public Health Service has been sending annual questionnaires to all the state health officers and to all city health officers of cities over 10,000 population. As a result of these surveys the following number of outbreaks have been reported for each of the years indicated:

Milk-borne outbreaks reported by state and city health officers of the United States for the years 1924-30, inclusive:

Yr.	'24	'25	'26	'27	'28	'29	'30	To.
Typhoid—	34	31	49	25	25	28	27	217
Paratyphoid A—	0	1	2	0	0	0	0	3
Paratyphoid B—	1	2	0	2	0	1	0	5
Diphtheria—	1	1	2	2	2	0	0	8
Septic Sore Throat—	1	6	6	6	3	8	3	33
Scarlet Fever—	5	4	5	5	8	11	2	40
Miscellaneous—	2	6	5	3	2	2	6	24
To.	44	44	68	36	41	50	44	327

The average number of outbreaks reported per year during the above seven-year period is approximately 47.

In addition to the above outbreaks it is believed that there occur many outbreaks which are actually milk-borne but which are not recognized as such.

It should be noted that the above discussion does not include reference to the milk-borne diseases which do not occur, or are not usually reported, in the form of outbreaks, namely: tuberculosis, undulant fever, and the intestinal disturbances of children. No known method of evaluating the incidence of the milk-borne cases of these diseases is considered adequate enough to make any dogmatic statement.

Milk inspection in this county is carried on by Dr. A. R. Renwick, district sanitary inspector, who is also a state dairy inspector.

CATTLE GAIN FAST ON SILAGE RATION

Less Ground Needed to Grow Sufficient Corn If It Is Placed in Silo

Corn silage proved to be a better and cheaper feed for fattening beef cattle than either whole shock corn or ground shock corn in the feeding trials reported at feeders' day at Michigan State college.

Three lots of cattle averaging 666 pounds in weight were started on feed November 1. All lots received two and one-half pounds of cottonseed meal and about three pounds of mixed alfalfa hay in addition to the corn. The corn used was well matured and yielded about 48 bushels of shelled corn or six and one-half tons of silage per acre.

This is the second year of the trials of the relative values of the different forms of corn, and silage has given the most rapid and the cheapest gains each year. The finish of the cattle in the silage-fed lot was better than in the other two lots. Less ground was required in grow sufficient feed in the form of silage than was needed to produce enough corn in the other two forms.

TELL WAYS TO MANAGE LAND UNDER CONTRACT

Acres Should Be Considered As Rented for the Period

Thousands of Michigan farmers who have signed contracts to decrease their wheat or corn acreage must make plans to handle the contracted acreage in ways permissible under the contracts, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

Five ways of using these acres are permitted: 1, plant to trees for a farm wood lot; 2, allow to lie fallow and mow and leave any natural growth; 3, summer fallow or work to destroy noxious weeds; 4, plant to crops for soil improvement or to prevent soil erosion; and 5, plant to pasture or meadow crops not to be harvested while under contract.

Noxious weeds such as Canada thistles or bindweed can be killed in one year by proper cultural methods. The most effective way is to fall plow the ground, plow it again in the spring, anad then harrow it often enough to destroy any green growth as soon as it appears. Most of the weeds can be killed if the ground is plowed only once and then worked as described for ground plowed twice.

Most of the troublesome weeds store food in underground root stocks. The plant will live and renew its growth as long as this surplus food remains. Any growth of the plant draws on this stored food as long as no new green growth is permitted to appear above ground. When leaves appear, they manufacture more food and prolong the life of the plant.

Crops most commonly used in Michigan for soil improvement are sweet clover, soy beans, field peas, rye, vetch, buckwheat, alfalfa, or clover. All except rye and buckwheat are legumes and can add to the nitrogen supply in the soil.

Sweet clover is one of the most popular of these crops and will succeed if the soil is not too acid. The summer growth is not large but the tops are large at plowing time the next spring.

Soy beans may be sown late in May or early June and usually make a good growth which can be plowed down in August or September. Buckwheat can be sown in the summer. It is the only crop which can be sown successfully in Michigan at that time. Mixtures of rye and vetch can be sown in August or September.

Alfalfa and clovers are excellent soil builders. The growth can be plowed down and the land left under contract. No hay or pasture can be harvested while the land is under contract.

Alfalfa sown on contracted acres should be seeded without a nurse crop. This is the most certain method of seeding on most Michigan soils. [illegible] in July have been most successful.

Extension Bulletin No. 139, now being printed at Michigan State college, will help farmers who have contract acres to handle this land. The bulletin is mailed free to those who write the bulletin clerk at the college. County agricultural agents will have the bulletins within a short time.

One of our most interesting services thus far this season will be held next Sunday. Dr. Paul F. Voelker, Superintendent of Public Instruction, will speak at the regular time. While Dr. Voelker was president of Olivet college our ways crossed frequently and he occupied our pulpit several times while we were in Grand Rapids. He is known wherever he has spoken as an eloquent and forceful speaker. Charlevoix is fortunate to secure him at this time.

Another feature of the service will be the presence of the School Board and faculty of the Charlevoix public schools and district school teachers near Charlevoix.

Dr. Voelker will speak on the subject, "Building Character."

Sunday, May 13, is Mother's Day. Following a custom of several years standing an appropriate gift will be given the oldest and the youngest mothers present.

BETTER AND CHEAPER HEATING

The slogan now days is: "Don't buy more coal until you have investigated the many advantages of the wonderful STOKOL," a mechanical stoker that will repay its cost in a reasonably short time, using cheaper coal, less of it, and less labor than required for hand firing of boilers or hot air furnaces, besides the great satisfaction of having even temperature at all times, no smoke, no soot, no ashes, no dust.

With STOKOL in operation, it is only necessary to fill coal hopper every day or so and to remove the clean hard clinkers. Users of STOKOL would no more go back to hand firing than they would exchange their autos for a horse and buggy.

During the season now on for buying cheaper coal, a 10% reduction is allowed on the purchase price of the STOKOL, extending to July 15th. The cost is quite reasonable and equipment is very simple to handle.

A BUMPER RESORT SEASON PREOICTEO

WILL EQUAL PEAK YEARS OF 1928 AND 1929

Speakers at Regional Tourist Assn. Meeting Quote Facts and Figures to Prove Statements

Predictions of a peak resort season, one which will rival the seasons of 1928 and 1929, were freely made by speakers at the regional meeting of the West Michigan Tourist & Resort association at Traverse City last Friday evening.

Representing Charlevoix at the gathering were Dr. C. J. Winder, president of the Association of Commerce, Dr. R. B. Armstrong, Harry A. Craig and Fred E. Cartier.

Lee Wilson Hutchins, Grand Rapids wholesaler who has made a study of the tourist and resort traffic, predicted it, and Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association, predicted it, and both speakers gave sound reason on which their predictions were based.

Mr. Hutchins gave four reasons why people are coming to Michigan this year. There is a growing confidence that the depression is lifting, disturbed conditions in Europe will discourage continental travel, people have seen the Century of Progress and will look elsewhere for their entertainment this summer, and the vast number of new cars being sold means that people are going to want to drive somewhere in them.

Mr. Gray's prediction is based on the fact that, although the state advertising fund has scarcely swung into action to extoll the beauties of Michigan, the Lansing office administering the $100,000 fund is receiving more inquiries than were received at the same time in the peak years of 1928 and 1929.

Figures

In his address Mr. Hutchins dealt largely with figures. He said that the world paid seven and one-half billion dollars annually for outings and that 45,000,000 people will be on the road going on outings this year. Last year 10,000,000 people visited Michigan's state parks and 2,500,000 were from outstate. To the taxpayers of Michigan this means directly, in gas, sales and fishing taxes, more than a million dollars a year.

[illegible] assessed at $71,000,000.

Mr. Gray explained in detail how the $100,000 appropriated by the state will be expended, to advertise Michigan. Sixty thousand dollars of this amount will be spent to advertise the state as a whole, with offices in Lansing handling the advertising. Each of the four state resort associations will receive $10,000 of the remaining $40,000, providing each association raises $2,500 on its own initiative.

The general advertising will include newspaper advertisements in 11 leading middle west dailies, a series of radio programs, magazine advertising and participation in outdoor shows in St. Louis and Chicago and the distribution of 100,000 booklets.

The Michigan Tourist and Resort association will spend its money in direct answers to inquiries, in newspaper advertising, in the distribution of 50,000 vacation directories and in maintaining Chicago and Ohio offices.

SPECIAL PROGRAM METHODIST CHURCH

Mrs. Frank F. Bird to Be Speaker There Next Sunday

An entirely different service has been arranged for next Sunday at the Charlevoix Methodist church. Mother's day is not a regularly appointed special service by the discipline of the church, but as the custom has become somewhat general in this country, the church usually observes the second Sunday in May in this way.

Mrs. Frank F. Bird will give the main address on the topic, "That Mother of Mine." Mrs. Bird will be heard with much interest by her many friends here. A fine artistic touch will be given the program through several dramatic interpretations of the great poems on "Mother" by Miss McMillan.

The musical program will include "I Will Praise Thee" by Alfred Wooler; "Mother, Dear Mother," by Trehorne, male chorus; "Oh Mother of Mine," Miss Helen French.

Those who can are asked to bring a small extra offering for the aged mothers in Clark Memorial Home—a very appropriate gesture on this day.

LOCAL GIRL VICTIM AUTO CRASH

MADELINE YETTAW FATALLY INJURED SUNDAY MORNING

Five Others Seriously Hurt When Cars Meet Head-On North of P. M. Tracks on U. S. 31

A head-on automobile collision 200 feet east of the Pere Marquette crossing north of this city on U.S. 31 resulted in the tragic death of a local young woman and the serious injury of five others early Sunday morning.

Miss Madeline Yettaw, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yettaw, died from her injuries while enroute to Charlevoix hospital.

Miss Yettaw was riding with Louis Hankey and Clyde Comstock of Petoskey, and Miss Mary Simmons of this city. The party was returning from Petoskey. In the other machine involved were Joseph Troyer, employe of the Auto Electric Service, and his wife Helen, proceeding north. The cars met head-on at a high rate of speed [illegible] highway just east of the railroad tracks.

Miss Simmons suffered a broken rib, cuts about the head and bruises. Mr. Hankey was cut about the mouth and knees and Mr. Comstock suffered a wrenched ankle. Troyer received severe cuts about the head and his wife was found to have a compound fracture of the ankle, serious cuts and bruises.

The injured were taken to the local hospital by Frederick Curtis of Petoskey, and Miss Madlyn Lemieur of this city, who were followed in another car. Miss Yettaw was thrust partially through the windshield and Mr. Hankey was pinned in the car. Both Mr. and Mrs. Troyer were unconscious.

Miss Yettaw, a graduate of the local high school and popular member of the younger set, is survived by her parents, a sister, Ada, and brother, Benjamin Jr. Funeral services were conducted at 9:30 Tuesday morning from St. Mary church by Fr. Edward Neubecker.

Local sheriff, Floyd W. Ikens, who investigated following the mishap, found the Troyer car was three feet and eight inches to the left of the center of the highway, which is 16 feet wide at that point. Marks on the pavement showed that Mr. Hankey had applied his brakes 70 feet from the spot where the crash happened. In view of this evidence it is possible charges of negligent homicide or manslaughter could be brought against Troyer.

COUNTY TAX COMMISSION MEETS MONDAY

The Charlevoix county tax commission will meet Monday, May 14, at the court house to begin its annual task of allocating the 15 mill tax to the various governmental units of the county.

The commission has sent uniform budget blanks to the cities, townships and school districts of the county and speed of the work of allocation will depend largely upon the return of these blanks.

The commission, it is understood, will remain in session until the allocation is completed.

VOELKER PLEAOS CAUSE OF CHILD

STATE SCHOOL HEAD SPEAKER HERE SUNDAY

Concluded Tour of County Schools With Appearance Sunday at Congregational Church

Speaking before a large assemblage at the Congregational church Sunday morning, Dr. Paul E. Voelker, state superintendent of public instruction, made a strong plea that parents, teachers and Christian workers allow their children to grow up free of needless domination, but with their guidance help to revive the hope and interest of youth in life, to stir within their souls a desire to do something useful, practical and of real value to society.

Dr. Voelker, who is directly responsible for the administration of the department of public instruction in Michigan, came to Charlevoix county at the request of the temperance committee of the Charlevoix County Sunday School association. Prior to his address at the Congregational church Sunday morning he had given talks before the schools of Charlevoix, Boyne Falls, Boyne City and East Jordan, child health conferences, religious education meetings, etc.

Whether he was speaking in the interests of temperance, education or the financial conditions of our schools, Dr. Voelker, former president of Olivet college, always had the interests of youth in mind. Dr. Voelker is very sympathetic with the present condition of public school teachers. In a private statement he said the school teachers in Michigan had been cut $28,000,000. Some were working for $1 per month and board and others as low as $5. The deplorable part of the condition is the fact that a large number of citizens apparently do not care, he said. Dr. Voelker expressed fear that the only solutions in some places is to close the schools until such a time as the public becomes aroused.

Concluding his address Sunday, Dr. Voelker said: "It is our job as parents and teachers to get the hearts of our boys and girls—to get their pride and make them proud of the right things, to develop in them a love for the right things and to provide for them a good environment [illegible] of which will be contributed to training them the way they should go so that when they are old they will not depart from it."

Many parents of small children expressed their appreciation for his explaining many of the trying places parents find themselves. A large number of the board and faculty of local public schools, as well as teachers from the rural schools, were present to hear the address.

ANNUAL CLEAN-UP WEEK IS MAY 14-19

CITIZENS URGED TO JOIN IN SUMMER PREPARATION

Mayor Issues Proclamation Proclaiming Effort—City Street Department Will Assist

Charlevoix's annual house cleaning campaign will start Monday, May 14th, and continue through Saturday, May 19th.

The city council has designated that period for the annual "Clean-Up" week and health and fire officials and citizens generally are behind the movement to properly dress up the community for the coming season.

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor L. S. See:

PROCLAMATION

The City Council has designated the week of May 14-19, inclusive, as Annual Clean-Up Week. We are going to have a good summer this year so let everybody CLEAN UP, PAINT UP, and CHEER UP. The City street department will remove all cans and rubbish placed in convenient places on streets and alleys. We urge everybody to join in this Clean-Up movement so that we can live up to our slogan, "CHARLEVOIX-THE-BEAUTIFUL."

Signed:
L. S. SEE, Mayor.

The immediate purpose of the Clean-Up Week is to clear the yards, alleys and vacant property of the city of all refuse and rubbish and garbage piles; it will reduce the fire hazard by removing piles of inflamable materials and it will give the city a cleaner appearance.

Chief Charles Marshall of the local fire department urges people to burn the rubbish which will burn but to do it reasonably and safely. Keep the fires under constant control and away from all buildings or fences which might ignite.

Dr. R. B. Armstrong, city health officer, urges everyone to see that the accummulation of rubbish in the yard or in the home is burned or removed as a measure for preventing the outbreak [illegible] of any epidemic.

The good citizens urge all other citizens to see that their home grounds are made clean and attractive, not only for the summer visitors but for the enjoyment of home folks.

ANNUAL MANUAL ARTS EXHIBIT SATURDAY

Work of Public School Pupils to Be Displayed at Staley Hardware

An event which promises to prove of interest to school patrons and the public generally is the annual exhibit of the manual arts department of Charlevoix public schools, to be held Saturday, May 12th. Articles made by the class during the past school year will be on display at the Staley Hardware company store, where the exhibit will be open to the public. Walter Weisenberger, manual arts instructor, will have charge of the exhibit.

ALL STATE PARKS TO OPEN MEMORIAL DAY

More Vacations Expected This Year Than In Past Seasons

Looking forward to the summer season during which thousands of vacationists will seek rest and recreation in the open, the parks division, state department of conservation, has announced that plans are being made for the official opening by Memorial day of all of Michigan's state parks now under administration.

Last year in excess of 9,000,000 persons from the 48 states of the Union, District of Columbia, provinces of Canada and even from the far off British Isles, visited the 52 parks of Michigan.

Grand Haven state park alone had more than 1,000,000 visitors during 1933 with Bay City a close second. The last-named unit, however, had the most campers, 14,776.

Since the trend of business has shown an upward move, indicating that more persons will be financially able to tour, it is believed that Michigan's state parks during the coming season will draw even a larger attendance than last year.

REORGANIZATION PLANS APPROVED

RFC LOAN TO STATE SAVINGS BANK IS O.K.'d

Exact Date of Opening Depends Upon Routine Necessary Under Re-Opening Regulations

A United Press dispatch appearing in Tuesday's issue of the Petoskey Evening News states that plans for re-opening of the Charlevoix State Savings bank under corporate trust agreement with an RFC loan were approved Tuesday by the governor's advisory banking committee in Lansing.

This news, confirmed by telephone Wednesday morning in Lansing, furnishes the most important financial announcement made in Charlevoix since the opening of the new Charlevoix County State bank several weeks ago, and brings the assurance that approximately $150,000 will soon be available for circulation through the regular channels of trade.

[illegible] has been under the management of Archie L. Livingston, conservator, since April 6, 1933. Since that time the bank officials and members of the depositors' committee have been working tirelessly toward reorganization of the institution.

The exact date of opening will depend entirely upon the routine called for under the regulations of re-opening. Mr. Livingston will leave late this week for Lansing to obtain instructions as to the procedure necessary.

The plan of reorganization is understood to provide release of 40 per cent of the deposits and the organization of a separate corporation to liquidate the remaining 60 per cent of the assets. The plan also provides that consent of 75 per cent of the deposits of both commercial and saving departments be secured in writing and that $25,000 new capital be secured.

The new bank will handle the 40 per cent of released funds and the corporation will own and control the remaining 60 per cent of the bank's assets for liquidation as rapidly as possible and distribution pro rata of the collections to the depositors.

In its reorganization the bank will comply with all regulations necessary to qualify for government deposit insurance.

CIRCUIT COURT IS ADJOURNED UNTIL MAY 18

Regular May Term Will Convene Before Judge Gilbert on the 28th

Circuit court for Charlevoix county adjourned Tuesday noon to meet again in special session on Friday, May 18th, before Judge Parm C. Gilbert.

Mrs. Marie Black was granted a divorce in a cross bill from William E. Black, plaintiff in the divorce action, and a decree was also granted Katherine Savara from Martin Savara. The trespass case of Stella F. Brumme vs. Edward R. Southerland was continued until May 18.

The regular May term of circuit court, for which a jury will be called, will convene on Monday, the 28th.

COUNCIL VOTES IMPROVEMENTS

WILL PAVE INTERSECTION OF BRIDGE-RIVER STREET

Ask for Plans and Estimates for City Recreation Park—Vote Down Two Police Appointments

Approval of several street improvements and proposal of a plan which in all likelihood will result in the establishment of a recreational park for the city were major items of business transacted by the city council at its regular session Monday evening.

Street improvements voted were the paving of the intersection of River and Bridge streets a distance of 36 feet west of the Bridge street pavement and construction of curb and gutter, also installation of storm water sewer on Sherman street connecting with Antrim, installation of storm sewer to care for low spots on Dixon avenue, and for drainage of the lot and deisel engine pit at the city electric light plant. The city will make application to the FERA for labor on these projects, and ordered that plans and specifications be prepared at once.

The recreational park project, outlined recently at a joint meeting of the advertising committees of the council and Association of Commerce, appears almost certain of approval following discussion by the council Monday night. The plan calls for construction of tennis courts, shuffle board courts, soft ball baseball diamond, outdoor bowling alleys and horseshoe pitching courts on the city property near the American Legion quarters on Garfield avenue. Upon motion of the council, Mayor L. S. See appointed a committee composed of Councilmen Hallett, Kibbe and Ranger, City Engineer R. F. Sloan, Dr. C. J. Winder and D. T. McHugh, director of county FERA projects, to obtain immediately plans, specifications and estimates of cost for presentation to the council next Monday evening. The city would provide material and supervision and apply to the FERA for labor. The plan, if carried through, is figured to amply care for Charlevoix's recreational needs.

What may prove a general raise in the wages of city employes was approval to advance the common labor wage for city employes from 30 to 40 cents per hour.

The appointments of Neal Kemp and Joseph Moore as chief of police to succeed Charles Jefferies both failed to receive confirmation by the council. The council refused to vote on the first appointment and the second was voted down by a 5 and 1 margin. It is probable whoever receives the appointment will be under more strict regulation, for the council voted to get estimates looking toward purchase of time clocks for the police to punch.

The council adjourned to meet next Monday evening.

McCANN'S BAKERY TO RE-OPEN ON SATURDAY

Will Operate for Summer Season at Bridge Street Location

McCann's Bakery, closed since the close of the summer season last year, will re-open on Saturday of this week at its former location on Bridge street.

The announcement, carried elsewhere in an advertisement in this issue, was made early this week by Mr. and Mrs. John McCann, owners and veterans of many years in the bakery business in this city.

TIBBITS WILL SEEK RE-NOMINATION TO STATE LEGISLATURE

Douglas D. Tibbits of Boyne City, representative in the state legislature from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district, announced his candidacy for re-nomination early this week.

Mr. Tibbits was elected on the Republican ticket for a two year term in 1932, succeeding Louis Anderson of Northport. He has actively served his district's interests, fearlessly following his own convictions in all matters. He has been a member of the legislative committees on aeronautics, fish and fisheries, horticulture and Michigan school for the blind.

Fashion Takes to Lavish Pleating

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHAT'S news? Pleating, if you please, just miles and miles of it clambering up and down and around fashionable dresses and blouses and wraps. Seems as if everything pleatable is being pleated. Why, even the newest straw hats have their brims pleated, while this season's smartest gloves take unto themselves wide pleated flare cuffs. And have you seen those cunning little shoulder capes which are simply a mass of tier-upon-tier of fine pleatings, either lace or ribbon, or whatnot?

As to pleated neckwear and accessories there's no end to the frothy, billowy, frilly and pert little pleatings which are enmassing about throat and shoulders and arms and wrists, at the same time ranging themselves up and down blouse fronts under the guise of jabots.

However, these little pleatings are but a mere prologue to the deluge of more pretentious pleatings which is rapidly descending upon modern fashionland. The real drama of pleatings begins with the new skirt-depth pleats which are being worked skillfully into spreading trains and graceful panels and winged effects and such. In one or two instances of Paris evening modes the entire skirt has been pleated in soft Grecian sculpturesque lines.

In the lovely dinner gown created of a heavy sheer in a rich orange tone, as worn by the standing figure in the accompanying illustration, Paton achieves the sprightly back movement which is centered about the cape pleated and stitched wingtike effects which develop into floor length pleated panels at each side. A little matching pleated cape sums up the situation with infinite grace.

When Paris couturiers decide to make pleating their theme they plead lavishly. Especially is this penchant for pleating expressed in evening and party frocks which are fashioned of stiffened net or lace or sheer mousseline de soie. These dainty gowns which so eloquently bespeak the return of the truly feminine mode fairly bristle with tiers and tiers of sprightly frills and ruches formed of pleatings.

Not that evening fashions have a monopoly on pleated fantasies, not at all. Just to demonstrate how cleverly pleating used in a trimming way is entering into the daytime mode, we present in the picture a very charming sports frock made of a lightweight woolen which might be in any of the delectable pastel shades which are on the new color card, dusty pink for instance or aqua blue or in one of the very recent yellowish hues. As a matter of fact the original of the model pictured is in an attractive gray. The self-fabric pleating describes the new shoulder and neckline silhouette.

Now that fashion is in such a decided mood for pleating there are rumors in the air that the all-around pleated skirt for daytime wear is due for a revival. The few models which have been shown are tactfully worked with the thought in mind to preserve slender figure-lifting lines to the knee [illegible] but flare as much as they please. This is accomplished by flatly stitching the pleats down at the top. It is said that this type of skirt is destined to become very important in connection with the long tunic blouse which has "arrived" in smart circles.

NEW SHOULDER LINE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The print frock topped with a full length coat in solid tone is a fashion favorite this season. The costume pictured is a Schiaparelli model. The color scheme is very choice and distinctive in that the print is developed in brown, gray and beige, the woolen coat being in the latter color. The rounded shoulder line here sponsored by Schiaparelli is achieved through skillfully maneuvered tucks. The one-button fastening at the waistline is in tune with the new movement. The rolled collar that dips revers also carry a style message. The knitted hat is called "Flirt."

Pleats for Juniors

For junior wear, the English type of frock, plaited from the shoulder and belted at the normal waistline, is a current favorite.

OXFORD SHOE LEADS LIST OF FAVORITES

The oxford shoe is queen for spring, but such a modified oxford! The two-eyelet type gives the effect of a pump; when more eyelets are used there's often a strap feeling, but it's quite a new version of strapping. As formerly worn, the strap slipper seems to be out, though there are a few attractive models for women who hate to change their fashion habits too quickly.

Heels on daytime shoes are leather covered and have a dainty, airy quality, but they are firmly balanced for sane walking. On spectator sports footwear they're usually of built-up leather.

Pumps have been modified for style and comfort with a tiny gore, covered with delicate, often shaded decoration, that stretches a little over the instep.

New Coats Are Featured by Variety of Fabrics

Variety is the spice of the spring coat array.

The wraps in which smart women will step out on those first warm days show more difference in fabric and cut than they have displayed for many seasons. They may be long or three-quarter length, buttoned from chin to hem or flying loose in the breeze, minus a single touch of fur or swathed on regal furs.

They have one point in common, however. They are all youthful. Except for the more elaborate afternoon models they are simple in effect—if not in cut—and they hang on jaunty lines which speak of movement.

Brown Popular

Brown is becoming increasingly prominent for both daytime and evening wear. It is being featured in chiffon, mousseline de soie, taffeta, crepes and triple sheers.

Goatskin Hats

Narrow brimmed hats with pinched crowns are made of goatskin which simulates jigskin. These match up with sports coats of the same fabrics.

WOMEN IN ROLE OF STOWAWAYS

Impelled by Wanderlust and Romance.

When the ship's captain asks the stowaway, "What's the big idea?" he usually gets a story in reply.

Women, as well as men, are sometimes found as stowaways. One of the strangest and most romantic cases came to light when the famous windjammer, the Herzogin Cecilie, under Captain DeCloux, won a 14,000 miles sailing match against the Beatrice from Australia to England.

A young Adelaide music teacher, Miss Jeanne Day, wanted to sail on the Herzogin Cecilie. She had her hair cut short like a boy's and bought, one piece at a time, a complete boy's outfit. Then one evening she went for a swim from a lonely beach, and came back dressed as a boy.

But she was turned back when she tried to board the windjammer at the wharf. So she waited till it was towed out and anchored, ready to sail, in the bay. Then she hid herself under some nets in a fishing boat, and lay low until night, when she rolled out, pretending to be drunk, and saying thickly "Herzogin Cecilie."

The fishing boat was then out in the bay, not far from the sailing ship, and the fisherman, completely deceived, rowed her over. She climbed up a ship's ladder unobserved, and hid in the hold until she knew the vessel was safely at sea, and she couldn't hold on without food and water any longer. Then she walked up on deck, declared herself, and was signed on as cabin-boy. Throughout the voyage round the Horn she took her full share of the work.

Only last year, another girl, the daughter of a former president of San Salvador, also disguised herself as a boy, and was stowed away, first on board a small fishing boat which took her from England to France, and then on a ship bound for Lisbon.

It was only a severe storm in the Bay of Biscay that forced her to leave her hiding place and so led to her discovery.

Cats Outnumber People

NEW TIRE GIVES 50 PER CENT LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE

A new high speed tire is announced by Firestone Tire & Rubber company and is now on display, featuring an increase of more than 50 per cent in non-skid mileage, according to Angus L. Fochtman of the Charlevoix Oil Co., local Firestone dealer.

"The new tire has five important improvements—flatter tread, wider tread, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber," Mr. Fochtman said. "This is made possible by the Firestone patented process of gum-dipping, by which the high stretch cords are soaked and coated with rubber, providing greater strength, safety and blow-out protection.

"The Firestone developments embodied in this new tire have been proven by constant testing on Firestone's fleet of test cars, day in and day out, 24 hours a day, over all kinds of roads and highways throughout the country, 12 months in the year.

"In addition the Firestone rubber compounds, designs, strength, blow-out protection and rugged endurance are proven at the Indianapolis 500-mile endurance race where Firestone tires have been on the winning cars for 14 consecutive years.

"A further example of the stamina in these new tires was the recent 250-mile stock car race at Los Angeles where 'Stubby' Stubblefield and Al Gordon, who finished first and second, completed the race without a stop, pounding over uneven ground and tearing around the curves at 90 miles per hour. They showed the ability of these new tires to stand the terrific punishment and give them protection from skidding. The tires were the same kind that we have on display for the safety of motorists.

"The five improvements of the new Firestone tires also apply to the new Firestone air balloon," Mr. Fochtman concluded, "bringing maximum traction and riding comfort with low-swung style. Firestone supplies the tires with wheels in colors to match your car in these balanced air balloon units."

AT THE MOVIES

Keep Your Eye On Margaret Sullavann

After Margaret Sullavan had run away from home seven times in three years to go on the stage, her father decided that she really wanted to become an actress and stopped coming up to New York to drag her home to Norfolk, Virginia, where she was born.

In her first picture, "Only Yesterday," at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday, she has proved a sensation—an amazing example of perfect casting. Because of this fine work, Miss Sullavan has already been chosen for the lead in "Little Man, What Now?" which Universal recently purchased.

John Barrymore

John Barrymore, who is coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace theatre in the role of George Simon in "Counsellor At Law," is perhaps the most romantic figure on the American stage or screen today. He has been a matinee idol for almost a generation and can play roles ranging in versatility from that of Don Juan, the handsome, bold lover, to Svengali, the mad, hideously-fascinating hypnotist.

PLOW SOON TO AVOID LOSS OF BEAN CROPS

Baldheaded beans have one trait in common with baldheaded men, the trouble can not be cured; but entomologists at Michigan State say the beans have one advantage, as their lack of top can be prevented.

The tops of the beans are killed by a tiny maggot, which is the larvae of a small, two-winged fly often seen in the spring near places where there is decaying organic matter in the soil. Fields where barnyard manure or green manure has been plowed down attract the flies, which deposit eggs in the decaying material.

These eggs hatch into larvae which will feed upon the new sprouts of either corn or beans, but the injury is usually most severe on beans. Ground which is to be planted to beans or corn and upon which manure is applied should be plowed as early as possible to permit the organic matter to decay before seeding time. Fall plowing is best, but early, spring plowing reduces the damage done by the maggot.

Beans planted shallowly on a well packed seed bed are injured less than those planted deeply and requiring more time to start growth. Crops are injured more during wet, cool seasons than when the weather is warm enough to start the seed as soon as planted and to keep the plants growing well. The well packed seed bed assists rapid growth, as it helps to supply the moisture required by the growing plant.

Simple Exercise for Adding to One's Height

Abraham Lincoln was 6 feet 4 inches tall; Washington was 6 feet, 2. There can be no doubt that large men, physically, have a great advantage over small men, other things being equal, says a writer in the Washington Star.

We knew a man small physically, but able intellectually, who found his lack of inches a great disadvantage. He went on a shoemaker's bench when thirteen years old, which undoubtedly stunted his physical growth, and so was handicapped all his life. He had a grandson who as a boy was undersized and feared he was to be physically like his grandfather. But that learned man suggested to him that he get into the habit of stretching out to his full length whenever he went to bed. He did that, and almost immediately began to grow taller. In a few years he became stalwart, and is now about 6 feet tall. By "taking thought" he increased his size, beyond a doubt. One of his playmates, who loomed above him before he entered his teens, is now a short man.

We suggest this to all boys who are backward in growth, as a possible way to grow tall, with all its advantages in later life.

ENDURING SENTIMENT

I HAVE been given permission to print this especially touching letter from a man:

"Dear Mrs. Post—I lost my beloved wife a year ago. The tragedy of this separation of two people who for nearly thirty years were so happy to be together, is just something that only those who are struggling to endure this same aching loneliness can know. Lately I have gotten a great deal of comfort in an idea that may, or may not, be my own; at any rate it was new so far as my ever having heard about it was concerned.

"My wife and I were married with the double ring ceremony. And when she died her wedding band was never taken off her finger. A few months ago it occurred to me to take her engagement ring with my own wedding band to the jeweler and ask him whether he could build up the top of my ring so that he could sink the diamond of her ring into it, without cutting the under half of my ring or obliterating the engraving of our names. He said he could by melting a little more gold at the top of my band which he did, and the post-setting looks like a conventional gypsy top and is not a clumsy or obvious one.

"A friend of mine told me that I was selfish to use the stone especially as I had the gold brought over the edge to make it look smaller. My friend says it should be given to my son for him to give to his future wife. But he has no present intention of marrying and I am getting a real consolation in having something that she always wore and held dear, constantly close to me. It is not too late to pass the composite ring on to my son even now, or later, and he can have all the other jewels that his mother had any time he wants them.

"Am I just a silly sentimentalist, or do you think that this same plan would give other lonely widowers the real comfort that it gives me? It was not just a diamond to her, and I could not bear to leave it in hiding when I had looked at it for all those years in its rightful place on her hand. Perhaps if you haven't heard of the plan, you might want to print it with your answer for the benefit of some other sentimental reader, if there might be one."

In answer I want to say that of course I can understand how you feel and I think it is a beautiful idea that is likely to bring a little warmth of comfort not only to one, but to many. In no possible sense are you selfish. As for sentiment—what is beauty of life without it?

WRITING MATERIALS

WRITING Paper for Men: Good taste exacts that stationery for all men be very conservative. Color of writing paper: White, cream, the deeper shades of blue, or any of the grayish mixtures known as granite (Plain gray is better for an older man than for a young one). Smartest style of paper: Either bond or Irish linen or granite. Any other plain paper with cut edges, proper. Size: Large rather than small. Size: Double sheet 5½ 8½ inches in best taste. Single sheet slightly larger.—Unlined envelopes with plainest flap. Stamping: Address or block initials, or full name and address. (Mr is never included under any circumstances). A man's business address is put on the face of the envelope rather than on the flap. Personal paper has the address (if any) across the flap. Color of stamping (or printing): black or blue or gray or brick red. Ink: Blue or black.

Writing Paper for Women: White, cream, all blues, grays and mauves. Very pale powder pink bond paper is just on the edge of possibility boy to be avoided by the unknowing. I wish I might approve of green but I really can't. Size: Very small or medium large, single or double sheets. Very smart is the double sheet of paper that fits without further folding into a big envelope. Texture of paper unlimited, but cut edges are more conventional than rough. Any colored border fashionable—even green or red—if it be very narrow, but gilt or silver edges tabu. Stamping: Monogram, initials or address in color to match the border. A girl's name—either "Mary Smith" in full or "Mary," embossed in color, is popular for a young girl when writing to her own friends. On paper for social use the address without the name is proper on the flap of the envelope as well as on the paper—if the monogram or name is stamped on paper, the address is often put across the flap of the envelope. Envelope lined with plain tissue to match the color of the stamping (and border) or no lining. Avoid violently patterned envelope linings except for Christmas cards. Ink: Black, neutral tint, blue, violet. (Green and red are tabu).

For Impersonal or Business Letters: Printed name in full prefixed by "Mrs." or "Miss" is proper. And this same complete name with address on the envelope flap.

For formal paper, die stamping on good quality of paper is of course in best taste.

METEORS MAY CAUSE SHOCK

Earth shocks recorded by seismographs as occurring in uncharted lands or oceans have been given a new interpretation by some scientists. Because of their location it is impossible to check closely on them and the fact that earthquakes are not to be expected in these sections leaves the scientists puzzled. However, some of them are beginning to believe the shocks were caused by immense meteorites striking the earth. An example of these mystery quakes is one occurring recently in the region around Baffinland, near Baffin bay. This region is at least 3,000 miles from the nearest earthquake center. There exists in Arizona today adequate proof of meteorites striking the earth with sufficient force to cause such a shock to be felt. A meteorite buried itself three miles deep in Siberia and the third-known large meteorite fell in the Sahara.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Awake for Hours with Itching, Burning Pimples

Cuticura Healed

"For over two years I suffered with itching, burning pimples that broke out over my face and arms. They were very large, red and hard and came to a head. They itched and burned so much that I could not refrain from scratching, and the pimples turned into white scales. At night I would lie awake for hours.

"I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. When the samples gave out the pimples were disappearing so I bought more and two weeks later I was healed." (Signed) Miss Edith Langlitz, 346 Dove St., Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 2, 1933.

HIGH SPEED TIRE FOR 1934

THE new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is the greatest tire Firestone has ever built. With its wider, flatter tread, greater thickness, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, and greater non-skid contact with the road, you get more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

This new development is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, whereby the cotton fibers inside the high-stretch cords are soaked and coated with pure liquid rubber. This provides greater strength, safety and blowout protection.

Firestone engineers pioneered and developed the first successful balloon tire in 1923, and it is only natural that Firestone would lead in the further development of tire construction to meet the demands of the high-powered high-speed cars of today.

The new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, have already proved their worth by constant testing on the Firestone fleet of test cars over all kinds of roads and highways throughout the United States.

Firestone High Speed Tires are further subjected to the most severe tests known on the greatest proving ground in the world—the Indianapolis Speedway. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the annual 500-Mile Indianapolis Race for fourteen consecutive years — conclusive evidence of Firestone's outstanding leadership in tire development and construction.

Ye correspondent was entertained at dinner at the Irving Crawford home near South Park last Saturday. Little Dorothy, two years old, presented us with a piece of her custard pie and we received a fine bouquet made by Mrs. Irving Crawford and used on the table at their handicraft meet, for our birthday, May 8. She calls them depression flowers (artificial sweet peas). They were made by cutting pieces of tin around a can and winding them spirially, putting the flowers at the tips of the tin. We had never seen anything of the kind before, and it was a fine present.

The Epworth League, held at the M. E. church Saturday evening, was one of the finest held here in several years. Barnard league, Mr. and Mrs. George Block accompanying, had the largest attendance. Following is the record: Alba 19, Alden 6, Bellaire 18, Barnard 29, Central Lake 17, Ellsworth 0, Elk Rapids 0, Mancelona 6; total, 95. Maxine Sage, Louise Robinson and Fern Roberts rendered a fine trio; Alice Hooper and Miss Ayot of Eastport, a duet with guitar accompaniment by Alice Hooper; Misses Dorothy and Mary Smith of Barnard, a fine duet. A good talk on missions was given by Miss Overholt, formerly of Levering, and now of Peru. They have two seasons there, winter and summer. We have winter and fall. The league there talks mostly Spanish. A fine new church has been built. The testamonies were given mostly in Spanish.

COUNTY POOR COST GIVEN IN REPORT

STATE-WIDE FIGURES SHOW MICHIGAN COST

More Expended in County in 1933 Than 1928, But at Considerable Less Cost per Person

While the number of inmates cared for in the Charlevoix county infirmary during 1933 was greater than in previous years, the cost was substantially reduced, according to the 63rd abstract of the reports of the superintendents of the poor, issued by Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state.

Comparing the reports for the years 1933 and 1928, the figures reveal that last year 48 persons were cared for as compared to 38 in 1928. The 1933 cost was $43,620.31, of which $33,077.86 was paid from poor funds and $10,542.45 from other funds, or an average cost per person per week of $4.59. The 1928 report shows the cost for 38 persons was $23,101.88, all borne by the county, or an average of $8.66 per person per week. The reduction in cost per person over 1928 is $4.07.

Charlevoix county's total infirmary and farm expense for 1933 was $6,316.99, the total expenditures for temporary relief including medical attendance, food, clothing, etc., was $36,531.72, and the total for official services was $771.60.

The 1933 report shows the whole number of persons maintained in Michigan infirmaries during the period was 22,764, of whom 18,073 were males and 4,691 were females. The number of persons temporarily relieved outside the infirmaries was 676,446. The number of permanent indigent persons outside of the infirmaries was 31,811. The number of persons supported at public institutions was 1,659 and the whole number of different persons who received assistance in any form during the period was 732,710.

The whole amount expended in the care and support of the poor is reported at $27,611,375.01, of which $3,069,499.30 was for infirmary and farm expense, $22,850,088.43 for temporary relief, $254,485.39 for permanent indigents outside infirmaries, and $1,437,301.92 for other expenses. Michigan's infirmaries are valued at $14,381,414.59.

L. E. Benton of this city, is secretary of the poor commission and other members are Nels J. Rovick of Boyne City, and Ira Bradshaw of East Jordan.

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 13.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 2:6,7): "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.91): "Absorbed in material selfhood, we discern and reflect but faintly the substance of Life or Mind. The denial of material selfhood aids the discernment of man's spiritual and eternal individuality, and destroys the erroneous knowledge gained from matter or through what are termed the material senses."

LEGION AUXILIARY
By Lois Sevrey.

There was not a very large attendance at our business meeting Monday evening. We wonder why? It must be house-cleaning time.

Our secretary informed us that we are over our quota for membership in our unit and also that the department of Michigan, American Legion Auxiliary, is over the quota for Michigan membership. However, the fact that we are over the top is no sign that we are going to quit seeking new members.

Several blocks, which members had taken home to sew for the quilt for our hope chest, were turned in and passed inspection. Our hope chest is growing.

We have been asked to either make or buy handkerchiefs for the kiddies at the billet at Otter lake. This is for the children of disabled world war veterans and our president, Addie Glossinger, has been kind enough to extend an invitation to all members and any friends they wish to ask to her new home on East Upright for our next social meeting, Monday evening, May 21. We may bring material suitable for handkerchiefs and sew them there or make them at home and bring them with us. The material need not be new or expensive, as we are informed they may be made from salt or sugar sacks, or any such material we may have on hand. Incidentally, we are having a pot-luck lunch at the same time and members may bring anything they choose in the line of "eats."

Our plans for selling poppies in honor of our dead and to help the living, disabled world war veterans, are practically completed.

All members will meet Sunday, May 27, the place to be designated later, and march to the Baptist church, where we will unite in Memorial services.

Our past president, Lela Goss, returned home from the hospital last week, bringing a new son with her.

INDIANS BEATEN IN INITIAL BALL GAME

Dropped 8 to 5 Decision to East Jordan Aggregation Sunday

The Charlevoix Indians were defeated 8 to 5 by the East Jordan Independents, 1933 Charlevoix-Antrim league champions, in their opening contest at the Legion ball park last Sunday afternoon.

Amos John went the route for the Indians on the mound, while "Stub" Lord and Ike Deneny shared the catcher's duties. Loose play at critical times resulted in the downfall of the Indians.

The local team play at home again next Sunday, meeting the strong Petoskey Legionnaires at the south side park.

NEW HIGHWAY MAPS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Are Designed Primarily to Furnish Tourist Information

The 1934 official Michigan highway map, issued by the state highway department, is ready for distribution, Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner announced. The map is for free distribution only and copies can be obtained by calling at the highway department's office in Lansing or by written request.

Fifty thousand copies of the map have been purchased by the Michigan Tourist and Resort commission for distribution as a part of its program in advertising Michigan this year.

The new map contains a number of changes and improvements over the 1933 map. A distinctive feature of the map is the accordion or fan fold which makes it easy to use, especially in automobiles.

The map stresses Michigan's tourist and resort attractions. The entire reverse side is devoted to pictures and stories on the state's vacation advantages.

MANY APPLY FOR WELFARE GARDEN

THRIFT PLOTS AVAILABLE TO ELIGIBLE PERSONS

Plan to Make Welfare Recipients Partially Self Sustaining—Landscape School Grounds

With approximately fifty applications received exclusive of those made directly with the American Legion, it appears the thrift garden plan through which the needy will be enabled to provide food for themselves will be a successful venture in Charlevoix.

Under the emergency welfare relief program every needy family will be provided with a garden in which a good supply of vegetables can be raised. In cases where the family has available land but no money for seeds, the welfare department will furnish seeds and fertilizer as part of the regular relief. The produce may not be sold, and the raising of a garden will be required if relief is [illegible]

Where families have neither land nor money for seeds, plots may be had south of the Legion quarters on Garfield avenue and also south of Carpenter avenue in another plot prepared. Welfare officials have stressed the importance of making application for gardens at once, as it is time now they should be prepared and started. Those eligible for aid will be taken care of upon application.

Seeds available include beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, onion sets, tomato plants, etc. The heads of families receiving seeds will work on approved projects to pay for them as they pay for other aid.

Landscape School Grounds

The school and library grounds have been greatly beautified by a landscaping program, a project unfinished under the old CWA set-up. Many flowering and other shrubs and trees have been set out and on the school property some of the grounds have been covered with earth and seeded.

COUNCIL APPROVE SEWER DISTRICT

PROVIDES SEWER SERVICE FOR SOUTHWEST PART CITY

Three Appointments for Chief of Police Get "Cold Shoulder" — Borrow Funds to Meet Payroll

Meeting in regular session Monday night, the city council placed its stamp of approval on the Newman-Sheridan sanitary sewer district, one of the largest improvement projects undertaken recently.

The new district will serve the southwest section of the city, now without sewer service. The total cost of the project has been set at $3,964.25, of which $673.20 will be provided from the general sewer fund of the city, and the balance, $3,291.05 by the property holders benefited by the improvement. The board of city assessors, composed of R. F. Sloan, S. M. Rose and R. L. Lewis will meet Wednesday evening to spread the special assessment and a hearing for objections will be held at a date to be set later. The city has made application to the FERA for labor on the project.

Plans for a proposed recreational park including such features as tennis and shuffle board courts, soft ball baseball diamond, horseshoe pits, etc., were presented by City Engineer R. F. Sloan. The council authorized the parks committee to negotiate with the board of education and American Legion for lease of public property south of Garfield avenue for location of the park.

The council failed to confirm Mayor L. S. See's appointments of Ted Cablentz, Sander Halverson and Edgar Behren as chief of police. Halverson, however, was approved later as special summer patrolman and went on duty Tuesday morning.

Necessary curb and sidewalk repairs were referred to the street committee with power to act, also purchase of equipment for fire department and bath house was approved.

Application of the Beach Hotel Operating company by Arthur VanDolcke, secretary-treasurer, for approval of application for license to sell liquor at the Charlevoix Beach hotel was tabled until the next meeting. It was the first application for liquor license. Charlevoix may have three such places.

A petition with a large number of signatures, requesting repair rather than tearing down the fish pond constructed last winter at the Bridge street park under the CWA, was presented and the council authorized repairs be made by the park committee.

A payroll of $4,120.18 was approved and in order to make payment, the council authorized a loan of $2,000 for a sixty-day period from the Charlevoix County State bank.

Assurance of financial support of the annual Michigan Riviera tennis tournament, to be held August 6-13 at The Inn courts, was provided when the council by resolution authorized payment of bills up to $250.

TAX COMMISSION MET HERE MONDAY

ADJOURNED SESSION UNTIL MONDAY, MAY 21ST

Work of Allocation Held Up Due to Fact Many Budgets Have Not Yet Been Received

The Charlevoix county tax commission convened at the court house here Monday at the call of J. M. Harris, chairman, arrived at an interpretation of new laws governing their task of allocating the 15 mill property tax to the several county governmental units, and adjourned until Monday, May 21.

Little or nothing at all could be accomplished on the work of allocation due to the fact many budgets had not been received from township and school districts as requested by the commission. The commission, however, must make a tentative allocation by June 1st and it is believed this work will be completed at the meeting next Monday. The final allocation must be completed by September 1st and between June 1st and that time hearings will be held for the purpose of receiving objections which may be made to the tentative allocation.

Comprising the commission are J. M. Harris, representing county high schools; R. G. Watson of East Jordan, representing the county at large; School Commissioner William C. Palmer; Howard Stephens, chairman of the finance committee of the board of supervisors; County Treasurer Lillis Flanders, and County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow, who serves as clerk of the commission.

Last year the tentative allocation was 0.6 mills to the University of Michigan; 0.2 mills to Michigan State college, 8 mills to the county, 1.2 mill to townships and 5 mills for schools. The county, requesting a budget of $99,000 requiring 11 mills, was cut to 8 mills, producing $72,000. In the final allocation the county was given the largest share, due largely to the requirements for the poor fund and mother's pensions. These funds are now depleted with several months of the fiscal year yet to be provided for.

It was pointed out that most of the county governmental units this year have presented what might be termed an "honest" budget, covering their actual requirements instead of a padded budget as presented a year ago.

CHILDREN HIT BY CAR ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY

Bobby Carey and Billy Poole Struck on Bridge Street Tuesday

Bobby Carey, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, and Billy Poole, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poole, miraculously escaped serious injury when struck Tuesday evening by an automobile.

The accident occurred on South Bridge street opposite the Sunoco Oil station, when the children alighted from a wagon upon which they had been riding directly in front of a car driven south by Mrs. Addie Ress of this city. It is understood a wheel of the machine passed over the Carey youngster after striking him and, in the excitement the driver backed the car up and run over the lad again with one wheel.

Hospital attendants stated Wednesday morning that the Poole boy, who was bruised and scratched would return home that day. The Carey child suffered an injured hip and an X-ray was being taken to determine the serious ness of the injury.

ANNUAL J-HOP IS EVENT OF MAY 25

FIRST AFFAIR MARKING CLOSE OF SCHOOL YEAR

Elaborate Preparations Are Under Way for Party to Be Held at Belvedere Casino.

The first of a series of event heralding the close of the 1933-34 school year is the annual J-Hop, to be held this year the evening of Friday, May 25th, at the Belvedere casino.

This annual affair, the crowning social event of the school year, is given in honor of the graduating senior class by members of the junior class. Activities started several weeks ago in preparation for the party.

Prominent in the preparations are Marie Novak, Helen Loskot, Warren Shapton, Grover Geneit, Shirley Partridge, Edna Wyers, Warren Phillips and Keith Nickerson, members of the general J-Hop committee, and Palmer Gravel, Dorothy Dougherty, Charles Carey and Jean Graves, who comprise the invitation committee.

Those who have been chosen by the class as chaperons for the party are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Dellmer Dutcher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emery and Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Young.

Over two hundred fifty invitations to adults and school students of Charlevoix as well as other nearby cities have already been mailed. Magic Judd's orchestra from Cheboygan has been engaged to furnish music for the evening.

The work of decorating the Belvedere casino in preparation for the party will be started in a short time. It is intimated that a clever scheme has been worked out to beautify the place.

ERRORS COST INDIANS SUNDAY BASEBALL GAME

Lost by 10 to 5 Score to the Petoskey Legionnaires

A flock of Charlevoix errors in the early innings gave the Petoskey Legionnaires the runs they needed for victory and the Indians were defeated 10 to 5 for the second consecutive week at the Legion diamond Sunday afternoon.

It was a real ball game after the Indians settled down, but they were trailing 8 to 0 before the costly errors were checked. Petoskey got at least four unearned runs due to bad throws and poor judgment on plays.

SCENIC HIGHWAY PLAN IS PRAISED

WASHINGTON "TOURIST" TELLS VIEW TO MAYOR SEE

Thinks "Around Lake Michigan Scenic Drive" Would Rival Other Famous Highways

A resident of Washington, D. C., who signs his letter "Tourist" comes out strongly in favor of the proposed scenic highway around Lake Michigan. The tone of the letter indicates the writer has traveled extensively and thus speaks with authority.

The communication, addressed to the mayor of Charlevoix, follows:

"With the Chicago World's fair continuing its scientific and amusement operation for another year, after a very successful one in 1933, it is evident that the Lake Michigan area is on its way as the great convention, resort and tourist section.

"The old amusement sections on the edges of the nation have passed into the discard and a few one is developing slowly and surely; namely: the Lake Michigan summer resort and Chicagoland area is being positively brought to the attention of the national and international traveler as a place to visit not only once but several times in the course of a life. Slowly the idea of reclaiming the lake section by the states bordering it for prospective development is gaining ground.

"This is an opportune time. Automobile tourists flock in large numbers to the call of new scenic highways, they come from all four corners of the country and are great advertisers of the wonders both natural and man made for their pleasure and use. The numerous towns, villages and cities bordering Lake Michigan must take up the obligation and reclaim their lake front areas by building parks in the business section, if only a block wide, facing on the lake. These cities must be connected by a water's edge, open faced, highway, until the around-the-lake drive is continuous. Too many years have gone by and prompt action must be taken. A continuous water's edge highway around Lake Michigan will be one of the greatest attractions of the country, dotted as it is with attractive lake port cities and towns all possessing an interesting individuality. Many of the present lake front developments are in a half-finished, undeveloped and unconnected state, a sort of hodgepodge condition that needs the finishing touch, that boulevard plaza effect.

"What could be more interesting than a four-day trip around Lake Michigan, always in sight of the great inland lake, entirely in the United States, on a wide boulevard, the majority of which would be for pleasure cars. Travelers would come from all sections of the nation. When the water's edge boulevard is completed, circling Lake Michigan, it will rank as a combination of the Havana 'Malecon,' the Rio de Janeiro Bay boulevard, California costal highway, Susquehanna river highway, Mount Vernon Memorial highway, and Riviera, all rolled into one. What a highway it can become for the benefit of the citizens of the state of Michigan!

Tourist."

BELVEDERE HOTEL MANAGERS ARRIVE

Work of Preparing Hotel for Summer Season Is Now Under Way

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steiner, managers of the Belvedere hotel, and the former's sister and secretary, Miss Rae Gravuer, arrived here Monday for the summer season.

They came here from a visit at their home in Clementon, N. J., following a winter spent in Florida, where Mrs. Steiner was manager of the Coquina hotel at Ormond Beach, and her husband manager of kitchen at the Clarendon hotel at Daytona Beach. Mrs. Steiner stated Florida winter hotels had capacity crowds and for this reason predicts an excellent summer resort season for Charlevoix.

The Steiners will supervise preparation of the Belvedere hotel for the summer. Extensive improvements in the rooms and the addition of much new equipment will be started at once.

The Ironton mother and daughter luncheon under the sponsorship of Mrs. Datus Dean, was held in the church basement Saturday. The basement was beautifully decorated with pink and white, with a large bowl of flowers at each table. Each daughter served their mother, or guest mother, to a lovely two-course meal. The mothers were then taken upstairs where a program consisting of readings, songs, recitations and readings was enjoyed; also Mrs. G. R. Parker gave a lovely talk to the daughters. The day ended with the mothers visiting or leaving as they wished, and the girls retiring to the large stack of dishes that awaited them. The attendance was estimated around sixty.

Fabric Gloves Add Zest to the Mode

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHEN it comes to exciting events in the fashion realm the scene centers around fabric gloves and the matching accessories which go with them. The new gloves reveal style potentialities such as the rank and file of us never dreamed could exist in connection with what once upon a time we were wont to regard as mere hand coverings, with perhaps a little variation in design and stitching and color now and then.

However, here on the stage of fashion this very moment speaking for themselves is an endless array of gloves made of every material known to the ingenuity of man and revealing a wealth of ideas which are simply breathtaking in point of originality and audacious styling.

The importance of cotton for frocks and gowns, for smart ensembles and for suits started the furor by creating a need for gloves to go-ordinate in fabric and feeling with the new costume for daytime wear. This movement toward unique fabric gloves received additional impetus from the great French couturiers. With utmost enthusiasm Chanel and Talbot, those two foremost originators of sportswear vogues, sponsor fabric gloves with matched accessories for spring and summer. So sound and altogether in[illegible] wildfire throughout fashion's domain.

The interpretations of this new mode for matching accessories are legion. Just a glimpse of the new gloves of linen with gingham printed linen cuffs together with a tailored flower of the printed linen to wear on coat lapel or at the shoulder of a sports frock (illustrated to the right) and your peace of mind will be destroyed until you become the happy possessor of just such or its equivalent.

Perhaps you will covet even more a white scarf collar of open basket-weave cotton, crossbarred in blue at the ends and edges with white gauntlet gloves of crinkled cotton crepe with deep pointed cuffs of matching basket weave, such as the figure seated in the picture is wearing.

Chamoisette, that practical standby, is glorified anew this season in gloves that feature pin-checked gingham cuffs lined with plain gingham, with matching reversible collar-scarf in the monotone and checked fabric. It appears also in gloves with cuffs and matching tailored bow for shoulder or neckline made of gayly printed cotton. A most attractive accessory set of crocheted string features gloves and scarf of white, with the flared ends of the scarf and the flare cuffs of the gloves in three graduated shades of blue.

But do not think that your new fabric gloves simply must have matched accessories to be smart. There are so many materials and so many styles in glove fashions in general, it is impossible to do more than enumerate the important trends. Watch for the very sheer milanese chiffons when the hot weather comes. They are in dark shades as well as white and are the coolest ever as well as wonderfully good looking.

Many of the new gloves in a variety of fabrics reflect the tailored vogue. Note the group pictured in the inset. Below to the left is a glove of dull luster diagonal oatmeal-type fabric in a slip-on style; above it, a washable chamoisette open cuff gauntlet with smart wood button at the wrist; next [illegible] with two tiny pearl buttons at the wrist and with scalloped edge; in the center, another chamoisette glove with novelty stitching trim in leaf design around the cutout edge of the open cuff (very smart in navy). Above to the right short slip-ons in fine honeycomb-knit with rib-knit frill edging; below, gloves featuring a pleated self-fabric frill and diagonal stitching; and concluding the group a most outstanding type—crochet string slip-ons with lacy cuffs which look as if hand crocheted.

GREEK AND ROMAN TREND IN SANDALS

The shoe designers, who are taking themselves as seriously these days as the old masters immortalized in the Metropolitan museum, have delved into the ancient history of many nations to produce the array of sandals and ghillies, bejeweled dance slippers and tailored pumps that confront the modern woman whose grandmother used to be contented with one good serviceable pair of shoes a year.

The up-and-coming deb this season will wear sandals modeled after those worn by Helen of Troy, or beach slippers such as once adorned the pink-tipped toes of Cleopatra.

Authentically Greek and Roman in their inspiration are the new sandals worn not only for beach wear, but to complement any kind of summer sports costume. They're simple affairs made only of a couple of straps and a sole, leaving the toes altogether untrammeled.

The footgear of a monk in Capri provided the inspiration for the monk sandal which promises to be the cage of the summer resorts.

"In the Money" Silks for Spring Latest in Paris

The newest things in printed silks for spring are called "In the Money" prints. They represent the gold-silver inflation and nonflation arguments, but without taking sides.

They are made in a series of eight patterns of five colors each—40 different colors in all. Those of us who have had glimpses of them agreed that they were the last word in the New Deal for dining out, tea dances, country clubs, and even the "Tag End" dresses for those occasions when anybody might wear anything and yet nobody seems exactly sure of what will be the right thing.

QUILTED VELVET

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The call of the evening mode is for antique and fanciful capes. The lovely model pictured here is of quilted translucent velvet in a delectable leaf green. The Elizabethan collar is stiffened to flare away from the throat so as to be perfectly comfortable at the same time that it is extremely flattering.

Those soft camel's-hair tweeds are being woven now in shell combinations as a dull rose-purple with a tan check.

Precocity Often Found to Be Trick of Brain

A boy of sixteen who can tell the day of the week on which any date occurs, either back to 1600 or forward to 2000, has been discovered in a British mental welfare hospital.

Youthful prodigies of this kind occur from time to time, but in most cases such powers don't last a very long time. For instance, one youngster who could work out in his head multiplication sums whose answers extended to 36 figures when he was ten years old had no more power of calculation than the ordinary intelligent person when he grew up.

It is also possible, as has been demonstrated in numbers of cases, for a human "calculating machine" to be below the normal level of intelligence in other respects. Out of thirteen cases described by one investigator, in which those powers were present during the early years of life, three were of average brain power, four were described as "low" in intelligence, and one as "very low."

"TREASURE ISLAND" TODAY

Not many people today know that the famed "Treasure Island" of Stevenson's story lies in the south Pacific half way between Samoa and Fiji, somewhat off the regular steamer lanes though certain vessels divert their routes to pass it. The island, now known as Nuafou, is three and a half miles in diameter with a two-and-a-half-mile fresh water lake 90 feet above sea level within it. There are no harbors and one tiny village. One white man resides there.

THIRTEEN MILLION OF TROUT TO BE PLANTED

Approximately 13,000,000 brook, brown and rainbow trout fry are now at state fish hatcheries for planting in trout streams of the state on reaching fingerling size. All will probably be planted this year.

Probably half of this number of young fish, ranging in age from a few days to the advanced fry age, will be transferred to the various feeding stations about the middle of May. The remainder will be kept at the hatcheries and planted from them later this year.

Character is the sum of the affections.

IMPRESSIVE MOTHERS' DAY SERVICE SUNDAY

Mrs. Frank F. Bird Gave Fine Address at Methodist Church

The Mother's day service last Sunday at the local Methodist church was outstanding in many ways. There was a large attendance, numerous guests and some strangers, all seeming to be desirous of paying tribute in some special way to "mother."

The address was given by Mrs. Frank Bird of this city on the invitation of the pastor. Mrs. Bird's address was a masterpiece in every way, an inspiration to the highest ideals and a practical exhortation to the finest living. The topic was, "The Mothers of Yesterday—Today—and Tomorrow." In the first part she showed the characters of the great mothers of the past, Mary, the mother of Christ, other famous Bible characters, and others in history. Her characterization of present day mothers was fine, and discriminating. In her discussion of the mothers of the future she gave some of the finest advice to our girls of today, warning of the pitfalls which ruin them for ideal motherhood tomorrow. Mrs. Bird's address would have done credit to any audience and any church anywhere.

A most dainty and effective feature was the dramatic readings by Miss McMillan. With splendid interpretation she gave "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," and Edgar Guest's "The Mother-watch." She did not announce it and many present did not know it; but the first number was written by her father for the tableau service last year—introducing this silent tribute to "father," as well as mother! At the very close of the service Miss McMillan was asked to repeat her last two or three lines as a closing benediction for what was a most impressive service. The music, furnished by the choir, was especially fine. The soprano solo by Miss French was much appreciated.

CHERRY ORCHARDS HIT BY DISASTROUS FROST

Friday Night's Low Temperature Caused Wide-Spread Damage

Serious damage was done to the sour cherry crop by Friday night's heavy frost, orchardists report.

In many places the thermometer dropped to from 22 to 20 degrees above zero. It was the most disastrous freeze this late in the season in the history of the cherry industry.

Many orchards were virtually frozen out and other owners abandoned hope of having sufficient crop to warrant harvesting. The trees are in full bloom and can normally withstand a temperature as low as 28 degrees.

Packing experts, however, hoped that the prediction of the growers might prove exaggerated and the trees might rally from the cold and produce a fair crop.

The recording thermometer at the coast guard station stood at 30 degrees above zero at 4 a. m. Saturday and farther inland the temperature went as low as 18 above.

AT THE MOVIES

Richard Barthelmess Opens in "Massacre" at Palace Saturday

Richard Barthelmess' latest picture for First National, "Massacre," will be shown on the screen of the Palace theatre for the first time Saturday.

"Massacre" is an unusual romance with the unique love triangle of a wealthy white society girl as the rival of an Indian maid for the heart of a Sioux brave.

Barthelmess has the role of the Indian youth whose magnificent physique and dare-devel riding sets the hearts of the gentler sex aflutter. Ann Dvorak plays the part of the Indian maid, while Claire Dodd is the flirtatious society siren.

Besides the Indians there is a noted cast of white players in support of Barthelmess, including Dudley Digges, Henry O'Neill, Robert Barrat, Arthur Hohl, Sidney Toler, Tully Marshall and Frank McGlynn.

New Girl Star, Scott and Blue, Top Film Cast

When Paramount's picturization of ane Grey's novel, "The Border Legion," entitled "The Last Round-Up," comes on Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace theatre, fans will see Monte Blue, an old favorite, and Barbara Fritchie, a newcomer to Hollywood in her first motion picture role, heading the imposing cast.

In addition to the above named players, "The Last Round-Up" has Randolph Scott for its romantic lead, Fred Kohler for the ultra-heavy menace and Fuzzy Knight as the comedy element.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC SINCE REPEAL IS DISCUSSED AT W. C. T. U. MEETING

The W. C. T. U. press director reports a small attendance at the monthly meeting held last Friday afternoon in the community room, no doubt due to the seasonal occupation of housecleaning.

Mrs. Palmer conducted the devotionals. Juanita Dickie sang a Mother's day song. The organization of an L. T. L. sponsored by the Church of God was reported. The children will meet twice a month in the community room.

"The Liquor Traffic Since Repeal," was the substitute topic discussed and the following facts were among those presented:

"Liquor Nips" in tiny one-drink bottles retailing at two for a quarter, are the latest lure for young people, following in the wake of liquored candies, liquor flavored ice cream, etc. Boston, Mass., Washington, D. C. and New York City quickly put a ban upon the "nips" which were being sold by the million to young people who hadn't the price of larger bottles. The popularity of these devices proved their downfall in the cities named.

The head of the federal alcohol control administration has asked congress for lower taxes and enlarged corps of enforcement officers to combat the bootleg business which he says has increased enormously since repeal.

THE EXPENSES OF A WEDDING

DEAR Mrs. Post: Does the groom pay for anything besides the marriage license, the wedding ring, and of course, the clergyman's fee? (2) When the double ring ceremony is used does he pay for both rings? (3) I live in New York, but my fiancee does not, and insists that in her town the men always buy the flowers. "Must I follow custom in her community or can I simply tell her frankly that my father bought the bridal flowers for each of my three sisters. If I have to buy all these flowers it is going to make an awful hole in the money I've saved for our wedding trip.

Answer: (1) His own, the best man's and the ushers' boutonnieres, ties, and if they wear them, gloves and spats. (2) No, he buys the ring for the bride, and she buys the one for him. (3) I'm afraid that what your father did in New York has nothing whatever to do with what you will have to do in another town. I agree that it can be an appalling handicap—especially at a December wedding! But the only advice I can give is that you talk it over with your fiancee, tell her about your wedding trip budget, and suggest that the bridesmaids carry muffs (very smart at the moment) of velvet or whatever goes best with their dresses. Then the only flowers would be those for the bride. To me the modern fashion of including all flowers (except boutonnieres) as part of the wedding expenses of the bride's family, who can at least control the type of bouquets to be ordered, is more fair than expecting the groom to assume a blind obligation, which he cannot control, and is usually embarrassed to meet.

A reader wrote me lately of an all-white wedding at which there were six bridesmaids, a maid of honor, and two flower girls, all carrying gardenias. The bride's bouquet was a huge one of white orchids. All the flowers were, as always, chosen by the bride. The groom who had never heard of this custom, returned from his wedding trip to find a bill for nearly three hundred dollars. The only way he could pay it was to arrange with the florist to pay it, plus interest, in installments. Meaning that he began his married life with this utterly unreasonable indebtedness.

• • •

BEFORE AND AFTER THE WEDDING—

DEAR Mrs. Post: Is it improper for an engaged couple to pool their money and buy one worthwhile gift for a bride, to whose wedding and reception they both have been invited?

Answer: One present sent by two engaged people is entirely proper.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it [illegible] for me to buy my husband a wedding ring now, after we've been married more than three years? The double ring ceremony was not used and he would like a ring, too." Is this ever done?

Answer: I don't know that it is ever done, but there is no reason in the world why it should not be. If your husband would like to have a ring and you want to give him one, by all means buy the ring you would have bought, have it marked as it would have been marked, and put it on his finger—with perhaps a pledge of even deeper tenderness than you could have made three years ago.

• • •

Dear Mrs. Post: Is a flower girl out of place in a very simple wedding, which is to take place on the lawn of an old country house? The bride is wearing a simple white dress and hat, and her only attendant will wear the same type of clothes in pink and brown. They will wear corsages. What should the flower girl wear if she may be included?

Answer: It would be quite all right to have a flower girl. If she is very little, she might wear one of her own white dresses. If she is older, she would wear pink and brown to match the maid of honor.

• • •

My dear Mrs. Post: My fiance has two sisters my age, whom I know, but we are entirely separate groups. I am having a party at the country club this month at which the news of our engagement is being given out. Because of the nature of the party, might I invite these sisters to it? If so, should I ask their mother, too?

Answer: If you are having a general party, I think you will have to invite them all. But if it is to be a very small party, and including only a few of your intimate friends, it will not be necessary—unless you are going to make a great deal of the announcement.

Invention of Compass

The origin of the compass has been attributed consecutively to the Chinese, Arabs, Greeks and Etruscans, but it is not absolutely certain how far these accounts are correct. The invention of the compass was partly due to the discovery that a lodestone or a piece of iron which has been touched by a lodestone will direct itself to a point in a northern or southern position, depending on its position north or south of the equator.

On the Funny Side

MEMORY

The school inspector had been questioning the class for a considerable time. Presently he said:

"I wish I were a boy again and back at school." He paused; "Do you know why I wish that?"

For a second or two there was silence. Then a grimy hand went up.

"Well?" asked the inspector.

"'Cos you've forgotten all you ever knowed," said the youth.

Has Good Chauffeur

Captain Fried, hero of many ocean rescues, reaches New York but once a month on an average. The other day a friend asked him how he got from the ship to his home in Tuckahoe.

"By machine," he answered.

"How long does it take?"

"Less than an hour."

"You must have a good chauffeur," the friend said.

"Yes," said Fried, "but she won't let me drive!"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Might Lend Him a Razor

The office boy took off his cap, presented the bill and said: "My boss says I'm not to go back until you give me the money you owe him."

"Indeed!" said the debtor. "I wonder if he'll recognize you with a beard."

Ought to Be Good

"What is your husband working on now?" the inventor's wife was asked.

"He's trying to design a car that will jump over a fast train at the crossing instead of arguing with it about the right of way when the driver thinks he's in too big a hurry to wait," sighed the weary wife.

THE SKINFLINT

"When they came back from the wedding trip he had just $2.65 in his pocket."

"What a tight-wad!"

Mrs. Jewsmith—I suppose you'll want a den in our new house?

Another?

She had just accepted him, and they were blissfully discussing the "might-have-beens."

"Darling," he inquired in the confident tone of one who knows what the answer will be, "why didn't you accept that little donkey, Jones?"

"Because," she answered, dreamily, "I loved another."

PATTERN 9668

Soft lines, planned carefully to give slenderness of appearance—that is an achievement in the designing of dresses for the heavier woman. And here is the pattern that does the clever trick. It can be made up in one of the fresh new prints, preferably with a small-figured design in it. Or it can be made of plain silk in any of the new spring shades. The jabot finish at the yoke-line is particularly good, covering a full bust and lending interest to the dress in an unobtrusive way.

Pattern 9668 may be ordered only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 4¾ yards 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 West Eighteenth St., New York.

OVERSTUDY

"A man must be a student all his days to hold a position like yours," remarked the admiring constituent.

"That is true," answered Senator Sorghum, "and, like a student, I get [illegible] and going in for more recreation. I am going to organize a movement to include a sports page in the Congressional Record."

Nuisance

"How did you happen to let that man break jail?"

"I wouldn't exactly say he broke jail," answered Cactus Joe. "But he complained of the bill of fare and then he kicked about the wine card till we just naturally got tired of him and threw him out."

LARGE IF

"Do you think a man should divide his earnings with his wife?"

"Yes—if she don't get it all first."

Prisoner—Well, your honor, they are the only ones that you can swindle.

Firestone
LEADERSHIP

"The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance"

FIRESTONE has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the plies of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer flexing life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Gum-Dipping made it possible for Firestone to design, develop and put on the market the first successful balloon tire in 1923. This tire was the pattern used by all others and completely revolutionized the tire industry and set new standards for the automobile industry.

Firestone also developed the first all-rubber non-skid tire, and has always been first to give motorists the benefits of new discoveries in non-skid design, providing more traction and greater non-skid safety.

For fourteen years leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone tires, built with Gum-Dipped high stretch cords. They have trusted their lives to Firestone Leadership—as they know that the patented Firestone construction features provide them with greater safety — longer mileage — and greater blowout protection.

STR. OSSIAN BEDELL GETTING READY FOR SUMMER

Extensive improvements are being made on the Str. Ossian Bedell under the direction of Capt. J. H. Gallagher. The ship's upper deck is being enclosed with a cabin. It is understood the boat will be taken to Lake Superior for service between Marquette and Isle Royal, but no confirmation of this report has been obtainable up to the present time. In addition to the construction work being done, the machinery has been completely overhauled and the craft repainted.

BEAVER ISLAND BOAT CHANGED ITS SCHEDULE

The Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Marold II has changed its schedule of operation between this port and St. James. Instead of laying over in Charlevoix at night the boat now arrives here from the island in the morning and returns to St. James in the afternoon, laying over night at the island. This new schedule is more convenient for the islanders shipping fish and will be followed until the boat goes on daily schedule in June.

Next Sunday, May 20, we will have as guests the Cotton Club, a group of girls under the leadership of Miss Vera Belding. A subject that will be of special interest to this group and other members of the congregation will be used.

Some who were unable to attend the Mothers' day service will be interested to know who received special honor for being the oldest and the youngest mothers present. Years before mottos appropriate for the occasion were given but this year New Testaments were given. Upon the cover in gold was stamped the words "Mothers' Day 1934." For the oldest mother a large type was selected and a smaller type for the younger mother. Mrs. John Barrens qualified as the youngest mother and Mrs. George Swinton as the oldest.

NEW DEPARTURE AT METHODIST CHURCH

Inaugurates Modern Departmental System for Young People

Last Sunday at the local Methodist church, the first step was taken to install the regular young people's department, as prescribed by the best authorities on the modern program of religious education.

This was on the advice and direction of the director of religious education, who held a Sunday school institute here recently. But the pastor has long considered the step when the time should seem propitious. Modern methods stress the department, rather than the class, making three grades a department, for a mass unit for worship and recreation, but only the grades, where possible, for study. Except in the largest city schools the "senior" department—grades ten, eleven and twelve, are combined with the young people's department—18 years to 24, or until married. Thirty-three young people were in the newly organized department last Sunday. Arrangements will be made for a departmental superintendent, while the teaching will be in the hands of Dr. F. F. McMillan, the pastor, Mrs. Hurd, and perhaps others. This conforms to the psychological and the pedagogical standards which strongly advise having young men and young women together, in sane and proper educational and social groups. A complete rearrangement of the Sunday school groups in the building was made necessary.

COUNCIL APPROVES RECREATION PARK

WILL FULFILL CITY'S ENTERTAINMENT NEEDS

Aldermen Split on Issue, Mayor Casts Deciding Vote—Many Facilities Included in Plan

Plans for a municipal recreation park, a project proposed jointly by the advertising committees of the city council and the Association of Commerce, were approved Monday night by the city council.

Approval of the project found the council split evenly. Aldermen Fessenden, Hallett and Kibbe voted in favor, while Aldermen Carey, Webster and Ranger were opposed. Mayor L. S. See cast the deciding vote, using for the first time since taking office his power to vote.

The recreational park lay-out, to be located on the property owned by the school district south of Garfield avenue between South Bridge street and May street and extending south to Carpenter avenue, is designed to fulfill Charlevoix's recreational needs.

The school board voted to give the city any reasonable lease of the property after stipulating certain requirements for athletic purpose be included in the plan. The local American Legion, holding a 4½-year lease on the property, voted unanimously to turn their lease over to the city, providing the building he retained for their quarters until some other suitable place could be found.

The lay-out of recreational facilities, sorely needed by the city for entertainment of local as well as summer resideots, includes three regulation concrete tennis courts, six regulation shuffle board courts, four horseshoe-pits, an outdoor bowling alley. The school board requirements are a quarter-mile cinder running track which will completely surround a new football field running north and south instead of east and west like the present field. Also included in the plan is a regulation baseball diamond and provision in the space for at least three soft ball baseball diamonds.

To accommodate cars of visitors and recreation seekers, a 40-foot roadway will be built from Garfield to Carpenter avenue. A roadway would lead off this main artery east to Mason street, west to Bridge street or U.S 31. In addition the grounds will be laodscaped with trees and shrubbery following completion of construction work.

Labor, the greatest item of cost on the project, will be furnished by the ERA and the council gave Mayor L. S. See authority to sign the project application.

Possibility of extension of the parking plan along the east side of Bridge street on Round lake harbor was given impetus by action of the council in authorizing the acquirement of options on property between the Milton Block store and the Ayres Boat property. The city previously parked the block between Antrim and Mason streets and extension of the plan would doubtlessly meet the hearty approval of progressive citizens.

An ordinance regulating the issuance and fees for dry cleaners' licenses was adopted. The license for local cleaners was set at $25 per year, and that for out-of-town solicitors at $10 per day or $50 per week.

The proposal to erect large road signs advertising Charlevoix at strategic points in Michigan was referred to the council advertising committee with power to act. The signs would be erected at Mackinaw City, Michigan City, Ind., and at various trunk-line intersections leading towrd Charlevoix.

Plans for the Meech street and River-Bridge street curb and gutter were approved, also the purchase of a time punch clock for use by the city police force, and purchase of lightning arrestors for the municipal electric light and water plants.

Application of the Charlevoix Beach hotel for liquor license, the first of three this city is privileged to approve, was sanctioned.

BANK RE-OPENING UP TO DEPOSITORS

PLANS HAVE HAD APPROVAL AND WORK UNDER WAY

Culmination of Reorganization Plan Depends Upon Speed With Which Depositors Sign Waivers

Reorganization plans of the Charlevoix State Savings bank, approved by the state banking department, have now reached a stage where the re-opening depends upon the cooperation of the depositors.

On May 8th the bank received notice from the state banking commissioner that its plan for reorganization had been approved providing for a release of 40 per cent of its deposits and the organization of a separate corporation to liquidate the remaining 60 per cent of its assets.

This plan provides that consent of 75 per cent of the deposits of both commercial and savings departments be secured in writing and that $25,000 new capital be secured. Last week the conservator and members of the depositors' committee returned from Lansing with instructions for procedure.

It may readily be seen that the date of the bank's re-opening depends upon the speed with which the required 75 per cent of waivers are signed. The bank cannot re-open until this is done and the time when 40 per cent of the institution's deposits are released into the regular channels of this city's business depends entirely upon the depositors.

Bank officials are using every effort to rush the work along and ask the support of the depositors in their endeavors.

In its reorganization the bank will comply with all regulations necessary to qualify for government insurance of its deposits. When the bank reopens all accounts under $10 and all trust accounts deposited since February 11, 1933, will be released in full.

Charlevoix citizens can hasten the reorganization by lending their cooperation.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY STATE BANK SHOWS DEPOSIT INCREASE

Since the opening of the Charlevoix County State bank, commercial deposits have increased, over $60,000.00, according to the officers of the institution. This is a remarkable showing in view of the seasonal trend of deposits in Charlevoix. In years past commercial deposits have decreased from February 1st to June 1st.

Commercial deposits of the bank are now $20,000.00 greater than they were a year ago. Considering that the depositors have 50 per cent of their funds impounded and that public funds on deposit are considerably less than a year ago, the increase is the more astounding.

The fine increase in deposits not only shows the confidence the general public has in the reorganized institution but also the feeling of security with deposits up to $2,500 fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The universal good feeling toward the new bank, by its old depositors has been a source of genuine satisfaction to the stockholders and directors. The bank is making every effort to be of service to the community and the increase in deposits demonstrates that these efforts are appreciated.

Shutters are coming down and curtains are going up on scores of cottages throughout the resort area and every day more summer people are appearing on the street.

The Belvedere Club colony is increasing as the summer homes reopen and those arriving tell of others who are coming soon. At Ironton and other Lake Charlevoix resorts as well as this city the arrivals are noticeable.

CANVASS COUNTY TO OBTAIN NAMES

MOVE TO KEEP ELECTION OF JUDGES OUT POLITICS

Non-Partisan Judiciary Committee of Michigan Will Seek Constitutional Amendment

Charlevoix county is to be canvassed, within the next few days, to obtain this district's share of the 166,000 signatures on a petition asking that the election of supreme court justices and circuit and probate judges be taken out of partisan politics. The work is a part of the movement launched by the Non-Partisan Judiciary committee of Michigan, which seeks to obtain an amendment to the state constitution providing for a non-partisan ballot for the judiciary.

L. L. Close of Boyne City, will engage in the solicitation, together with other citizens of Charlevoix county who are perfecting community and county organizations for the work. Men and women of all parties, who are sympathetic with the proposal, are being invited to take part in this work.

More than 100,000 citizens already have signed the petitions and 65 counties are thus far represented in the membership of the temporary state committee. It is planned to have signatures from each of the 83 counties in Michigan when the petitions are filed with the secretary of state July 1. With that official's acceptance of the petitions, the proposed amendment goes on the ballot for the November election.

Change in the selection of the judiciary long has been advocated in Michigan, with some citizens asking for an even more radical action. The Non-Partisan committee deemed it advisable to propose a moderate change, which they feel is sure to be given the approval of the voters in November. With this amendment adopted, they say, the way will be paved for future progressive improvements in the matter of selection of judges and their tenure of office.

Local leaders are confident that they will experience little difficulty in obtaining Charlevoix county's quota of the requisite number of petitioners. The proposed amendment, they say, is popular with citizens in all walks of life, and is considered hailed as a great progressive step in government.

The offices of supreme court justices, and circuit and probate judges are too important, they declare, and too dignified, to be sought through the stress and chaos of partisan politics. It is more important, their contention is, to choose the man for his experience, ability and fitness rather than for his loyalty to a party standard or for his ability to garner votes in an inter-party struggle.

FCA AIDS MANY LOCAL FARMERS

LOANS MADE SINCE LAST JUNE TOTAL $91,100.00

Greater Portion of This Amount Used to Refinance Indebtedness Report Reveals

The following report on the activities of the Farm Credit Administration in Charlevoix county for the past year is issued by Wm. F. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the county organization:

"A total of $91,100 of Federal land bank and land bank commissioner's farm mortgage loans was made in Charlevoix county from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934, according to the Farm Credit Administration.

Of this total, farmers in Charlevoix county used approximately $62,400, or 68.5 per cent to refinance their indebtedness. By refinancing, farmers obtained new mortgage loans which they used to repay their old debts. They generally reduced their annual interest charges in doing so. In a number of cases, scaledowns of indebtedness occured in connection with the new loans. These and other advantages benefited farmers primarily. Secondarily, creditors benefited from the receipt of cash or bonds in exchange for obligations they held.

Of the loan money used by farmers in Charlevoix county for refinancing their debts, about $32,300, it was estimated, repaid their debts to banks; $8,400, their taxes; $1,500 their debts to merchants; $20,200, their debts to "others," or creditors not separately classified, including private mortgage lenders, mortgage loan companies, retired farmers and many others to whom farmers were in debt.

A total of about $28,700 of loans in the county was used for purposes other than the refinancing of borrowers' debts. Of this sum $25,100 was used for the purchase of land and equipment, the construction or improvement of buildings, and for general agricultural uses, including the provision of capital, while $3,300, the balance, was used for the purchase of stock in national farm loan associations, for loan fees, etc.

NEGLIGENT HOMICIDE IS CHARGED

JOE TROYER HELD AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Waived Examination at Hearing Saturday and Was Bound Over to May Term of Court

Joe Troyer, 27, was charged with negligent homicide Saturday morning as a result of the head-on automobile crash early Sunday morning, May 6, which caused the death of Miss Madelyn Yettaw, local young woman, and injury to five others.

The complaint alleges that Troyer, driver of one of the cars involved in the accident which occurred east of the Pere Marquette crossing on U. S. 31 north of this city, failed to have his machine under control and that he was driving at excessive speed on the wrong side of the highway.

Investigation by Sheriff Floyd Ikens had revealed Troyer's car was three feet and eight inches to the left of the center of the highway which is 16 feet wide at the point where the accident took place. Marks on the pavement showed that Louis Hankey, driver of the other car, had applied his brakes 70 feet from the point where the crash occurred. Hankey was exonerated of blame.

Troyer waived examination at a hearing before Justice Horace R. Fowler and was bound over to the May term of circuit court which convenes next Monday. Bond of one thousand dollars was required.

Troyer's wife, Helen, is still in a serious condition at Charlevoix hospital from her injuries. Others involved in the accident have recovered.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM READY

MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Service at Memorial Park and Program at Cemetery Arranged for Observance Wednesday

Sunday, May 27th, has been designated as Memorial Sunday and on that day, in churches all over the land, living veterans of the country's wars will meet to render homage in divine service to their comrades who have fallen.

In Charlevoix, members of Leslie T. Shapton post, American Legion, of the Spanish-American War Veterans' association and of the American Legion Auxiliary and the Woman's Relief Corps have been invited to attend services at the Baptist church at 10:30 a. m. Members of the Legion and other veteran bodies and unattached ex-servicemen will meet at 10:00 a. m. at the corner of Park and State streets, while the women's organizations will assemble at the Odd Fellow hall, preliminary to the march to the church. Legionaires should wear their post caps.

Those responsible for the program on Memorial day have announced the details, which will conform closely to the ceremonials of previous years. The parade, as usual, will form on Park avenue at 9:30 a. m., preparatory to the march to the city memorial park and the cemetery. Order of parade will be as follows: colors, bugle and drum corps, band, veterans, auxiliary and Woman's Relief Corps, school children in trucks, cars. Floyd Black will be marshal of the day, mounted. The line of march will be Bridge to State on Antrim and State to cemetery, the same as last year.

The ceremonial of casting a wreath on the water for the sailor dead will take place in the memorial park and will be conducted by the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps and the Legion Auxiliary. Taps will be played and then the march will be resumed to the cemetery. Invocation will be pronounced by Rev. W. H. Raueh and the benediction by Rev. G. R. Parker. A. L. Fitch, prosecuting attorney, will be the speaker of the day. There will be the usual ceremonials — salute to the dead, [illegible] the floral tribute, the ritual of the Woman's Relief Corps and music by the Legion's quartet.

Saturday, May 26th, being poppy day, headquarters have been established at Sternberg's Beauty Parlor for the sale of the little red flowers made by disabled veterans in the hospitals, who depend for their trifling comforts on the returns which they receive from the sale of their handiwork. During the day, teams of boys and girls—sons and daughters of the Legion—will canvass the city, selling these poppies from house to house. Veterans who have sons or daughters of the ages of 12 to 16 are urged to have them participate in this canvass. The young folks should meet at Sternberg's Beauty Parlor at 8:30 a. m Saturday to receive their poppies and instructions. They will be sent out in teams—a boy and a girl to each block or district. Prizes will be given to all the young canvassers and a grand prize to the team selling the most poppies.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday evening each month at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 27.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rom. 12:1): "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.311): "So long as we believe that soul can sin or that immortal Soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being. When humanity does understand this Science, it will become the law of Life to man,—even the higher law of Soul, which prevails over material sense through harmony and immortality."

SAY IMPORTS ASPHALT HIT HOME INDUSTRY

L. J. Thompson, Standard Oil Manager, Issues Statement

Importers of asphalts and road oils are trying to prevent American manufacturers and their employes from gaining the full benefits of business provided by recovery highway and street construction projects in this country; it is asserted by representatives of Standard Oil company of Indiana.

A statement issued by L. J. Thompson, manager of the company's Grand Rapids division, declares that there is a concerted undertaking on the part of asphalt importers, and manufacturers using imported crude oils, to get all the business possible in connection with CWA and other projects regardless of the availability of entirely suitable materials made by American labor.

"Promoters of imported materials have claimed superiority for their products and have so impressed some commissions and other public bodies that they have succeeded in having technical specification drawn in such a way that they can be met only by Mexican and Venezuelan crudes," the statement declares. "Such specifications are purely political. From the engineering standpoint there is no excuse for them. Domestic materials have been meeting the standard specifications of the federal government and of local units for many years and have been used in thousands and thousands of miles of streets and highways which are a monument today to the suitability of the domestic materials.

"It was the purpose of the national recover act to cause all possible use of local and domestic labor. Materials produced wholly within the United States were to be used wherever possible, and that rule has been followed in respect to practically all materials except asphalt.

8 SHORT MINUTES TO DRAIN AND REFILL WITH "ISO-VIS D"

Anti-Sludge Motor Oil

IT'S PAST TIME TO SEND SLUDGE, the OIL-EATER, ON HIS WAY!

Continuing to Drive With Winter Oil Costs You Money Daily

● It's high time you changed to a heavier motor oil—as an economy move! Lighter oils are subject to faster and faster consumption as the mercury continues to rise.

Besides, if you have been using ordinary oil the chances are that there is trouble-making sludge in your crankcase right now.

You know how the ugly mess called Sludge fouls the oil filter and lines—makes piston rings stick and causes costly pumping of oil—slows down valve action, bringing wasteful loss of gasoline power.

So get rid of sludge, once and for all, by having your crankcase drained at a Standard Oil station—then refill with Iso-Vis "D", the anti-sludge motor oil. You'll have an economical, sludge-less summer and a clean, lively, efficient engine.

Old Car Good Enough

Say, just ride in a '34

YOU'LL change your mind about holding on to the old car the very first time you get behind the wheel of a Nineteen Thirty-four. Are these new jobs smooth and smart and comfortable? And can they "travel?"

Even if you aren't going to buy at present, you should read the automobile advertisements appearing in this newspaper. It's an excellent way to keep up to date on what the spring salons are showing. There are important developments in styling and engineering — interesting features pictured and described—which contribute to new riding and driving ease, new safety, beauty, and e-c-o-n-o-m-y.

Economy is an important point in these messages from leading automobile manufacturers. . . . Exceptional values, long life, unusual freedom from repairs, low fuel and oil consumption! Economy is the reason they advertise in this newspaper, for here they can reach you and many other logical and intelligent car buyers at a minimum cost per person.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper as an economy measure. They save time, energy, money . . . and even now are pointing out that owning a luxurious, up-to-the-minute motor car is often more economical than maintaining an old one.

Mysterious Isles Are Puzzle to Map-Makers

Play "Hide and Seek" and Elude Charting.

Washington. — Despite numerous steamer lanes and the even more numerous tracks of wandering freighters that crisscross the oceans of the world, there are still many islands seen only at intervals of years, and others that seem to elude the closest search. Some typical examples of these elusive islands are dealt with in a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"The world's newest mystery island has been discovered by an Eskimo captain, Takpuk, of Point Barrow, Alaska," says the bulletin. "In 1931 he beached his small whaling sloop on an islet northeast of Point Barrow, a bit of land unmarked on any of the charts of that region. He was armed with a camera, and the photographs which he took show slightly rolling, moss-covered land dotted with many small pools. Few heard of his discovery until the explorer, Stefansson, recently announced his belief in it. The island is too large to be ice, covered with rocks and soil, as some have suggested.

Annexed Mythical Land.

"Another island which has long baffled explorers received a visit the other day from the British sloop, Milford, bound for the Antarctic, Bouvet island, which the Milford reached after a stormy voyage, is an icy point of rock in the South Atlantic. It was first sighted in 1739, by a French naval officer who thought it a part of the Antarctic continent. Capt. James Cook later looked for it in vain, but proved, by sailing far to the south, that if it existed at all it must be an island.

"Whaling captains in the early eighties reported finding not only Bouvet, but two other islands. These were named Lindsay and Thompson, and were marked on very recent maps. In fact, when Norway annexed Bouvet in 1927, Thompson was included in the claim. However, when the exploring steamer, Discovery II searched the region carefully in 1931, no trace was found of either Thompson or Lindsay, and they have since been erased from all charts.

"Although the polar regions have their share, the Pacific ocean is the real home of elusive islands. These islands come and go with a suddenness that is the despair of mapmakers and empire builders. For instance, there is little Sarah Ann, an inconspicuous dot in mid-Pacific. No one paid any attention to Sarah Ann until it was discovered from charts that she will be the only land in the path of the eclipse of the sun that will occur in 1937. An eclipse of the sun cannot be observed with accuracy from a boat, so astronomers were delighted to find Sarah Ann in such a convenient spot. What was their dismay to discover that the island does not appear on the latest charts, and has not been seen for over a decade.

Gets Up and Down.

"And there is Falcon island in the Tonga group. Falcon has appeared and disappeared twice within the last century. The island is alternately created by the eruption of a submarine volcano, and worn away by the action of sea and weather. Each time Falcon appears, an official party puts out in a boat, plants a flag on the newborn land, and claims it in the name of the ruler of Tonga.

"The arbitrary behavior of these islands has its tragic side. When the island of Tuanaki, in the Cook group, disappeared in 1836, more than 13,000 inhabitants, it is estimated, lost their lives. Men who had left the island on fishing trips returned to find an unbroken expanse of water where their homes had been.

"A glance at a present-day map of the Pacific reveals no land between Hawaii and Panama, yet earlier charts show a group of islands roughly halfway between these two points. In 1860 a U. S. sloop-of-war, the Levant, sailed from Honolulu for Panama and disappeared. Months later a broken spar and bits of a vessel identified as the Levant were washed up on the Hawaiian shore. This would indicate that the ship had been wrecked, yet no land was known to exist on the course she sailed. Wild stories circulated. Perhaps the survivors were still living on some unknown island. It was on the Levant that Edward Hale had placed his hero, the Man Without a Country; and some even suggested that Philip Nolan might still be found. In 1904 the U. S. cruiser Tacoma made a careful search in the region where the island was supposed to exist, but discovered nothing."

Influx of Twins Stirs Up Indian Medicine Men

Gallup, N. M.—Two pairs of Navajo twins in as many days on the Navajo reservation has set medicine men chanting and shaking rattles as they foresee an early end of the world.

Ancient Naski Nayah, survivor of the Mexican captivity and venerable medicine man of the tribesmen, explained that "all babies must be born before the end of the world. Now the births are coming in pairs and the end is near."

Until recently, Navajo twins have been exceedingly rare. Twin boys are held sacred and girls born in pairs are distinguished. Four sets of Navajo twins have been born at the Beloloth Mission—hospital east of there within the last year. Ten sets of twins have arrived at the mission within the last six and one half years.

The belief of Naski Nayah that the world is facing an early end is shared by other medicine men of the tribe. Old men of the tribe all ready set to muttering prayers at the arrival of twin boys to the Charles Mannings were thrown into confusion and fear when the squaw of Simon Benson gave birth to a pair of daughters 48 hours later.

Farmer Sleepwalks and Does Milking

Three Forks, Mont.—A farmer, whose name the sheriff obligingly is keeping secret, registered a complaint that his dairy herd was being milked by marauders nearly every night.

Deputies kept watch for several nights before they saw the farmer himself, in nightgown and carpet slippers, walk to his sleep to the barn, milk the cows, pour the milk into his pig sty, and somnambulate back to bed.

Will Test Device to Detect Earthquakes

California Scientists to Try Jap Invention.

Berkeley, Calif.—Earthquake predicting devices, which, it is hoped, may enable scientists to foretell earth movements hours before they occur, are being tested at the University of California.

Patterned after a Japanese invention, the instruments are designed to measure infinitesimal tilting of the earth's surface, which Japanese seismologists claim they have noted before earthquakes.

The devices have been installed near the Hayward fault line along the lower slope of the Berkeley hills.

Since the instruments were installed there have been no movements of any magnitude along the fault, Prof. Byerly, United States seismologist, said, and even if it should be proved that tilting is a precursor of earthquakes, years might be required to work out a technique of forecasting, he believes.

Some tilting has been observed on the instruments, but it has been attributed to rains and consequent swelling and movement of the surface.

The instruments were designed by George E. Merritt, formerly of the United States bureau of standards, and were installed by the United States geodetic survey. Tilting is detected by observing the movement of oil held in a bowl over which a plate of glass is suspended parallel to the oil's surface.

If tilting occurs the surface of the oil is no longer parallel to the plate of glass. Even though this change may be too slight to be observed by the naked eye, it can be determined by reflecting a beam of light simultaneously from the lower surface of the glass and the top surface of the oil.

When the two surfaces are exactly parallel the light is reflected without interference; but if the oil has moved in relation to the glass some of the light waves interfere with each other and a pattern is formed.

Giant Thermometer Now Adorns the Eiffel Tower

Paris.—With the installation of a mammoth thermometer on the Eiffel tower, Parisians and other Paris dwellers can tell exactly when to shiver and sink deeper into their mufflers and when to emerge and breathe a few breaths of fresh air. Shortly before his death, the Italian, Jacopozzi, expert electrician and father of electrical displays on the Champs Elysees, submitted the design for the huge thermometer. It was approved as a permanent fixture to the Citroen display and has been erected.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—Walter Materna received double congratulations recently. He is not only a proud father but the world's champion new baby photographer.

This time, he says, betters the world record of twelve minutes established by E. Stanley Martin, Terre Haute, Ind.

Catfish May Tell Quake Secrets to Japanese

Osaka, Japan.—Officials of the Osaka weather bureau are engaged in the minutest difficult task of making some 50 catfish tell what they know about earthquakes.

For several years scientists at the Tohoku imperial university have noticed that catfish are disturbed at great times also. Chief Omishi, director of the bureau, hopes to learn by close observation whether the catfish gives a reaction sufficiently distinct to enable him to forecast earthquakes accurately. He has installed the catfish in a tank at his home, where he will study their sign language.

Old Gallows Condemned

Boise, Idaho.—Idaho's gallows at Nampa, used to hang the state's murderers for the last quarter century, has been condemned by Warden Ira Taylor as a "bad influence" on younger prisoners. The last time it was used was in 1926 when John Jurko of Twin Falls was hanged. A new one will be constructed when the need arises, the warden said.

Britain Would Buy Island?

Possession of Sleepy Little Timor Said to Be Needed by Great Empire as Link in the Projected Europe-Australia Air Route.

The British government is reported by a news dispatch from London to be interested in Timor island of the East Indies as a possible sea and air base. An offer of $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 may be made for the island, it is declared. The eastern part of Timor and a tiny nick of the western part now belongs to Portugal, and the remainder to The Netherlands.

"Timor is the eastern 'jumping-off place' of the Sunda islands, that chain of land spots which is strung out from Sumatra eastward toward the north coast of Australia," says a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society. "It is about 300 miles from the Timor coast to Australia. Timor is thus a vital link in the Europe-Australia air route.

"Although Timor had a Portuguese settlement on its coast more than a century before Capt. John Smith with his band of English colonists disembarked at Jamestown; and although the Dutch landed on the island about the time of the Capt. John Smith Pocahontas life-saving episode in Virginia, Timor shows little effect of its contact with the western world.

"About 300 miles long and averaging 60 miles in width, the island has but few settlements that even can be called township. Even Koepang, capital and largest port on the Dutch or western end of the island, has only 5,500 inhabitants; and Dili, which is the chief town in the eastern, or Portuguese portion of the island, can account for only 3,500 permanent residents.

"There are no railroads on Timor and one of the best roads of any great length is a horse trail that traverses the island. No cable links it with other islands. Steamships that touch other East Indian islands stop at Timor ports to deliver cotton goods, oil and wine, and to take away coffee, copra, hides, cacao, shells, wax and sandalwood which are the leading exports. And now and then an occasional visitor off the beaten tourist path walks down a steamship gangplank bent upon roaming over the mountains and through valleys where live most of the island's 800,000 inhabitants—largely a racial mixture of Malayan, Polynesian, and Papuan blood.

"The natives are divided into many tribes, ruled by chiefs whose jealousy of neighboring leaders, and land-grabbing habits, frequently have caused bloody clashes. Bows and arrows and spears are the war weapons of the natives. For hunting game, they use blow guns and small darts.

"While the loin cloth still constitutes the dress of some of the tribes, other tribesmen wear two-piece cotton garments and turbans. The women don colorful sarongs and shawls. From the appearance of exposed arms and other portions of the natives' bodies, it is evident that tattoo artists are kept busy in Timor. The tattooing is done with crude instruments and dyes which sometimes cause blood poisoning and death.

"There appear to be no limits, other than wealth and inclination, to the number of wives a tribesman may have. The native home is a round, one-room, wooden structure with a roof of grass or palm-leaf thatch, and not too clean inside or out. To appease the angry gods and to avoid destruction by evil spirits, the tribesmen place palm branches before fruit trees, houses and growing crops. Agriculture is carried on with crude, primitive implements; and, although there are many streams on the island, irrigation is hardly known. During the dry season vegetation bows to the torrid sun, even to the extent of the trees losing their leaves.

"If the reported purchase is consummated it will not be Great Britain's first possession of Timor. In 1797 the British attempted to drive out the Dutch, then dominantly in control of the island. At first they failed. Later the British succeeded, and the Dutch flag was lowered. Portuguese influence then swept the island until 1814, when, by treaty, the Dutch resumed their old status.

"Today the Dutch portion of Timor is about 5,000 square miles with 360,000 inhabitants. The Portuguese portion is 7,335 square miles with about 412,000 people. Both portions are mountainous. Many peaks are more than 6,000 feet high. Mount Ramean, near the center of the island, rises 9,600 feet."

Ireland Rightly Proud of Old City of Derry

The most northerly sizeable town in Ireland, and one of the most prosperous, Londonderry nestles comfortably on the banks of the famous River Foyle. It is locally known as Derry, having been named for the "Queen of Erin's daughters, fair Daire." The prefix came when James I granted lands in the vicinity of Derry to the city of London.

For the traveler Derry has a charm greater than its bustle and up-and-doing atmosphere—the story of a past replete with romance, devotion to principle and the exhibition of an indomitable spirit.

Columba, greatest of the Irish saints after Patrick and Brigid, founded his abbey there, calling it Daire-Columbkille, or Columba's Oak Grove, within the shadow of a great fort on a nearby hill, in order that his sanctuary might have military protection.

In vain did he reckon his chances against the Danes and Saxons. Time and again they pushed their boats against his shores. Despite their plundering and burnings, the settlement grew and maintained its independence until overcome by the English in 1661. Derry was then given to the corporation of London, which tacked on the prefix London.—New York World-Telegram.

TIME TO APPLY FOR PHEASANT EGGS NOW

Conservation Dept. Has Supply for Individuals and Organizations

Individuals and organizations of Michigan who want pheasant eggs with which to participate in the propagation of pheasants this year are advised by the game division, department of conservation, to file their applications without delay.

Requests for 15,000 eggs had been received and it was estimated that approximately 20,000 would be available. The remaining supply, it is believed, will soon be spoken for. Shipments were started from the state game farm near Mason May 3rd.

Orders for pheasant eggs started slowly this year, due probably to the late spring weather. Individual application this year ranged from a setting of 155 eggs to an order of 500. Most of the applications called for two or three settings, the game division reports.

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

Failure to secure a new driver's license when the old one, issued in 1931, expired, is placing many Michigan motorists under the financial responsibility law.

The law, adopted by the 1933 legislature, provides that motorists who do not have proper driving licenses are subject to the provisions of the law. Since May 1 an increasing number of drivers have been certified to the department of state as violating this provision of the law. Once this certification is made, the department is required to cancel the right to use all automobiles owned by the individual until after the department is furnished proof of financial ability to meet future accident claims.

Over 700,000 drivers' licenses will expire before January 1, 1935.

A complicated ballot may be presented to Michigan voters on November 6th.

Already the department has been notified that six of seven proposed constitutional amendments may be submitted to the people at that time. These amendments deal with consolidation of local governmental units, reduction in gasoline taxes, changes in the board of liquor control and other governmental subjects. In addition the legislature has ordered a referendum vote on the question of increasing the jurisdiction of justices of the peace from $300 to $1,000.

Under the law, all initinted constitutional amendments must be filed with the department of state by July 6th. In order to place a proposal on the ballot petitions bearing at least 161,627 signatures must be submitted.

PRODUCTION LOAN INTEREST RATE REDUCED

A. J. Townsend, secretary-treasurer of the Gaylord Production Credit association, has just received word from Governor W. I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D. C., that the interest rate on new loans from production credit associations has been reduced from 5½ to 5 per cent.

According to A. J. Townsend the new 5 per cent interest rate becomes effective immediately on all new loans and advances made by the association and will be applicable until further notice.

COLD KILLS BEES AND CLOVER CROP IS SHORT

Apiarists Check Up Damage—Orchardists Have Cause for Worry

A rut in the regional output of honey estimated at from 25 to 30 per cent, will result from the cold weather of winter which killed off many hives of bees and shortened the clover crop, local bee keepers state.—

Loss to the bee hives came this spring when awakening bees smothered because the hive entrances were clogged with bees which froze to death during the winter. These dead bees fell to the floor of the hive, shutting off the air through the hive entrance, and smothered the bees who had weathered the cold winter.

The extreme cold of the winter also raised havoc in the clover fields of the region and bees depend to a great exent upon clover for their honey.

Lack of bees is also bad news for the orchardists who depend upon the insects for their pollinization. Many cherry orchards have been ready for pollinization for the past week but cold weather has kept the bees in their hives and a reduction in the cherry crop will inevitably follow lack of bees.

Reports from the honey centers of the south also report a heavy winter loss of bees and local bee keepers who have ordered bees from those sections have been informed that their orders either could not be filled or would be delayed.

LOOK OUT FOR GAME —MOTORISTS ARE TOLD

With the nesting and breeding season of wild game at hand and warmer weather daily attracting more motorists to the highways, a word of caution is broadcast to car owners by the game division, state department of conservation.

"Be alert, especially when driving through game areas," urged H. D. Ruhl, chief of the game division. "You can never tell when deer, rabbits and other game animals will dart across the highway. A cautious driver can often avoid killing game and damage to his car and occupants."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page.

This week brings three fast days which should be enjoyed since fresh fish is plentiful and cheap. If fish is not desired quite so frequently, dishes combined of eggs or cheese, which are excellent values at present, with vegetables are delicious and satisfying. A vegetable plate consisting of asparagus soufflé or omelet, carrots and peas and a baked potato would be welcomed by most people.

Fruit desserts should also be popular with the large available selection, among them cantaloupe and honeydew melons, pineapple, strawberries, sweet cherries, raspberries, as well as the usual excellent bananas and oranges.

Here are three choice menus.

Scalloped Potatoes, Glazed Carrots

Dairymen Join Associations to Eliminate Cows Picking Owner's Pockets

Increased membership in Michigan's herd improvement associations is evidence either of more optimism among dairymen or a determination to know exactly how to make their herds more profitable, according to the dairy department at Michigan State college.

Membership in the association enables the dairymen to tell which of his cows is paying for her feed and which is just putting on fat at the owner's expense. The cost of testing each cow averages about one cent a day to association members and it costs more than that to spend 10 minutes a day to milk one of these boarders if time is worth 20 cents an hour.

ABSENT TREATMENT

"Where did you learn your trade?" asked Will Rogers while undergoing torture in a barber's chair.

"I learned my trade at a well-known correspondence school," answered the barber.

"Well, I'm not complaining," drawled Will, "but I want it clearly understood that hereafter you'll shave me by correspondence."—Boston Transcript.

Author of

"ETIQUETTE," "THE BLUE BOOK OF SOCIAL USAGE," ETC.

BRIDES ASK—

DEAR Mrs. Post: I want to send one wedding invitation to a mother and father and their two unmarried daughters living with them. Since "and family" is not allowed by best form, please tell me just how their names are written on one envelope?

Answer: Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and on the line below, the Misses Jones.

My dear Mrs. Post: The soloist and organist who are to sing and play at my wedding are friends of my young uncle. They are not asking a fee but are doing it for me because he asked them to. I am going to invite them both to my reception, which is to be a large one. Outside of this, must I buy them each a gift?

Answer: I don't think I would say "must," but to give each a remembrance would be an appreciative thing to do, and to give them nothing would put you too much in their debt.

Dear Mrs. Post: My nephew was married several months ago, and since his return from his wedding trip has received a bill for the hire of the five cars used to take the bridal party and others to the church and then to the hotel for dinner and the reception. He ignored the bill because we were all under the impression that this item was part of the bride's family expenses. Now we learn that her family are making a lot of disagreeable comment because of his neglect in paying the bill. You, as arbiter, can help us.

Answer: There are as many local customs as there are localities, but this is one I have never heard of. The only car that he should be expected to pay for is the one that took the best man and himself to the church, and possibly the one in which he and his wife drove to the station after the wedding.

My dear Mrs. Post: Please list all the expenses of my wedding that should be taken care of by my parents. I am having a simple church wedding, with a reception at my parents' club afterwards.

Answer: All cost of invitations and announcements, your trousseau, wedding dress, decoration of church and house, all music, wedding breakfast and collation, bridesmaids' bouquets, and all transportation of immediate family and bridal party. In many communities the bridegroom gives the bride her bouquet. Therefore, follow local custom.

THE ALL-IN-ONE WEDDING INVITATION

DEAR Mrs. Post: The time has arrived for me to consider the invitations to my wedding. A friend told us you wrote sometime last winter that the wedding invitation which folds in half and whose edges seal to form an envelope on which the address is written, is in best possible taste and used by smartest people. The stationer has shown us a sample of this style of invitation on thin bond paper, as well as the heavier kid paper that fits in two envelopes. The thin all-in-one piece invitation is considerably less expensive, but before choosing it we would like to be sure of your opinion, please.

Answer: I can't remember exactly what I answered, but I doubt having gone so far as to say that the all-in-one sheet invitation was in "best possible" taste. I think I said it would be permissible since it is the type of invitation much used in England and one that has been chosen also by a number of the smart in New York. Lately, however, several invitations and announcements have been sent me by my readers, which have made me rather sorry that I endorsed this type of invitation, because it can lend itself to a very poor quality of paper and to imitation engraving. About half of the examples sent me looked rather shoddy by the time they had gone through the mail.

In other words, I really prefer the conventional wedding invitation engraved (not printed) on a kid finish paper suggestive of an orange blossom petal in color and texture, which fits into an inner envelope without mucilage on the flap, and this into an outer one with a mucilage flap. The reason for the two envelopes is that when the outer one is thrown away, the under one is entirely fresh and therefore nicer to keep with its enclosures until the latter are used. In the single form, no cards can be enclosed, and a postmarked, and sometimes crumpled invitation must be presented at the church.

It is true that for those who must economize, the sheet and envelope in one is less expensive to have made, and to stamp, since it can be sent as unsealed postage. But if saving of expense is not a pressing necessity, the conventional invitation with its card enclosures is certainly in best possible taste.

Daring Man Ventures Criticism of Fashion

It was a pleasing illusion and flattering to masculine vanity that the women choose their clothes to please the men. But in his heart every man has known it isn't so. So the New York authority who says women dress to please themselves and other women is uttering merely an obvious truth. In the first place, the average man pays little attention to his wife's costume—the brute!—and in the second place his ideal of color schemes is primitive. How many households have been torn by the failure of an unobservant husband to notice that his wife had a new dress? And how many have been promptly put in their places when they have ignorantly remarked that a more somber color would be more becoming? So it is with due diffidence that we suggest anyway, if the men had their say, their wives would not be wearing these little saucepan hats pulled down over one ear. And having ventured thus far we bare our breast to the New York stylist for a barbed reply.—Kansas City Star.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

1934 Emergency Crop Loans Completed

The county agent's office has been a busy place during the last three or four weeks in making out the 1934 emergency seed loans and Production redit association loans. More farmers took advantage of the above named agencies this year than any other year. The money borrowed can be used to buy seed, fertilizer, seed treatment material, spraying material and other crop production purposes. This means that considerable help has been given to farmers who were unable to purchase the necessary materials and supplies with which to start their farming operations.

The closing date was May 15 and to this time about half the checks have been received. From latest information, this is the last year that this emergency seed loan will be available.

Colt Breaking and Foot Trimming Demonstration

Every farmer in Charlevoix county will be interested in the announcement that another colt breaking demonstration will be conducted Tuesday afternoon, May 22, at 1:30, at the farm of D. E. Ingalls, located one-fourth mile south of the Belvedere golf links. At this time a young colt will be handled and actually doing farm work.

H. M. Moxley, specialist in animal husbandry, M. S. C., will be in charge. It is unnecessary to state that in previous demonstrations held in the county, he has proven to the satisfaction all horse lovers that he knows his stuff and can handle any kind of a horse brought to him. Right here, I want to announce that if there is anyone in the county who has a bad horse that cannot be handled, put him in a truck and bring him over to this demonstration. I can guarantee that Mr. Moxley will help you in the elimination of bad habits and in subduing the horse.

Another important feature will be the discussion on foot trimming and the care of horses.

Charlevoix County Corn-Hog Control Association Organized

At a meeting held last Friday in the Boyne City postoffice, the permanent organization for the county corn-hog program was set up with William Shepard, East Jordan, as president, Robert F. Barnett Jr., East Jordan, vice president, Frank Fox, Boyne City, secretary, and Wm. Mayne, Charlevoix, treasurer. The board of directors then elected Wm. Shepard, Frank Fox and William Mayne as the county allotment committee.

[illegible] program, the county has been divided into three communities. The Charlevoix community committee was elected as follows: Wm. Mayne, chairman, Oakley Saunders, East Jordan, vice chairman, and Mark Saunders, East Jordan. The East Jordan committee consist of Wm. Shepard, chairman, Robert Barnett, Jr., vice chairman, and Lorin Duffey. The Boyne City community elected Frank Fox, chairman, Carl Proha-ska, vice chairman, and Wm. Petts. The committees will very shortly examine each contract very carefully and make whatever corrections are necessary.

It is expected that the required activity in connection with the completion of the contracts will develop within the next two weeks. Approximately 70 contracts have been approved and the amount of money to be paid the co-operators in the county will approximate $5,500.00. Within a short time, the names of each of the contract signers will be published in the papers and other information regarding each farmer.

Landscaping of City and Farm Homes Popular

An activity that will do much toward improving the beauty of Charlevoix county has been the assisting of eight co-operators in beautifying their homes. O. I. Gregg, landscape specialist of M. S. C., last winter gave three lectures on home beautification and made planting plans for 13 different homes. Last week, the plans as outlined by Mr. Gregg were carried out.

The following homes will undergo a pleasing transformation during the next few months when the new plantings will have developed: O. M. Saunders, David Smith, Charlevoix; Archie Howe, Harold Stueck, Alfred Thorsen, East Jordan; Louis Bowers, S. G. Arbuckle, Sidney Lumley, Boyne City.

Community 4-H Clubs Being Organized at Barnard

Last Tuesday night the young folks in the Barnard community met and discussed plans for organizing a community 4-H club. Over 30 interested boys and girls were present.

At East Jordan, a similar meeting was held last Wednesday night in connection with the Future Farmers of America banquet and meeting held at the tourist park. This is an organization consisting of Smith-Hughes students under the direction of Russell Eggert. Francis Lilac was appointed as community chairman to secure the names of the young folks around East Jordan who are interested in participating in a club program this summer.

At the Boyne River grange, the organization of a community club program was discussed a week ago.

This year, instead of having a number of small clubs, it is planned to have a large organization in which the various club members may choose the type of activity that is of most interest to them and yet they will all belong to the one community club. It is felt that a larger number will derive more value from the program than a small group.

The had seems well when you get well used to it.

Cast of Noted Stars Portray Comedy Roles in "Convention City"

One of the largest and best balanced casts ever assembled for a single picture will be seen in the First National comedy, "Convention City," which comes to the Palace theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. The list is headed by the blonde and vivacious Joan Blondell, star of "Havana Widows" and a member of the all-star casts of "Footlight Parade" and "Gold Diggers of 1933."

Hip! Hoorah! Hepburn! in "Little Women"

Right on the heels of her triumph in "Morning Glory" comes Katharine Hepburn, the hip! hip! hoorah! star of RKO Radio Pictures, for they're giving three cheers for Katharine all along the cheer section of motion pictures, in a role as made to order for her as Jo in "Little Women" was made to order for the author, Louisa M. Alcott, and Jo was taken from Alcott's own life. "Little Women", will be shown at the Palace theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

Something New in Entertainment

The forerunner of the new vogue is "Beloved," coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace theatre, an epic drama with music which presents John Boles and Gloria Stuart in featured roles. The story presents the romantic career of a struggling composer throughout his lifetime, and before a constantly changing background covers a span of an entire century.

MANY SIGN CONTRACT FOR LESS CORN-HOGS

Michigan Farmers Approve Plans to Adjust Production

Signatures of more than 24,000 Michigan farmers have been placed on contracts to reduce their production of corn and hogs in compliance with the plans of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, according to Verne H. Church, statistician for Michigan.

Lenawee county has turned in the greatest number of contracts, and other leading counties are Branch, Hillsdale, Monroe, Huron, Gratiot, Ionia, Calhoun, Tuscola and Clinton. Farmers in 66 counties have signed contracts.

The exact totals for counties and state can not be given yet as the work has been completed in only 29 counties and some contracts may be refused even in those counties.

Most of the contracts involved the reduction of both corn and hogs on the same farm. In a few instances, men who could not qualify for a contract for one commodity signed for the other.

Benefit payments to be made for the reduction in hogs will total approximately $2,800,000 and an additional $1,500,000 will be paid for the decrease in corn acreage. These are the sums due but the local expenses will be paid from them so the farmers will receive slightly less.

No payments are made on either contract until the contracts have been approved in Washington. The first Michigan contracts, those from Schoolcraft county, will be sent to Washington immediately.

FARMERS TO SUE SALES TAX BOARD

Farm Bureau Declares Tax On Farm Supplies Contrary to Law's Intent

The Michigan State Farm Bureau announced May 18th, before several hundred representatives of farmers' co-operatives and county farm bureaus throughout Michigan, that it intends to contest in court interpretations of the state board of tax administration which impose sales tax on farmers' purchases of seeds, feeds, fertilizers, nursery stock, implements, etc.

Such goods are purchased to produce farm products to be sold. Sales tax is being collected "contrary to the intent of the legislature, as expressed by its resolution of July, 1933, and results in double taxation," the Farm Bureau said.

A census of farmer business organizations at the meeting revealed that Michigan farmers are probably paying $1,250,000 annually in sales taxes on such supplies, said Secretary C. L. Brody of the Farm Bureau.

INDIANS LOSE SECOND TILT AT EAST JORDAN

Defeated There Sunday Afternoon by 8 and 4 Count

The Charlevoix Indians lost to East Jordan by an 8 and 4 score at East Jordan last Sunday. It was their second defeat of the season by the Jordanites.

Charlevoix played their opponents even in all innings except the fifth, when Jordan scored four runs. Up to that time neither team had scored. They both marked up four runs in the remaining inning, but Charlevoix was unable to produce sufficient punch to even the count.

Denemy, who pitched the first five innings, was relieved by Amos John. Guy John caught until the fourth, being relieved by "Stub" Lord.

Monday, May 28, is the date when Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Difficult cases a specialty. Glasses guaranteed to fit.—Adv. 20t2.

HIGH SCHOOLS MAY HAVE NINE FOOTBALL GAMES NEXT SEASON

Nine football games may be scheduled by Michigan high schools during the full of 1934 as a result of action taken by the Representative Council of the Michigan High School Athletic association, Charles E. Forsythe, director, has announced.

The restriction limiting interscholastic teams to eight games was lifted upon request of several athletic heads. The rule which limits high school play to Thanksgiving day, however, remains in force.

TRAFFIC AT STRAITS SHOWS BIG INCREASE

First Week of State Operation Above Same Period Last Year

During the first week of operation just ended, the state ferry boats carried 1,072 passengers across the Straits of Mackinac, as compared with 860 during the corresponding week in 1933, according to State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

This is an increase of 212 passengers or nearly 25 per cent. Only one of the highway department's three boats are in use at present. Plans are made to put another boat into service on May 16 and the third boat will be added when traffic conditions demand.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Hot Weather and the Infant Welfare

Hot weather is hard on the baby. It is hard because baby does not always talk in a language that is understandable to his elders. Mother knows that baby's cry has a meaning—that there is something that baby wants or does not want. It may be that a pin in one of its garments is pricking the child; it may be that the child is hungry; and it may be that the child is thirsty; or it may be that the child is too warmly clad for the hot summer weather.

Until the mother learns the meaning of the language of the baby she imagines that whenever he cries he is in need of food. As a result infants are often over fed, a condition which leads to indigestion, vomiting and diarrhea. Bad nourishment, or malnutrition, as it is called, is the bane of childhood. It takes intelligence in the mother to feed her child intelligently.

During the first year of life five or six feedings in 24 hours are quite enough for the child. For the first month more feeding may be advisable, but after that five are quite sufficient.

When the child cries it may be that he desires water. Or a hot summer day it is reasonable to suppose that it is thirst rather than hunger that he feels. It makes no difference that the food of the child is itself in the form of liquids. Water is what is wanted as is shown by his evident satisfaction when water is given to him. If the baby does not show satisfaction when either drink or food is offered him, the probability is that there is something else the matter, usually too much clothing.

Is it any wonder that baby should cry when he is bundled up as if he would catch cold on a hot summer day? A minimum of clothes should suffice—just enough to satisfy convention. When baby cries be sure that it is not his clothes that are making him uncomfortably hot.

However, a word of warning is necessary. If baby has been warmly clad all during the summer weather, it is a mistake suddenly to deprive him of the greater share of his wraps. Sudden changes of that kind are likely to be the cause of one of those dreaded summer colds. Caution must be used by the mother in such a case.

M. Welch, vice president and general manager of the company, Monday. The rate changes will become effective on the date of the June bill for service mailed to each customer.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN FOUND SHOT HERE

BODY JOHN J. SIMONS, 30, FOUND IN STANLEY CARTIER COTTAGE WITH BULLET HOLE IN HEAD

Four Local Young Women Discovered Crime at About Midnight Monday Night—Most Baffling Murder Mystery in History West Michigan—No Trace Killer Uncovered

State police and local officers are attempting to solve one of the most baffling murder mysteries in the history of crime in western Michigan.

The body of John J. Simons, 30, of Grand Rapids, with a bullet hole in his head, was found at the isolated Cartier cottage on North Point at midnight Monday. Simons, expert sound engineer, widely known in theatrical circles in the state and prominent socially, was shot down in the cottage, a place that, so far as officers can ascertain, he did not know existed.

Simons' body was found by four local young women who had gone to the cottage to spend the night, acting on a standing invitation of Stanley Cartier, owner. Mrs. John Nordrum, Mrs. Theodore Cooper, Miss Eleanor Badger and Miss Marvel Smith, who discovered the body, had been attending a three-day wedding celebration at Pellston. The married women had been told by their husbands they would be unable to stick out the prolonged festivities and when this prediction proved true they decided to spend the night in the cottage and return home on scheduled time.

Arriving at the cottage, Miss Smith climbed through a broken window and unlocked the door. Once inside, she opened the door and the others entered.

Mattress In Heap

Going into the bedroom, Mrs. Nordrum saw the mattress piled up on the bed in rather grotesque fashion. She tugged at the mattress. It moved. There was a man, face down on the bed with his hands tied behind his back.

Mrs. Nordrum screamed and together the women ran from the cottage, jumped into their car and drove into town where they notified Police Chief Charles Jefferies who, together with Patrolman Sander Halverson, visited the cottage, ascertained the man was dead and notified Sheriff Floyd W. Ikens. Lieutenant Earl Hathaway of Traverse City state police was called and arrived at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The officers made a careful examination of the cottage and its surroundings. The body was lying on the bed, face down. The hands were securely tied behind the back with a heavy cord. There were no signs of a struggle. At the base of the brain was a single bullet hole. Simons' wrist watch was running.

Was Shot On Bed

The body was on one mattress with another pulled over it and a top coat spread over the body. Lieut. Hathaway gave as his opinion that the man was shot on the bed, because when the body was raised, blood ran from the nose where it had been depressed in the mattress, apparently holding the blood in check. He also reported that a careful search of the ground around the cottage failed to reveal any indication the body had been carried or dragged in. There was no blood on the floor of the cottage.

Lieut. Earl Hathaway and his men spent all Tuesday afternoon in an effort to check back on Simons from the time he left his room at the Browning hotel in Grand Rapids shortly before noon Monday, until the time his body was found.

His route sheet in his room at the hotel indicated he planned to stop at Big Rapids and Cadillac on his way north, calling on the Colonial theatre in Big Rapids and the Lyric theatre in Cadillac Monday afternoon.

Visited No Theatres

J. A. Simon, manager of the Colonial, said he had expected a visit from Simons, but that he did not show up. Frank Anderson, Lyric manager, said Simons did not stop at his place.

Anderson gave Lieut. Hathaway the only clue he has thus far. He reported that a member of the theatre staff who knew Simons saw him driving north on US-31 as it forms the main street of Cadillac about 1:45 p. m. Monday and that there was another man riding in the car with him.

Simons' route sheet showed that he planned to stop at Big Rapids and Cadillac Monday and then work down the lake shore to visit Traverse City Tuesday and then work down the lake shore through Manistee, Ludington and on into Muskegon, where he would be at the end of the week.

There was nothing on the route sheet to indicate he planned to visit Charlevoix. In fact, it was apparent Monday night that he had not visited the theatre there and while his Detroit office said he might have contemplated a visit here, they had no knowledge that such was his intention.

Lieut. Hathaway said the deepest part of the mystery to him was that Simons had left on his regular business trip and had failed to keep his regular appointments. He also pointed out that the man was killed in a cottage that he apparently knew nothing about in a section so remote that he could not have reached it alone even with complete directions.

Bullet .38 Caliber

State police ballistics experts had not had time carefully to check the bullet which was removed at an autopsy Tuesday afternoon, but they announced that in their opinion it was either fired from a .38 caliber or a 9mm Luger or Mauser pistol.

The autopsy which was performed by Dr. F. F. McMillan, Charlevoix county coroner, and Dr. R. B. Arm-

SOME COUNTIES GET OLD AGE PENSIONS

Payment to Be Made Where Collections Are Large Enough

Arrangements are being made by the old age pension bureau of the state welfare department to start paying pensions in five Michigan counties where collection of the old age pension law head tax has been large. The bureau has a fund of $325,000 to start with.

The counties which will receive the first aid to the aged are Genesee, Kalamazoo, Oakland, Kent and Saginaw.

The bureau has made a rule that all monies collected from the head tax, all of which has so far been voluntarily paid, is to be returned to the counties that paid it. Relief under the law will follow in proportion to the rapidity of collections.

Under the present set-up, the head tax feature of the law is not being arbitrarily enforced and all collections received have been paid in without protest.

One feature of the collection which is little understood, says Ed. L. Williams, the bureau head, is that every cent turned in is applied to paying pensions. None of the money is used for administration cost.

SANITARY FACILITIES ARE STILL AVAILABLE

Meeting to Be Held at Grade School Friday Night for Explanation

Any parents interested in getting a sanitary sewage system for their home—meaning any householder who does not have water carriage facilities—can get septic tanks or other sanitary systems built at their homes at very small cost.

The labor will be furnished from work relief and the only charge to the beneficiary is the material cost. The beneficiary buys the material himself.

Any parent interested to know the full particulars can do so by attending a meeting to be held in the community room at the Charlevoix grade school building on Friday evening, June 1, at 8 o'clock.

The Charlevoix Hi-Y organization has concluded its activities for 1933-34 with election of officers for the ensuing year as follows:

A vote of thanks was given the American Legion for their cooperation and help, also to Rev. G. R. Parker for his splendid leadership and help. He has agreed to continue as leader of the Hi-Y for next year.

EXTEND SERVICES OF PRODUCTION CREDIT

Loans on Horses, Cattle, Etc., Soon to Be Available

The services of the Production Credit association in making loans in Antrim, Alpena, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Otsego, Presque Isle, Emmet, and Montmorency counties to purchase horses, cattle and other livestock may be increased considerably in the future, according to a plan announced by A. J. Townsend, secretary-treasurer of the association.

The new arrangement makes it possible for a farmer or livestock man to purchase horses or livestock and give a bill of sale on the animals purchased as part of the security for the loan. The application for the loan is made to the association in the usual way and the applicant's farm property is inspected by the loan inspector of the association.

THREE GARDEN ISLAND INDIANS ARE DROWNED

Joe High, Pete Manitou and Frank Norton, Garden Island Indians, are believed to have drowned early this morning when their gasoline fish tug sank between St. James harbor and Garden Island. The boat, carrying provisions, did not arrive at Garden Island, according to Beaver Island coast guards. St. James fishermen located a large oil spot on the water, indicating the boat carrying the trio had sunk.

SPORTSMAN CLUB PROGRAM STARTED

HAVE 100,000 FINGERLINGS AT REARING PONDS

Additional Shipments Expected to Bring Total to Quarter Million—Ponds Revamped

The summer fish propagation program of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club is now well under way, over 100,000 fingerling trout having been received and transferred to the Stover Creek rearing ponds early this week.

A shipment of 50,000 German brown fry came from the federal hatchery at Northville, and from the state hatchery at Oden was received 35,000 advanced brook trout fingerlings and 15,000 steelhead trout ranging in size from 3 to 4 inches. At the local federal fish hatchery the club has 75,000 Oregon rainbow eggs now in the process of being hatched. Lige Geer, superintendent of the hatchery, is in charge of the operation. The fry will later be transferred to the rearing ponds.

When all requisitions for trout have been received it is anticipated the Club will have around 200,000 small trout to rear to fingerling stage for fall planting in Lake Charlevoix and streams and rivers of the county. In the fish yet to be received is a large consignment of mackinaw trout.

Much work has been necessary in preparation for the summer program. Two ponds above the new by-pass constructed last fall have been made into five by the construction of additional dams at the location of the smaller ripple dams. It is planned to abandon, temporarily at least, the dams below the by-pass where no regulation of the water flow is possible. All dams are to be covered with fine screen to thwart predatory birds.

Guy Lincoln, superintendent of the Oden hatchery, states the local rearing ponds are ideal, and club members say that the new by-pass, built to control flood waters during heavy rains, "works like a charm." They anticipate nearly 100 per cent results from the summer rearing program.

The Only Car Under $2500 With a V-8 Engine

THE NEW FORD V-8

Definite Reasons for the Superior Performance and Efficiency of the V-type Engine

There's no guessing about the superiority of V-type engines. They hold every major record on land, on water and in the air. For years they have been used for the finest motor cars in this country.

A V-type engine was designed for the Ford because it has certain basic, fundamental advantages that cannot be duplicated in any other type. It costs more to build a V-type engine—a great deal more. But that cost is absorbed for the sake of getting better performance on the road.

The Ford V-8 is the most remarkable engine ever built because it combines V-8 performance with economy. It delivers more horsepower per gallon of fuel than any Ford engine ever built. Dynamometer tests prove it in the laboratory. Ford owners by the thousands have proved it on the road. They know, as you will know, that no car costs less to own and run than the New Ford V-8.

LIFE AND DEATH

By THAYER WALDO

©, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service.

THERE were three in the little office.

Its overhead fixture cast a flat white glare down upon them, sharply illumining faces that were sober and tense.

Garrison sat before the desk, a telephone receiver to his ear, waiting without speech.

Fiberg hovered close by, watching his face, similarly silent.

By the window stood Vilma, statesque, black-pompadoured, an evening wrap caught loosely about one shoulder. She stared through the smutted panes at a blank wall twenty feet beyond, eyes wide, unwinking.

The voice of the man at the instrument suddenly sounded:

"Hello—what? . . . No! Damn it, I don't want Berlin! This is Zenith Pictures, Hollywood, and we're trying to put through a call to Hotel Graz in Vienna, for— . . . what? . . . Oh! How soon? . . . H—l! Well, keep the line open and call me the moment there's a chance."

He cracked the earpiece home.

Fiberg leaned forward to ask thinly:

"So what?"

"No good—couldn't make connection," the publicity man said.

It was little above a murmur.

"Service all tied up. Can't tell when we'll get a clear wire. She wanted to give me Berlin, but that's no use. Couldn't get any information there."

• • •

A pause; his gaze went to the immobile figure across the room.

At last he queried:

"Vilma's positive he's in Vienna?"

"Sure," the producer muttered; "that's how we know where he'd be staying. She got from him a cable yesterday just before he's taking the train in Berlin."

Garrison mumbled something darkly unintelligible and slumped back in the chair.

After an instant he pulled out cigarettes, plucked one, and passed Fiberg the pack.

When both had lights, the publicity man growled:

"Damn strange quirk of fate, or something—Erich getting there just the day this revolution busts loose."

Fiberg's head bobbed in glum assent.

"Yes, and him an Austrian, too. Vilma thinks he's sure to be getting mixed up in it. Such a business! The best director we got—best in the business—phenagling around in civil wars and maybe getting all shot up. Oy!"

• • •

Garrison rose abruptly and commenced to stride the floor.

"God Almighty, J. L.!" he gritted. "Is that all you can think of? What about him—the man we've known and worked with? Remember, there's bullets and blood and death over in those middle of it. Erich's there, the woman who loves him is here—and we're helpless. Doesn't that mean anything to you?"

Savagely the producer ground his cigarette under a heel and blurted:

"Why don't you shut up! When I'm trying to forget things like that, you have to be throwing them in my face!"

The other man swung around, forcing a smile.

"I know," he said brusquely. "Sorry; it's just sort of got me. This waiting and not being able to do anything, I mean. Perhaps if Vilma weren't here, or if she'd only say something. . . ."

He halted, fixing an oblique, brooding look upon the woman.

Her posture was unchanged, save for a closer wind of the cloak about her shapely figure.

Garrison swore—a soft, guttural sound—and flicked his fag-end against the wall.

Before him, spread pat on the desktop, lay a paper. From the buff rectangle a huge scare-head screamed:

VIENNA RIOTING GROWS
TOURISTS IN JEOPARDY

• • •

For a long moment he stood glowering down at it, scanning once again the columns of print below.

Suddenly he spoke, and for the first time his voice was raised, harsh with baffled anger.

"Listen! We gotta do something—anything! I'll go nuts just standing around here, reading stuff like that and thinking about him! Lord, if he'd only stayed in Berlin one more day!"

Fiberg waved a meaty hand protestingly.

"Hey, wait a minute! Remember, we ain't absolutely sure yet, but maybe he did!"

The publicity man snapped his fingers, crying:

"You're right—of course we aren't! Perhaps he's okay after all. Might have missed the train or something, and—"

"No!" With startling sharpness her voice rang out, and the two men swung around simultaneously.

She had turned a little and was facing them, her expression fixedly somber.

"That is futile talk," she said. "You are simply trying to create illusions."

Starting toward her, Garrison urged:

"Now, don't look at it that way, Vilma. You know we really haven't—"

Above his words sounded the phone bell's clamor.

Whirling, he dashed for the instrument, snatched it up.

No other slightest sound was in that room as he feverishly barked:

"Yes—hello! Operator? . . . What's this? . . . Clear wire? Yes—my God, yes! Let me have them, quick! . . . Hello, hello; Vienna—Hotel Graz? . . . You speak English? . . . Good! This is Hollywood, California, calling. Are you open and doing business? . . . Well, is a Mr. Erich Trautmann registered there? . . . T-H-A-U-T-M-A-N-N—Erich Franz Trautmann, the director. . . All right—but please hurry!"

• • •

Then a wordless, waiting moment.

Vilma had slowly crossed the room and stood now just before the desk; restlessly, her eyes wandered over the news sheet. . . .

The publicity man was speaking again:

"Yes! . . . Not—there? . . . And hasn't been at all? You're absolutely certain about this? . . . Wonderful! Thanks—thanks a million!"

The receiver clattered from his nerveless fingers as Garrison leapt up, shouting:

"He's safe—he must be! He didn't go! Now we can—"

With a low moan of anguish, Vilma closed her eyes, swayed a little, and sank down upon the floor.

Stunned, the men stood rooted for a split second, then sprang forward together.

Fiberg went down on one knee by the still form, half-raised her in his arms.

"What's the matter? What's happening here?" he babbled querulously.

"Why should she be passing out just when everything's okay?"

Garrison, erect, gazed down at the pale and tragic mask framed by jet hair. At last he turned away, seeking uncertainly for something. He saw only a tan paper, black with type. . . .

Vigorously the producer was massaging Vilma's temples. She stirred.

"Ah—she's coming out of it now!" he exclaimed. "Still I can't figure what—"

"Good God!" Garrison's voice was low, supercharged.

The man behind him looked up swiftly.

For an instant there was nothing further. Then slowly the publicity man pivoted.

In one hand was the paper; a finger of the other pointed to a heading in the middle columns.

Puzzledly, Fiberg bent nearer, squinted for focus, and made out:

Rare Sheep Specimens for the Smithsonian

Eight specimens of the "bhte sheep," one of the rarest of the larger mammals in zoological collections, have been obtained for the Smithsonian institution at Washington in the high mountains of Szechwan province, of western China, by Rev. D. C. Graham, a collaborator of the institution, it was announced [illegible] by Ales Hrdlicka, noted writer in the New York Herald Tribune.

This creature, otherwise known as the Bharal and to zoologists as pseudois nayaur, is a crag-dwelling animal found at elevations up to 10,000 feet in altitude or more. It is little known to the outside world.

It has a distinctive place among mammals because of various anatomical characters which place it on the dividing line between sheep and goats. It is neither one nor the other, but is somewhat closer to the former. It is blue-gray in color, with white markings on the back and a white stomach. The rams have olive-brown horns that curve backward. The collection sent to Washington contained other rare specimens; among them a giant panda, another creature seldom represented in zoological collections. There were also such rare creatures as the serow, or black goat; the goral, or Chinese mountain goat; the tufted deer, the raccoon dog, the hog badger, the mountain red wolf, and a species of musk deer with saber-like teeth.

The Smithsonian institution revealed there is no reason to believe that all of these animals are especially scarce, but they are found in a region that is seldom visited by American or European collectors because of the difficulty of access.

Fur Seal of North Pacific

The fur seal of the North Pacific is an unusual creature, classified as a mammal adapted to aquatic life. Few people have ever seen a genuine fur seal, for the animals frequent inaccessible spots. Not only is the common hair seal so different from the fur seat as to indicate a separate zoological origin, but it also carries a worthless pelt. The fur seal was formerly native to many sections of the world, but it is now confined to the colder regions of the North Pacific.

Grow in the Mountains

The mountain forget-me-not is a mat plant with flowers of the purest blue, exquisitely fragrant, against a background of gray foliage, says Nature Magazine. The mountain pink grows as a dense cushion with numerous deep pink flowers. The alpine gentian, Gentiana romanzovii, has white, funnel-shaped flowers, streaked with blue and spattered with purplish dots. The flowers are stemless, about two inches long, standing erect amid thick grasslike leaves.

Chic Beach Togs, Cotton Crocheted

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

EVERY style-minded woman is wearing or will be wearing before the season is over something of cotton crochet. You are supposed to have at least one crochet garment in your spring and summer wardrobe and as many more as you may be fortunate enough to acquire. The important thing to remember is that for real chic the crocheting is done with either thread or string. The vogue for cotton-crochet garments grows more insistent with the passing of each day.

If you are looking forward to sunning yourself into a perfect physical condition this summer and if you aspire to do it modishly and if you crochet, the sun-suit and the beach dress in the picture will set your fingers all of a tingle to begin with hook and cotton without a moment's delay.

As everybody knows, it is neither hygienic nor comfortable to keep on a wet and chilly bathing suit while you are sunning yourself. A smart sun-suit like the one centered in this group comes to the rescue. You can make it yourself easily. Crochet either of heavy knitting or crochet cotton thread or of the now-so-popular crochet cord, which is so beautifully soft, comfortable and washable. The smart shut-[illegible] clever strap arrangement of this suit are unusual notes. A pleasing variety of stitches adds to its attractiveness.

Below, in the group, is a stunning and versatile garment. It is fundamentally a dress, but it does all sorts of tricks. The entire dress is crocheted of a heavy cotton crochet cord which is cool and delightfully wearable, having the advantage of being lightweight so that it will not hang on you in a cumbersome way. The straight skirt fastens up the front with square wooden buttons, and it will come undone as far as you need it for a vicious serve or a flying leap on the beach. It is backless to the waist and has two narrow straps which button together with the same brown buttons. The straps unbutton and slip off the shoulders for a perfect sun bath. Note the cunning crochet cap which fits so snugly, keeping the hair from blowing about.

The little short-sleeved sweater with the turnover collar shown at the top of the illustration is an item you cannot well do without in your resort wardrobe. You will find that it will fit in with any number of occasions. It is charmingly made of a fine mercerized crochet cotton, and the lacy openwork stitch up the front lends an air which distinguishes it from the general run of sports sweaters.

Have you seen the voguish two-piece frocks (blouse and skirt) which up-and-doing women are crocheting of natural colored string? These string-knit dresses are a most enviable possession and as the summer advances being the owner of a costume which so faithfully bespeaks a well-dressed appearance. The charm of it is that it can be kept immaculate in that it tubs perfectly. The skirt will especially prove a treasure, for it can be worn with all sorts of dainty lingerie blouses.

BRIEF SPORT TOGS FOR REAL ACTION

The shirtwaist dress with a skirt "and an extra pair of pants" is a timely suggestion for the girl who hails any sort of excuse for shedding her skirt. Shorts are accepted by the right people even though they are so often abused by the wrong people.

It's cotton time again. Among the many kinds of cotton which are highlighted is seersucker, a type which makes its entrance in something miraculously like a disguise.

There seems to be a brisk demand for plain cottons, either white or pastel, by way of change. The rank and file of shirtwaist dresses are made of striped shirtings, cotton or silk. Many of these open center front, and fasten with pearl buttons. The shorts beneath are either separate, or are one with the shirt, in which case the skirt is separate. All of which makes things easier for the laundress and more practical for everyone.

Gloves, Bags, Muffs Take on Increased Proportions

The bags, gloves and muffs which give a fashionable finish to new costumes have taken on increased proportions to fit the long, sweeping silhouette.

Bags are huge. Schiaparelli makes one of mahogany brown calfskin which is almost as large as a small overnight bag.

The new "pillow" muffs cover the entire front of the figure. Exactly the shape of an oblong pillow, made of such furs as beaver and astrakhan, they recall the muffs carried by the beauties of the nineteen hundreds.

The newest and smartest gloves are of fur (breitschwantz or carneul) and come half way up the lower arm. Others are made of the same wool as the ensemble and cuffed in fur to match its trim.

In such bulky stuffs as these they are naturally larger than last year's gloves.

NEWEST EARRINGS

Listen to this, for it's news, real news with a thrill—earrings that outline the lobe of the ear! See them pictured here. At the top a clip earring in the form of a handsome large gold leaf almost covers the ear lobe. This is a most popular type for daytime wear. The conch shell inspired the design for the becoming rhinestone clip earrings that outline the ear lobe of the patrician young woman posing below in the picture.

Old Chart Believed Copy of One Columbus Made

Startled to find the name Columbus mentioned on an old Turkish map of the Atlantic ocean, Paul Kahle has subjected the map to closest study, finding on it important new clues to the discovery of America.

In a report on his investigations, published in the Geographical Review, the official organ of the American Geographical society, Doctor Kahle announces his belief that for the first time geographers have an idea of the appearance of the map which served to guide Columbus on his first voyage.

"We are now in a position even to reconstruct this map to a certain extent," he declares.

No maps indisputably drawn by Columbus himself are known in existence today. The maps which he undoubtedly drew to show the king and queen of Spain where lay the fine lands he had found in their honor have vanished. Nor have searches ever revealed any chart by which the navigator steered his course on the world's most famous voyages of discovery. Hence the importance of the Turkish map, which appears to be a direct copy of one of the lost maps by Columbus. By translating the long Arabic inscriptions on the map, Doctor Kahle found that it was made for the Sultan Selim I, in 1513, and it specifically states that new lands are shown as added lately by the "Genoese infidel Colon-bo."

In quaint language, the Turkish map maker told the story of Columbus' discovery voyages, and declared that he followed a map by Columbus himself in drawing these new lands. The source of his information was a Spanish slave who had traveled three times with Columbus on his long voyages.

The map made for the sultan has lain undetected in the seraglio at Constantinople for centuries. Its discovery has stimulated interest in seeking the original Columbus map which the mapmaker copied and which may have been preserved in Turkey. Some months ago the American ambassador to Turkey, requested a search. A high Turkish official sent a circular letter to directors of museums in the country and to scholars studying Turkish maritime history, asking their assistance. So far no trace of the original map has been reported.—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

Trace New Styles to Needs of Other Years

If we will search long enough and earnestly we can usually find that almost any fashion of the moment has its background in history and that many of the prevailing modes and styles had foundations in need. For instance, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the modern woman who finds cause for satisfaction in her bobbed or even shingled tresses can thank the guillotine and the French revolution.

At least, that is the view of Mrs. Herbert Richardson, a fellow of the Royal British Historical society and a delver into historical backgrounds of modern customs. In an address before the Royal Society of Arts, Mrs. Richardson said the first shingle haircut in history was the toilet of the guillotine, when hair, valuable alike as well as female—which might have impeded the triangular blade, was first shorn into a canvas-covered basket. As time advanced through the years, first men and then women adopted the cropping as a style of some utility, through not the original utility.

Mrs. Richardson also said that the wearer of the modern beret which has served to cover most women and children and a few men in recent years may thank the Peninsular war and the Basque peasants who wore the beret headdress during the war.

Corn and Automobiles

Every auto turned out by one American manufacturer takes with it two bushels of American-grown corn. The paint used for each car, the firm explains, requires all the butyl alcohol and certain of the derivatives two bushels of corn can produce.

Cattle Feed of Wood Is Laboratory Product

The farmer who fed his horse on sawdust may not have been such a fool as the joke would have him.

Among scores of other wood products which have come out of the Department of Agriculture's forest products laboratory at the University of Wisconsin, is a cattle food made of wood. Sawdust is cooked under pressure with diluted sulphuric acid. This action converts a portion of the cellulose and allied substances into sugar—and the cows like it.

A list of what can be done with wood sounds like a fairy tale. Here are a few of its odd by-products: Sugar, perfume, incense in the form of candles, parts of shoes, rayon, linoleum, an inhalant for asthma and catarrh, alcohol, cascara, balsam, dyes, rubber, turpentine, lime and phonograph records.

Wood flour is used to make filler for linoleum. Mixed with nitroglycerin and other elements it becomes dynamite. With phenol resins, it may be molded into radio dials, handles of all kinds, telephone parts, automobile radiator caps and ignition blocks.—Washington Star.

GENEROUS RESPONSE GIVEN ON POPPY DAY

Legion and Auxiliary Thank Public for Fine Cooperation

Members of the local Legion post and Auxiliary unit are highly elated over the success that attended their efforts, last Saturday, when the largest sale of memorial poppies recorded in years was their reward. The joint committee in charge greatly appreciate the kind cooperation of the public, who were more than liberal in their purchase of the poppies.

Nearly $60 was available, at the end of the day's check-up, for veteran relief and no small credit is due to the clever advertising that preceded the drive for contributions and the new plan devised by Mrs. Gladys Henry of soliciting by teams of boy and folks from house to house. The canvassers—sons and daughters of veterans, of ages ranging from 12 to 16 years—were sent out in competing teams of two—a boy and a girl—to each district assigned, working opposite sides of the street. Prizes were given to all contestants and, to the winning team, a grand prize.

The young people participating, in order of their standing at the end of the day, were John Jones, Carroll Whitley, Audrey Allard, Robert Henry, Robert Gass, Frances Meggison and Lucille Taylor. Of the Auxiliary members engaged in selling the poppies, Mrs. Vance Walstad came first in point of sales, with Mrs. Blanche Taylor second. Others of the Auxiliary who assisted were Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Barr and Mrs. Eva McGhan.

The posters, put out in the windows of various local merchants the week before, were unique and attention-compelling. Each bore a newspaper reproduction of a photograph of an actual battle scene in the World war or some of the war's gruesome results. They were a striking evidence of the fact that real warfare displays little of peace time military colorfulness and glamour.

For the benefit of those contributors who would like to know where their money goes, a short report of financial transactions connected with the poppies may not be amiss at this point. The total receipts were $67.78, out of which a total of $11.91, distributed as follows, was paid out for expenses: prizes, $6.41; radio announcement, 50 cents; printing of display cards placed in the store windows, $5.00. The poppies cost $15.00 and this amount goes direct to the veterans who made them. Of the balance of $40.87 half goes to the local unit of the Legion Auxiliary to be used for the support of two children at the Otter Lake Billet of the Legion whom the local unit are sponsoring. Children of deceased or disabled veterans are taken care of by the splendid charity which the Legionnaires of the state support by their contributions of money and labor. The other half of the $40.87 is placed in the bank to the Legion account to be used for local welfare work among disabled and needy veterans and their dependents.

"RECOVERY CRUISE" VISITS N. MICHIGAN

Local Business Men Invited to Join Detroit Board of Commerce Trip

The 1934 Detroit Board of Commerce "All-Michigan Recovery Cruise of the Great Lakes," June 14 to 18, will give not only Detroit and Windsor, Ont., business men, opportunity to visit the upper lakes and to hold trade conferences with Northern Michigan interests, but will give the same advantage to members of Chambers of Commerce the country over who are affiliated in the National Chamber of Commerce. The cruise committee has determined to invite members of all such organizations to participate in the cruise this year, which will take them to Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba and Mackinac Island.

At these three points, business and professional men from all parts of the upper peninsula and cities of the northern portion of the lower peninsula will be guests of the cruisers on their ship, the D. & C. liner "Greater Detroit." A series of receptions, luncheons, dinners and trade conferences is being arranged and will be held on the boat. It is expected that Marquette, and other iron range towns, Calumet, Houghton, Ironwood, Iron River, Menominee, Gladstone, Newberry and St. Ignace delegations will gather at one or another of the points to greet the cruisers, and that they will be accompanied by business men from Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Cadillac, Charlevoix, Alpena, Cheboygan and lower Michigan cities.

CUT ALFALFA LATE IF HURT BY FROST

Usual Harvest Period Too Early to Replace Depleted Food Reserves

Injuries to alfalfa by late frosts in Michigan make it advisable to permit the plants to attain the full bloom phase before the crop is cut the first time, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

Alfalfa which is quite badly frosted turns white or pale yellow, and plants not so seriously damaged only the edges of the leaves turn color. Alfalfa plants carry a reserve stock of food supplies in their roots and the early growth depends partly upon this food supply. As the plant nears maturity this reserve stock is replaced.

If the alfalfa is cut at the usual time of one-third bloom, the plant does not have time to replace all of the reserve food which has been used in early growth. This year the reserve is depleted more than usual as the plant has to make good the growth injured by frost.

DON'T BUY CHEAP PAINT!

It Is Expensive!

There is economy in good paint. Labor is the big cost in painting. You pay the same to apply cheap paint as you do to apply good paint. Cheap paint soon loses its luster and chalks off, admitting moisture, and this results in having to do the job all over.

DRESSY DESIGN IN FROCK FOR HOUSE OR STREET WEAR

PATTERN 9937

Looking lovely around the house is an art worth cultivating. It isn't a luxury to have good-looking morning frocks. It's just a matter of choosing the right designs. The frock in the illustration is so comfortably trim that it is nice to do your housework in, and yet, it has so many delightful fashion details that you can actually use the same pattern to make an afternoon or street dress. For mornings make it of one of the checked, striped or figured new cottons. For afternoons, use sheer cotton or silk.

Pattern 9937 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3¾ yards 36-inch fabric.

Complete, diagrammed sew chart included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 232 West Eighteenth St., New York.

Good Taste Today

BY EMILY POST

Author of

"ETIQUETTE," "THE BLUE BOOK OF SOCIAL USAGE," ETC.

YESTERDAY'S GENERATION ASKS—

DEAR Mrs. Post: My eighteen-year-old daughter is very fond of tennis and cannot understand why I hold it is not seemly for her to ride off with three boys to play tennis. I tell her she should suggest asking another girl to go with them. She considers me hopelessly "old-fashioned" and I have endeavored with little success to show her what you have voiced in the past: that conventions, though regarded by the present generation as irksome, have most excellent reasons for their existence, and observance of them would prevent regrets. Will you please express an opinion of my view?

Answer: Although, according to the present point of view, there is not the slightest impropriety in going off now and then with three boys to play tennis, I agree that it would be a serious mistake should she make going about alone with boys a habit. This is because a girl, who is always with boys, and never goes about with other girls, puts herself in a very insecure position. Perhaps you might explain to her that after all the word declasse means a woman whom the wives, mothers and sisters of her men friends refuse to know.

Dear Mrs. Post: What should I teach my son, who is nine years old, to reply to an introduction? I want him to say "mut'am" but I am told this is incorrect.

Answer: To a man, "How do you do, sir"; to a woman "How do you do, Mrs. Jones." "Ma'am" has always been a colloquialism—except when replying to royalty. But why "sir" is used when speaking to a gentleman and why "ma'am" is said to ladies in only a few localities is just one of those things that seem to have little reason further than that usage has made it so.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you help me plan a very small wedding in church, because it has been a long time since we've had a wedding in our family? (1) Is it necessary for the bride and groom to have any attendants (2) Is it permissible for the bride's mother to act as her matron of honor? (3) And may the bride's fifteen-year-old brother give her away?

Answer: (1) The groom must have a best man. All other attendants are optional. (2) Absolutely no, so far as walking down the aisle is concerned. But she could stand next to her and hold her bouquet. (3) Yes.

• • •

INVITATIONS

DEAR Mrs. Post: The other day we received this invitation: "Dear Mrs. Jones—Will you and Marie at 4:30? Mrs. Blank is staying with me and I have asked a few friends in to meet her." I know that ordinarily an invitation to tea written on a visiting card, or an engraved invitation, need not be answered. But what about this one?

Answer: This one is an especially polite invitation to tea in the form of a personal note. It should be answered with a note saying, "Marie and I will be delighted to take tea with you on Monday, and to meet Mrs. Blank."

• • •

My dear Mrs. Post: I am moving very soon, and a few days after I'm settled in my new apartment I would like to have a cocktail party. Could I tell my friends that I have moved to a new address and also invite them in the same invitation?

Answer: Of course!

• • •

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister received a wedding invitation for the ceremony and reception at a very dear friend of hers who lives out of town and whom sister has not seen for several years. She cannot go and instead of the usual third person acknowledgment to her friend's parents, would it not be better for her to write a personal note and explain why she cannot be at the wedding?

Answer: Of course to this, too.

My dear Mrs. Post: We have invited out of town friends to come stay with us for a week. I feel that they will drive in their car, which means that they will have their chauffeur in town, too. Are we supposed to pay for garage rent and also to find a place for their man to stay, because we have no additional sleeping rooms where we could accommodate him?

Answer: No. Their car and their chauffeur are their responsibilities. If you have several servants and it is convenient to you to invite him to take his meals in your kitchen, he may perhaps accept this invitation. Or he may even then prefer to eat at a restaurant of his own choosing. At all events, the responsibility to lodge and board him would be yours only if you lived in a big house far out in the country.

Nice Point of Conduct With Balkan Feudists

Albania represents the full flower of the Balkan tradition, says a correspondent in the American Mercury. "If you kill me, my brother kills you, and so on for generations." King Zog was shot at. He was philosophical. A pot-shot now and then was only to be expected. In Vienna many such shots never take effect.

A curious nicety about Albania is that nobody takes a shot at you if you happen to be in the company of a woman. The rule is seldom violated, and never by an Albanian who regards himself as a gentleman. Some time ago an American writer went hiking in Albania with a native. The Albanian was a handsome lad with several counts against him. As the two were walking along, he was suddenly fired upon. Afterward, there was a handsome apology, and it was explained that though the Albanian was accompanied by a woman, she was wearing knickers.

After the Zog affair in Vienna, the cafes had the jitters. The Imperial cafe was particularly touchy. I remember dropping in one morning, I had, as usual at that season, hay fever. As I pushed open the door I sensed suddenly the oncoming of a violent sneeze, and replied back for my hip pocket. Instantly seven men jumped in all directions.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Important Meeting for Small Fruit and Berry Growers

The East Jordan library will be the meeting place of those interested in small fruits and herries, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, June 6th. J. H. Muncie, specialist from M. S. C., will be present and will be pleased to discuss diseases affecting raspberries, strawherries and others.

It is particularly timely as this past winter has been the most severe on fruit of any winter during the past 20 years. With many plants already somewhat wenkened by winter injury, it is of utmost importance that diseases be held down to a minimum.

Mr. Muncie's services will be available during the forenoon for farm visits. We will be glad to hear from you if you have some peculiar condition or disease on your farm so that we may visit you. Let your county agent know if you would like to meet Mr. Muncie before the meeting.

East Hudson Community 4-H Club Organized

Another community club has been organized in the county, this time in the very eastern portion. Last Thursday a very interested group of young folks as well as many parents, met at the home of Milton Holborn with their county agricultural agent and discussed club work.

The complete organization of the club took place at this time and already the leadership necessary has been secured, the materials have been given to the club members and everything points to a successful club year in this community that has been without club work for several years.

Sheep Vat Built at Farm of A. J. Bolhuis, Charlevoix

Last Wednesday, the first concrete dipping vat according to the Michigan State college plans was constructed under the supervision of A. J. Bell, specialist from the state college. All those present fully agreed that it was a very worth while activity and should go a long way toward eliminating ticks and lice from the flocks of sheep in the western part of the county.

Four barrels of cement were used in its construction which indicates its permanence. The vat is 14 feet in length, including the exit from the tank. It is 34 inches wide on top and 22 inches at the bottom which permits all sheep being dipped to be completely immersed. In leaving the vat itself, the sheep walk onto a draining platform approximately 10 feet square. This takes care of the liquid that runs off from the sheep and allows it to run back into the tank itself, thus saving a large amount of the solution that otherwise would be lost.

It is hoped the neighbors will use this tank and Mr. Bolhuis will be glad to cooperate with anyone in its use. If you are in the near future, stop in and see its construction. It is hoped that another community will put one of these vats in in the near future.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Make the World Safe for Mother and Infant

The advance of modern obstetric knowledge along three principal lines, together with the gradual improvement in feminine physique, is the reply of the medical profession to the challenge that the United States has too high a maternal mortality rate and the general question as to what is being done about it.

The part the medicul profession has taken in the general effort to reduce mortality among mothers has been the progress of obstetric knowledge and, as summed up by Dr. John Williams, who wus obstetrician-in-chief at Johns Hopkins hospital for more than a quarter of a century, this knowledge has been along the following general lines:

1. The development of asepsis, that, freedom from infection, with consequent reduction in mortality from puerperal fever (pertaining to childbirth);

2. The extension of prenatal care; and

3. Improvement in operative technic, made possible by anesthesia (loss of feeling or sensation under drugs) and asepsis.

Prenatal care has contributed much to the progress already made in reducing the mortality rate. At the present time the doctor generally knows before the birth of a child whether the birth will be normal. A study of maternal mortality indicates that 33 1-3 per cent, or one-third of all maternal deaths occurred before the third trimester (last three months) of pregnancy which showed the urgent need of prenutal care.

The development of asepsis is perhaps the most significant advancement in modern obstetric knowledge, for it reduces or eliminates the danger from septic or blood poisoning. This is very important as in the study made in the 15 states over 40 per cent of the maternal deaths were due to septicemia and over 50 per cent endured some operative procedure before death.

There was a total of seven puerperal deaths during 1933, in the District Health Unit No. 3, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego. This number compares with six in 1928; six in 1929; ten in 1930; four in 1931, and eight in 1932.

The following tabulated form shows the causes for these seven puerperal deaths in 1933:

Abortion with Septic Conditions	1
Puerperal Septicemia	3
Puerperal Albuminuria and Enclampsia	1
Other Toxemias of Pregnancy	1
Other Accidents of Childbirth	1

The District Health department has been interested in reducing the number of these maternal deaths. Some of these deaths might have been prevented had the mother consulted a physician early in the prenatal period. Unquestionably, many more mothers are aware of the importance of a physician's advice and attention before the birth of the baby today than were mothers of ten years ago.

INVESTIGATE HAYES TOWNSHIP SHOOTING

Clifford Burke Fired Upon Wednesday Night by Unknown Assailant

Sheriff Floyd Ikens and deputies are uttempting to learn the identity of person or persosn who at uround midnight last night, fired two shots at Clifford Burke, 22, employe at the Della Martin farm in Hayes township.

Burke reported to officers that he was fired upon as he wus driving south on the Kane road. Occupants of another car, believed to be a Ford V-8, opened fire as the machines met. One bullet went through the windshield, barely missing Burke, the other glanced off the car door.

Burke Monday received a threatening letter purported to have been mailed from Traverse City. The letter, intimating Burke "had something" on the unknown writer, ordered him to come to the "Blue Swamp" near Traverse City, prepared to shoot.

It is believed, however, the writer lives near Burke and the threats may be the result of a quarrel over a girl.

NORTH POINT AS SCENE OF MURDER

strong, disclosed the fact that Simons had not been drinking and that his stomach was virtually empty, indicating that he perhaps had not eaten since he left Grand Rapids.

The coroner announced that because of the fact the body was so carefully covered, apparently indicating thut the murderer hoped to cover up his crime for a time, that the time of the killing was hard to ascertain.

Body Warm When Found

The body was still warm when the authorities arrived, yet it might have held its heat longer because of the covering. The coroner announced the man might have been dead as long as eight hours before he was found.

When the officers arrived, there was no sign of Simons' new Plymouth automobile, bearing a 1934 license K20-747. No trace of the automobile has been found. Simons' baggage is also missing and is believed to be in the car.

There was an amount over $5 in Simons' pockets when he was found but theatre men who knew him well believe that he must have had plenty of money in his pocket, although he was known to carry most of his funds in travelers' checks when he was on the road. Working directly against the robbers motive was the fact that his wrist watch and valuable diamond ring were not taken.

C. R. Mundinger, Chicago, official of Electrical Research Products, Inc., employers of Simons, came here Wednesday to identify and claim the body. He said the remains would likely be sent to VanCouver, B. C., where Simons has two brothers. His mother, at the time of his death, was visiting another brother at Jasper, Alberta, Canada.

State police and local officers are now working on clues which are hoped to solve the mysterious murder.

Several pre-graduation events were staged during the past two weeks. A musical program was given for the junior and senior high school students at the Congregational church last Wednesdny by Mrs. A. J. Stelter. Mrs. Stelter gave in brief form the structure of the organ, illustrating the various manuals and stops, followed by selections which brought out these points for illustration. She also gave the history of several hymns which were then sung by the students.

On Thursday morning a quartet of negro singers from the Otsego Institute of Mississippi entertained the entire school in the gymnasium, under the auspices of the Hi-Y club.

The Girl's league, sponsored a Memorial day program Tuesday afternoon. This consisted of musical numbers by the band, an address by Rev. Parker and the introduction to the school of John Johnson, the last Charlevoix survivor of the Civil war. Mr. Johnson spoke briefly. The Girl's League presented Mr. Johnson with flowers in appreciation of the 98-year-old veteran honoring the occasion.

HARBOR SPRINGS YOUTH SUSPECTED

OFFICERS SEEK LOUIS KETCHMAN, 20, AS MURDERER OF JOHN J. SIMONS, WHOSE BODY WAS FOUND HERE

Complaint Charging Murder Issued Here Monday by Prosecuting Attorney A. L. Fitch—Ketchman Visited Home at Harbor Night of Murder—No Trace Since Then

Louis Ketchman, 20-year-old Harbor Springs youth, well known in this city, has been formally charged with the murder of John J. Simons, Grand Rapids movie sound expert, whose body was found last Tuesday morning at the isolated Stanley Cartier cottage on North Point.

The finding of Simons' body, with a bullet hole in the back of his head, his hands bound and body concealed beneath a mattress, uncovered the first violent crime in Charlevoix's history and one which has since baffled all efforts of state police and sheriff's officers of many Michigan counties to solve.

Circumstances which resulted in a complaint being issued for Ketchman for murder began with his disappearance last Monday from a Grand Rapids rooming house. The proprietor of the place where Ketchman stayed soon afterwards discovered a pistol, which ballistic experts claim shoots a bullet identical to the one found in Simons' head, was missing. Further investigation revealed Ketchman had hitch-hiked out of Grand Rapids last Monday morning, and that the same evening he appeared at the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ketchman of Harbor Springs, driving a car which is believed to have been the one in which Simons left Grand Rapids the morning, before his death.

Due to the unbroken chain of circumstances, police feel sure it was Ketchman who thumbed a ride with Simons somewhere between Grand Rapids and Big Rapids Monday morning, placed a gun in Simons' ribs and made him drive to the Cartier cottage which Ketchman had helped Cartier build several years ago. Officers believe Ketchman left the scene of the murder, went to Harbor Springs after clothing and then left the state in Simons' car. Posters carrying Ketchman's picture and asking his arrest have been prepared and circulated throughout the middle west.

Reports Ketchman was seen Monday of this week in the vicinity of Newaygo have so far proved without foundation, although officers have formed a cordon about the district in the possibility they may have been true. Several Newaygo farmers are claimed to have identified Ketchman as the driver of the new black sedan belonging to Simons and a fisherman claims to have seen and examined the same machine as it was parked in the vicinity of Baldwin.

Ketchman, a graduate of Harbor Springs high school in 1931, is well known to local young people through his activities in athletics and frequent visits in this city. He helped build the Cartier cottage and furnished paint for it. He is equally as well known here for his tem-

WARNING ISSUED AGAINST PICKING UP HITCH-HIKERS

The slaying of John J. Simons last Monday by a hitch-hiker caused Lieut. Earl Hathaway, district commander of the state police, to issue a warning to all motorists against picking up strangers along the highway.

"The practice of picking up hitch-hikers is an extremely dangerous one," Lieut. Hathaway stated, "and one our department likes to discourage. The first 99 you pick up may be decent citizens but the hundredth may be a criminal. Or the first one may be the criminal with a loaded pistol in his pocket.

"There is absolutely no way in which a motorist can judge the character of a hitch-hiker by appearances. The best dressed may be the worst and an innocent looking young girl has been known to hit a driver over the head and leave with his money and car. The safe practice is to let the hitch-hiker hike regardless of appearance. The fact that so many people pick up strangers and give them rides accounts for the great number of people traveling in this manner. If motorists refused to give them lifts hitch-hikers would disappear from the highways."

INDIANS LOSE FOURTH STRAIGHT AT PETOSKEY

The Charlevoix Indians kept their record of no wins intact Sunday afternoon when the Petoskey Legionnaires staged a ninth inning rally to nose them out by a 4 to 3 score at Petoskey.

Petoskey led by a 3 to 0 score to open the ninth inning. The Indians tallied three times to even the score, but the Legionnaires put over the winning run in their half of the final inning.

SUMMER VISITOR DROWNED FRIDAY

LAKE CHARLEVOIX SCENE OF TRAGIC ACCIDENT

L. K. DeBus, Cincinnati, Lost Life, Two Women Saved When Small Sail Boat Sank

L. K. DeBus, prominent business man of Cincinnati, Ohio, was drowned in Lake Charlevoix several hundred feet off The Inn bathing pier at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when a small sail boat he and two women were out in sank.

The other occupants of the craft were Mrs. Henrietta Coke and Mrs. Florence Mithoefer, well known Belvedere Club summer cottagers and residents of Cincinnati.

The craft, which had been rented from a local party for the afternoon sail, sprung a leak about a half mile from shore, it is understood, and sank before shallow water was reached.

DeBus, apparently exhausted from efforts to bail water out of the boat, sank almost immediately. His body was recovered by local coast guards an hour later and efforts to revive him failed.

Mrs. Coke, an expert swimmer, held Mrs. Mithoefer from sinking until her strength nearly failed and then swam ashore. Mrs. Mithoefer, her head submerged; but held on the surface by air under her clothing, was rescued unconscious by C. Y. Marshall, groundskeeper for The Inn, who obtained a rowboat and rowed out to her. After bringing the woman to shore his efforts to revive her were successful. She was taken to Charlevoix hospital, where, despite several hemorrhages, it was reported she would recover.

DeBus, who together with his wife, were guests at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Taylor, also Cincinnatians, is president of the Ohio Electrical Tool Co. and the Rived Gun Company of Cincinnati. Besides the widow he is survived by two daughters and a son. The remains were taken to Cincinnati Saturday for burial.

DEMAND FOR SUMMER COTTAGES INCREASES

Rentals Brisk at Belvedere Club — Repairing, Painting Being Done

E. J. Edwards, warden of the Belvedere Club, has announced that the present week has shown a decided upward trend in cottage rentals.

While the late spring apparently tended to withhold the usual early demand, this week's transactions have been above the ordinary and at the present rate all cottages on the club grounds will be leased within a short time.

It is also noted that members of the Club have under way more repairing and re-painting than in any recent year. This activity has given employment to many local men and may be taken as an indication of the return of normal times to this city.

SUPREME COURT RULING IN FAVOR ROUSE

Puts Boyne City Man Back on Road Commission—Removes Rogers

The supreme court held Monday that LuVerne C. Rouse was entitled to the office of road commissioner of Charlevoix county. It directed that Samuel E. Rogers, who has been holding the office, vacate it.

In July, 1932, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors voted on whether to remove Rouse on charges of having stock in an oil company that did business with the road commission. The vote was a tie. In October at a second meeting the board ordered Rouse's resignation and appointed Rogers in his place. The supreme court held that the July meeting should prevail.

Mr. Rouse, ill at his home in Boyne City, could not be reached for a statement regarding his future action regarding the matter.

COUNCIL ADOPTS REDUCED BUDGET

MILL TAX RAISED FROM 10 TO 12 MILLS TO OFFSET STRAIGHT 20 PCT. CUT IN PROPERTY VALUATION

Electric Light and Water Rates Unchanged, But Power Charge Increased from 2½ to 3c In Anticipation of Equipment Purchase—R. L. Lewis Appointed City Attorney

Meeting in special session last Thursday evening, the Charlevoix city council adopted a reduced budget for the 1934-35 fiscal year and approved several other matters of importance.

Although the budget was cut from $30,485.75, last year's figure, to $29,372.00, the tax rate was raised from 10 to 12 mills, due to a straight 20% cut in property valuation made at the recent session of the board of review. Because of the slash in property valuation, the 12 mills to be raised this year will provide less funds for operation of the city than the 10 mills raised a year ago.

The 1934-35 tax rate, designed to raise 11 mills for general purposes and one mill for interest and sinking fund to retire bonds and meet interest payments during the coming year, includes the allocation made by the Charlevoix county tax commission to the city. Last year 7½ mills was raised for general purposes, and 2½ mills for interest and sinking fund.

Following is the budget adopted as well as figures of the previous year:

Fund	New	Old
Contingent	$ 8,125.00	$ 6,364.31
Health	300.00	300.00
Cemetery	2,000.00	2,100.00
Police	2,000.00	2,100.00
Fire	1,500.00	1,500.00
Park	1,500.00	1,200.00
Street	8,000.00	6,000.00
Sewer	1,200.00	1,200.00
Advertising	1,800.00	1,800.00
Auto Camp	250.00	300.00
Airport	250.00
Int. & Sinking	2,447.00	7,621.75
Total	$29,372.00	$30,485.75

Increases were made in the contingent and street funds, the latter to take care of improvements necessary following installation of storm water sewers, also the auto camp fund. The heaviest cut was in the interest and sinking funds, reduced over $5,000. The cemetery and police funds were slightly reduced.

Create Airport Fund

In the budget ordinance a special fund was created to care for the income and expenditures of the control, regulation, maintenance and operation of the airport, grounds and equipment. The airport has each year become a more valuable city asset.

Increase Power Rate

Following the annual procedure of establishing electric light and water rates for the ensuing year, the council Thursday evening set the rate for illumination at 10c, 8c, and 5c, the same rate charged the past two years, but increased the rate of electric current used for power purposes from 2½c per k.w. to 3c. The increase in power rate was made to cover an anticipated necessity of adding new equipment to carry the city's power load. Due to a complaint from property owners with frontage on Lake Bellaire, hackwater of the city hydro plant at Bellaire, it has been necessary to reduce the water head and subsequently caused a decrease in power produced. The local diesel engine is now operating daily to carry the load and the event-

CHARLEVOIX WINS BOND ISSUE CASE

SUPREME COURT REVERSES CIRCUIT COURT RULE

City Now in Position to Issue Bonds and Proceed With Construction Sewage Disposal

The state supreme court Monday held constitutional the 1933 act under which Michigan municipalities are permitted to issue bonds to finance self-liquidating projects without a vote of the people.

The court's conclusion presented in opinions involving three cities, finds that such bonds would not constitute a general obligation on the communities and that thus they are not affected by general bonding limitations. The cases involve the cities of Ann Arbor, Traverse City and Charlevoix.

In the Charlevoix case the city sought authorization to issue $87,200 in bonds to finance a sewage disposal system and additions to the sewage system. Judge Parm C. Gilbert declared the emergency bond act unconstitutional and issued an injunction restraining the sale of the bonds.

The decision was appealed to the supreme court to clear the way for sale of the bonds to the Public Works Administration. It has been intimated at Washington that the project would be approved if the legality of the bond issue were proved.

"It is expressly provided that the bonds authorized under the act shall not be subject to the limitations and provisions provided by the laws of Michigan for the municipalities and quasi municipalities," the court holds.

It is pointed out that the bonds, under the act, are to be retired from the earnings of the projects and that the communities themselves never will be called upon to accept them as a general obligation. "The legislation was intended to permit municipalities to borrow from the Federal Public Works Administration.

The court held that the 15 mills limitation amendment to the constitution would not prohibit the issuance of such bonds.

With legal obstacles removed by Monday's supreme court decision, Charlevoix is now in a position to proceed with engineering and legal details necessary before actual construction of its sewage disposal plant is started. It is anticipated two months will be required, thus bringing the commencement of actual work in September after the close of the resort season.

The final selection will be made at the Lyric theatre in Traverse City on Tuesday, June 19. A letter has been received from Mrs. Don Roxburgh, chairman of the queen's committee of the National Cherry festival inviting Charlevoix to participate in the contest June 19, when three judges from distant cities will select Michigan's 1934 cherry queen.

CHOOSE THE TIRE CHAMPIONS BUY

Firestone

Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS

EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race—the most gruelling tire test in the world — drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires.

Race drivers know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. It provides greater adhesion between the plies of the tire, and between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread.

Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with new car developments by building stronger, safer tires to meet the exacting demands. Drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Remember, in Firestone High Speed Tires there is Greater Strength—Greater Safety—and Greater Blowout Protection than in any tire made.

THE ADHESION TEST

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Note how the rubber in an ordinary tire pulls away from the cords that have not been soaked and insulated with rubber. This causes friction and heat within the cords, resulting in separation.

SPEND YOUR VACATION IN MICHIGAN

Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out-of-state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is a Michigan concern. It prospers only as does the state as a whole. For the past six years it has devoted advertising space to calling attention to the advantages of Michigan as a vacation-land, and will do so again this year. Such advertising is good for Michigan; and therefore is good for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Railroads Prepare to Meet New Competition

Seek Traffic Lost to Buses, Planes and Autos.

Washington.—Railroads, out to recapture passenger traffic lost to buses, airplanes and private motor cars, are emphasizing speed, beauty and comfort in developing radically different types of train equipment, geared to present-day needs.

Two Western lines have produced stream line trains, one of which recently attained 104 miles per hour on a test run. Hundreds of thousands of persons, including the President of the United States, displayed "boyish enthusiasm" in these lightly-built, motor-driver trains wherever they have been on exhibition.

"Other enterprising railroads are trying to entice riders through electrification, automatic train-control, air-conditioning, and the use of motor coaches and 'rail-mobiles,'" says a bulletin from the National Geographic society. "This summer American railroads are adding 700 air-cooled passenger and dining cars, doubling the number now in operation.

"Night Club" Cars.

"A New England railroad is building 'turtle-back' day coaches with ovalized bottoms and all moldings eliminated to cut air resistance. 'Night club' cars, with hostesses and music, made their appearance on Florida trains last winter, and pullmans composed entirely of individual bedrooms are now in general use. One Western road is using green window glass in club cars making desert runs, to cut down light glare and give a 'cooling' effect. Indirect lighting, reclining seats in day coaches, and radios are also making their appearance.

"The history of railroad transportation in the United States is a story of amazing development. At the outbreak of the Civil war the country had less than 31,000 miles of line, of which only about 2,000 were west of the Mississippi. It was not until February 22, 1863, that sod was turned for the first transcontinental line, on the Pacific end at Sacramento. Not until December 2 of the same year did work begin in the Mississippi valley.

"Six years later, after many delays and after 225 miles of overlapping line had been built, an agreement was reached whereby the two companies joined forces, and the gold spike which tied together the East and West was driven at Promontory, Utah (west of Corinne), on May 10, 1869.

"The railroads, indeed, constitute the key that unlocked the treasure-house of American resources. The story of the nation's rise to greatness and power is an account of a succession of frontiers.

Posh Back Frontiers.

"At the beginning the frontier stopped at the Blue Ridge mountains. The turnpike and the canal finally pierced these heights and let it move on to the Alleghenies. These became an isolating influence that held the pioneers in the eastern half of the Mississippi valley almost a separate people from those on the Atlantic seaboard until the railroad builders' faith removed these mountains, as far as the flow of commerce and communication was concerned.

"In turn the Mississippi river became the frontier. What was the good of the land west of the Father of Waters if that stream remained unbridged?

"Even as late as the early eighties our people thought that it was useless to build railroads through western Minnesota and the Dakotas, arguing that the region was a desert in summer and a wilderness of snow in winter. It took Custer's campaign against the Indians to persuade the public that the Northern Pacific extension beyond the Mississippi, at St. Paul, could be kept open more than five months a year.

"During the Civil war the South had much less than a third of the nation's railways. These linked up distant communities rather than industrial centers. Comparatively few of them were strategic, whereas the North had rail connections admirably fitted for the movement of men and munitions.

"In Europe the history of railway construction has been that of roads laid down to meet the demands of traffic already there. In this country tens of thousands of miles of line have been built through virgin territory, which it was hoped would grow up to their facilities."

Cowboy Sorry He Tried to Lasso Hawk on Rail

Dewet, Texas.—It will be a long time before Zeima O'Neill, former cowboy of this community, again buckles a hawk. He is laid up at his home because of an encounter he had recently with one of these birds.

While riding through his pasture, O'Neill saw a hawk on a fence post and decided to rope the bird. Unwinding his reata he threw the loop and caught the hawk by one of its legs.

This was the signal for a desperate battle in which O'Neill came out very much the loser. The hawk flew at him, fastening one of its long, sharp claws into the man's knee and the other into the horse's neck. The horse plunged in terror and agony and O'Neill fell off. The horse kicked him on the other knee.

The hawk still clung to him, having in the meantime loosened the rope [illegible] gashes upon the man's body and this pain, together with that caused by the kick from the horse, made him unconscious. When he revived the horse and hawk had disappeared. He managed to drag himself home where his wife put him to bed.

Remains of Early Race Are Found in Tennessee

Washington.—Excavations of Indian mounds on the Shiloh battlefield in southern Tennessee, being made by Smithsonian institution, already have revealed an old temple, about 30 smaller buildings and about 30 skeletons.

The mound group is located at the crest of a bluff, overlooking the Tennessee river. On three sides it is invulnerable to attack because of sheer cliffs. On the fourth there is a slow incline, with evidences of an ancient palisade fence.

Dr. Frank Roberts, ethnologist, believes it was built by the proto-Muskhogean race, a highly cultured people who populated the Gulf states when the white men arrived.

Cyclist Finds Africans Just Ordinary Folks

Washington.—African tribesmen are ordinary folks who work every day and enjoy a good joke, according to James C. Wilson, former college instructor.

Wilson, who motorcycled 3,000 miles across Africa, declared he saw no savages and few wild animals.

"It is true," he said, "that some one told the truth about the Africans. They are just like people all over the world. When you get to know them, they are just like neighbors."

Among Wilson's trophies is a drum hollowed from a tree trunk, and wool blankets woven and embroidered by natives.

Guillotiner of 300 Will Retire, Rich

Marseilles, France. — Amitole Deibler, the national executioner, guillotined his three hundredth criminal at dawn recently, a post office robber, Camille Maucher.

Deibler, who is paid 7,500 francs (about $500) for each guillotining, said he was preparing to retire soon with a comfortable fortune. Meanwhile, he said, he was rushing to completion his invention of a new "fool-proof" guillotine. He refused to divulge its specifications.

Gives Real Facts About Life in Russia

Writer Paints Ghastly Picture of Soviet Republic.

New York.—Eugene Lyons, American correspondent in Russia for six years, brings back a picture of life in the Soviet republic that contradicts the statements of American social planners who point to Russia as an example of successful planning, and contented regimentation. In the Cosmopolitan, he says:

"I have seen Russia's new factories and power stations, new cities and vastly improved armies. . . . On the other hand I saw the hundred and sixty-four million Soviet human being in their overcrowded homes and foul barracks, millions of them in exile, other millions trudging sullenly in a direction they did not wish to go, all of them holding on desperately to food cards and passports. Then the ghosts of those whose lives had gone to fatten the plump statistics crowded in upon my mind and clamored for a place in the futile accounting."

Executions, Lyons says, are not referred to as such in Russia. He was once present in the chief prosecutor's office when there was some discussion about three men sentenced to death for speculating in bread.

"All three have been sentenced to d—" the prosecutor started to say "death." Then he changed his words, "I mean, the highest measure of social defense."

Before returning to America, Lyons crossed Europe from end to end, finding [illegible] nets, tariffs, censorships and spy systems.

"War," he says, "is again being idealized—the horrors of the last war are being carefully concealed. . . . Psychologically, at least, Europe is prepared for war.

"The danger of conflict between nation and nation is in the forefront of the picture. Behind that, tinging the whole view, is the danger of a war between class and class. It cuts athwart all boundaries."

Congressional Library Honors Old Dime Novel

Philadelphia.—The dime novel has leaped from its obscurity of 50 years ago to a place of honor in the Congressional library at Washington.

Thousands of collectors are eager to pay high prices for genuine "Diamond [illegible]

In Philadelphia, a Happy Hours Brotherhood, composed of 60 members, has been organized to promote interest in dime novel collecting.

Robert H. Smeltzer, vice president of the Brotherhood, believes dime novels not only are harmless, but actually have done considerable good.

"My grandmother and aunts considered dime novels 'trash,' so I read them in secret back in the haymow.

"I can't for the life of me see what was wrong with them, unless it was the fact that they were so frequently concerned with death and fighting.

"The good man always triumphed, however, and justice always prevailed. There are things more objectionable in most modern magazines."

OLD CHRISTMAS STILL KEPT UP

Had Origin in First English Colony in New World.

Each year we read with sentimental interest descriptions of the celebration of "Old Christmas" by fisherfolk and other residents of the ancient village of Rodanthe, on the long and narrow outer barrier islands that impound Pamlico sound off North Carolina. Sometimes we read that the celebration is held on January 5 and sometimes that it is held on January 6, the difference being that Twelfth Night, or Old Christmas Eve, may have greater emphasis in celebration than Twelfth Tide on Twelfth Day (Old Christmas Day) as the villagers continue a celebration that extends back to their forefathers and even the time of Sir Walter Raleigh and establishment of the first English colony in the New world.

However, if we search the back districts of the Missouri Ozarks, it is quite likely that we could find this belated celebration of Christmas much closer to our own modern homes, as well as hear the belief expressed that on Twelfth Night cattle of the fields kneel in greeting to the new-born Christ. This tradition and refusal to accept the calendar corrections of Pope Gregory were brought to this country by early settlers from Britain and persisted for many generations not only in the barrier islands that protect North Carolina from the raging sea, but in the mountains along the eastern seaboard, spreading even to the Ozarks of Missouri and Arkansas as the mountaineers sought new homes.

It is fitting, however, that the tradition had its spread only by family and that the outstanding community expressions remains near the place it was introduced to America, in Dare county, North Carolina, where the first white child to be born in America came into being. This child was Virginia Dare, granddaughter of John White, a leader, whose small Roanoke Island colony disappeared without trace while White was on a journey home for supplies.

Rodanthe is only about a score of miles from Roanoke Island and a part of the same chain of banks, with Kitty Hawk, where the first successful airplane flight was made, only a few miles away on the same chain. So what better place could be found for the support of tradition, even though there be some uncertainty whether it is in observance of old Christmas Eve or Old Christmas Day that fishing nets are laid aside?—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

"Grandfather" of Radio

Thomas Edison, who has been called the father of electric light and the phonograph, may likewise be considered the father—or at least the grandfather—of modern radio, since in 1883 he made the progenitor of our modern radio tubes, and took out a patent that Marconi later purchased.

This was revealed at the national electrical exposition in New York, when members of the New York Electrical society used one of Edison's early lamps as detector tube in a radio set, and successfully received a regular broadcast program with it. The great inventor was aware of the electrical action of the tube.—Literary Digest.

FARMERS CAN PLANT ALL FORAGE CROPS

Wheat, Corn-Hog Contracts Modified to Meet Drought Conditions

Drought conditions have caused the modification of federal rulings concerning the planting of forage crops on both contracted and non-contracted acres in Michigan, according to Chester C. Davis, administrator of the agricultural adjustment act.

These modifications apply to lands affected by either wheat or corn-hog contracts in Michigan. At least 30,000 Michigan farmers can now plant forage crops in larger amounts than was possible under contract terms previously in effect.

Mr. Davis says, "All restrictions are removed on the planting of and harvest of any forage crop on non-contracted acres on farms under adjustment contracts.

"Restrictions on the use of the contracted or rented acres, which have been retired from crop production under the contract, are also modified to permit the planting and harvest of all forage crops, except corn and grain sorghums and to permit pasturing these retired acres and harvesting hay for forage from them.

"The action in modifying contract planting restrictions supplements plans for the purchase of surplus cattle in the drought regions and other drought relief measures."

There is economy in good paint. Labor is the big cost in painting. You pay the same to apply cheap paint as you do to apply good paint. Cheap paint soon loses its luster and chalks off, admitting moisture, and this results in having to do the job all over.

Beetle Saves Millions Yearly

A small insect known as the Vedalia beetle is declared by entomologists to have saved citrus fruit growers of California millions of dollars each year. This beetle is a parasite on the cottony-cushion scale which once seriously threatened the commercial production of citrus fruits in that state. The scale was known to have come from Australia and the Vedalia, which was found to be a natural enemy of the scale in its native country, was imported for the express purpose of helping suppress it in America.

Good Taste Today

BY EMILY POST

Author of

"ETIQUETTE," "THE BLUE BOOK OF SOCIAL USAGE," ETC.

VALUES FAR ABOVE MONEY

DEAR Mrs. Post: We are invited out a great deal, and why, I don't know, because we have so far not been able to return anything. We do send candy, or sometimes flowers, and a book to people we know like these particular things, but outside of that we can't return their dinner, week-end and theater invitations. Ought we to stop accepting these? Oh, if only we had more money!

Answer: One need never return invitation for invitation. The only thing that matters is to show our appreciation of the kindness shown us in the best way we can. In other words, by the book, candy, flowers, or by things costing time and thought and heart, which are often more valuable than things costing merely money. Nor is it at all necessary to feel that you are unable to give a party. Remember that a young couple living in a single room, which has a folding sofa-bed, so that the room can be made into the semblance of a sitting room, can perfectly well ask friends they care for (after all, others are of small importance) to come to their "home-in-a-room."

Where people do things with modest hospitality, and fail, it is not because of their stated means, but because they entirely overlook the fundamental fact that the success of a party is far more dependent upon the spirit of hospitality—actually the spirit of friendliness—than it is upon lavishness of provision.

Would you know the real secret of successful party-giving? It has not a thing in the world to do with money. It is simply the gift of never outgrowing a child's imagination. In other words, the spirit of "let's pretend" that enters into the play of all children.

Unless you can enter into the spirit of this hospitality, unless you can delight to have the friends you like share your festival, your party—even though it be given in a palace with rows of lackeys and a ton of choicest viands—will be but a heavy procession of over-richly laden minutes. Whereas, if the enthusiasm of your welcome springs from innate friendliness—from joy in furthering the delight of good fellowship beneath your own roof—you need never doubt that those who have accepted your hospitality once will not eagerly look forward to doing so again and again.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CHANGES

DEAR Mrs. Post: Please go into detail about the etiquette of present-day card leaving. I am of the 90's, when the convention was strictly adhered to, but people are getting so casual about cards and visits that I am not sure how much of their old meaning has still existed without making us

Answer: Going out in the afternoon, as we used to do, and leaving cards at two or three dozen front doors without even asking whether any of those on whom we were leaving them were at home, is at present totally unknown to everyone on the hither side of fifty. Few people even pay party calls except after a first invitation from strangers—and only the rather precisely brought up pay these. There are many occasions, however, when cards must still be left. First of all, a card of sympathy is left at a house of mourning; a card of inquiry at a house where there is serious illness. And of course, people go to see neighbors and friends, and if they find them out, they necessarily leave their cards. Formally, and on strangers, a lady leaves one card of her own and one of her husband's on each gentleman—just as we used to do. But going to see friends, one usually leaves just one card of one's own—and only when they are out. Perhaps I can make my answer clearest by saying that cards of empty form would "date" us unmistakably and would be thought absurd by all younger people. But all cards that have real intention of friendship or kindliness are used today just as they always have been.

Dear Mrs. Post: My sixteen-year-old daughter would like to entertain about four couples of her own age. They don't play cards (or most of them don't) and our house is too small to dance. Could my husband and I take them all somewhere, and would it be embarrassing for the boys to let us pay all the expenses? Or don't girls invite boys to go out with them even under those circumstances?

Answer: Certainly your daughter may give a party—as many as you are willing to let her give—and nothing could be more proper than to have you and her father take her and her friends somewhere. A hostess as well as a host should always pay the expenses of the guests whom they have invited.

First Use of Celery

Celery was first used in its present form during the Seventeenth century in England, France, Italy, Holland and elsewhere. No great degree of perfection was reached until in the Nineteenth century, when considerable attention was given to the development and improvement of varieties, about 1825. Another revival of interest came in the period from 1884 to 1895.

MATHEMATICAL WONDER

A doctor at an asylum at Nantes, France, discovered among his patients a "lightning calculator," who, although he could scarcely read and could not write, solved mental arithmetic problems involving large numbers. Asked, "How many seconds there are in thirty-nine years, three months and twelve hours?" he gave the correct answer in thirty-two seconds. Explaining how he calculated the number of seconds in thirty years, he said: "I know by heart that there are 31,536,000 seconds in a year. I multiply 30,000,000 by 30, which gives me 900,000,000. Then I multiply 1,500,000 by 30, and get 45,000,000; 30,000 by 30, which gives 900,000, and 6,000 by 30, giving 180,000. I add all these products and get 946,080,000 seconds in thirty years." This answer was give in fourteen seconds.

Ruth Chatterton Is Given Dynamic Role in "Journal of Crime"

Ruth Chatterton will be the stellar attraction at the Palace theatre next Thursday and Friday, when she appears in her latest First National picture, "Journal of a Crime," which is said to afford her the greatest opportunity of her career to display her unusual dramatic talent.

Robinson Found His Old Stage Pal Busy on "Dark Hazard" Set

It happened on a set at the First National studios during the filming of "Dark Hazard," Edward G. Robinson's latest starring vehicle showing at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Hobart Cavanmugh, who had recently become a First National contract player, approached Robinson and held out his hand. The star turned—and nearly fell on Hobart's rock.

"Just how long is it, Hoby?" he said.

"Four and a half years—since we closed," was the answer.

Others in the cast include Genevieve Tobin, Glenda Farrell, Gordon Westcott, Robert Barrat and George Meeker. Alfred E. Green directed.

Sidney, March, LaRue Renew Old Friendship

It was like "old home week" for Sylvia Sidney on the set of Paramount's "Good Dame," coming Tuesday and Wednesday to the Palace theatre.

Years ago, when just starting her stage career, Miss Sidney worked with a stock company in Denver, Colo., in which Fredric March was the leading man. Later in New York City, she appeared in the successful stage hit, "Crime," in which Jack LaRue was the gangster.

Now they are all three working together in this B. P. Schulberg production; March as co-star with Sylvia, while LaRue plays another of his famous menace roles.

GYM PACKED FOR GRADUATION EVENT SUNDAY

Rev. W. W. Hurd Delivered Fine Sermon—Commencement Program to Be Held Tonight

The baccalaureate service, the first event of graduation week exercises for fifty-three members of the Charlevoix high school senior class, was held Sunday evening at the gymnasium. A capacity crowd attended.

The sermon was preached by Rev. W. W. Hurd of the local Methodist church. He used as his topic, "The Educated Fool" and took for his text the two scriptures passages, "Man shall not live by bread alone", and "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." He showed that the idea expressed in the topic can be a reality—that a fool is not one who lacks knowledge, but one who lacks wisdom. That the latter is expressed in the selection of correct means to any desired end. Therefore one can have a vast store of knowledge, "education," in the popular use of the term—and still be a fool in not knowing how best to apply the same for ideal aims in the advancement of society and the betterment of the world. If the "power" attained in our high schools and colleges is used only to "turn stone into bread," to satisfy only the stomach and the animal side of the human race, it is in finality, the height of unwisdom, which is the qualification of a fool.

The musical numbers on the program were especially fine. Mrs. A. C. Belding and Miss Vera Belding played the overture on organ and piano. The Methodist choir, augmented by Dr. Frank H. Wilkinson, Harker Kirby and Ty Kirby, gave some fine selections and a baritone solo by Frank Poole was greatly appreciated. Rev. G. R. Parker gave the prayer, benediction and scripture.

Commencement exercises, with Rev. John W. Dunning of the Presbyterian church of Kalamazoo, will be held at the gymnasium tonight.

A wedding of interest to local residents was solemnized at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage when Miss Marguerite Bogart, daughter of Mrs. Emma Bogart, was united in marriage to Joseph R. Williams of this city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Hurd. Attending the young couple were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cunningham. The room was prettily decorated for the occasion. Following the ceremony refreshments were served at the Bogart home to relatives of the bride and groom.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams are well and favorably known here. Mrs. Williams is a graduate of Charlevoix high school, class of '28 and of the county normal in '29. Mr. Williams has been employed several years at the F. S. Myers store. Following a short honeymoon in southern Michigan, the couple will be at home at 104 East Hurlbut avenue.

THINK REPORT HAYES YOUTH WAS SHOT AT WAS MERELY A HOAX

State police and local sheriff's officers have branded as a hoax the report made last Thursday morning by Clifford Burke, Hayes township youth, that he had been shot at twice while driving on the Kane road in Hayes township last Thursday morning.

Investigation of the two bullet holes in the car—one through the windshield and the other through the door on the left side of the machine—led officers to believe the youth had fired them himself. Because of the angle at which the bullets hit the machine, officers believe it would have been impossible to have fired them from a passing machine.

The case has been dropped.

LEGION AUXILIARY ACTIVITIES

By Lois L. Sevrey.

We had a nice attendance at our business meeting Monday evening and also at the district convention at Bellaire, Sunday.

Members gave a rising vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Sternberg for their splendid cooperation and work during the poppy sale. We regret that their names were accidentally omitted in this connection in the local papers last week, as they merited a great deal of credit.

We decided by vote to donate $5.00 for relief for the wife of one of our local Legionnaires.

Our next social meeting will be June 18th at the home of Lizzie Cannon and will be a pot-luck and shower for one of our members. Further information may be obtained from any of our members for those who are interested. We decided to continue our social meetings all summer as so many are interested and enjoying them. At this social meeting we expect to be informed when our committee woman, Mrs. Shields, can visit us to initiate our 1934 members. A special meeting may be called for this purpose.

Election of officers for 1935 will take place at the regular business meeting July 2nd, as new officers must be elected at that time, also a delegate to the state convention at Traverse City July 8th.

Don't forget to make an extra glass or two of jelly as we must have 100 glasses ready to send away by fall.

Two years ago he jumped from a speeding car near Harbor Springs and a year ago last October shot himself with a 22-caliber revolver while working at a wood lot near this city. During a short residence here he forged several checks on his parents. For a similar offense he was convicted and later placed on probation in Flint.

State police and sheriff's officers of this district are continuing their search of haunts which Ketchman is known to have frequented and are maintaining a search on the possibility he may have abandoned the Simons car somewhere in Northern Michigan.

NORTH UNITES IN TOURIST EFFORT

ORGANIZATION MEETING FRIDAY AT PETOSKEY

Ten Upper Michigan Counties Organize to Foster Mutual Interests of Resort Section

The organization of Northern Michigan United, a civic group, was completed at a meeting of representatives of various civic bodies of the region at Hotel Perry, Petoskey, Friday night.

D. M. Dicken of Boyne City, was elected president and Wilson J. McDonald of Petoskey, secretary.

The organization will have for its aim the fostering of friendly relations between the various communities of ten northern Michigan counties in the heart of the tourist region, and the heading up of various campaigns designed to aid in the growth and development of the various cities, towns and areas in the organization. Otto Bishop, Alpena, temporary chairman, withdrew as a candidate for president because of the fact that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination as state senator.

The meeting attracted fifty businessmen representing the various chambers of commerce, and other organizations which serve to handle such work. A complete constitution and bylaws was drafted by a special committee and adopted by the entire group. This sets up the organization and provides the methods of handling the work through a board of directors and an executive committee. The membership fee is $5 per year with the board empowered to raise more funds if needed.

The president of each organization affiliated with the group will serve as the member of that organization on the board of directors. Members of this board present elected these officers, who form the executive committee: president, D. W. Dicken, Boyne City; vice presidents, Roy Fultz, Cheboygan; William Coon, St. Ignace; Otto Bishop, Alpena; secretary, Wilson J. McDonald, Petoskey; treasurer, Frank Sharpp, Gaylord; member at large, William J. Cummings, Sault Ste. Marie.

The territory covered by the organization includes eight counties in the tip of the lower peninsula and Mackinac and Chippewa counties on the east tip of the upper peninsula which have always been very closely associated together in all enterprises for the building up of the region.

John Lake, president of the Petoskey chamber of commerce, extended that city's welcome to the party, and explained the object of the meeting. General suggestions for use in making up the constitution and by-laws were received from various members.

Short talks of much interest were given by E. J. Hannah, Harbor Springs; Dr. C. J. Winder, Charlevoix; William Martin, Petoskey; Charles Woodruff, Ponshewaing; Rep. E. E. Tibbits of Boyne City; Thomas Marston, secretary of the Eastern Michigan Development bureau; William Coon, St. Ignace; and several others.—Petoskey Evening News.

REPORT PROGRESS ON STATE BANK REORGANIZATION PLAN

Very encouraging progress on the reorganization plans of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank is reported by Archie L. Livingston, conservator, and members of the depositors' committee.

Up to the present time waivers representing $285,000 of commercial and savings accounts have been obtained. It is necessary that a total of approximately $305,000.00 in waivers be secured to meet the requirement that consent of 75 per cent of the deposits of both commercial and savings departments be secured in writing. In this regard the bank's officers urge depositors to sign up at once in order that this step of the reorganization plan be completed as soon as possible.

When all waivers are secured it is understood the state banking department will require advertising for 15 days a public notice of the plan and of a court hearing in circuit court where all protests against the plan may be heard.

It is pointed out by bank officers that depositors may hasten the institution's reopening by lending their cooperation at the present time.

COUNCIL SESSION WAS A BUSY ONE

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED AT MONDAY MEETING

Provisions for Operation and Maintenance of New Municipal Bath House Were Made

A grist of regular city business, along with several matters of more than usual importance, was transacted by the council at its regular session Monday night.

Provisions for maintenance and operation of the new municipal bath house, constructed on Lake Michigan bathing beach first as a CWA and later as a work relief project, was made when the council authorized the mayor and clerk to enter in contract with Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Crouse of South Bend, Ind., for lease of the bath house for a three-year period. The rental rate was set at $133.33 per year, payable in advance. The leasees will operate the bath house and have concession rights.

Two applications for licenses to sell beer were approved, one a beer garden application of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] A hotel license of J. J. Hallett.

The first of what may ultimately result in a raise in wages for city department employes resulted when the salary of Vincent Madison, superintendent of municipal utilities, was raised from $125 to $150 per month. Other salary changes are now under consideration.

The city's fire fighting equipment was improved by a council authorization for purchase of a large quantity of new hose, smoke mask and other equipment.

The council gave the Charlevoix Indians, local baseball club, a boost by giving the advertising committee power to act on a request for new equipment.

A payroll aggregating $5,246.40, including the retirement of local improvement bonds and interest and payment of the vast program of city street, sidewalk and sewer improvements under way this spring, was allowed. The large payroll made necessary the loan of $5,000.

Authorization for purchase of neeessary poles and equipment for the Michigan avenue electric light line extension to service outlying resort developments, was granted.

ARREST KETCHMAN AT ST. LOUIS MO.

HARBOR SPRINGS YOUTH CONFESSED BRUTAL MURDER OF JOHN J. SIMONS AT COTTAGE HERE MAY 28TH

Related Details of Ruthless Crime Without Trace of Emotion—Request of Defense Attorney for Dismissal of Charges in Justice Court Tuesday Denied by H. R. Fowler—Arraignment Wednesday

Louis Ketchman, 20, a resident of Harbor Springs, was arrested and confessed last Saturday at St. Louis, Mo., to the murder on May 28 of John J. Simons, Grand Rapids motion picture sound expert, whose body was found Tuesday, May 29, in the isolated Stanley Cartier cottage on North Point.

Notified of Ketchman's apprehension, Sheriff Floyd W. Ikens, this city, and Lieut. Earl Hathaway of the Traverse City state police, left late Saturday after him. They returned at about midnight Monday.

Ketchman was arrested in a St. Louis hotel, where he had registered as Lawrence Kelldon of Chicago. He had been under suspicion since his appearance there on June 2nd.

Ruthless Murder

In his confession, Ketchman is said to have unfolded one of the most ruthless killings in the crime history of northern Michigan. Coolly and without emotion, Ketchman told how he killed Simons, a total stranger, for no reason at all. He said he was picked up by Simons near Cedar Springs as he hitch-hiked north from Grand Rapids. The night before he had stolen a 38-caliber automatic revolver from his rooming house; and it was this gun that he "put on" Simons as they approached Big Rapids, the driver's destination, and then forced him to drive to Charlevoix.

Made Simons Drive Careful

He told how he repeatedly warned Simons he would have to kill him in case of an attempt to escape or warn officers, how he turned down Simons' offer to turn over his money if he (Ketchman) would get out, of warnings to drive carefully throughout the 150-mile trip. The route followed was through Cadillac, Manton and Kingsley to Traverse City and on through this city to the Cartier cottage.

At the cottage Ketchman told [illegible] about the automobile. I made him take off his coat and told him I was going to tie him up. After allowing him to smoke a cigarette, I made him lie face down on a cot. A cord I had in my pocket was used to tie his hands and my belt secured his feet. I had made him think all the time I merely meant to rob him. When he attempted to turn over I shot him in the back of the head. I think he died right away. That was at about 4:15 p. m. I took his wallet with about $20 in it, threw his coat over his head and covered the body with a mattress."

After killing Simons, Ketchman drove to Harbor Springs and called upon his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ketchman. He used Simons' car and told his parents he had borrowed it from a friend in Grund Rapids. After obtaining some clothes and eating supper he left Harbor Springs, picked up a couple boys near the Petoskey fair grounds, dropped them off in Charlevoix and continued on to Chicago, arriving there early the next morning.

In a Chicago speakeasy he related the murder to two "mugs" after they had relieved him of his gun. He later took their advice to "get out of town." He went to St. Louis, where he was apprehended. Simons' bag and wallet were found in his room. Ketchman left Simons' car in Chicago, fearing officers would apprehend him if he used the machine.

The first news of Ketchman's presence in St. Louis, came through A. Clifford, manager of The Beach Club at Harbor Springs, whom Ketchman visited in St. Louis and borrowed money from. Ketchman had worked for Clifford on previous summers.

A new and complete detailed confession has been obtained since Ketchman's return here but its contents has not been revealed.

In Court Here Tuesday

Represented by Prosecuting Attorney Sherman L. Eaton of Grund Traverse county, and Attorney Thomas D. Meggison of Traverse City, Ketchman appeared before Justice Horace R. Fowler here Tuesday evening.

The defense asked that the complaint against Ketchman be dismissed on the ground that there was lack of evidence when the warrent for Ketchman's arrest was issued, and signed by Sheriff Floyd Ikens.

The hearing was adjourned until 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at which time Justice Fowler refused the motion for dismissal of the complaint and warrant. Eaton, spokesman for the defense, waived justice court examination and requested postponement of circuit court arraignment, which was not granted. As a result, Ketchman will be arraigned before Judge Parm C. Gilbert either Wednesday afternoon or evening.

Foster Father There

Ketchman's foster father, George Ketchman, and his brother, Kenneth of Harbor Springs, appeared at the justice court hearing Tuesday. The father has expressed himself as wanting done what will be best for society and the boy. If his son is insane, he wants him sent to an institution, otherwise he feels the youth should pay the penalty.

OLD SETTLERS' PICNIC TO BE HELD SOON

Time and Place of Annual Event to Be Announced Soon

Pioneers of seven counties will hold their annual Old Settlers' picnic at Northport late this month on a day and date which will be set soon by the Leelanau county committee in charge of the affair.

The Old Settlers' association consists of the early residents of Grand Traverse, Benzie, Leelanau, Kalkaska, Antrim, Charlevoix and Wexford counties who meet each June to talk over the old days and renew acquaintances made a half century or more ago when anyone within ten miles was a neighbor.

This year the program will be held in the Voice park in Northport and the I. O. O. F. will be thrown open to the visitors for the picnic dinner. During the past year Seba Dame, president of the organization, and N. C. Morgan, secretary, have both passed on but the Leelanau county committee is going ahead with preparations for the picnic.

COMMENCEMENT A CLOSING EVENT

CLASS OF 53 GRADUATED LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Final Event for Senior Class Was Boat Trip Sunday to Beaver Island and Picnic

Charlevoix high school graduated 53 seniors, the largest class in the history of the school, last week. The commencement exercises, held Wednesday evening at the gymnasium, drew a capacity crowd.

What was termed one of the best commencement addresses ever given in Charlevoix was delivered by Rev. John W. Dunning of the Presbyterian church of Kalamazoo, the speaker of the evening. Rev. Dunning's address carried a seriousness in note that will follow the class members in their new lines of endeavor. Well given also were the salutatorian address by Miss Mary Schwab, and the valedictorian address by Albert McMillan.

Other program numbers were a clarinet and cornet solo by the Misses Virginia Block and Lillian Novotny and two excellent numbers by the school band. Due to the absence of the school board president, because of an injury, Harker Kirby presented diplomas to the graduates. Rev. G. R. Parker pronounced the invocation and benediction.

The Cotton Club party given at the Belvedere casino, followed the commencement exercises and was a very enjoyable event for a large assemblage. The final class function was a boat ride Sunday to Beaver Island, followed by a picnic. Members of the class and their sponsor, Miss Ben Ferneau, enjoyed the outing.

All school work in the grades was completed last Wednesday and promotion certificates were awarded Thursday. Following the usual custom, class picnic and other functions marked the closing of school for all grades.

INDIANS LOST CLOSE BALL CONTEST SUNDAY

"Bad Breaks" Accounted for 4 and 2 Defeat at Mancelona

The Charlevoix Indians, apparently beset by endless "bad breaks," dropped another close game Sunday to Mancelona. The Antrim county team won 4 and 2.

With the two teams tied at 2-all, a Mancelona home run and a struck hatter gave the winners the two runs they needed for victory. From then on neither team scored.

Sexton and Miller were the winning battery, Denemy and Lord the losers. Sexton and Denemy each allowed four hits. The Indians had three errors chalked against them, while Mancelona was guilty of four.

The Indians play on the home diamond next Sunday, meeting the strong Boyne City team in what should be one of the best local attractions of the season.

COUNTY TO HAVE TWO MORE LIQUOR STORES

Charlevoix county is to have two more liquor stores, both to be operated as private businesses.

Licenses were granted Thursday to the Gunther store at East Jordan, and to the Cole store at St. James.

GENERAL FISHING SEASON JUNE 25

LAKES CLOSED TO BASS FISHING OPEN THEN

Same Regulations Governing Size, Daily Catch, Etc., As Last Year In Effect

Hundreds of Michigan lakes on which the hook and line were banned after April 30 are to be reopened to the angler Monday, June 25, when fishing becomes legal for black bass, bluegills, sunfish, white bass and warmouth bass on all the inland waters of the state.

The angler will face the same regulations governing the size, daily catch and possession limits of game fish as last year, according to the fisheries division, department of conservation. These are set down in the digest of fishing laws issued by the department.

In addition there are certain unwritten rules of good sportsmanship and conservation that the angler should observe. All undersize fish, for example, should be handled carefully with wet hands and returned to the water. Small fish roughly or carelessly treated are not likely to survive. Areas where spawning is prolonged and bass or bluegills are found over them should be avoided by the angler whether the areas are posted or not.

In recent years the popularity of bluegill fishing in southern Michigan waters has rivalled that of bass fishing and because of it more attention is being given the bluegill as a Michigan game species, the fisheries division reports. Last year nearly 4,000,000 bluegill fingerlings were planted by the department in the inland waters of the state.

In addition to the bluegill plant in 1933 the department planted 800,000 large and small mouth black bass, 2,000,000 perch fingerlings and 80,000,000 walleyed pike fry in 76 of the 83 counties of the state.

The fisheries division hopes that by continued propagation and planting work together with the natural reproduction of the native fish in the lakes and streams of the state, the improvement of fish habitat and pollution of control, Michigan's population of game fish can be maintained against the increasing drain of fishing.

Reports have been received by the [illegible] the state to the effect that certain anglers have been fishing without a license in the designated pike lakes which were open May 1.

Every resident fisherman over 18 years of age must have a 50-cent fishing license, according to the fisheries division, not only because the law requires it, but in view of the fact that the revenue derived from the sale of licenses helps to maintain good fishing for those who purchase them. A resident fisherman and his wife may fish under one license.

The non-resident fishing license fee affecting all persons more than 18 years of age is $2. The wife of a non-resident licensee, however, may obtain a similar license for 50 cents.

The department of conservation is authorized by law as a special courtesy to non-residents to issue a 10-day fishing license at $1, which expires 10 days from date of issue. The wife of a purchaser may obtain a similar license for 50 cents.

HUNTERS WILL BUY HAVENS FOR DUCKS

Michigan Wildfowlers Will Need [illegible]

Hunters who brave stormy Michigan weather in search of ducks or geese this fall will contribute to a fund for the purchase of breeding grounds and refuges for the game which furnishes them with sport, as provided by the federal law requiring each migratory waterfowl hunter to pay one dollar for the privilege.

Recent decreases in the ducks appearing on the fall flightways led to investigations of the reasons for the dwindling numbers. One cause was found to be the draining of nesting grounds and attempts to cultivate land formerly used as breeding areas. This land belonged to individuals and there were no federal funds to purchase the threatened nesting grounds.

Ducks on the way south also lacked places which were sanctuaries for the birds. The absence of such feeding grounds where they would be undisturbed compelled the birds to seek feed in places open to hunters.

The one dollar required from each duck hunter will be used to purchase lands suitable for nesting grounds for ducks and to buy refuges which will afford the flight some protection on its way south. The law applies to persons over 16 years of age in every state.

Each hunter will be issued a stamp to be attached to his state hunting license and the stamp must be carried while hunting. Stamps will be sold at all postoffices in towns with 2,500 or more population, in postoffices located in county seats, and in such other postoffices as may be designated by federal authorities. The stamps can not be transferred from one hunter to another.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Steps to Prevent Milk-Borne Disease Outbreaks

The United States Public Health Service milk sanitation program may be summarized as follows:

In order to prevent milk-borne disease outbreaks similar to the more than 300 which have occurred in the United States in the seven years from 1924 to 1930 inclusive, federal, state and local authorities have three major public health duties: (1) to promote the proper pasteurization of as large a percentage of the total milk supply as is possible; (2) to promote the proper sanitary production of that part of the milk supply which is pasteurized; and, (3) to promote the safeguarding of the remaining part of the milk supply as far as raw milk can be practicably be safeguarded.

The uniform requirements recommended by the federal and the Michigan State Department of Health to the municipalities or local health districts are such as to provide the local health offices with the most powerful enforcement devices. These recommended local requirements are in the form of requirements for various grades of milk. All health officials, federal and state, and many of the local health officers persistently recommend an adequate consumption of either pasteurized milk, certified or of grade "A" raw milk. In the case of raw milk, the precaution of pasteurizing at home or of boiling the milk is recommended.

In order to promote enforcement of the recommended uniform regulations, the state thru the local health department continuously inspects the dairies of all producers who are licensed to sell milk in Charlevoix, Antrim, Otsego and Emmet counties. Any person who desires to get his milk supply from a source which is regularly inspected can get the information from Dr. A. R. Renwick, the dairy inspector with the District Health department.

Sanitary Toilet Facilities at Schools and Resorts

As a result of CWA work in the county, a number of schools were given approved sanitary outdoor toilets. These toilets are approved inasmuch as the plans for their construction were laid by the sanitary engineers with the United States Public Health Service. They are sanitary because they are so constructed that they minimize the danger of the spread of disease by flies.

Why so careful to guard against flies? Because we know that there is the possibility for the spread of a number of diseases by means of flies. Especially there is danger of the spread of intestinal diseases—what we call the filth diseases—by means of flies. In this group of diseases we find typhoid fever, paratyphoid, dysentry, diarrhea and enteritis.

If you have watched the fly, you know that it flies everywhere. Thus, if the school has a poorly constructed toilet—one with open windows, an open ventilator, open seats and an opening at the foundation around the vault or pit—the flies will be attracted. Knowing the habits of flies, you should be aware that they fly from the toilet to the food the children are eating. That's why the new approved sanitary outdoor privies constructed through the CWA are built as they are: with fly back seat covers, with screened ventilators, with no provision for windows and with the housing of the toilets absolutely tightly connected with the pits.

Of course it is better that schools and resorts should have indoor facilities. In Charlevoix county the effort was made to obtain septic closets for eight of the rural schools, but because of the much higher cost of materials for such installations, the project was not OK'd. In any case the new outdoor toilets are much better than the old type of outdoor toilets formerly used at the schools.

Where there is water under pressure—if the schools or resort has an automatic pump for drawing water from the well—it is possible to install septic tanks at the school. Most rural schools do not have water under pressure and the best that can be done is to install septic closets. This distinction in terms is made because this latter type of toilet requires greater attention from the teacher. If the school has a lavatory which is connected with the septic, the attention which is required is not so great. However, if there is no connection with a lavatory, from two to four pails of water should be added to each of these closets each day they are used.

As to the cleanliness with which the toilets are kept, that depends on the pride which the children take in their school and the habits they form at home in keeping things clean. An outdoor toilet that is well taken care of by the children is better than an indoor toilet that is poorly kept.

Any resort owner or any school district desiring to get sanitary facilities under an arrangement whereby the labor will be furnished through the use of welfare relief and only the price of materials needed will be charged to the beneficiary, should get in touch with Dr. Renwick immediately, at the district health office, Charlevoix, Michigan.

Tuberculosis Clinic Held at Charlevoix County

"Tuberculosis is the most important single destructive agent in the life of man," according to the National Tuberculosis association. To be effective, prevention workers must concentrate on the early detection of the disease. The disease is curable when it is detected and treated near the beginning of its course.

It is a difficult job sometimes for an expert to detect the early cases. Seldom does an ordinary examiner discover them. This fact was illustrated during the World war when a considerable number of tuberculous soldiers were sent to training camps; and many overseas. However, the technique of examination has been much improved of late years, and experts can now practically guarantee the detection of such cases as they handle.

Death Rate Drops

The trend of the number of deaths from tuberculosis has been steadily downward. The following death rate from tuberculosis which is figured per 100,000 population tells the story:

Years	U. S.	State	District
1920		85.4
1925	86.6	66.5	39.8
1930	71.5	60.1	47.1
1931	68.2	53.9	30.4
1932	60.4	48.1	39.8
1933	59.9	46.5	39.8

*(Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego counties).

It is the general enlightenment of people that is producing this downward trend. Better civilization enables us better to fight the disease. Better civilization means improved environmental conditions, careful living, and the eating of fruits and vegetables generally. A steady job and a "don't worry" attitude also help to keep tuberculosis from the door.

Infection Universal

According to Dr. H. D. Chadwick, who headed a ten-year program in Massachusetts in an attempt to check tuberculosis, the program was based on the following beliefs:

1. That tuberculosis infection is almost universal.
2. That about 70% of the people develop enough immunity to prevent the disease from progressing.
3. That about 30% have the disease in varying degrees.
4. That about 7% die of tuberculosis.

Clinics have been at work in Massachusetts examining children of the elementary and junior high school. Those who were ten percent underweight for their age and height; those who were in contact with cases of tuberculosis, and those who were in poor physical condition from unknown cause were the ones selected for examination.

Any such program which gets hold of the child who is apt to become tuberculous, or has already developed lesions, is likely to go a long way toward solving this problem. Detection is the first step.

In order to find the early cases of tuberculosis throughout the four counties, Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, tuberculin testing of over 3,200 children has been carried on during the past two months. Miss A. Winnifred Golley, R. N., has been actively engaged in looking after the tuberculosis cases and contacts throughout Charlevoix county. Tuberculin testing was carried on by Dr. Dean of the District Health department. All positive reactors to the tuberculin test and all contacts to tuberculosis are going to be offered the advantages of an X-ray, which will be given at the Charlevoix school house from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., on June 28, and also at the East Jordan school house on June 29. Those desiring X-rays should get in touch with Miss A. W. Golley, R. N., Charlevoix county nurse, Charlevoix. Those not known to be contacts to tuberculosis or suspicious of tuberculosis are X-rayed at the request of their family physician. Mrs. Langenherg of the Michigan Tuberculosis association will be the X-ray technician at the clinic. Her services are made possible through the sale of the Michigan Tuberculosis Christmas seals.

Infant Deaths by Cause and Age

A higher percentage of deaths occur in the "under one" age group than in any other year of life. Some of these causes are preventable; other causes, as yet, have not been brought under control. During 1933 there were 46 infant deaths in district health unit No. 3, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego. Of this number of infant deaths, by far the greatest majority died under one month of age—32 of the 46 deaths occurring under one month of age.

The 46 deaths were classified as follows:

	0-30 Days	1-12 Mos.	Total
Premature Birth—	12		12
Congenital Malformation—	6	1	7
Pneumonia—	1	6	7
Other Diseases of Early Infancy—	5		5
	1		1
Influenza—		1	1
Syphilis—		1	1
Encephalitis—	1		1
Congenital Debility—	2	3	5
Other Diseases of Nervous System—		1	1
Injury at Birth—	2		2
Erysipelas—	2		2
Convulsions—		1	1
Total Infant Deaths			46

This number of infant deaths has been the smallest recorded in the past years. The following table shows a decided decrease in infant deaths since 1928:

	Infant Deaths
1928	81
1929	73
1930	70
1931	65
1932	49
1933	46

The district health department, sponsored by the Children's Fund of Michigan, has been interested in reducing the number of these infant deaths. Many of these infant deaths probably could have been prevented had the mother consulted her physician in sufficient time before the baby was born. Part of this reduction in the past has undoubtedly been due to the infant clinics that have been conducted by physicians in the various counties.

Be sure your baby has a physical examination at least one a month, preferably by your family physician, but if that is impossible take the baby to a well baby clinic in your own locality.

LAWFUL TAKE FROGS AFTER FIRST JUNE

No License Necessary But Restrictions Must Be Observed

Frog "fishing" will again be legal in Michigan beginning Friday, June 1. The seven months' closed season prohibiting the taking, possession or sale of native Michigan frogs comes to end May 31.

State law requires no license of those who catch or sell frogs during the open season, but imposes restrictions on the manner in which they may be taken, according to the fisheries division, department of conservation. Spearing with the aid of artificial light is prohibited. The season remains open until October 31.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Repeal and Traffic Problems

"There is good evidence that driving while intoxicated is increasing materially throughout the country," according to J. S. Baker of Chicago, an official of the National Safety Council. Mr. Baker reports four times as many convictions in the Chicago area for driving while intoxicated in the first three months of 1934 as compared with the same period in 1933.

The Civic Affairs committee of the Federation of Churches in Washington, D. C., reports accidents involving drunken drivers increased 50 per cent in that city during the first 90 days of 1934. An increase of 169 per cent in arrests for drunken driving is reported in Detroit in the first three months of 1934, as compared with the same period the year before.

"Don't carry liquor in your car," is the advice given to automobile drivers by the American Automobile association in a recent bulletin. "Legalizing of liquors, wines and beer has not affected the responsibility of motorists for the safe operation of their cars. In case of an accident, the mere fact that there is liquor in the automobile might have a damaging effect on the chances of the owner to avoid arrest or civil liability."

The foregoing items were brought out at the W. C. T. U. meeting last Friday afternoon in the discussion of the topic, "Repeal and Traffic Problems," under the leadership of Mrs. E. L. Dawson.

The July meeting of the Union will be held on the porch at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. F. McMillan.

TWO-PAYMENT LICENSE PLAN PROVES POPULAR

Over Three Hundred Thousand Using Motor Windshield Stickers

Department of state statistics indicate that as many motorists will take advantage of the two-payment plan of purchasing 1934 license plates as in 1933.

Last year a total of 415,000 persons made use of the two-payment plan. Thus far in 1934, a total of 352,000 have made use of the windshield stickers and it is estimated that at least 65,000 more will do so before August 1. This year a large number of cars that have not been used for one or more years are being placed in service.

CROPS IN MICHIGAN SMALLEST IN YEARS

Adverse weather conditions that began during the late winter months and blossomed into a state-wide drouth, cut Michigan's fruit crop to sub-normal figures, shot wheat and rye production down to 59 per cent of normal, and now threatens a general hay shortage, June crop reports of the U. S. department of agriculture reveal.

Due to the winter injury and frosts during the blooming stage, prospects for Michigan's fruit crops are below average and with the exception of pears, below the June 1 condition for 1933. The peach crop is reported 11 per cent of normal, cherries 55, pears 59 and apples 50.

REX SUPERNAW GOES TO EASTERN ARMY CAMP

Rex Supernaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Supernaw, who recently graduated from the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, was one of the few reserve officer's training corps students selected to attend the chemical warfare camp at Edgewood Arsenal near Baltimore, Md. While in school Mr. Supernaw was very active in R. O. T. C. work, being for two years a member of the rifle team and for the past year second in command of the R. O. T. C. band. He is also a member of Tau Na Tau, the national honorary military engineering fraternity. Attendance at the chemical warfare camp is restricted and Rex is the only cadet entering from Houghton and one of the few selected from this corps area. After the completion of summer camp instruction he will receive his commission as 2nd lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps of the U. S. army.

PLANE TRANSFER AUTO VICTIM TO HOSPITAL

Bud Hammond Rushed Injured Man from Hospital to Detroit

Bud Hammond, "winged utility man of the upper peninsula," Thursday accomplished another flight of mercy.

His plane, bearing Clive Wigle, 37, who had been injured last Tuesday in an automobile accident on the East Jordan-Ellsworth road, roared into the Detroit city airport two and a half hours after Wigle had been taken from the Charlevoix hospital. Miss Ellen Kuskela, local hospital superintendent, accompanied them.

Hammond, 30 years old, in his four years of flying in the upper peninsula has made a number of similar emergency flights to Chicago and Ann Arbor, sometimes taking his hospital patients from almost inaccessible spots in the heavily wooded lumber and mining camps.

From his base in St. Ignace for two years he carried the mail to Beaver Island and when the winter-isolated Beaver Islanders are in danger of running short of food he becomes their grocery and meat market delivery boy. Last winter he became the flying fish peddler for the Beaver Island fishermen, transporting their catch to St. Ignace.

PINE LAKE GOLF CLUB OPENED FOR THE SEASON

Pine Lake Golf Club had its first players of the 1934 season when Mnc Sclade and guests of White Cloud played at the local club May 20th. Favorable weather conditions have made it possible to get the course in shape earlier than is ordinarily possible. Fairways that are usually wet until late in June are now dry and firm and are being clipped daily.

Local golfers will be pleasantly surprised in finding that the barn and sheds have been removed and their sites landscaped, greatly adding to the scenic beauty of the course. Until resort season opens rates will be 50 cents per day, enabling local fans to practice at a very reasonable rate.—Charlevoix County Herald.

EVERY PRINTING OFFICE IS NOW UNDER THE CODE

The NRA code for the printing industry has been adopted and is now in effect, and all printers, no matter how small his establishment, are now under the code. A schedule of prices for labor and hours of work has been adopted which all are required to observe, and now, a schedule of prices the printer must charge has just been received, and if your printing costs you more money don't blame the printer, but put the blame where it belongs—on the NRA. The price list for printing may be seen by anyone interested, and the printers have no alternative but to adopt and charge the prices set in the price list, as it is a part of the law of the land.

DODGE SPRINGS SURPRISE WITH PRICE REDUCTION

Price Drop Ranges As High As $45 On Some Models

A series of automobile price reductions, coming as a surprise to the trade, have been announced by Dodge Brothers Corporation.

The new quotations, in effect immediately, reduce the former figures up to $45 and make the base price of the company's popular 117-inch wheelbase line $645.

In announcing the readjustment of the Dodge price schedule, the manufacturers point out that the price cut is the sole change involved—that construction details, quality, appointments, and the advertised thirty-two extra Dodge features are continued without any alteration whatever.

Firestone

Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS

EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race—the most gruelling tire test in the world — drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires.

Race drivers know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. It provides greater adhesion between the plies of the tire, and between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread.

Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with new car developments by building stronger, safer tires to meet the exacting demands. Drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Remember, in Firestone High Speed Tires there is Greater Strength—Greater Safety—and Greater Blowout Protection than in any tire made.

THE ADHESION TEST

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Note how the rubber in on ordinary tire pulls away from the cords that have not been soaked and insulated with rubber. This causes friction and heat within the cords, resulting in separation.

Human carelessness continues to be the leading cause of forest fires, says E. W. Tinker, in charge of the regional office, United States Forestry Service, Milwaukee. Careless smokers are the causes of fires which have shown a steady increase in the past 10 years and carelessness has been the major source of fires which have robbed the United States of over sixty million dollars annually.

Prolonged drought, excessively hot weather, low humidity and man's carelessness in the woods have combined to send Michigan's loss by forest fire far above the records of the past two years for the spring months. From telegraphic reports received by the division of field administration, department of conservation, it was estimated that 15,273 acres were burned over during the week ending June 2, or a total of 24,000 acres of land devastated during the first few months of the current year.

Of interest to trout fishermen is the report of W. F. Morofsky, professor of entomology, Michigan State college, that hatches of black damsel flies are now appearing on the trout streams of northern Michigan. From a study of trout stomachs, the results of which were recently announced, Morofsky found that the damsel fly appeared to be the favorite food of brown trout. Stomachs of this species of trout in many instances were literally packed with damsel flies. The damsel fly will occur along the streams of northern Michigan until probably July 15, it is believed.

Manamar and Mermash Rations

Summing it all up, here is what MANAMAR will do for you:

1. It will raise a larger percentage of chicks.
2. It will grow them faster.
3. It will grow them with less feed per pound of gain.
4. It will produce pullets from one-half pound to one pound heavier at six months of age.
5. It will produce pullets that will lay market size eggs in less time.
6. It will produce heavier broilers at less feed cost and in less time.
7. It will reduce your year's mortality in many instances to one quarter or less of the former figure.
8. It will increase the hatchability of eggs, and the livability of the chicks.
9. It will give you eggs of a distinctly higher market value, with better shipping qualities, stronger shells, and heavier weight.
10. It will reduce the moulting period.
11. It will reduce, if not eliminate, your loss from anemia.

These are strong statements, but all we ask is an opportunity to prove them to you, in your own flocks, in your own pens.

Flower Lovers Open New War On Pests That Ruin A Garden

FLOWER lovers, and especially those who enjoy rose growing, will soon begin the annual war against plant diseases and destructive insects which destroy bushes and blooms during the late spring and summer months. Brown canker, mildew, black spot and leaf-eating insects will soon make their appearance in gardens which have not received the attention necessary to prevent these evils.

Exhaustive studies on the control of plant diseases and destructive pests by the Department of Plant Pathology of the Ohio State Experiment Station and industrial chemists have resulted in the perfection of a chemical dust made of manganese arsenate and other materials which is at once a fungicide and an insecticide.

Tests show that this dust is highly efficient in the control of major rose diseases and also most leaf eating insects as well as red spider.

The same chemical dust is said to be effective in the control of various diseases and insects which attack asters, hollyhocks, carnations and snapdragons

EAST JORDAN WILL STAGE HOMECOMING

Will Precede County 4th of July Celebration This Year

East Jordan will stage another homecoming and 4th of July celebration July 3 and 4 this year.

Mayor Barney Milstein was made chairman of the entire affair, at a recent meeting of the chairmen of the various departments. He has selected the following men to work with him.

Howard Porter, finance; John Kenny, reception; George Secord, advertising; Verne Whiteford, sports and entertainment; Clarence LaLonde, parade.

The celebration will start Tuesday, July 3rd. There will be street contests, water sports, boat races, baseball games, etc., ending with a sham battle the evening of July 4th.

The committees are trying to get in touch with former residents and will appreciate the names and addresses of any former East Jordan people. The local ball team is trying to line up Traverse City to play here the 3rd, and Cheboygan the 4th, which would afford the crowd plenty of high class baseball entertainment.

Let us furnish your second sheets, typewriter ribbons, adding machine rolls, scratch pads, ledger sheets. Charlevoix Courier.—22tf.

PRICE CHANGES GIVE FARMERS SOME HELP

Receipts from Sales of Farm Products Increase Faster Than Costs

Farmers have an advantage in the rising prices within the past year, as farm prices have increased 50 per cent while things farmers buy cost only 20 per cent more than they did at that time, according to the economics department at Michigan State college.

The greatest price improvements have been for grains, wool, and potatoes. Prices for lambs are better but other livestock prices are about the same. Dairy and poultry products prices are a little better.

Considerable aid to the farmer may come from the improved industrial conditions with the consequent larger number of pay checks and ability to buy food products. February payrolls, this year, were 60 per cent better than in March, 1933.

The price of butter on March 15, 1934, 24 cents per pound, is only two cents less than the pre-war average price, but the increase in dairy costs necessary to equal the pre-war level. Lowering of production per cow and the disappearance of storage stocks are encouraging factors in the dairy field.

"JACKIE"

(By a Hard Boiled Coo)

You think I'm a hard-boiled copper
For writing a man at 'forty-three.'
Well, perhaps I'm thinking of Jackie
And all that the lad meant to me.

How's that? Tell you all about it?
Well, stranger, the boy was my son;
God! what I'd give to hear "Daddy"
Once more when the day's work is done.

The driver was just in a hurry,
He didn't intend any harm,
But the sun and stars quit shining
When I picked up my boy's lifeless form.

Well, Mister, I'll tear up this ticket,
I don't want to "pinch" anyone,
But I'd ride this motor through hell
To protect another man's son.

So the next time you feel like speeding
Or passing a boulevard stop,
Just pause and remember my Jackie,
The son of a hard-boiled cop.

FARMERS BORROW NEAR 44 MILLION IN SPRING

Production Credit Companies Increase Loans for Crops and Stock

As the Farm Credit administration rounds out its first year's work Production Credit Commissioner S. M. Garwood reports that the farmers' production credit associations, which were organized last winter and began to do business in volume in April, have handled about $11,500,000 of spring financing.

"The associations have advanced $27,300,000 of this amount," Mr. Garwood said, "and the balance of $17,200,000 has been allocated to the accounts of borrowers. Most of this balance goes to farmers who are getting their loans in a series of payments during the season, so they will have the money when they need it and meanwhile save on interest charges.

"Most of the loans made this spring have been for crop production," Mr. Garwood continued, "and while the spring seasonal demand for crop production loans has now passed its peak, the gradual increase in the size of loans indicates that farmers and stockmen are turning their attention to livestock loans and loans for general farming purposes.

"The extremely low cost of money this spring is very encouraging to new agricultural financing. The production credit associations have been able to reduce the interest rates on new loans to 5 per cent; and this factor is enabling many farmers to get loans who up until now have postponed the purchase of needed workstock, horses, equipment, machinery, repairs and improvements.

"Such loans must be secured by first liens on sufficient livestock or equipment, owned or purchased, to secure the loan adequately."

MACKINAW INVITES CITIES TO PARADE

Old Fort Celebration Will Feature Advertising of Resort Attractions

As a feature of the Fort Michilimackinac celebration to be held June 30 at Mackinaw City in connection with the Jean Nicolet Anniversary week at Mackinac Island, the sponsors are planning a big parade to be participated in by representatives from many northern Michigan towns and cities.

The parade is to be distinctly an advertising attraction for the resort communities in this region. Last year motion pictures of the parade were made, and it is expected the same thing will be done this summer. Every city has been asked to place an entry in the parade to tell of the resort and recreational advantages of each community which will attract the tourist, vacationist or sportsman.

The main attraction of Mackinaw City's celebration will be a reenactment of the historic massacre of the English garrison. The affair is receiving nation-wide publicity and is expected to attract thousands of visitors to the resort region of the state.

GOODWIN PLAN

The "Goodwin plan" of merchandising, thought to have been dead in Michigan, has made its appearance again, working in church organizations, the same as before. The Holly churches who give an audience to the plan will be interested to know that large church organizations in all parts of the country have turned it down; Michigan Baptists in convention at Adrian severely berated it, and the Christian Century the greatest church magazine in the country, was the first to lead the battle against it. Many of its chief opponents' claim that it would place church societies in a door-bell ringing class of panhandlers. — Joe Haas in the Holly Herald.

OUR TOWN AND THE RAILROAD

Is our community facing the prospect of becoming a "whistle stop," or in the years ahead will it be retained as an important railroad town? The question is raised because of a like query asked recently by the Sparta (Kent county) Sentinel-Leader, which added in explanation:

"Because freight went by trucks and passenger traffic by motor bus, many important railroad towns of other days have become mere 'whistle stops.' In less than two decades we have witnessed the disappearance of hundreds of miles of branch and main line roads in Michigan. Since the World war the railroads of the nation have been virtually under federal control. This, in many instances, has prevented common sense operation.

"The rail systems of this country are a vital part of the community progress. It is a lonesome spot on the map that no longer hears the whistle of an approaching train. Already hundreds of communities are engaged in the task of restoring to the railroads business that has been going elsewhere. It is proving a good investment.

"There's a worthwhile thought for this town's business men. Is it not probable that so much of their freight has been going by truck that the railroad is thinking seriously of turning our community into a 'whistle stop'? Then it might be smart to commence restoring our freight and passenger business to the railroad. As between the two, we for one think we would prefer to have the cheerful and reassuring bell clang of the halting locomotive rather than the aggressive blare of the truck horn guaranteed for this town's future."

GYPING THE JOBLESS

Suppose you had been out of work for a long time, was in desperate financial straits, with what eagerness would you seize upon a plausible advertisement offering you a way out of your difficulties? What would be the depth of your disappointment if you discovered that after taking your money you found somebody had promised you a job when they didn't have any jobs to give? Scattered all over this country is a horde of merciless gyps preying on human misery. It is estimated that they exact a million dollars a week from their unsuspecting victims. So carefully worded are their advertisements that it is next to impossible to secure a conviction when complaint is made. There is only one way to beat them at their game—don't bite. Do not reply to ads where a small deposit or a cash bond is required. It is a clever scheme to get your money. Beware of the fellow who would install a radio in your car to help your salesmanship. The receipt you sign later turns out to be a chattel mortgage on your car and your signed order for the radio at an outrageous price. School teachers should hesitate before enrolling with some outstate firm who promises to TRY to get them a position. There are no more jobs for teachers elsewhere than right here in Michigan. Reputable firms do not demand money from their employees in advance under any pretext. Always bear that in mind—it may save you grief later on.

A MATTER OF CHOICE

Michigan is one of the few remaining states in the Union to cling to the same form of county government that served so well during the oxcart days of the Commonwealth when journeys for even short distances were accomplished with difficulty. Now there is real need to bring county government up-to-date, to modernize it to a point where its cost will bear less heavily on the taxpaying public. Rural opposition to a constitutional amendment permitting a start in this direction arises largely through distrust of everything that comes out of the urban centers. The amendment which will be voted on next November expressly states that no change can be instituted in the present system without a majority vote of the electors in that county. This should eliminate fear of big town domination in strictly rural counties. At the same time it will present opportunity for tax-reducing changes without destroying the township as a basic unit of government. If the taxpayers are sincere in their demands for less cost in local government they must be willing to adjust former beliefs to allow such changes to be brought about. In the last analysis it will be "A Matter of Choice."

A LEGACY OF DISCORD

Recent strikes in the automobile parts industries, called by labor leaders since the Washington conference, gives rise to the suspicion that the national administration in its efforts to please the American Federation of Labor has wished upon the most harmonious labor center in America a legacy of continual agitation, unrest and trouble in the future. Appointment of a labor council will injure rather than help the situation. One strike ordered by the labor leaders in a factory supplying parts for the Hudson Motor Car company ended abruptly when the motor company posted notices that the factory would be shut down immediately, and that it would remain closed until the strike was settled. The automotive industry has long been a model of high wages and employer-employee relations for other industries in the country. What they should have done when faced with a general strike, in the first good year they have had in several years, was to have placed their position squarely before the American people and defied the labor leaders to call a strike. There would have been no walkout.

PRAISE FOR TIBBITS

The Cheboygan Observer says:

"It was splendid of Representative Douglas Tibbits of Charlevoix county to come out openly and unafraid to divide the state effort to put across the $38,000,000 bond issue. He might have played politics, like a great many of his republican legislative friends did, and in an effort to make himself strong with the masses through the perpetuation of the dole and welfare and told his people what a great thing this bond thing would do to provide work for the workless, and the fallacy of making a garden to help themselves. No, he didn't trail after the professional politicians. He spoke just as though he was a taxpayer, as though he understood who would have to pay the freight, and what a little of a constructive and worth while nature would be accomplished with those millions of easy money. We need more of the Tibbits kind of state law makers instead of the farm the farmers kind, that do nothing but lead us to the slaughter in order to feather their own nest."

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

If you are entitled to an automobile weight tax refund and have not received it, write the department of state.

Refund warrants have been issued to all motorists who purchased 1934 plates, or who secured a 1934 windshield sticker permit before the rate was reduced from 55 to 35 cents per hundredweight. But slightly more than 1,500 refunds have been returned to the department with the notation that the addressee either had given a wrong address or had moved without leaving a forwarding address. These warrants are being held by the department pending receipt of the proper address.

All letters regarding refunds should give the 1934 license number or the windshield permit number.

As refunds have been made on permits sold at the old rate, those who are taking advantage of the two-payment plan will pay one-half of the new rate in purchasing plates. The permits expire August 1.

A new manual of instructions for local election officials is being prepared by the department of state incorporating changes made in election laws by the 1933 legislature.

One of the important changes now allows persons who are properly registered to transfer on primary or election day from one precinct to another in the same city or township, regardless of length of residence in the ward to which removal was made. Previously the law required 30 days residence in the ward prior to the election.

Another change provides that on three-man election boards not more than two shall be of the same political party and that on larger boards not more than 50 per cent shall be members of the same party.

BACK FOR ANOTHER VACATION IN MICHIGAN

Year after year, vacationists from other states return to Michigan to enjoy the many advantages our state offers. Here they have found everything in scenic beauty, historic interest and opportunity for healthful play on land and water that one could desire.

Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out-of-state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends that you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.

COUNTIES WILL GET HALF McNITT MONEY

Charlevoix County Share of Recent Release Is $27,748.17

Checks totaling $1,017,521.75, in payment of 50 per cent of the 1934 McNitt refund are in the mail to 58 counties, State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner announced Friday. Charlevoix county's share is $27,748.17.

The 58 counties receiving earliest payment are those whose reports were submitted to the highway department in time for approval on or before June 7. Remaining to be paid the first 50 per cent installment are 18 counties whose reports contained some slight discrepancy, now being corrected, and seven counties which have not filed reports to date. Counties are not eligible for payment, the act provides, until reports are received and approved by the highway department.

The McNitt Act provides that the highway department shall refund $3,000,000 to the counties this year from the gas tax revenues for the purpose of maintaining township roads taken into the county system. This amount will be increased to $3,500,000 in 1935, and to $4,000,000 in 1936 and each year thereafter.

All township roads will have been absorbed by the counties by the end of 1936, under terms of the act. The first 20 per cent of the township roads were taken into the county system in 1932, and an additional 20 per cent are being transferred annually.

SAGINAW COUPLE, WELL KNOWN HERE, OBSERVE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

The following article, taken from a recent issue of the Saginaw Daily News, tells of the 50th wedding anniversary observance of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kirschner, parents of Mrs. Clinton Cooper of this city, and well known to local residents through their frequent visits in Charlevoix:

"Golden roses and tapers, and even refreshments and dishes in the color were used Sunday at the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kirschner, 1114 South Michigan avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Kirschner are lifelong residents of Saginaw. They were married at St. Andrew's church when 22 and 24 years old, respectively.

"The golden wedding celebration opened Sunday morning, when the bride and bridegroom of 50 years ago renewed their nuptial vows at SS. Peter and Paul's church at the 7 a. m. mass. Relatives and friends attended the service. Breakfast was served to 30 members of the immediate families at the home, Mr. and Mrs. Kirchner using spoons that had been given to their parents on their golden anniversary in 1905.

"During the afternoon, 125 relatives and friends were entertained informally at an open house at the Kirchner home. Among the guests were seven members of the Kirchner bridal party of 50 years ago. Mrs. Thomas Hynan of Saginaw, who was maid of honor, Mrs. Joseph Beird of El Paso, Tex., Mrs. Charles Kampfert of Saginaw, and Mrs. George Beitell of Toledo, O., bridesmaids, all were present, as were Charles Roeser of Saginaw, Franz Roeser of Phoenix and Gustave Roeser of Freeland, ushers. The late Bernard Kirchner was best man.

"Mrs. C. G. Cooper of Charlevoix, Mrs. J. H. Niver of Escanaba and T. E. Kirchner of Saginaw, daughters and son of the couple, and Rosemary Cooper, only grandchild, were present for the celebration.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

The dance at the Beach hotel last Saturday evening, sponsored by the American Legion, was an unqualified success and the sincere thanks of the members of Leslie T. Shapton post are hereby extended to Comrade and Mrs. Arthur von Dolcke for their kind loan of the building for the evening and their efficient efforts towards making the dance a success. The post also wants to thank the boys who turned in and helped on the various details. That is the kind of cooperation that maintains the reputation of the Legion as a bunch of go-getters throughout the country.

At the regular post meeting Tuesday night, a check-up of financial conditions was made and it was discovered that the post has sufficient assets to meet all of its obligations. From now on, all activities of the post will be directed to raising a uniform fund to equip the bugle and drum corps with proper uniforms so that they may advertise Charlevoix at the department convention of the Legion to be held in Traverse City on September 15, 14 and 15 and 16. These will cost in the neighborhood of $200.00. The boys need drill and practice, however, and it is likely that regular practice nights will be established throughout the summer in preparation for the corps' appearance at Traverse where we want to make the best showing possible.

The next big job to be tackled by the post will be the sham battle at East Jordan on July 4th, in which three posts of the county will cooperate. This is the first spectacle of its kind ever held in this part of the country and should prove a great attraction.

Burns-Allen Never Play to Audience

George Burns and Gracie Allen, whose radio broadcasts have placed them practically at the top of the list so far as popularity is concerned, never broadcasts before an audience.

Their material is very carefully prepared and rehearsed until it is synchronized to a split second, so that laughs from an audience would mar the effect.

"Besides," explained Burns, "if people watched Gracie work they might get the idea that she is merely a comedienne and not really as crazy as they believe and I know she is."

Burns and Allen are featured in Paramount's "Six of a Kind," coming on Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace theatre, with Charlie Ruggles, Mary Boland, W. C. Fields and Alison Skipworth. Leo McCarey directed.

OPERATE SCHOOLS WITHOUT DEFICIT

CURRENT REVENUES MET OPERATING EXPENSES FOR YEAR

Revenue for Next Year Will Be Cut, But Prospects for Full School Year Favorable

The Charlevoix public schools will finish the 1933-34 fiscal year in much better financial condition than previously anticipated, according to Supt. O. P. North, who is now completing reports for the annual school meeting early in July.

A year ago there was bond interest, temporary loans and a scrip issue to be met which could not be paid. These indebtednesses were taken care of during the past year through the collection of money owed the school district from last year.

This year's tax collection has been very gratifying, according to Mr. North. A total of 86 per cent has already been paid in despite the fact collection penalties have been suspended until November 1st. Tuition money has all been paid in with the exception of $350.00 out of a total of $3,350.00.

Out of the much talked-about state aid, only $769.00 has been received this year. Charlevoix's share if the total fifteen million were distributed would have been $11,000. So far the money has gone to those schools in danger of closing. About half of the original appropriation has been made available to the schools of the state.

Next year the school revenue will receive another cut. The primary money which at one time amounted to seventeen dollars per child on the census list, but which this year was $12.58, will next year be closer to $10. This will mean a loss of $2,000 to this district. The Turner fund which this year paid $1,100, has been abolished. The County Tax commission has allowed the school district 5.2 mills, compared with 5 mills this year. However, the action of the city board of review in cutting the property valuation 20 per cent will mean a loss to the school of $2,700. This loss will have to be made up through state aid, the amount of which is a question.

Slight savings were made this year in light, power, water, telephone and supplies, although the most drastic reduction was made in the administrative and teaching costs. This year these items amounted to $17,750.00 as compared with $37,700.00 a year ago. A total of $4,000 in school bonds still remain to be paid this year, but is the only item which will be left unpaid. The district may wait until the full collection of taxes is made before meeting this obligation. Some money is now available for this payment. The CWA program resulted in several improvements in the schools. However, cost of materials, equipment, services and landscaping cost the district around $500.

The school staff for next year will be practically the same as last, according to Supt. North. All teachers with exception of Miss Elsie Muscott have signed. She goes to Pontiac and will be succeeded as sixth grade instructor by Miss Freda McMillan of this city. Harry E. Bingham will assume the duties of principal of the senior and junior high schools. One or more additions to the staff are anticipated and will be announced later.

Despite the losses in anticipated revenue for next year, the prospects appear hopeful. With the release of money impounded in banks, payment of delinquent taxes which total $19,000, and collection of bills payable to the school board, another full school year is possible.

CHARLEVOIX GOLF CLUB OPENED FOR SEASON SATURDAY

The Charlevoix Golf Club, located north of this city on US-31, opened Saturday for the 1934 summer season.

The green and fairways, upon which considerable work has been done this spring, are in wonderful condition. Late rains have aided greatly in the efforts to place the course in condition for the summer.

William Watson of Los Angeles, Calif., is superintendent of the course and club professional, and Jeff Novotny, greenskeeper. Other members of the staff this season are Elmer Rued, caddy master, and Miss Fern Crandall in charge of the office.

LADY MACCABEES HELD OPEN MEETING TUESDAY

Petoskey and East Jordan Lodges Guests at Banquet and Program

White Rose Hive, Lady Maccabees, was host at an open meeting held here Tuesday evening, to which Petoskey and East Jordan lodges were guests.

A 6:30 banquet at the I. O. O. F. hall preceded an interesting program. Petoskey Hive put on the initiatory work and other program numbers included a dance number by Miss Julia Glados, accompanied by Mrs. Bernice Wexstaff, two readings by Miss Freda McMillan and string instrument selections and songs by Harry Oldham and Kenneth Staley. Lee Scott, Herbert Wiles and Edward O'Brien furnished music for dancing.

The meeting was honored by the presence of a group of five Grand Lodge officers, including Supreme Commander E. W. Thompson, who gave a talk, Great Commander Herbert O'Connor, General Field Director Herman O'Conner, all of Detroit; Assistant Great Commander Ruth Doyle of Midland, and Assistant Great Commander Charles Perry of Midland.

PUBLIC HEALTH WORK EXTENDED

BEAVER ISLAND GROUP VISITED BY LOCAL NURSES

Miss A. Winifred Golley and Miss Neva Pumfrey Spend Ten Days Organizing Island Committee

Public health nursing, one of the benefits modern society confers on children of all classes and ages, has at last been made available to Beaver Island.

Thee first public health work ever done on Beaver and High islands was carried out from June 6 to 16 by Miss A. Winifred Golley, R. N., in charge of the work of the Children's Fund of Michigan in Charlevoix county, and Miss Neva Pumfrey, representing the Michigan Crippled Children commission in the northern part of the lower peninsula.

The work of the two nurses was that of making a survey of health conditions in the schools of the islands and among children of preschool age on Beaver and High Islands to make it possible for them to take advantage of a tuberculin testing X-ray program now under way.

At a meeting held the evening of June 8 at the parish hall, a Child Health executive committee was organized. Rev. Fr. McLaughlan was made chairman of the committee, James Gallagher named to represent St. James, Mrs. George Ricksgers to represent Sunnyside, Mrs. Vesty McDonough to represent Peaine township, and Joseph Antwine to represent the Indians of the islands. Dr. Russell Palmer, island physician, was named member ex-officio.

The nurses were taken from St. James to High island aboard an Indian fishing tug. They made the trip in company with Fr. Aubert, an Indian missionary, who made the arrangements and cooperated in the health work among the High island Indian families.

The Beaver group of islands are a part of Charlevoix county and the introduction of child health work there now brings that benefieial aid to the entire county for the first time.

INDIANS LOST AGAIN SUNDAY TO BOYNE CITY

Will Have Stronger Team for Contest Here Sunday With Mancelona

Playing without a regular pitcher and with two regulars absent from the line-up, the Charlevoix Indians were buried 46 to 3 by Boyne City's strong team at the Legion diamond Sunday afternoon.

Jim Lord, who started on the mound for Charlevoix, and Herb Peebles, Ellsworth hurler, were unable to check the Boyne clouters and numerous errors aided the visitors in scoring.

The Indians will be strengthened for Sunday's game here with Mancelona by the return to the line-up of Glenn Gill, Bill Novak and Jake Amon, who played with the club last season, also a new pitcher who has won seven games this year for a Petoskey team. Mancelona will bring one of the strongest teams in the north here for the Sunday contest.

LOCAL BOY VICTIM TRAGIC DROWNING

BOBBY SMITH, 8, FOUND IN ROUND LAKE

Discovery of Body Saturday Afternoon Ended Three-Day Search for Lad Missing Since Wednesday

A three-day search for Bobby Smith, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, ended late Saturday afternoon when the body was found in the water beneath a boat house on the south shore of Round lake harbor by his uncle, Joe Smith Jr.

The lad had been missing since late Wednesday, June 13. He was last seen alive at about 8:30 o'clock that evening at the playground on Lake Michigan bathing beach and is believed to have attended the movies later the same night. The point where the body was located is about 50 feet east of the wharf where his father's boat was moored, which leads to the belief the boy had gone to the boat after attending the movies and in some manner fallen into the water.

Discovery of the body brought to an end a search which had become state-wide in its scope. When Bobby did not return home last Wednesday night efforts were started to locate him. Local police, sheriff's officers and citizens were joined by state police, Junior Sportsman's Club members and friends of the family. All wooded areas near the city were covered carefully and the boy's description broadcast state-wide. Coast guards dragged the channel between Lake Michigan and Round lake and Round lake harbor. Outgoing boats were checked without trace of the boy upon their return.

In addition to the bereaved parents, a sister, Bonnie May, age 3, and the grandparents and other relatives survive.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home on Antrim street, Rev. W. H. Rauch of the Baptist church officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

The sympathy of this entire community goes out to the sorrowing parents.

CHARLEVOIX PLANS ANTI-RAGWEED WAR

Welfare Project for Riddance of Weeds to Be Started Soon

A county-wide campaign to eliminate rag-weed and to make this section comfortable for hay fever sufferers will be launched shortly as a welfare relief project. Don T. McHugh, in charge of county welfare projects, will direct the program. Women and children will be given employment.

Last year the city spent approximately $700 in paying rag-weed pickers and considered the work well worth the price.

M-66 RE-ROUTING TO BE MADE SOON

WILL ENTER CITY FROM SOUTH ON FERRY AVENUE

Change Assured Thursday by State Highway Commissioner VanWaggoner After Visit Here

Assurance of a re-routing at an early date of M-66 entering Charlevoix from the south was given Thursday by State Highway Commissioner Murray P. VanWaggoner following a visit here.

VanWaggoner, together with G. D. Kennedy, business manager of the state highway department, and James B. Balch, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission and president of the Belvedere Club in this city, came here by airplane at the invitation of Mr. Balch, to investigate the requested re-routing of M-66.

The trunk line, which leaves US-131 at Mancelona and comes through East Jordan to Charlevoix, now follows Stover road west to May street, north on May street to Garfield avenue, west on Garfield avenue to join US-31 on Bridge street. The new route will take the trunk line north on Ferry avenue from the intersection of Stover road to Belvedere avenue, west on Belvedere avenue to the intersection of Bridge street and US-31. Improvements on the trunk line will accompany the change, including elimination of the curve at the Cooperative Association warehouse.

The group of state officials were guests of J. J. Hallett, local alderman, at a 7 o'clock dinner at Hallett Hotel. They spent Thursday night here and returned to Lansing by plane Friday morning. Attending the dinner also were Mayor L. S. See and Robert F. Sloan, city engineer.

On the airplane trip north Thursday an aerial inspection of M-10 was made, highway projects visited at Frankfort and also at Harbor Springs. The party of officials were taken over the new scenic highway south along Lake Michigan and were greatly impressed with the drive.

MEETINGS TO AROUSE FAIR INTEREST PLAN

First of Series Will Be Held Friday Night at Marion Center

The first of a series of meetings aimed to bring the Charlevoix County Fair closer to the rural residents of the county will be held Friday evening, June 22nd, at Marion Center grange hall.

Dr. C. J. Winder, officer of the fair board and president of the local Association of Commerce, will be the speaker, and the meeting Friday night at Marion Center will be the first of several to be held throughout the county in future weeks.

The aim behind the meetings is to bring rural residents of the county into closer contact with the Fair through participation in management, finances, etc. The annual county agricultural exhibit has been a fixed institution in Charlevoix county for nearly a half century and it is felt the Fair can be made even better than heretofore by greater cooperation from those more directly benefitted and interested.

Anyone interested in the Fair is invited to attend the meeting.

BELVEDERE HOTEL OPENING SATUROAY

DATE ABOUT WEEK IN ADVANCE PREVIOUS YEARS

Indications Point to Very Successful Season—Many Improvements Made In Hotel

Saturday, June 23rd, will see the opening of the Belvedere Hotel, the first of Charlevoix's larger summer hotels to open its doors for the 1934 summer season. The opening is practically a week in advance of the usual date.

Many improvements have been made throughout the hotel to provide additional comforts for its guests. A large number of bedrooms and all corridors have been newly carpeted, changes made in the rooms, and the usual program of redecoration and repairs carried out.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Steiner, managers of the Belvedere, have selected a very efficient organization. The clerks will be Messrs. Sanford Nelson, Malcolm Parker and C. C. Longfellow. Miss Rae A. Gravuer has returned for her third season as secretary-bookkeeper. Mrs. John Durgin will again act as housekeeper, this being her seventh season at the hotel. Raymond Mercado will be head waiter, and W. J. Brooks is chef, succeeding the late Chef Edgar Yates of Chicago.

The Stulberg Trio, well known symphony artists, has been engaged to provide luncheon and dinner music. Many interesting activities are scheduled on the social program of the hotel for the coming season.

Reservations are reported as far in advance of the past several seasons and, from present indications, the hotel will enjoy excellent business this year.

During the winter season Mr. Steiner manages the Clarendon Hotel at Daytona Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Steiner manages the Coquina Hotel at Ormond Beach, Fla. Both hotels are owned by Harrington Mills.

Excellent prospects for the coming season are also reported by E. J. Edwards, manager of the Belvedere Club. Rentals during the past week or more have been unusually brisk with the result that few cottages are still available.

"THE BIRCHES" NEW BEER VENDING PLACE

Harold Bedford's New Store Has Unique Interior Lay-Out

The Birches, Charlevoix's newest beer vending place, has been opened by Harold Bedford in the building formerly occupied by the Slezak shoe store on Bridge street.

The interior, unique and pleasant, conforms with the name. Native white birch has been used in the construction of canopies and the bench legs are also of birch. A wall paper design carries out the scheme further.

The Birches is licensed to sell beer for consumption on the premises and in addition will serve sandwiches.

TB CLINICS PLAN HEALTH OFFICIALS

PROGRAM FOR CHARLEVOIX COUNTY NOW READY

X-Rays Will Be Taken in Charlevoix On June 28 and At East Jordan the Following Day

Tuberculosis can be cured, particularly in its early stages. What is needed is fresh air, sunlight, rest, care and obedience to the instructions of the physician in charge.

That tuberculosis can be cured is evident when we consider the case of Dr. Edward Trudeau, a physician who contracted the disease. As the story goes: Dr. Trudeau went to Saranac in 1873 as a hopeless victim of consumption. All his friends were filled with horror at the idea of his going practically alone to die, as they believed, in the Adirondack wilderness, in a little town consisting of little more than a sawmill and half a dozen cabins, 42 miles from a railroad. Dr. Trudeau did not die, however, in the winter of 1873, but grew much better; and some ten years later, as a result of his experience, he founded the Adirondack Cottage Sanitarium, which in its primitive stage consisted of a single house into which, with great difficulty, he persuaded two consumptive patients to live. That was the beginning in this country of the open-air treatment of tuberculosis.

All treatments of tuberculosis make use of fresh air and sunshine as their medicine. But there are other things that are necessary too. Absolute rest in bed is the first and most important factor of any successful treatment. How long the patient needs to be kept in bed depends on the presence of fever and the extent of the activity of the disease. Temperature and pulse readings should be taken at convenient intervals throughout the day. A member of the family can easily do this with a little training. It is these readings which determine when the patient is ready to leave his bed.

The diet of the patient during the period when he is confined to bed should consist of a wholesome and properly prepared food taken at regular intervals and supplemented by additional nourishment between meals. The following routine and diet for bed patients is recommended:

7:30—Awake. Wash hands and face and drink a glass of hot milk or water.

8:00 — Breakfast, consisting of fruit, a cooked cereal with cream or milk, one boiled egg or bacon, two slices of toast, a cup of coffee and a glass of milk.

10:00—A glass of milk, cocoa or buttermilk.

12:30—Lunch, consisting of vegetables, a meat sandwich or a boiled egg, bread and butter, custard or bread pudding and a glass of milk.

2:30—A glass of milk or a hard boiled egg.

6:00—Supper, consisting of well-cooked meat and potatoes, vegetables, pudding or some kind of jello, coffee or milk.

9:00—A glass of milk.

It is the fresh air and sunlight plus the right kind of diet and rest that arrests tuberculosis in our own bodies, though most of us have not been aware of it. It is because our bodies are resistant to the development of the infection that we are able to keep from contracting the disease. What makes us resistant is a sufficiency of fresh air, sunlight and care for our bodily condition.

Prevention is better than a cure, and prevention is easy if we develop the right kind of habits in regard to

INSURING OF BANK DEPOSITS EXTENDED FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Robert Bridge, cashier of the Charlevoix County State bank, has announced receipt of notification from the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation of an extension and increase in insurance covering deposits of the bank.

By virtue of a bill signed by President Roosevelt, the deposit insurance is extended from July 1, 1934, to July 1, 1935, and on July 1, 1934, the insurance will be increased from $2,500 to $5,000 for deposits of each depositor.

This added protection to depositors of the institution, who have increased appreciably in number since the reorganized bank re-opened, should go a long ways in restoring confidence.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Heavy rains have ended the drought in the chief butter-producing states. Improved pasture will end the threat of butter shortage and consequent high prices.

A great variety of small fruits is available, including late strawberries, raspberries, dewberries, huckleberries, sweet and sour cherries, and currants. Apricots, plums, early peaches and seedless grapes are also in market along with the year-round standbys.

Local gardens are supplying much produce though certain vegetables must still be imported from other sections. Salad ingredients are plentiful, and for them a variety of salad dressings is desirable. Greens are best with a French type dressing, while most fruit, vegetable, meat and fish salads—after marinating—are improved by a thick salad dressing.

Here are three menu choices for dinner:

Low Cost Dinner
Pan-broiled Veal Shoulder Chops
Creamed Potatoes Diced Carrots
Bread and Butter
Watermelon
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Pork New Potatoes
Buttered Onions
Cole Slaw and Tomato Salad with Dressing
Bread and Butter
Jellied Fruits
Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Melon
Kidney Roast of Veal
Potatoes in Cream
Wax Beans
Lettuce and Tomato Salad

The Facts About
CONOCO BRONZE GASOLINE

Conoco Bronze Gasoline, the original instant starting, lightning-pick-up gasoline, led the way for all other motor fuels in 1933. It was widely imitated, even in color and name! Today, Conoco Bronze Gasoline retains its leadership by offering finer performance than ever, made possible by further improvements in its manufacture. A special blending formula gives Conoco Gasoline a distinctive property—ability to turn into light, dry vapor rapidly and at extremely low temperature! That is the secret of Conoco Bronze's instant starting, lightning pick-up and smooth-flowing power.

New and Improved
CONOCO GERM PROCESSED OIL

The first time you fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, a pint to a quart seemingly disappears after 250 to 350 miles. On later fills, it does not. This "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away! It proves that Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil does what no other oil can do—it actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces in your motor. Other oils drain away during idle periods, leaving parts unprotected when you start. The "Hidden Quart" lubricates before you start, and cuts down costly starting wear. It makes starting easier and saves expensive repair bills. It assures you of the safest, surest protection at all times.

STRONGER BUSINESS AND STRONGER BANKS

By F. M. LAW
President American Bankers Association

DURING the crisis when confidence was shattered, bankers were properly concerned in liquidity. Their main thought was to prepare to meet any demand for withdrawal of funds. They were more interested, therefore in collecting loans than in making them. For this they cannot be justly blamed. It was a proper procedure.

F. M. LAW

Now that confidence has been so largely restored banks will naturally resume a more normal lending policy. This does not mean they will or should extend loose or unsound credit, but that in the utmost good faith bankers will perform their proper part in recovery by a sympathetic and constructive attitude in the making of sound louns. Nor should commercial banks make capital or long time loans, for the reason that their loans are made from funds derived from deposits payable for the most part on demand.

When the return of confidence is further on its way, business men will find need for credit in making their plans. Then good borrowers, who for the most part have been so conspicuously absent from the market, will return. They will be warmly welcomed by the banks.

Business Men's Fears

Business men have not yet laid all their fears. They worry about what Congress may or may not do. They concern themselves about a trend toward control of business by government. They fear taxes beyond their power to pay. These are real sources of worry and when they are reassured along these lines they will be more inclined to take a fresh look at the future and to make plans to go forward.

As a matter of fact there are tangible evidences of recovery. The Federal Reserve Board officially has stated that prices, wages, business activity and production were back to the highest peak since early in 1931. Commercial failures in the United States are being cut almost in half as compared with the same period last year. It has been reported that the decline in export and import trade was definitely checked in the middle of 1933 and replaced during the last half of the year by a substantial recovery movement.

Among favorable factors is the improved condition of the banks. It is doubtless true that the banking structure of the country has never been in a sounder, stronger and more liquid condition than it is today. My authority for that statement is the Comptroller of the Currency. No longer is there any fear or thought of bank runs. Depositors once more know that their money is safe and the banker, thrice armed in the knowledge of his own strength, is looking forward.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TRUST INSTITUTIONS

New Move by Federal Banking Authorities Welcomed by Banks and Trust Companies, Says Bankers' Organization

FEDERAL examination of trust departments is the latest development in banking supervision and trust companies and banks operating trust departments are welcoming this development because it fills a long-felt want, it is stated by the Trust Division of the American Bankers Association.

Despite the growing importance of American trust business in recent years examining officials have never given to trust departments the attention paid to commercial banking departments, this authority points out. Now the Federal Reserve System, in conjunction with the Comptroller of the Currency, has undertaken to bring the examination of trust departments up to the level of commercial bank examinations, it says.

Experts in trust work are being employed by the various Federal Reserve Banks. These experts will head the special staffs of trust examiners in the twelve Federal Reserve Districts. Special staffs are already at work in some of the Reserve Districts, including Boston, Atlanta, Richmond and Chicago. The Federal Reserve will examine the trust departments of state chartered members of the Reserve System.

Uniform Supervision

Meanwhile, the Comptroller of the Currency, has built up over the past two years a staff of special examiners for the trust departments of national banks. All national banks are members of the Federal Reserve System. Since nearly all state-chartered trust institutions are members of the Reserve System the new plan will bring about what amounts to Federal examination for the trust business.

State examining authorities probably will follow Federal supervisory policies to a considerable extent. Hence, coordination of the procedure of the national banking system and the Federal Reserve System is expected to result in a uniform system of examinations for trust departments in all banks. This in turn should produce considerable standardization in the operation of trust departments, the division declares.

PUBLIC OPINION AND THE BANKS

By F. N. SHEPHERD
Executive Manager American Bankers Association

WHILE banking today appears in a wholly distorted light in the eyes of some, the more reasoning elements in our population undoubtedly have a less jaundiced view than would appear from certain irresponsible oratora, often posing as spokesmen for that indefinite quantity called "the mass" of our people.

F. N. SHEPHERD

Anti-social acts on the part of some bankers formerly have been the subject of spectacular exposures, but I can say without reservation that they were in no way typical of the acts and attitudes of the vast majority of their fellow bankers. The public mind was shocked into the belief that these untypical instances were far more representative than they really were, and this belief has been encouraged by political and demagogic elements.

The Bankers Today

The bankers who are in charge of our banks today represent men who withstood the temptations and avoided the economic pitfalls of the great boom. If they had not they would not be there, or their banks would not have been able to survive the rack and ruin of the economic hurricane, by which even many banks and bankers whose conduct was above reproach, have been destroyed. The other types of bankers, those that fell below the high standards of professional ethics and business prudence that characterized those that remain, have passed out of the picture. But they have left for those that remain a difficult heritage of suspicion and ill will.

How irrational this is, when we reflect that not more than three or four per cent of our entire population suffered personal loss because of what any banker did or neglected to do, whereas literally millions of bank depositors did not lose a single cent as a result of banking difficulties and really owe a vote of confidence and thanks to their own bankers who were true to the highest conceptions of their stewardship and brought their institutions and their customers safely through the greatest business disaster the world has ever seen. It has been a peculiar feature of the psychological distortion of the times that many who owe nothing but gratitude to their bankers joined in blaming the banker far out of proportion with any rational consideration of the facts.

Although the summer has not officially arrived, she is heralded by many foods which are true summer crops. Early peaches are in market, plums and apricots are plentiful. Big, dark Bing cherries are attractive in price as well as appearance. Tomatoes of fine quality are abundant and cheap enough to bake or broil as well as to use in salads.

Cantaloupes, honeydew, honeyballs and watermelon are all available and seem cooling on hot days.

Green and wax beans, spinach and cabbage are as cheap as they ever get.

This is the time to stock supply shelf and refrigerator with picnic foods — including relishes, canned meats, fish and milks, peanut butter, cheeses and salad dressing. Lemons, lettuce and eggs will also be needed.

JURY DISAGREES IN $50,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Discharged Last Wednesday Night After Failure to Reach Verdict

Failing to agree on a verdict in the $50,000 damage suit of Charles E. and Myrtle C. Weast of Washington, D. C., against Dr. F. F. McMillan, local physician, a circuit court jury was discharged at 10 o'clock last Wednesday night by Judge Parm t. Gilbert. The jury had been out eight hours.

The case, which opened Monday morning at an adjourned session of the regular May court term, resulted from an operation performed on Mrs. Weast by Dr. D. H. Duffy of Central Lake on September 2, 1931. Dr. McMillan assisted on the case, anministering the anesthetic. It was the contention of the plaintiff's that when Dr. Duffy was unexpectedly called to Grand Rapids without leaving instructions, that Dr. McMillan should have immediately taken over the care of the case on his own initiative, and, through his failure to do so, Mrs. Weast suffered a permanent disability.

Dr. Duffy, threatened with a similar suit, made a settlement out of court two years ago in the amount of $3,500. Whether a motion for new trial will be asked is not known.

Fletcher will speak on the afternoon of July 7. Platform guests with Fletcher will include Michigan's four Republican governors and Frank D. Fitzgerald, G.O.P. candidate for governor.

A state central committee meeting has been called for Friday, July 6, at 3 p. m. by Howard C. Lawrence, state Republican chairman. This meeting will fix the dates of the state and county conventions and pick the time and place for the fall session and be open to discussion concerning fall campaign procedure.

THREE AMENDMENTS WILL BE VOTED ON

This Many, At Least, Before Electors in November

Three constitutional amendments, at least, will be submitted to Michigan voters at the general election, November 6. A total of 161,627 signatures is needed to qualify for a place on the ballot containing the proposed amendments. The final date for filing is July 6.

First on the ballot will be the proposal to elect all Michigan judges on separate non-partisan ballots. If the amendment is approved by the voters, all judicial elections ranging from the supreme court to municipal courts, will be removed from partisan elections.

The second proposal, if approved, would make it impossible for any future legislature to increase automobile weight taxes above 35 cents per hundredweight. This is the amount now collected by the state under the law passed by the last special session of the legislature.

The third proposal on the ballot, if approved, would reduce the gasoline tax from 3 to 2 cents a gallon, and would prevent any future legislature from increasing the tax.

"The Merry Frinks" Make Merry Fun at Palace Theatre

Manager Elizabeth Moon of the Palace theatre promises the biggest laugh of the season when "The Merry Frinks," a First National comedy, opens Friday.

Contest Stars Persist, Gain Marine Roles

Perseverance of two husky lads who failed to land contracts after being brought to Hollywood to appear in Paramount's "Search for Beauty" was rewarded when both were given roles in "Come On Marines!", coming on Sunday and Monday to the Palace theatre.

"Registered Nurse" Presents Romantic Side of Hospitals

"Registered Nurse," the First National picture which comes to the Palace theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, is said to be a romantic drama of hospital life with an entirely new twist. Based on the story by Florence Johns and Wilton Lackaye, Jr., it deals with the love life of the nurses and doctors in a great metropolitan hospital rather than with the more sombre or technical side of such an institution.

Exceptional Cast in "Bedside" Is Headed by Warren William

A cast of exceptional brilliance will be seen in the more important roles of the First National picture, "Bedside," when it is shown on the screen of the Palace theatre next Thursday. Warren William, remembered for his excellent work in "Goodbye Again," "Gold Diggers of 1933," "Mind Reader" and other screen attractions, has the leading masculine role, that of a young medical student whose propensity for wine, women and cards leads to his expulsion from school and his subsequent setting up in practice sans the usual diplomn.

SALES NEAR DOUBLE FOR DODGE DEALERS

Report for June Shows Decided Increase in Deliveries

Retail deliveries of passenger cars and trucks by Dodge dealers recorded another increase for the week ending June 9, according to the latest of the weekly tabulations issued by the office of A. vanDerZee, general sales manager of Dodge Brothers corporation.

Dodge sales executives regard the figures with satisfaction, because it is obvious that the published price adjustments reducing the base price of the Dodge line to $645 f. o. b. factory occurred too recently to have become a decisive factor in quickening the pulse of retail buying.

During the period from January 1 to June 9 of this year, Dodge dealers delivered 103,705 vehicles, as against 54,304 sold during the corresponding period of 1933, the increase in favor of 1934 being 91 per cent. Included in the year-to-date total of 103,705 retail deliveries are 41,078 sales of Plymouths, which are also marketed by Dodge dealers.

PUSHING COUNTY FIGHT ON HOPPER BY USING POISON

A campaign against grasshoppers by poison which should thoroughly cover all affected areas in Charlevoix county has been put under way by County Agricultural Agent B. C. Mellencamp.

Every rural mail box has received a letter from the county seat asking the amount of poison needed to cover the grasshopper area on his farm. Return information is expected immediately and this information will be assembled and the poison allocated accordingly.

Reports from the rural areas indicate that the grasshoppers are developing rapidly and a few days of hot weather will bring forth the pests in great numbers. It is hoped that the poison can be applied before the insects mature sufficiently to leave the June grass areas where they are hatching.

WHEAT CHECKS ACT AS CROP INSURANCE

Payments Based Upon Past Production, Not Reduced by Low Yields

Benefit payments for reductions in the production of wheat will act as crop insurance for all farmers who have contracts because these payments are made on the basis of past average production instead of the yield of this year's crop, according to Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

The second payment on the wheat contracts, which originally was to be eight cents a bushel, has now been increased to nine cents a bushel. This will bring the total of the second payment to farmers in the United States to more than $30,000,000. Michigan farmers will receive $264,000 as their share.

BAD WEATHER TESTS VALUE OF ALFALFA

This Legume Has Proved Lifesaver for Michigan Livestock

Alfalfa again proved that it is the most dependable forage crop for Michigan, when the thousands of fields in this state came through the recent drought in fair condition and with vitality enough to promise well for a second crop, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

On some of the lighter Michigan soils, alfalfa is practically the only forage or meadow crop which will return a fair amount of livestock feed. Yields will be lower for alfalfa than last year but the quantity of hay to be harvested in 1934 will still be greater than would be obtained from any other hay in a normal year. Injuries to alfalfa from late frosts in 1934 were greater than the damage done by lack of rain.

FINDS ABNORMAL DEPTH IN CHARLEVOIX HARBOR

In making soundings of the harbor and Lake Charlevoix channel the United States survey boat Perry has found the depth at the harbor entrance to be 17 feet. The depth is abnormal in the spring, especially with the low lake levels prevailing, but it is believed due to the lake's having been frozen solid last winter.

The Peary will chart a new channel passage near Grays Reef lightship which will be replaced by a lighthouse in the near future. The crib work for the substructure is under construction at St. Ignace. With completion of this lighthouse and that at Manitou Shoals the east side of Lake Michigan will see the passing of lightships into history.

SIX MEN PAID FINES TUESDAY FOR FISHING LAW VIOLATIONS

Six game law violators, apprehended by Conservation Officers C. W. Bonney and Ed. Deuell, pleaded guilty and were assessed fine and costs of $11.85 each in Justice Emeril Hierlihy's court at Bellaire, Tuesday.

The violators were Kenneth Parks and Eugene Smith of Alba, Ed. Hebden and William Hebden of Central Lake, Charles and Edward Weisler of Bellaire. They were arrested June 17th at Six Mile lake for possession of blue gills out of season and the two Weislers were fishing without a license.

Economical Refrigeration!

Econom-icer re-ices 100 lbs. in one piece without removal of old ice or whether or not melted level. In Econom-icer level melting is of no concern, nor is irregularity due to chipping of ice for table use. In Econom-icer there is no danger of ice falling out the front door when opened. Once a piece of ice is placed in the ice chamber it drops behind the door sill onto the front slope of the hopper which feeds it back centrally in the hopper. The hopper type ice chamber automatically centers the new ice charge, spacing it away from end walls as well as front and back of the ice chamber.

Econom-icer temperatures are consistently uniform down to the last few pounds of ice, due to its high air velocity over a relatively small fixed area of ice exposed in the bottom of its hopper type ice chamber. All temperatures can be held down under 50° at 90° room temperature. They average 44°-46° at 75° room temperature. The average ice meltage is about 15 lbs. daily at 70° and 27 lbs. daily at 90° room temperature.

Econom-icer will run 4-8 days on one ice charge and gives a 2-day leeway for re-icing from the time it can be re-iced until the time when it needs to be re-iced. (Authentic test data available to those interested).

Econom-icer is first to appreciate the advantages well known in commercial refrigeration, of air ventilation space under food placed on the floor as an aid in purifying and cooling the air and food.

Econom-icer insulation averages 2½". Enough for good overall economy but not so much as to kill air circulation with its beneficial unloading of food odors. A reasonable amount of ice must be melted to absorb and carry away food odors. The basic insulation is a 2" sealed slab of Dry-Zero (to save freight and delivery costs) sealed with an asphalt flange over the outside of the refrigerator frame. This is re-enforced with Insulite board where additional structural rigidity is desired such as the top, back, and inside ends. Doors are 3" thick and honestly insulated without air spaces.

THERE ARE PLENTY OF "BIG ONES" IN MICHIGAN WATERS

But fishing is only one of the varied attractions Michigan offers vacationists. The Great Lakes themselves, and 5000 inland lakes and streams, present opportunity for almost every known water sport. And for those whose chief interest is golf, tennis, riding or other land sports, Michigan is an unexcelled playground.

Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out-of-state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.

SAFEGUARDS FOR MILKING UTENSILS

Home-Made Solutions That Do Work Well.

Chemical solutions for sterilizing milking machine teat cups and tubes may be made satisfactorily at home and much cheaper than they can be bought, says Special Bulletin No. 138, issued by the agricultural extension division at Minnesota University Farm. This bulletin, entitled "Care of the Milking Machine," gives directions for making and using about a half dozen of these solutions and also discusses other important points on the care of milking machines.

One of the common solutions used is calcium hydrochlorite made by mixing 12 ounces of fresh chloride of lime with a gallon of fresh cold water. This should be done in a 2-gallon covered crock, by first adding just enough water to the chloride of lime to make a paste. This should be stirred well and the rest of the water added. The mixture should be allowed to stand over night in a cool place. A clear green-ish-colored liquid, which will appear above the precipitated lime, is the part to be used. This liquid should be poured off carefully, siphoned off, or filtered through a fine muslin or strainer cloth. For use, one quart should be mixed with 20 gallons of water.

This home made solution, says the bulletin, is just as effective as the commercial hypochlorite solutions and chlorazine powders and costs very much less.

Pinto Beans Substitute for Cottonseed Meal

By feeding locally grown pinto beans in place of cottonseed meal in his grain ration for dairy cows, M. C. Jones, Parker (Colo.) dairyman, obtained good results.

Only 6 to 7 per cent of the ration consisted of split beans when he first started feeding them. He gradually increased the amount of beans as the cows became accustomed to them, to 20 per cent by weight, according to a report by A. H. Tedmon, Arapahoe county extension agent, to the Colorado Agricultural college.

The other 80 per cent of the ration was made up of a mixture of equal parts of corn, oats and wheat.

"The cows like the beans as soon as they are used to them," says Tedmon. "Beans will thus replace cottonseed meal and help cheapen the ration especially when you have the beans to save to buy the meal."

Costly to Feed Lice

With present prices for milk, no one can afford to feed lice which may be infesting his dairy cows. In fact, it is not necessary to put up with [illegible] attention given at the right time in the right way will control them.

There are three kinds of lice commonly found on cattle. One type is known as blue lice which get their food by sucking blood. Then there is a smaller family of red lice which feed on skin and secretions from the skin and cause severe irritation. Another one, sometimes spoken of as gray lice, also sucks blood.

There are a number of treatments which can be given for lice. One is to spray thoroughly every ten days with a non-irritating animal spray prepared for this purpose. It is recommended that buildings, stalls, and other places also be sprayed to kill any that may have left the cattle and will if the weather is cool remain left in the stable until they are [illegible]—Atlantic Agriculturist.

"Changing Britain," as Seen by German Writer

I have the impression that the phrase "changing England," or, better yet, "changing British empire," really [illegible] good, for a great transformation has begun whose end no one can foresee.

At the beginning of the World war, Bernard Shaw said that it was terrible [illegible] to hammer a new idea into the heads of the English, but that it was utterly impossible to dislodge an idea once it had entered there. It was years before England recognized the significance of the decision it had made when it declared war and came to understand that things would never take care of themselves again in accordance with the old-fashioned belief to that defect.

In like night years to understand that the end of the war did not mean a return to prewar conditions. Things were allowed to proceed of their own accord, and at first they went well enough, but presently they began going from bad to worse, yet nobody grew excited. Up to a year ago most people believed that time would adjust everything, and only a few private individuals or politicians thought that radical measures were necessary or even desirable.

Now, however, opinion has altered fundamentally, and the English no longer say: "It will all come right in the end," but, "Something has got to be done." This is a vague enough conviction, to be sure, but it signifies a tremendous change. England has a new idea in its head, and Shaw knows his fellow countrymen.—Paul Cohen-Portheim in the Tageluch, Berlin.

Special Feeding Place Assists Little Pigs

Little pigs should have a special feeding place from which the sows are excluded. This special pen, called a creep, need not be elaborate. It should always be clean. It is easily provided, inexpensive, and is a very desirable feature of swine raising equipment. It may be the alley or an extra pen in the hoghouse, or can be made of woven wire fence set around four posts in pasture.

A creep should be so located that the little pigs can run in and out at will, helping themselves to shelled corn, ground oats, from which the hulls have been sifted, or middlings. These feeds may be provided in feeders or low troughs. A fairly thick slop of middlings and milk may be fed. Either skim milk or buttermilk may be used. Frequent changes from sweet to sour milk should be avoided. Troughs should be kept clean.

Feeding nursing pigs in creeps, says Mark A. McCarty of the animal husbandry division of the University of Minnesota, lightens the load on the sow in the latter part of the nursing period, brings the suckling pigs along rapidly and uniformly, and makes weaning a very simple matter. At weaning time the sows will not be so run down, but will be ready in a short time for market.

Pasture for Hogs

There is not a great deal of profit in pork raising if the breeder does not use some good green pasture during the spring, summer and fall. Costs can also be reduced by feeding some good legume hay such as alfalfa during the winter months. Hogs can be produce 15 per cent more cheaply when the grain ration is supplemented with forage crops than by the dry lot feeding method. This percentage is often the difference between profit and loss in swine raising.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

The Pre-School Round-Up

"Everywhere I go I hear about the pre-school round-up," Dr. Rachel Ash reported to Hygeia, the health magazine edited by the American Medical association. Much of the comment is favorable, but every now and then you hear a Mrs. Smith—there are many Mrs. Smiths—question the value of pre-school health examinations.

To Check Defects Among Pre-school Children

However, Mrs. Smith forgets that mothers are often too close to their children to notice any deviation from health to sickness. Dr. Ash suggests: "Even the most devoted mother may not notice any modification in the health of her child, whereas the trained eye of a physician may detect a pallor that should not exist, an expression of fatigue, a slight stoop of the shoulder and protusion of the abdomen, or an early flatfoot in a stage at which correction is simple.

The particular Mrs. Smith in Dr. Ash's story learned why her daughter continually tilted her head and also why it was advisable to have a cavity in a baby tooth immediately taken care of by the dentist.

Pre-school round-ups are available for the children in district health unit No. 3. These are usually carried on in cooperation with the local parent-teachers' association, and if any P. T. A. has not made arrangements for a pre-school round-up in your community, they should immediately get in touch with Miss Winnifred A. Golley, R.N., Charlevoix county nurse, Charlevoix, Michigan.

FORD REDUCE PRICE ON ALL CAR MODELS

First Change Since Introduction of Ford V-8 Models

Reductions of $10 to $15 in list prices of 1934 Ford V-8 passenger cars and $10 to $20 in list prices of Ford V-8 commercial cars and trucks were announced last week by the Ford Motor company effective Friday, June 15.

Ford prices had remained unchanged since the introduction of the 1934 Ford V-8 last December, the Ford Motor company not having participated in the recent general automotive price increase. The reductions announced are, therefore, a decrease in the original prices.

The price reduction on the standard and de luxe Tudor sedans, most popular individual models in point of sales, is $15. Prices of other standard and de luxe body types were reduced $10 except prices of the Roadster, Phaeton and Cabriolet, de luxe types, which remain unchanged. Both standard and de luxe passenger cars have the same V-8 engine and 112 inch wheelbase chassis. Body types for both are identical except for the de luxe equipment.

JORDAN RIVER PRODUCES TWO PRIZE WINNING BROOK TROUT

To the Jordan went the honor of furnishing the two prize winning speckled trout in the Grand Rapids Herald state-wide contest, which closed May 10th.

Dorrance Peck caught one May 1st which dressed 2 lbs. 14 oz., was 19 inches long and had a girth of 11 inches. This trout was caught off the long bridge at the south end of Manhattan, in Sportsmen's park here. Mr. Peck was awarded first place in the "brook trout caught on bait" class. He used a minnow for bait. He has his choice of a Paff reflex camera, donated by the Camera Shop, Grand Rapids, or a Cadillac fly line from Ed. Henning's, Newaygo.

Dr. Fairchild, who lives in Detroit, landed his big speckled, about a mile up the river from town. His fish weighed 3 lbs. 8 ozs. dressed, measured 20½ inches in length, with a girth of 12 inches. Dr. Fairchild took the grand prize in the "caught on fly only" class. Using a Beaverkill fly for lure. He receives three dozen dry flys and three dozen wet flys, from the Robey Tackle Co., Inc.

Both of the fish are entered in the Detroit Free Press state-wide contest which closes September 3rd. Last year the Jordan placed two winners in the Rainbow division of the Detroit contest, and this year it is hoped it will furnish a couple of prize winning speckled.—Charlevoix County Herald.

Dairy Herd Improvement Association Plans to Continue in N. Michigan

The annual meeting of the membership of the Northwestern Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement association was held last Wednesday night in the Boyne City federal building. The members expressed a keen desire to see the association continue for another year with Kirkpatrick as tester. Several of the members spoke of their experiences in cow test work and of the value they had gotten out of it.

Walter Kirkpatrick gave a splendid report of last year's results. The high cow in the association was a two-year-old who made 502 lbs. of butterfat, a remarkable production for an animal that age. Furthermore, 11 herds had exceeded 300 pounds of fat per cow for the year. The high herd averaged 441 pounds of fat. At a later time, a detailed report will be given of the fine results.

A feature of the meeting was a talk by A. C. Baltzer, dairy extension specialist, on milk and its value. He used a milk kit to illustrate the food substances contained in a gallon of milk. He spoke of the cow test activities in Michigan, showing that dairymen could well afford to test their cows in these present conditions.

It is hoped that four or five dairymen in Charlevoix county will join the association this year. It is planned to have the district include the Traverse City area and to extend north to Mackinaw City. This makes the largest district of any in the state of Michigan and includes in its membership the best herds in this section. Watch the papers for the summary in the very near future.

Fruit Meetings Attracted Fine Interest—D. H. Hootman Speaker

The two fruit meetings held last week Wednesday emphasized the fact that the fruit production in Charlevoix county has been more seriously damaged than any other section in the state. A very accurate survey can be made of the prospects as all sections of the county were represented as well as all the phases of fruit production in the county.

The field meeting held at the Evefire Orchard attracted over 40 fruit growers. In regard to sour cherries, the common estimate of the various orchards reporting, was from 10 to 15 per cent of the crop. It is quite safe to say that the sour cherries will not be over 20 per cent of a normal crop this year. In regard to sweet cherries, there is only one orchard in the county that reports having even a light production and in many cases, the trees themselves are dying. Raspberry production will likewise be very light, many farmers not having over 10 to 15 per cent and the least injured, probably, not over 50 to 60 per cent. In regard to apples, about the same situation exists, many varieties not bearing fruit this year and considerable damage to the trees themselves as a result of last year's dry weather and last winter's low temperatures.

During the day seven orchards were visited in addition to the meetings and it was found in some that many trees are so severely injured that in all probability, they will pass out of the picture this summer. This condition does not exist in all of the orchards, many coming through in splendid shape. Mr. Hootman advised the fruit men not to prune this year but rather to wait and see just how the trees will recuperate. He advised carrying on a good spraying program to protect the trees from losing their leaves which would be a serious problem.

Mr. Hootman reports that the sour cherry crop in New York is somewhat greater than last year and that south of Oceana county, there will be a larger cherry crop than last year, all of which indicates that the price of cherries will not materially advance and that Charlevoix county is placed in a tough spot, being faced with a very small production of fruit without the higher prices to offset the little yield.

What may mean serious damage, is the first appearance of the army worm after an absence of many years. They were first noticed on Friday, June 15th, crossing the road opposite the Graham Brothers farm. By the following day they had completely riddled two or three acres of corn and a small field of barley nearby.

They migrated from a hay field and already have marched in all four directions. These worms start in a given direction and nothing stops them. This fact accounts for the name, army worm, as when they are moving they cover the ground and devour everything in sight.

The most effective control measures are the use of poison bait, spraying anad making plow furrows, the latter is the best as these army worms come to the edge of the furrow, drop in and then have great difficulty in climbing out. An area of 30 to 35 acres has already been surrounded by furrows and the neighbors in this vicinity are doing their utmost to keep the damage restricted to this area. Farmers should be on the lookout for the worms. In case a large number are found, kindly contact your county agent at once as there is no insect pest that can do more damage than the army worm and quick control measures have to be practiced or they will over-run the country. These are a species of cut worm and look very similar to the cut worm, but their habit of migration readily distinguishes them from the common pest.

Sunlight Affects Flavor

A tallowy or even a burnt flavor in milk about which housewives in Chicago and other cities recently have been complaining may be caused by nothing more than leaving the milk exposed to light, according to P. H. Tracy, assistant chief in dairy manufactures at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

Milk users who take advantage of natural refrigeration during the winter months and leave bottles of milk standing in windows or unprotected out of doors are likely to find that the flavor is impaired, he said.

"Either direct sunlight or diffused light when permitted to pass into milk through colorless glass hurts the flavor. Permitting the bottle of milk to remain in the sunlight even for 30 minutes may cause the milk to acquire a tallowy flavor sometimes described as a "cappy," or pasteboard, taste. If the milk is allowed to remain in the sun long enough a distinct burnt flavor will predominate.—Exchange.

PENNY WISE

We believe the movement to limit by constitutionnl amendment the Michigan gasoline tax to two cents per gallon is entirely unsound. The claim that excessive gasoline taxes are keeping 300,000 motor cars off the road is a gross distortion of fact.

Actually the three cent tax here in Michigan is below average. The state is one of twelve which levy this rate and only four charge less. Five states have four cent taxes, ten charge five cents, five others six cents, one state six and one-half cents and two others seven cents. So Michigan motorists enjoy one of the most reasonable gas tax rates in the entire country.

Although some states permit a diversion of gas tax money for purposes other than highway construction and maintenance, such is not the case here. Motor taxes are devoted to roads exclusively. The gas tax in Michigan is entirely just. Funds derived from it are now even finding their way to the improvement of township roads thereby providing even the remotest of farms with a hard surfaced connection to a main highway. This type of construction would have to be abandoned if the gas tax were lowered and yet the annual saving to farmers in fuel bills, wear and tear on equipment would at least equal the few dollars saved by lopping off one cent from the gas tax—very probably would save them considerably more.

It is pure huncombe to contend that a difference of one cent in the gas tax is keeping thousands of motorists from the road. Gasoline prices fluctuate more than this without any noticeable effect on the buying. A motorists who cannot afford to pay 20 cents per gallon for gasoline cannot be expected to become a heavy user of the highways if the price through a reduction in the gas tax is reduced to 19 cents.

A reduction of one cent in the gas tax will mean an annual saving of from $4.00 to $8.00 a year for the average motorist. But the price of this saving will be cutting highway revenues to such a low figure that roads cannot be adequately maintained. Poor roads mean lower mileage per gallon, less speed and greater wear and tear on the car. By cutting the gas one cent, we would be spending dollars to save dimes.

It is perfectly correct to place some sort of constitutional limit on the gas tax for purposes of safeguarding the interests of the motorist, but that limit in our opinion should be four cents or even five cents, not two cents.—Hastings Banner.

WHEN PATRIOTS MARCH.

You recall the words of the ancient Civil war marching song: "We're coming, Father Abraham, a hundred thousand strong." Within a few weeks the nation will witness another hundred thousand or more patriots marching, not to the strains of martial music in defense of the Republic, but to the noise of lusty clouting on the national pork barrel as they take up the big task of recording an agricultural-unemployment census during the fall just prior to the congressional elections. By a vote of 218 to 145 congress appropriated ten million dollars of the taxpayers' money for what has been denounced by members of both parties as the most outrageous raid ever made on the public treasury. But such hypocrisy will deceive nobody. Buying congressional votes in such wholesale fashion should be severely rebuked by the American people.

EXPENSIVE RELIEF

Remember how in the old days if you wished to speak in complimentary terms of a man's financial character, you said: "He's as good as wheat!" We don't hear the expression being used any more, that is, not since the government went into the uplifting business. Although the harvest will be the shortest in years, farmers will receive a low price due to Uncle Sam's market rigging operations. An authority has given as his opinion that the wheat farmer is paying an average of 50 cents a bushel for his relief. It might better have been left to nature and the old-fashioned law of supply and demand.

Most Amazing Proof

OF EXTRA STRENGTH · SAFETY AND DEPENDABILITY

Ever Known!

WORLD RECORD BROKEN!

It is almost inconceivable that human ingenuity could build tires that would withstand the terrific punishment of the 500-mile grind at Indianapolis, May 30.

'Round and 'round the blistering track they streaked, hour after hour, under the blazing sun . . . the low moan of powerful motors rose to a terrific roar as they hit the straightaways at 150 miles or better—grinding, pulling, pounding around treacherous tire-destroying curves faster than they ever dared before. Sliding into the turns at these terrific speeds, there was nothing to hold the car to the track except the tire.

Mile after mile, lap after lap, greater and greater heat and increased centrifugal force developed to separate the tread from the body of the tire. Every conceivable force known was working to tear the tires to pieces—yet Firestone High Speed Tires, with Gum-Dipped High Stretch Cords, withstood this most gruelling test.

Thirty-three demons of speed—thirty-three cars equipped with Firestone High Speed Tires—all protected by Gum-Dipped High Stretch Cords—entered the Annual Speed Classic. Every tire was bought by the driver or owner of the car.

In all the heat—in all the grinding—in all the straining and pulling — not one cotton strand loosened — not one life was endangered by tire failure—not one car was forced out of the race by tire trouble. Six of the winners finished without a tire change.

What a tribute to the Extra Strength—Safety and Durability built into Firestone High Speed Tires.

WHAT THIS MEANS TO YOU

The amazing record of Firestone dependability at Indianapolis was made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping. Every fiber of every cord in every ply of the tire is saturated and coated with pure liquid rubber; there are eight extra pounds of rubber to every 100 pounds of cotton cords.

There is greater adhesion between the plies of the Gum-Dipped Cord body and between the body and the tread. As a result of this patented process of Gum-Dipping Firestone engineers have been able to build a wider tread of flatter contour, with more and tougher rubber and deeper non-skid, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Don't delay! Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store in your community today and equip your car with the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934. Drive with security and peace of mind.

CHILDREN'S DAY WAS OBSERVED AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Last Sunday was observed as Children's day at the Congregational church and the younger members of the Sunday school had a part in the morning service at 11 o'clock.

The 121st psalm was recited in unison by the school and the juniors sang "This Is My Father's World." There were several recitations and a department song by the primary children.

Promotion exercises were a feature of the program. The five primary classes "passed through the gates" to the next higher class after reciting the required memory work.

Promotion certificates and Bibles were presented to 11 children who had completed the primary work and were eligible to enter the junior department, viz.: Wanda Adams, Chas. Bergman, Eugene Bergman, Davida Blake, Elizabeth Ann Hicken, Jack Kemp, John Swanson, Clair Webster, Jr., Marilyn Withers, Marjorie Woods and Mary Wyers.

Seven were promoted by certificate from the junior to intermediate department, viz.: Martha Craig, Betty Dean, Patty Lou Hyers, Helena Isaksen, Georgie King, Dorothy Powers, Marielle VanAllsburg. All had written essays on the Life of Christ as one of the requirements of promotion. The junior boys who were eligible to promotion had been granted permission to remain another year in the department until the younger members of their class can pass on with them.

Eight children were presented by their parents for baptism. The pastor gave a short talk to parents using three texts. One from Proverbs 22:6. Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it. Another from 2 Timothy 3:15. From a child thou hast known the holy scripture. The last from Ephesians 6:4. And ye fathers provoke not your children to wrath but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

All attention in county Legion circles is turning towards the Fourth of July celebration in East Jordan and the big sham battle. Members of Lesbe T. Shapton post are urged to turn out in strength for this event and as many as have uniforms should wear them or bring them so someone else can wear them in the battle. About fifteen men in uniform will be needed to put on this spectacle properly, although that will not be the entire force.

The post bugle and drum corps meets next Tuesday night for drill and practice. The post will go into a huddle at this meeting over ways and means of providing funds for uniforms for the corps so that its members may present a proper appearance at the department convention in Traverse City, on September 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Legion membership in this post has now passed the hundred mark and there are still eligible ex-service men who have not as yet been brought into the fold. This post is in line for the "Most Outstanding Achievement" citation, awarded by the Michigan department to those posts that, for the year 1934, have exceeded the past ten year or life of the post membership record made by each post. Antrim county post at BeHaire will also receive this award.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Next Sunday morning we will resume the series of sermons on "Grace." The sub-title will be "Life Under Grace." Judging from conversations with many people, the question more often asked is: "How can one be sure what he should or should not do?" Our sermons for the next few Sundays will answer that question. One will receive a better understanding if he will attend quite regularly.

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 24.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Amos 4:13): "For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts is his name."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.547): "Material evolution implies that the great First Cause must become material, and afterward must either return to Mind or go down into dust and nothingness. Inspired thought relinquishes a material, sensual, and mortal theory of the universe, and adopts the spiritual and immortal."

FETE LOCAL WOMAN ON 90TH BIRTHDAY

ELIZABETH WHITNEY WILLIAMS HONORED GUEST

Retired Lighthouse Keeper, Author and Husband Entertain Guests With Old-Time Music.

Elizabeth Whitney Williams, retired lighthouse keeper, author of the book, "Child of the Sea, and Life Among the Mormons," and believed to be Northern Michigan's oldest native-born resident, celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary Sunday at her home on Mason street.

Friends from far and near gathered to congratulate the aged and beloved woman. From Beaver Island where Mrs. Williams spent much of her early life and was lighthouse keeper many years, came James H. Gallagher and daughters, Edith and Clara. Mr. Gallagher, son of the late "Bowery" Bill Gallagher of Beaver Island fame, was not yet born when Mrs. Williams, a close friend of his father's family, lived on the island, nor were the granddaughters of "Bowery" Bill. They brought a beautiful birthday cake.

Another birthday cake was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. John McCann and daughter, Mrs. Irene Seymour of this city. Many other gifts, cards of congratulation, flowers, etc., were presented Mrs. Williams.

During the afternoon and evening Mrs. Williams and her husband, Dan, now 84, entertained 20 guests with old-time music and old-fashioned dances. The celebration was a gala event, and the couple, despite their advanced years, proved as popular entertainers as they were in the early pioneer days of this region.

While at Beaver Island, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams was the gathering place for old and young alike. Mrs. Williams owned one of the first organs ever brought to this region and she played it proficiently. Mr. Williams is a fiddler of the old school. Musicians were few and far apart in those early days—thus the William's were extremely popular and greatly in demand as entertainers.

Led Early Dance

Mr. Williams, when a lad of 12 years, played for the first Masonic dancing party held in northern Michigan. That was at Cheboygan, in 1863. His father's home was one of the eight residences making up that village. Mackinac Island was the leading trade center of the north, but there were other small settlements located at sheltered harbors along the coast. From these points the revellers gathered for the Masonic party and in every instance they came by boat. Williams was gotten out of bed and that night sat in his bare feet to furnish music for the dancers.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams often tell [illegible] Fourth of July party they played for on Beaver Island. St. James was a lively place in those days. The big independence celebration had been advertised far and near.— People came from villages along the Wisconsin shore, from lake ports in the upper peninsula, from Pine River, (now Charlevoix), and other scattered points. The William's started playing at 7:30 in the evening and the dance didn't break up until 10:30 the following morning. During a free-for-all fight between fishermen from the north shore and

STATE BANK LEAPS ANOTHER HURDLE IN REORGANIZATION

Archie L. Livingston, conservator of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, has announced that another hurdle in the bank's reorganization plan has been accomplished.

Early this week the required 75 per cent of waivers of commercial and savings deposits was received and efforts are now bent toward raising the necessary capital stock for the re-organized institution. This step is necessary before a court hearing for permission to re-open the bank may be held.

Mr. Livingston stated that a certain amount of stock in the proposed new bank is being offered to depositors and intimated that before the re-organization plan is completed it would probably be necessary for depositors to subscribe.

Inasmuch as the obtaining of waivers is considered one of the difficult steps in reorganization, officials of the institution feel they are making excellent progress.

a group of Beaver Islanders, all the windows and doors in the place were broken out, but still the dance went on.

Oldest Natives

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are believed the oldest native residents of northern Michigan. Both were born at Mackinac Island, the former in 1851 and the latter in 1845. Mrs. Williams' father, Walter Whitney, a ship builder, was born in New York state, served in the Seminole wars and later settled at Mackinac Island, where he married her mother, who lived to be one hundred. Mrs. Whitney was born on the island, of British parents, her father having been an officer in the garrison there.

When Mrs. Williams was a child her family lived on various islands, their habitation being determined by the work her father could find as a shipbuilder. Thus, at the age of four years, she went with them to Beaver Island, arriving there soon after "King" James J. Strang established his Mormon colony. There

OOG NUISANCE TO BE GIVEN ACTION

COUNCIL VOTES TO ENFORCE REGULATING ORDINANCE

Proposal to Purchase More Bridge Street Property for Parking Brings Heated Discussion

A lengthy discussion, heated at intervals, resulted at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening when the proposition to make additional purchase of property on the east side of Bridge street for parking purposes was brought up.

Alderman Kibbe was practically alone in opposing the plan, centering his attack not so much against the merits of the proposition, as against the inadvisability of acting at the present time in view of a shortage of city funds.

The plan of acquiring property and parking the east side of Bridge street was originally started under ex-Mayor Arthur Bergeon. It has been brought up from time to time since without any action and has now finally reached a head with the offer of options on the Washburn property and a 40-foot lot owned by Ayres Boal in the block between Clinton and Mason streets. A large number of progressive citizens, realizing the success of a resort town depends upon its scenic appeal to tourists, are in favor of the parking plan.

The ultimate result of Monday night's discussion was exceptance of the 60-day option on the Ayres Boal property. The vote was 5 to 1, Alderman Kibbe opposing. Councilmen voting in favor stressed the point their action would notify the public of their intention and thus open the way for any and all objections citizens of the city have toward the proposition. In fact, taxpayers are invited to attend pending council meetings to voice their opinions.

Chief of Police Charles Jefferies appeared before the council with a request for additional summer patrolmen and, acting upon this request, Mayor See appointed Clarence Heise and Clarence Coblentz. The council confirmed the appointments.

Applications for beer licenses by O. Gatti of the Colonial Club, and James Bracken were approved.

The council authorized advertising for bids for bonds of the Newman-Sheridan street sewer district No. 46, a sanitary project recently approved for the city.

Another step toward the completion of the proposed sewage disposal system, a PWA project which has been

The Charlevoix Indians met defeat again last Sunday at the Legion diamonds, losing 6 to 5 to Mancelona in a close contest.

Sexton and Wood were the winning battery, and Lockridge and Lord the losers. Jim Marsh, center fielder for the Indians, played well, making some spectacular tries and four hits in five times at bat. Zimmerman gave a good performance at third base.

The Indians meet the Petoskey Legionnaires at the south side park Sunday afternoon.

THE INN OPENING SET FOR SATURDAY

M. H. TURNER AND ASSOCIATES HAVE MANAGEMENT

Many Improvements and Repairs Have Been Made in Preparation for 1934 Summer Season.

The Inn, Charlevoix's largest summer hotel, will open Saturday, June 30th, for the 1934 summer season. The 1934 season will mark the second June opening since the convention of the Michigan Bankers' Association several years ago.

The Inn will again this year be under the management of M. H. Turner, owner of the Highland Pines Inn at Southern Pines, N. C. Associated with Mr. Turner in the management are William E. Flynn, Lee McDonald, Leon M. York and James T. Flynn, all members of the staff of the Highland Pines Inn.

William E. Flynn will act as resident manager; Mr. McDonald in charge of accounting; Leon M. York will again be steward; James T. Flynn, maitre d'hotel; Andrew Spence, chef de cuisine, and Ernest Maeir, chief pastry cook. Mrs. Wm. E. Flynn is again housekeeper. Nora Davis of Miami, Fla., will have charge of the beauty parlors; Maurice Schmidt the barber shop and billiard room; Emerson Hull in charge of the garage and C. Y. Marshall maintenance of grounds. Charles Evans of Southern Pines, returns as chief engineer.

The hotel with its cottages and vast acreage is being put in the usual excellent condition for the opening. The Pere Marquette Railway Company, owners of the property, have had carpenter crews making necessary repairs to the buildings, and a large staff of painters have been engaged repainting the exterior of the hotel and redecorating the interior.

The bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix, badly damaged by ice last winter, has been almost completely rebuilt.

Advance bookings are in excess of previous years, resulting in the plan to advance the opening date. All indications point to a season far more successful than in the past two years.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX TO OPEN SATURDAY

STAFF NOW HERE FOR PREPARATION, CONFERENCE

Usual Program and Some New Features to Be Offered Camper During 1934 Season

Camp Charlevoix opens Saturday morning with practically a full quota of boys. During this, its eighth year, the camp will enjoy once more its pre-depression prosperity.

Twenty members of the staff arrived Monday for four days of conference and camp preparation. Lewis C. Reimann, director, and Mrs. Reimann arrived Sunday evening. This year every member of the staff is a college graduate with one exception. It is the most mature and best trained staff Mr. Reimann has had in the history of the camp. He will be assisted in this by Herman Everhardus, the star University of Michigan halfback, who will be the athletic coach at the camp for the full season.

POLICE WARN OF SUMMER TRAMP VISITORS

Caution Local Citizens to Keep Doors and Windows Locked

Chief of Police Charles Jefferies cautions Charlevoix residents to guard against the depredations of the floating population of vagrants and tramps who are beginning to arrive in this district.

"This is the time of the year when all the floating population of the middle states starts north for the summer," the chief said. "Regardless of the vigilance of police, there are always numerous robberies at this time of year."

Chief Jefferies advises residents to take extra care and see that all doors and windows are locked during the night and when the house is not occupied. The danger is not from professional burglars, he said, but from tramps who wander into accessible places and take things easy to obtain.

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

One provision of the new financial responsibility law demands that drivers be properly licensed and a mere oversight may result in a driver being placed under the provisions of the act for a minor offense.

Very little attention has been paid in the past by motorists to the fact that the motor vehicle operators' license law requires motorists to register changes of address with the chief of police or sheriff. If this is not done, the motorist is not properly licensed.

Enforcement of the two acts is in the hands of local officials and motorists who fail to secure new licenses when the old ones expire or who fail to properly register changes of address, place themselves in danger of being compelled to furnish proof of financial responsibility.

Employes of the department of state who are members of the Michigan National Guard may attend the annual training camp at Gaylord without endangering their positions, Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald announced last week. Time spent in military service will not be considered in computing vacations.

One of the most severe "shatterproof" glass laws in the United States becomes effective in Michigan on July 1.

The law, adopted by the 1931 legislature, declares that all automobiles manufactured after July 1, 1934, and operated in Michigan must be completely equipped with shatterproof or laminated or unbreakable glass.

INSPECT CONTRACTED WHEAT ACREAGE HERE

Fred Willis Is Appointed Supervisor for Charlevoix County

(By B. C. Mellencamp.)

The next step in the wheat reduction program is that of checking the size of the contracted acres taken out of production and the size of the wheat fields in this county. The eight co-operators will be visited and the actual size of the 1934 wheat acreage will be ascertained.

Early this winter the first checks were received on the basis of 20 cents per bushel for the farm allotment which was 54 per cent of their past annual three-year average production. The last checks will be paid some time in the near future after all the fields have been checked.

The corn-hog program is at a standstill until the final allotments are received from the state office at Lansing. In fact, it has been nearly a month since our county contracts were sent in for the state analysis. It is hoped that within a few days that this data will be received by the county agent and further progress made in this program.

Cost of registering voters amounted to $302,790 while the 83 counties spent $235,849 on ballots, supplies and recounts. The department of state spent $500 in supplying the counties with official notices of the elections

Guernsey Breeders Hold Annual Meeting

The members of the Charlevoix County Guernsey Breeders association, held their annual meeting last Tuesday night in the East Jordan library. Election of officers took place, resulting in the selection of Carl Stevens, Walloon Lake, as president, Archie Murphy, East Jordan, as vice-president, Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix, secretary and treasurer, and L. J. Fineout, Boyne City, James Nice, East Jordan, and Bert Lumley, Boyne City, as the directors for a two-year term.

Considerable time was devoted to making plans for this year's activity. It was thought advisable to hold a county tour and picnic instead of the usual custom of having a county exhibit. Final details for staging this event were placed in the hands of the executive committee, co-operating with the county agricultural agent. Other matters discussed were in reference to cow test association work, proving hulls and advertising the merits of Guernsey cows throughout the section.

If you are interested in dairying, you will certainly want to spend a day on the county dairy tour and see some of the outstanding Guernsey herds in the county. At a somewhat later date, full details will be announced in regard to the county tour.

Rubber has advanced 442%! Cotton 190%! Yet you can buy this amazing new Firestone High Speed Tire at our present low prices ... and save money.

SAFEST TIRE FIRESTONE EVER BUILT

THE New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 was built to give you the same dependable service it provided for the 33 drivers who started in the torturous 500-mile grind at Indianapolis May 30.

This new tire has a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Besides being Safety Protected on the outside it is Safety Protected on the Inside. Eight additional pounds of pure rubber are absorbed by every one hundred pounds of cords.

This additional rubber is so placed that it surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply. This is accomplished by soaking the cords in liquid rubber by a Firestone patented process. This patented process, Gum-Dipping, is not used in any other tire built.

Heat caused by internal friction of cotton fibers destroys tires—causes separation and blowouts.

Gum-Dipping counteracts friction and heat—provides greater adhesion and binds the cotton and rubber together into one cohesive unit of greater strength, assuring car owners of the greatest Safety, Protection and Economy that it is possible for human ingenuity to build into a tire.

The most amazing proof of this extra strength, safety and dependability is the fact that everyone of the 33 drivers at Indianapolis chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. Race drivers KNOW tire construction—they will not risk their lives or chance of victory on any other than Firestone.

At terrific speeds the cars plunge into the treacherous turns—tires are braced against the scorching brick track—so hot the tires fairly smoke at times—they give—yield and stretch—every conceivable force works to tear the tire to pieces, yet Firestone High Speed Tires "come back" on the straightaways. Not once during the entire race did a tire fail.

Surely this is the most amazing proof ever known of Extra Strength, SAFETY and dependability. Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store nearest you TODAY. Equip your car with New Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

DOG NUISANCE TO BE GIVEN ACTION

approved and government grant allowed, was taken by the council in authorizing the mayor and clerk to enter contract with O. E. Wilbur for purchase of the plant site. The contract covering the $10,000 purchase price, calls for $200 down payment with execution of contract, $1,500 on or before August 1, 1934, and the balance in cash upon sale of bonds for construction of the sewage disposal system.

Prompted by numerous complaints of summer residents because of dogs running rabbits on resort property at night and otherwise presenting a serious nuisance, the council voted to begin at once the enforcement of a city ordinance dealing with dogs. In brief, the ordinance requires all dogs be licensed; shall not be permitted at large during certain periods without being muzzled; prohibits a person harboring a dog, which by barking, yelping or howling, causes annoyance; provides a pound in which dogs running at large contrary to the ordinance are to be impounded; provisions for disposal of impounded dogs by the pound master; penalties of fine and jail imprisonment for violations of the ordinance. In fact, the council is taking definite steps to rid the city of the dog nuisance.

The council adjourned until Wednesday evening of this week for a special session.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page.

The vacation season for housewives begins when they decide to make things as easy as possible for themselves by taking advantage of what the market affords in fruits, salad greens, vegetables, ready-to-eat meats, and packaged foods. Fruits and simple puddings can replace pies, cakes and elaborate desserts most of the time. Cold meats and salads follow well after a hot canned soup, and canned beans or spaghetti help out the luncheon or supper menu. When it is necessary to cook, choose a relatively cool day and cook foods which can be served cold a second or third day. Cheese with a fruit or vegetable salad and bread or rolls makes a simple and well-balanced meal with little trouble.

Here are three menu choices for dinner:

Low Cost Dinner

Cold Veal loaf — Potato Salad
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Fruit — Cookies
Tea or Coffee — Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Lamb Chops — Parsley Potatoes
Creamed Carrots
Bread and Butter
Melon Cup
Coffee (hot or iced) — Milk

Very Special Dinner

FOURTH OF JULY DINNER

MICHIGAN . . . THE IDEAL VACATION LAND

Out-of-state relatives and friends will thank you for suggesting a "Vacation in Michigan."

Only a few hours away from any part of the midwest, this lake-bordered state offers a reasonably priced vacation among ideal surroundings. Its lakes, streams and beaches, primeval forests and modern resorts, hospitable towns and cities and great manufacturing plants add to its charm and interest. Splendid highways and boat and rail lines make it easily accessible.

Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out-of-state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages, and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.

ARMY WORMS MAKE SERIOUS PROBLEM

NEW TERRITORY IN COUNTY BECOMES INFESTED

County Agent Mellencamp Obtains Aid of State Authorities to Curb Advance of Pests

(By B. C. Mellencamp.)

The outbreak of the army worm is one of the most serious problems ever confronting Charlevoix county.

About two weeks ago, the first damage reported was on the farm of Louis Shapton and the Graham Brothers on the Barnard road. This outbreak was controlled at the very beginning. Four or five days later, they were found to be very serious in the territory west of Ironton, seemingly, concentrating their efforts in the big wheat field owned by Arlo Wickersham. At the base of every wheat plant there were from four to a dozen of these army worms developing.

Immediately, the attention of the state authorities was called to this outbreak. Roswell G. Carr, director of rural relief, hurried to the county and visited many of the infested fields. The army worm control was then set up as a project with state funds available.

A small crew of men was sent to this wheat field and the control measures used. First: a plow furrow was made around the field and then poison bait was applied. Upon my last visit to this field, fully 75 per cent of the worms were poisoned so this outbreak has been controlled.

To make it more convenient, a mixing station has been established in Charlevoix in what was formerly known as the Johnson Blacksmith Shop. Farmers may secure their poison bait at the small cost of 10 cents per bushel from this station daily. This bait should be used on all fields where the army worm is found in large numbers. Use it at the rate of 10 to 15 pounds per acre, broadcast evenly and, of course, thinly. In fields that are being severely damaged, it is best to make one or two plow furrows around the field so that they may not migrate to new fields. Then the use of poison bait will get rid of them in one or two days and meanwhile, other fields will be saved.

All farmers are urged to report the army worm outbreak to Don T. McHugh at the Charlevoix welfare office or to B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, at Boyne City, who has been appointed as supervisor of the army worm control project and who is using every means available to control the infestation.

The big difficulty is that no one knows how serious they may become within the next two or three weeks. Again, it is possible that they may disappear rather suddenly, as in a hot, dry period, natural parasites increase in numbers and clean up the army worms. Our program is based on the assumption that they, no doubt, will increase in numbers and therefore, we are taking all precautions and using all means to check their progress.

Please remember also that this same poison bait is effective against cut worms and grasshoppers and is

FARMERS PAY DEBTS GET NO DISCHARGE

Failure to Record Payment Chattel

Changes in the Michigan chattel mortgage law made by the last legislature bring to light the fact that many Michigan farmers have paid such mortgages but have failed to record their discharge and the records still show the mortgages as existing indebtedness, according to members of the farm credit administration.

The new law requires that chattel mortgages given or paid by all Michigan residents, not living in an incorporated city, shall be recorded with the register of deeds. Township clerks formerly were designated as the recording officers.

After the death of Strang, the family went back to Beaver Island, being the first to live in the "King's" castle after disbandment of the colony. Mrs. Williams met and married Capt. VanRiper, who later became keeper of the Beaver Island lighthouse. He lost his life while engaged in rescuing sailors from a sinking ship, and his wife was appointed keeper of the light.

Several years after the death of her first husband, the then Mrs. VanRiper married Daniel Williams, who had been following his trade as cooper at St. James. She still retained her position as lighthouse keeper and in September, 1884, was transferred to the lighthouse at Harbor Point, near Harbor Springs. She remained in the service at that point until her retirement 29 years later. Mrs. Williams gained considerable recognition as the author of the book entitled, "Child of the Sea," a detailed account of life in the Mormon days.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams now reside at 303 Mason st. In spite of their advanced years, both are enjoying exceptionally good health. Their favorite pasttime is music—the same as it was when they lived in the lighthouses on Beaver Island and at Harbor Point. Mrs. Williams plays the piano and a mouthorgan. Mr. Williams is equally proficient as a player of the violin, accordion and organette. Their friends still gather to hear them play.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS MET HERE FOR RALLY

Made Plans for September Primary Campaign Monday Night

Sixty-nine persons were present at a county-wide democratic rally held Monday evening at the Legion quarters on Garfield avenue.

A report on the Democratic pre-primary convention held at Battle Creek was given by William P. Hicken, delegate to the convention. A resolution offered and read by Merle L. Crowell of East Jordan, commended the national Democratic administration, and provided a copy he sent President Roosevelt.

A discussion regarding the Democratic campaign for county offices at the primary election in September will result in efforts being concentrated on the offices of county clerk and county treasurer, to which those present at the meeting believe the Democrats entitled to. A committee of five, composed of Merle L. Crowell of East Jordan, F. L. Pierce of Boyne Falls, William N. Greene of St. James, William P. Gilliam of Boyne City, and Capt. M. J. Bonner of Charlevoix, was named to select candidates for the fall campaign.

A motion to hold a county picnic during the summer at a time and place to be later designated, was adopted.

ALBERT O'BRIEN, HAYES PIONEER, DIED SATURDAY

Funeral Service Held Monday With Burial at Brookside

Hayes township and Charlevoix county lost a highly respected pioneer resident in the death Saturday of Albert E. O'Brien, who died following a brief serious illness at the James A. O'Brien home.

Mr. O'Brien was born October 10, 1854, at Ellenburgh, New York state. He married Miss Mary Jane Underwood at Chateangay, N. Y., on May 17, 1879. The couple came to Michigan about 55 years ago, settling first in Norwood township. They moved about 30 years ago to Hayes township, their home since that time.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien were the parents of five children, George, James, Grace, Roy and Ray. Grace and Roy died in infancy.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the James O'Brien home in Hayes township, Rev. Edward S. Doan of Petoskey, officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Mr. O'Brien is the third of six brothers to pass away in recent months.

meant to delay payment, rather to aid owners to the extent of saving them the penalty costs.

Road Commissioners Elective

By a vote of 13 to 11 the board adopted a motion to make the office of road commissioner elective by the voters of the county in the future. For the past several years these offices have been filled by appointment of the board of supervisors. The method is claimed to have brought about political difficulties—made the road commission a political football, [illegible] as an aftermath of the board removing L. C. Rouse, Boyne City, from the commission last October and appointing S. E. Rogers, East Jordan, to fill vacancy. Through a recent supreme court decision, holding the supervisors erred in the removal procedure, Rouse has been placed back on the commission. It is anticipated the move to make the road commission office elective will remove the members from politics.

SUPERVISORS COMPLETE JUNE WORK

ADJOURNED LAST THURSDAY UNTIL OCTOBER

Several Appropriations Made—Vote Aid to State Bank—May Increase Officers' Salaries

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors completed the work of the annual June session late Thursday afternoon and adjourned until the next regular session in October.

The ways and means committee report, appropriating $100 for dog claims, $150 to cover past due bills for temporary relief such as rent, clothing and food; $100 to aid in the fight against army worms now infesting several townships in the west portion of the county; $50 for a county picnic and $75 for the Gaylord potato and apple show, was adopted.

A sum of $9,500 was appropriated for expenses of the county poor commission until October. The appropriation made at the October session last fall has been exhausted for some time and added expense for doctor's care, hospitalization of indigents and infirmary costs made the new appropriation necessary.

The board authorized the county treasurer to purchase not to exceed 30 shares of stock in the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, now in the process of reorganization, providing such a step was necessary as an emergency measure to aid re-opening of the institution.

A new car was purchased for the sheriff's department and the board voted to purchase a motorcycle, place a patrolman on county roads for the three summer months, and put up fifty signs signifying roads being patrolled. Selection of the patrolman is still pending.

A tentative schedule of officer's salaries was set for 1935-36, representing a substantial increase for several. Following is the proposed salaries and those now in effect:

	New	Old
County Clerk	$2,000	$1,800
County Treasurer	2,000	1,800
Register	1,800	1,500
Prosecutor	2,000	1,800
Sheriff	1,800	1,500
School Commissioner	1,500	1,500

The allowance to the sheriff for prisoners' meals was increased from 25c to 30c, effective immediately.

The committee on equalization set the county valuation at $8,856,530 as compared to $9,049,145 a year ago. The city of Charlevoix's requested straight 20 per cent cut in valuation was decreased to 2 per cent, making the equalized valuation $2,980,875, as compared to $2,438,875 as assessed by the board of review.

SUMMER BAND CONCERTS WILL OPEN AT PARK ON SUNDAY

The Charlevoix city band will open a series of summer concerts Sunday evening, July 8th, at 8 o'clock.

The initial program, to be given in the park at the new municipal bath house on Lake Michigan is a special concert and will be followed next Wednesday, July 11th, with the first regular summer concert. The second concert will be given at the same hour, 8 o'clock, and at the same place as the special program Sunday.

The plan to hold the concerts at the Lake Michigan park is a trial to sound out public opinion on the location, and the change from Saturday evening as in former years to Wednesday evening follows an expression by local merchants that the Saturday evening programs delayed shopping until a late hour and worked a hardship.

Under the direction of R. B. Major, the city band has been trained into the best organization ever to represent this city, and without doubt these weekly entertainments will be even more popular than in previous years.

HISTORIC RALLY ST. IGNACE EVENT

ELABORATE CEREMONY PLANNED FOR JULY 7 AND 8

Historic and Religious Pageantry Will Portray Coming of Nicolet and Other Stirring Episodes

Elaborate historic and religious pageantry to be presented at St. Ignace on July 7 and 8, will portray the coming of Nicolet and other stirring episodes which took place in and around St. Ignace and opened the story of Michigan and the northwest three centuries ago.

In a gorgeous and colorful dramatization, a cast of several hundred persons will offer an authentic picture of historic old St. Ignace as it existed under the flag of King Louis XIV of France. Explorers, priests, and commandants will live again and portray in graphic pantomime the bravery and adventure which, a hundred years before the Declaration of Independence, made St. Ignace the religious, commercial, and military center of the northwest.

Has Special Appeal

Citizens of the Great Lakes country have a particular interest in the historic pageantry at St. Ignace, the mother city of the northwest. Cadillac was the 55th of the commandants who were commissioned by King Louis XIV of France to take command at the old French fort at St. Ignace and rule from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Cadillac had been in command for seven years at St. Ignace before he transferred his garrison in 1701 and built the first log cabin in what is now the city of Detroit.

An appropriate climax of the week of pageantry, in memory of Jean Nicolet will be the great civic and religious rally at the grave of Father Marquette in the afternoon of Sunday, July 8. A spacious platform and a temporary altar are to be erected for this purpose and a system of amplifiers will be set up to carry the words of the speakers to the ears of the vast audience of many thousands who are expected to gather there for the closing of the Nicolet Tercentennial week.

After a program of speeches by celebrities of church and state, the ceremonies will close with the benediction service of the Catholic church, the celebrant being the Most Reverend Bishop Plagens of Detroit. Thousands will join in the singing of this service, and the musical accompaniment will be played by the Menominee band. The addresses to be featured on this occasion will be given by Congressman P. M. Brown of St. Ignace, Very Reverend Albert Poetker, President of U. of D., and Reverend Father Philip Gordon, only full blooded Indian priest in the United States.

DR. R. B. ARMSTRONG JR. ASSOCIATED WITH FATHER

Dr. R. B. Armstrong Jr., arrived in Charlevoix on Tuesday of this week and will again be associated with his father in his medical practice as usual.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF BATH HOUSE SUNDAY

PROGRAM AT LAKE MICHIGAN BATHING BEACH

Celebration Sponsored by City Officials for Inspection New Entertainment Facility

Charlevoix will celebrate the official opening of the new municipal bath house on Lake Michigan bathing beach with an informal program next Sunday, July 8th.

One of the numerous benefits the national administration provided through its welfare relief efforts, the bath house, originally started under the CWA and completed as a federal emergency relief project, gives Charlevoix one of the most up-to-date and complete bathing beaches in Northern Michigan.

Built of native limestone and of attractive design, the bath house accommodations include everything modern—shower baths, toilets, dressing rooms, etc. A concession, operated under lease by Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Crouse of Sandusky, Ohio, is complete and up to the minute in every respect.

The grounds surrounding the bath house have been landscaped and beautified. Shrubs and trees have been set out, the lawns seeded and a roadway with sufficient parking space for automobiles, built encircling the building. Immediately to the north of the bath house is the playground equipment which provides the finishing touch to a complete bathing beach.

Sunday's program, designed more than anything else to draw citizens to the bathing beach to inspect the new lay-out, will open at 1:30 o'clock with a parade in which the city band, Legion bugle and drum corps and automobiles will participate. A program of swimming races and water sports is being arranged and the city band will give two concerts, one in the afternoon and another in the evening at 8 o'clock. With the program still in the making, all details cannot be announced at this time.

City officials desire that citizens attend the program Sunday afternoon and thus avail themselves of the opportunity to inspect Charlevoix's newest entertainment facility.

COUNCIL ACTS ON SEWAGE DISPOSAL

AUTHORIZE MAYOR, CLERK TO SIGN GOV. CONTRACT

Will Take Immediate Steps to Complete Legal Details and Procure Finished Plans

At a special meeting last Wednesday evening, the city council authorized the mayor and city clerk to sign contract with the federal government through the Public Works Administration for purchase of bonds for the construction of a sewage disposal plant.

It is anticipated sixty days will be required to complete preliminary legal steps and procure completed plans, necessary before construction can be commenced on the project. The work of preparing the site, however, will likely be started early in the fall. This work will consist of tearing down old buildings and dock, driving sheet piling, excavating, etc. City officials hope to have a greater share of this work done by welfare.

Final plans as adopted by the council last Wednesday evening call for elimination of greenhouse type drying beds and removal of this unit to the dumping grounds southwest of the city, where drying beds will be constructed. Sludge will be removed in early spring and late fall in closed sanitary tank cars. This will eliminate the construction of one building on the Wilbur property site. The other building will be built at the south end of the property directly to the rear of the O'Neil building, leaving sufficient room for the extension of Park avenue to Round lake at a future time. The north portion of the property will be beautified and landscaped for parking and the lake front for docking purposes.

The council also made plans for a formal opening of the new municipal bath house on Lake Michigan, now practically completed. The date has been set for Sunday, July 8th. A program appropriate for the occasion is being arranged and will be announced in detail when completed. Completion of the bath house, originally a CWA project and later finished under the FERA, gives Charlevoix one of the most complete and attractive bathing beaches in the north. The grounds surrounding the building have been attractively landscaped. On the grounds are also the city's extensive playground equipment.

FARM BUYING POWER SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Sales Prices for Produce Increase Faster Then Cost of Commodities

Farm purchasing power on the average throughout the United States has been 25 per cent higher during the first nine months in which benefit payments have been distributed through the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act than in the corresponding period of the previous year.

This is the conclusion reached by L. H. Bean, economic adviser to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, following a study of the prices farmers receive for the products compared with the cost of commodities farmers buy. Cash income, including benefit payments during this nine-month period increased 38 per cent but this increase was partially offset by an increase in the cost of commodities farmers buy.

Benefit payments on production adjustment contracts contributed nearly one-fifth of the net increase of 25 per cent in purchasing power. For the first four months of 1934, the net increase in farm purchasing power was 28 per cent over the first four months of 1933.

The initial production marked the commencement of a nine week's run, during which performance of high grade plays by a professional company will be given every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening.

The camp is again this season under the management and direction of Mrs. Allen G. Miller of Grand Rapids, prominent in Michigan amateur theatrical circles and responsible for the National Dramatic Camp, Michigan's first summer theatre.

Among last season's players who have returned are Elvera Baker, who won great interest with her finished, artistic contributions; Dorothy Fritz, who will be remembered for her "Anna Christie" and similar performances; Harry Young, the popular actor whose acting was always delightful and adequate.

Among the new faces are Gretchen Rickel, talented young member of the Bonstelle Players of Detroit; Hazel Allen, niece of Miss Olive Allen, local Western Union manager, an active member of the Grand Rapids Civic Players; Maury Tuckerman, who has been a member of the Theatre Guild Company; A. [illegible] playwright and actor, who has appeared in many Broadway productions, and who has just returned from two years of study and work in Europe; William M. Kimball, active member of the Lansing Civic Players and nephew of Mrs. Robert Bridge of this city; David Houman of the Grand Rapids Players, and Murry Roth, who has been connected with the R. H. Macy Company as director of the Art Museum and supervisor of their theatre productions.

Performances will be given on the evenings stated above at 8:45. The theatre is located just off M-66 near Ironton, six miles south of Charlevoix.

SCHOOL VOTERS TO MEET MONDAY NITE

ANNUAL SESSION BOARD OF EDUCATION AT 8 O'CLOCK.

Election of One Trustee, Reports of Secretary, Treasurer, and Public Library

The annual meeting of Charlevoix school district No. 1, city and township, will be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening, July 9th, in the assembly room of the senior high school building.

There will be election of one trustee. The term of Clarence B. Meggison, the past year president of the board, expires at that time and the vacancy will be filled by the voters of the district.

In addition to the election of a trustee, reports of the school secretary and treasurer and of the Charlevoix public library will be given.

It probably need not be explained that Charlevoix public schools have been conducted very successfully through a year sorely beset by financial difficulties. It is indeed a great credit to the board of education, the superintendent of schools and the teaching staff that the year has passed without piling up a huge deficit despite operation for the full term. For these reasons the financial report for the 1933-34 school year will be of unusual interest to those interested in school affairs.

The Charlevoix school district faces a loss of approximately $3,500 in revenue from property taxes this year. The tax commission last year allocated local school 5 mills, producing around $16,000. This year's allocation is 4.5 mills, which, with a 2% cut in valuation, will produce $12,473.93. The school board next year desires to furnish free text books to all students if possible or at least the first six grades, also connect the senior high school building with the heating plant under the new grade building and install a fuel stoker. Due to the cut in anticipated revenue funds will not be available for these projects unless the voters approve an additional 1 mill tax, and this subject will be brought up for discussion Monday evening.

Supt. O. P. North has announced that at a recent meeting of the board, an increase in salaries for the teaching staff next year was voted. The teachers, reduced to 55 per cent of their former salaries, will next year return at a figure equal to 68 per cent of their former salaries. No increase in the number of instructors has been planned at the present time.

Those interested in school affairs should attend the annual meeting Monday night.

7. Disbursement of Bond Proceeds and Grant. The Borrower will expend the funds in such special account or accounts only for such purposes as shall have been previously specified in certificates accompanying the requisitions for such funds filed with the Government, and approved by Counsel for the Government, or such funds shall be used for purchasing Bonds as provided in this Agreement.

(a) To provide for the payment of the interest upon and principal of the Bonds as and when the same shall become due and payable, and to provide for any other requirements of a bond and interest redemption account, as hereinafter described;

(b) To provide for the expenses of administration and operation, and such expenses for the maintenance of the System necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order;

(b) Bond and Interest Redemption Fund. Out of the remaining gross revenues there shall be next set aside a sum sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest upon the Bonds, as and when the same become due and payable, (a) any year, such sum to be paid into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund (herein called the "Bond Fund"). In addition to such payment, there shall also be paid into the Bond Fund a reserve fund of ten (10) per centum of such requirements as a cushion fund for the Bonds, to be held as a reserve for deficiencies, which Reserve Fund shall be cumulative. Provided, however, that no further payments need be made into the Bond Fund when the amount held therein, including the Reserve Fund, is equal to the entire amount of interest and principal that will be payable at the time of the maturity of all the Bonds then remaining outstanding. In the event that the gross revenues of any calendar, operating or fiscal year shall be insufficient to pay the aforementioned Bond Fund requirements, then out of the first available revenues of the next ensuing calendar, fiscal or operating year, after deduction of the amounts required for the operation and maintenance fund, an amount sufficient to such deficiency shall be set aside and paid into the Bond Fund.

All moneys held in said Bond Fund, as hereinabove provided, shall be deposited in a Federal Reserve System member bank, as hereinafter provided, and the deposits continuously secured by a valid pledge of direct obligations of the United States Government having an aggregate market value (exclusive of accrued interest) at all times at least equal to the sum on deposit in said Bond Fund, or shall be invested in such direct obligations of the United States Government, deposited in escrow with such bank under an escrow agreement to be satisfactory to the Government; provided, however, that in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the Bonds, and in any such escrow agreement, the Borrower may make suitable provision for the sale of such obligations when it shall prove necessary to draw upon said Bond Fund or the reserve therein.

(c) Depreciation Fund. Out of the remaining gross revenues there shall be set aside sums sufficient to build up an adequate reserve for depreciation of the existing System.

(d) Contingent Fund. Out of the remaining gross revenues there shall be set aside sums sufficient to build up a reserve for reasonable and proper improvements, betterments and extensions to the existing System, other than those necessary to maintain the same in good repair and working order.

10. Special Provisions.

(b) So long as any of the Bonds described in Paragraph 2 hereof are outstanding the Borrower, without the written consent and approval of the holders of said Bonds aggregating at least two-thirds of the principal amount of said Bonds outstanding, will not issue any additional Bonds payable from the revenues of said System which shall be on a parity with the lien of said Bonds.

11. Maintenance and Operation. The Borrower will maintain the System in good condition and operate the same in an efficient manner and at a reasonable cost. So long as any of the Bonds are outstanding, the Borrower agrees to maintain insurance for the benefit of the Bondholders on the System of a kind and in an amount which usually would be carried by private companies engaged in a similar type of business. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as requiring the Borrower to expend any funds which are derived from sources other than the operation of the System, but nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the Borrower from doing so.

12. Accounts and Statements. The Borrower will keep proper books of records and accounts (separate from all other records and accounts) in which complete and correct entries shall be made of all transactions relating to the System. The Borrower will furnish to the Government so long as the Government holds any of the Bonds, and, upon written request, to any holder of any of the Bonds not more than thirty (30) days after the close of each six month period, a balance sheet and statement of the operating and income statements of the System in reasonable detail covering such six months period, and, not more than sixty (60) days after the close of such fiscal year, complete financial statements of the System and the Borrower covering such fiscal year and certified by the Borrower's Auditor.

13. Inspection. Any purchaser from the Government of twenty-five (25) per centum in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds at the time then outstanding or any holder or holders of said amount of outstanding Bonds shall have the right at all reasonable times to inspect the System and all records, accounts and data of the Borrower relating thereto.

14. Special Condition. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, there shall be no obligation on the part of either party hereunder until the Supreme Court of Michigan shall have upheld the constitutionality and validity of Act 94 of the Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, and which decision shall also be satisfactory to Counsel for the Government.

PART TWO

1. Approval of Agreement. Within a reasonable time after the receipt of the Agreement, the Borrower shall adopt a resolution setting forth the Agreement in full, approving the same, and authorizing and directing the execution thereof by the official or officials designated to sign the same on the Borrower's behalf. Promptly thereupon the Borrower shall cause such official or officials to sign the Agreement.

2. Preliminary Proceedings by Borrower. When the Agreement has been signed on behalf of the Borrower the Borrower shall promptly:

(a) Send to the Government three [illegible] of the Agreement and a certified copy of the resolution adopted by the Borrower pursuant to Paragraph 1, PART TWO, hereof, together with certified extracts of the minutes pertaining to its adoption and any papers, certificates and other documents which may be requested by Counsel for the Government;

(b) Retain municipal bond counsel satisfactory to the Finance Division to assist the Borrower in the proceedings relative to the authorization, issuance and sale of the Bonds, and to give such legal opinions relative thereto as may be requested by Counsel for the Government;

(c) Submit to the Government plans, drawings, and specifications of the work and materials to be employed upon the Project; the latest data as to the expected cost of the Project; a statement as to when and how it is proposed to advertise for bids and to let contracts for the work; a statement as to when and how it is proposed to acquire the necessary lands, easements, franchises, and rights-of-way; an estimate as to the amount of money that will be needed at the time of the sale of the Bonds; and any other details or data that may be requested by the Engineering Division;

(d) Submit to the Government all such authorizations, permits, licenses and approvals from Federal, State, County, municipal and other authorities as Counsel for the Government may deem advisable then to be obtained in connection with the Project or the Bonds;

(e) Take all the proceedings necessary for the authorization and issuance of the Bonds.

3. First Bond Requisition. As soon as the provisions of Paragraph 2, PART TWO, hereof, shall have been complied with to the satisfaction of Counsel for the Government, the Borrower will file with the Government a requisition requesting the Government to purchase such amount of the Bonds as, together with Other Funds, will provide sufficient funds for the construction of the Project for a reasonable period (or, in the discretion of the Finance Division, a requisition to purchase the entire amount thereof at one time), specifying the principal amount, serial numbers and maturities (which maturities shall be satisfactory to the Finance Division) of the Bonds of such block and the date when it is desired to complete the delivery thereof (which date shall be not earlier than ten days after the Government's receipt of such first Bond requisition, unless otherwise satisfactory to Counsel for the Government), the first Bond requisition to be accompanied by a complete transcript of all bond proceedings to date, together with such certificates, forms, opinions, letters, statements and other documents as may be requested by Counsel for the Government.

4. First Bond Purchase. If the first Bond requisition and the documents accompanying the same are satisfactory in form, sufficiency and substance to Counsel for the Government, then, subject to the terms and conditions of this agreement, upon reasonable notice to the Borrower, and within a reasonable time after the receipt by the Government of the first Bond requisition, the Government will arrange to purchase such amount of the Bonds as, together with Other Funds, will provide, in the judgment of the Engineering Division, sufficient funds for the construction of the Project for a reasonable period, or, in the judgment of the Finance Division, the entire amount of the Bonds, payment for the first block of bonds to be made at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, (herein called the "Reserve Bank"), or at such other place or places as Counsel for the Government may designate, against delivery by the Borrower of such Bonds, (having all matured coupons attached), together with such documents as may be requested by and which shall be in form, sufficiency and substance as theretofore approved by Counsel for the Government.

5. Subsequent Bond Requisitions. Unless all of the Bonds shall have been previously purchased, from time to time after the first Bond payment, but not oftener than once a month, (unless otherwise satisfactory to the Engineering Division), the Borrower will file a requisition with the Government requesting the Government to purchase an additional block of the Bonds of such amount, as, together with Other Funds, and such portion, if any, of the Grant, requested simultaneously with such Bond requisition, will provide sufficient funds for the construction of the Project for a reasonable period, specifying the principal amount, serial numbers and maturities, (which maturities shall be satisfactory to the Finance Division), of the Bonds included in such block and the date when it is desired to complete the delivery thereof, (which date shall be not earlier than ten days after the Government's receipt of such Bond requisition, unless otherwise satisfactory to Counsel for the Government), each Bond requisition to be accompanied by such documents as may be required by Counsel for the Government.

6. Subsequent Bond Purchases. If a Bond requisition and the documents accompanying the same are satisfactory in form, sufficiency and substance to Counsel for the Government, then, subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, upon reasonable notice to the Borrower, and within a reasonable time after the receipt by the Government of such Bond requisition, the Government will arrange to purchase such additional amount of the Bonds as, together with Other Funds, and such portion, if any, of the Grant, paid simultaneously with the payment for such amount of the Bonds, will provide, in the judgment of the Engineering Division, sufficient funds for the construction of the Project for a reasonable period, payment for each block of Bonds to be made at the Reserve Bank or at such other place or places as Counsel for the Government may designate, against delivery of such block of Bonds, (having all unmatured coupons attached), together with such documents as may be required by Counsel for the Government.

PART THREE
Construction Contracts

IN CONSIDERATION OF THE GRANT, THE BORROWER COVENANTS THAT:

(a) Construction Contracts. All construction contracts made by the Borrower and all subcontracts for work on the Project shall be subject to the rules and regulations adopted by the Government to carry out the purposes and control the administration of the Act, and shall contain provisions appropriate to insure that:

(b) Convict Labor. No convict labor shall be employed on the Project, and no materials manufactured or produced by convict labor shall be used on the Project.

(c) 30-Hour Week. Except in executive, administrative and supervisory positions, so far as practicable and feasible in the judgment of the Government, no individual directly employed on the Project shall be permitted to work more than thirty hours in any one week, or, except in cases of emergency, on any Sundays or legal holidays; but in accordance with rules and regulations from time to time made by the Government, this provision shall be construed to permit working time [illegible] because of inclement weather or unavoidable delays in any one week to be made up in the succeeding twenty days.

(d) Wages.

(1) All employees shall be paid such and reasonable wages which shall be compensation sufficient to provide, for the hours of labor, a standard of living in decency and comfort;

(2) All contracts and subcontracts shall further prescribe such minimum wage rates for skilled and unskilled labor as may be determined by the Government and shall be subject to all rules and regulations which the Government may promulgate in connection therewith. Such minimum rates, if any, shall also be stated in all proposals of bids submitted including those of subcontractors; and a clearly legible statement of all wage rates to be paid the several classes of labor employed on the work shall be posted in a prominent and easily accessible place at the site of the work. All contractors shall keep a true and accurate record of the hours worked by and the wages paid to each employee and shall furnish the Government with sworn statements thereof on demand.

(3) All employees shall be paid in full not less often than once each week and in lawful money of the United States of America in the full amount accrued to each individual at the time of closing of the payroll, which shall be at the latest date practicable prior to the date of payment, and there shall be no deductions on account of goods purchased, rent, or other obligations, but such obligations shall be subject to collection only by legal process.

(d) Labor Preferences. Preference shall be given, where they are qualified, to ex-service men with dependents, and then in the following order:

(1) To citizens of the United States and aliens who have declared their intention of becoming citizens, who are bona fide residents of the City of Charlevoix, and/or Charlevoix County, State of Michigan; and,

(2) To citizens of the United States and aliens who have declared their intention of becoming citizens, who are bona fide residents of the State of Michigan; provided, that these preferences shall apply only where such labor is available and qualified to perform the work to which the employment relates.

(e) Employment Services. To the fullest extent possible, labor required for the Project and appropriate to be secured through employment services, shall be chosen from lists of qualified workers submitted by local employment agencies designated by the United States Employment Service, provided, however, that organized labor, skilled and unskilled, shall not be required to register at such local employment agencies but shall be secured in the customary ways through recognized union locals. In the event, however, that qualified workers are not furnished by the union locals within 48 hours (Sundays and holidays excluded) after request is filed by the employer, such labor may be chosen from lists of qualified workers submitted by local employment agencies designated by the United States Employment Service. In the selection of workers from lists prepared by such employment agencies and union locals, the labor preferences provided in Sub-Paragraph (d) supra, shall be observed in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Government may prescribe.

(f) Human Labor. In accordance with such rules and regulations as the Government may prescribe, the maximum of human labor shall be used in lieu of machinery wherever practicable and consistent with sound economy and public advantage; and to the extent that the work may be accomplished at no greater expense by human labor than by the use of machinery, and labor of requisite qualifications is available, such human labor shall be employed.

(g) Accident Prevention. Every construction contract for work on the Project shall contain an undertaking to comply with all applicable provisions of the laws and building and construction codes of the State, Territory, District and/or municipality in which the work is done and with any regulations for the protection of workers which may be promulgated by the Government.

(h) Compensation Insurance. Every construction contract for work on the Project shall contain a provision requiring the employer to furnish compensation insurance for injured workers and to give proof of such adequate insurance satisfactory to the Government.

(i) Persons Entitled to Benefits of [illegible] Provisions. Every person who performs the whole or any part of the work or labor upon the Project, or any part thereof, shall be entitled to the benefits of the labor and wage provisions hereof, regardless of any contractual relationship between the contractor or subcontractor and such laborer or mechanic. There shall be no discrimination in the selection of labor on the ground of race, creed or color.

(j) Bonding of Contracts. Construction contracts shall be supported by adequate surety or other bonds or security satisfactory to the Government for the protection of labor and material men employed on the Project or any part thereof.

(k) Materials. So far as articles, materials, and supplies produced in the United States are concerned, only articles, materials and supplies produced under codes of fair competition adopted pursuant to the provision of Title I of the Act, or under the President's Reemployment Agreement, shall be used in work on the Project, except when the Government determines that this requirement is not in public interest or that the consequent cost is unreasonable. So far as feasible and practicable, and subject to the above, preference shall be given to the use of locally produced materials if such use does not involve higher cost, inferior quality or insufficient quantity, subject to the determination of the Government; but there shall be no requirement providing price differentiations for or restricting the use of materials to those produced within the Nation or State.

(l) Inspection and Records. The Government, through its authorized agents, shall have the right to inspect all work as it progresses and shall have access to all pay rolls, records of personnel, invoices of materials, and other data relevant to the performance of the contract.

Modern Metropolis in Palestine Is Thriving

Tel Aviv, "Boom City," Celebrates Birthday.

Washington.—Mention Palestine and age old customs, tribes, and cities come to mind. Yet Palestine, like the rest of the world, is changing. Tel Aviv, a thriving modern metropolis of nearly 70,000 population, did not exist in 1909. Its site was then only a deserted area of rolling sand dunes, north of the port of Jaffa.

Tel Aviv celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday with a trade fair to which nine foreign nations and scores of commercial concerns sent exhibits. The exposition, known as the Third International Levant fair, was given a permanent site north of the city between Yarkon river and the Mediterranean. Last year the Levant fair drew visitors from Syria, Egypt, Transjordan, Persia, and Iraq as well as Palestine.

"Tel Aviv, Palestine's boom city, owes its origin to a small group of Jewish residents of the distinctly Arab city of Jaffa, who moved out to the sand dunes north of the city in 1909 and began a garden suburb," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

Second City of Palestine.

"Since the World war Tel Aviv whose name means 'Hill of Spring,' has witnessed spectacular growth. Today this all-Jewish community is second in population only to Jerusalem among the cities of Palestine, and is the most modern town of the eastern Mediterranean region. Continued Jewish immigration to Palestine, much of it from Germany, adds monthly to Tel Aviv's growing population.

"With its modern homes, paved streets, shops, clubs, steamship offices, and bathing beach, Tel Aviv resembles a European city rather than one in Palestine. Many of its tiled houses are surrounded by small gardens, preserved from drought by sprinkling systems, and ill heard of extravagance so close of Jerusalem, which is often short of water even for drinking. Attractive shops display wares from many lands, while steamship offices advertise excursion rates to Europe and America on garish signboards in Hebrew and Latin characters.

"At the bathing beach there is a modern casino with jazz bands, and the sands are used for sun bathing by men, women, and children—a custom almost unknown in Palestine before the Zionists developed their own city.

"The population of Tel Aviv is ultra modern, thinking in terms of social science and business as well as advanced agriculture. The city contains over a hundred schools and kindergartens under Zionist direction, and a school of the Universal Israelite alliance. There are also two libraries; the Municipal library, with a large collection of sociological works bequeathed by the late Asher Ginsberg, and the Central Library of the Cultural Committee of the Jewish Labor Federation, with nearly 100,000 volumes in Hebrew, Yiddish, and European languages, dealing with sociology and economics, science and agriculture.

Wealth in Oranges.

"Tel Aviv's most spectacular holiday comes during the feast of Purim, during which horse and motor-drawn floats may combine the seven branched candlestick and modern display advertising. A carnival spirit prevails among the noisy crowd, and young girls masquerading in heavy beards poke good-natured fun at Orthodox rabbis.

"A more cosmopolitan crowd than that seen during the Purim procession would be hard to find even in ancient communities, for here are immigrants from the Ghettos of Europe side by side with residents who have made their fortunes in America and other lands, and have followed the Zionist's dream to this sand-dune city from whose house tops one may look across the Philistine plain to the rocky backbone of old Judea.

"The real wealth of this region is in oranges, and whole shiploads of the famous Jaffa oranges are loaded for European ports when the weather permits. Most of the new plantations have been set out by Jews, who market many of the oranges co-operatively, and are helped by the Palestine government in keeping down fruit diseases and maintaining high standards of inspection. Before the war the Jaffa orange groves shipped less than a million cases of fruit. The number is now close to three million, with a value running perhaps as high as four to five million dollars a year.

"Tel Aviv also possesses Palestine's pioneer industrial plant—a brick factory which makes hundreds of thousands of silicate brick for the construction of homes of eclectic design and of other buildings for immigrants each year. It also has smaller plants turning out furniture, textiles, shoes, candles, orange cases, etc."

Dudes Drop Canes; Feel Almost Nude

London.—The dandies of the town are discarding the walking cane, long the symbol in America of the foppish Briton.

Years ago a man would have felt "almost naked" if he had ventured along Picadilly or Bond street without his cane; nowadays only foreigners and the infirm carry them.

Automobiles are chiefly blamed for this almost total disappearance of the walking stick from crowded city streets.

H. Howell, managing director of one of the oldest established houses had the following to say:

"We have been making walking sticks for more than 100 years, and yet we had our record years as recently as 1919 and 1920. Since then, however, the demand has steadily diminished."

Miracles Wrought by Plastic Surgery

Ears, Noses and Limbs Now Altered at Will.

Philadelphia.—Have you ever seen a face you like better than your own? You can have it if you wish.

A Philadelphia plastic surgeon who for professional reasons wishes his name concealed, has explained what can be done to "save your face."

You may swap a Roman nose for a Greek one; or a pair of Carnera legs for those of Marlene Dietrich. You even can have a permanent blush.

"Among the patients who come for alterations," the surgeon said, "are society matrons, wistful sales girls, would-be stage and screen stars, and up-and-at-'em business executives. They realize that their face is, or should be, their fortune.

"One of the commonest requirements is to reduce or remodel ears. Ears which project can be laid back out of the way; fat ears can be made slim, and thin ears plump.

"Another frequent request is for new hair on a shiny dome. In that case we simply take the tufts still growing elsewhere and transplant them to spots where they will show to better advantage.

"Modern bathing costumes and evening gowns have resulted in a big demand for dimples. They are easy. Also, a few expertly placed stitches will greatly improve the shape of the mouth and chin.

"Women frequently want trim ankles and thighs. Skillful work will bring them about. Birthmarks also can be removed.

"But for all this work it is most important that a man be selected who has had experience, and who is exceedingly skillful. Otherwise serious results may occur.

"And he should also be something of an artist. He should realize, for example, that a Roman nose and freckles don't go together. He must be an architect of the human body, patching up the careless work of nature."

Star Photography Aided by Aluminum Reflectors

Pasadena, Calif.—Opening up new worlds, astronomers at Lick observatory have found that the use of aluminum instead of silver in the mirror of an astronomical telescope increases the instrument's power, possibly 50 to 60 per cent.

After photographing a star in the North polar region with a telescope whose mirror was coated with silver, the astronomers sent the mirror to the California Institute of Technology, where the silver was removed and polished aluminum applied. The star was rephotographed, and a long extension of the star's spectrum, barely visible in the former photograph, could be seen plainly.

The effect will be to widen former astronomical "horizons," scientists are agreed.

Nebraska Farmers Keep Books as Business Aid

Lincoln, Neb.—Nebraska farmers rapidly are adopting a systematic and accurate booking system as an aid to more businesslike agricultural methods. More than 2,000 farmers, according to estimates by the University of Nebraska extension service, have started farm account books, supplied them by the college of agriculture. Herman Miller, extension worker at the college, estimates that twice as many farmers are keeping books this year as last.

Town in New York Has Monument to Bernhardt

Geneva, N. Y.—Its existence virtually unknown to the outside world, an odd memorial to Sarah Bernhardt, French tragedian, erected by a Geneva admirer, stands in a little frequented spot south of the city, near Plattsburg. It is believed to be the only monument ever erected in this country to her memory.

The monument, composed of concrete blocks of stone and a cement base stands 14 feet high. It was built by Charles B. Bean, Geneva lawyer and descendant of Colonial settlers, [illegible] try and foreign capitals.

A plaque, of Vermont marble, bears the following inscription:

"To Madam Sarah Bernhardt, the greatest actress in the world, whose lyric fire and divine voice gave more intense and supreme life to the poets, in profound admiration is built this rugged memorial, by the Knights of Cyprus and devoted friends.

"Romance Holds Open the Door to Eternal Spring."

The memorial is situated on Bean's estate. Bean is an officer of the Knights of Cyprus.

Old State Line Marker Found on Ancient Tree

Iron River, Mich.—A century-old inscription discovered on an ancient tamarack tree recalls the days when the Wisconsin-Michigan state line was being established.

A group of surveyors had been sent here from Detroit to lay the boundary between Michigan and Wisconsin. At that time Wisconsin had not yet been admitted to the Union.

At the exact spot determined by the inscription, the party was beset by unfriendly Indians, who would neither allow them to go ahead nor turn back until they had divided their supplies with them.

Smallest Organ Built

Boston.—Louis Weir organist, has built what is believed the smallest organ in the world—14 inches wide and 8 inches high. It can control all the stops of a large console and was played for the first time by him in a Boston theater.

Cinnabar Vein Found

Alpine, Texas.—A 15-foot vein of cinnabar ore, from which quicksilver is obtained, has been uncovered in the Study Butte mine at Terlingua. The vein is of "bonanza" proportions.

Good Taste Today

BY EMILY POST

Author of

"ETIQUETTE," "THE BLUE BOOK OF SOCIAL USAGE," ETC.

MISCELLANEOUS

DEAR Mrs. Post: My young son gesticulates with his knife and fork at table. This habit upsets me terribly but I can't seem to break him of it. Can you suggest any way?

Answer: Would he mind if he saw you do it? If he would, you might copy him—especially if a friend of his is present. If he does not care, then you will either have to deprive him of some small privileges or (and in my opinion better) let him earn a privilege or an award by marks of excellence: 100 meals without doing it once, for instance, would earn something he wants.

• • •

My dear Mrs. Post: Are cards removed from funeral flowers before the flowers are arranged? Or are the names simply written down for a record to use in writing thank you notes?

Answer: They are taken off and a description of the flowers written on the back of each card, for future thanks.

• • •

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a new daughter just three days old. My husband was killed two months ago. Under these tragic circumstances shall I announce my baby's birth by sending out cards as we would have done, or do I simply do nothing about it at all? If an announcement were sent to the newspaper, how would it be worded?

Answer: Sending announcements of a child's birth is entirely a matter of personal inclination. In your case it would be best to telephone or write to your intimate friends; they in turn tell others. I mean, of course, that a member of your family will do this for you. To send a baby card tied to your own black bordered one would emphasize the tragedy very painfully. I wouldn't if I were you. The announcement in the newspaper would read: "Daughter of Mrs. John Jones and the late Mr. Jones."

Dear Mrs. Post: When my husband and I happen to be in the room, should we shake hands when a boy friend of my younger sister leaves after having spent the evening in our house? This sister lives with us.

Answer: If your sister's friend is a regular visitor, you would probably look up and, without paying particular attention, say, "Good night, Tom!" If he is a stranger, or some one who does not come to the house often, your natural impulse would be to shake hands with him when he leaves.

DINING SERVICE

DEAR Mrs. Post: While dining in the house of a stranger the other night I noticed that her waitress brought in a dessert plate with a fine lace doily on it and on top of that a finger bowl. The silver for dessert was already at the places. I had never had a finger bowl brought in just this way. My hostess removed it and the doily from the dessert plate and put the bowl down on the doily at the left to the back of the dessert plate. The dessert was a rich fudge cake, which would have soiled the doily miserably. Is it correct to let a doily take the place of a plate which matches the finger bowl and which stands on top of the dessert plate usually without any doily between them?

Answer: I don't think I understand [illegible] cake could possibly come in contact with the doily. Doilies are not often used, but when they are, you pick yours up with the finger bowl and put both down together on the tablecloth wherever there is space. Then you put whatever it may be on the plate. You certainly would not put food on the doily, ever!

My dear Mrs. Post: (1) How does one remove watermelon seeds from the mouth at table? (2) A friend told me that tablespoons are not the real serving spoons. I have always used them as such, which must be wrong. (3) Is it ever all right to eat peas with a spoon, in case, or must they be juggled with a fork? (4) Are little side dishes always taken? (5) In a restaurant, when foods are sometimes served in separate dishes, is it correct to eat them directly from the serving dish or should all food be put from there over on the dinner plate?

Answer: (1) Remove all that you can with the fruit knife and fork before lifting a piece to the mouth, and any seeds left in the fruit are removed between thumb and finger, or dropped into the cupped hand. They are in either case dried as completely as possible with tongue and between lips. (2) There are slightly larger spoons used for serving, but tablespoons answer perfectly. (3) Spoon absolutely labu. Mash them slightly with the fork, if you must. But I can't see that there is any difficulty, ever. (4) Correctly, yes. (5) You should put them on your plate, but there is no rule because conventionally side dishes are not used.

"Am I so ill as that?" gasped the sufferer.

"I don't just know how ill you are," replied the man of medicine; "but I know you're the lawyer who cross-examined me when I appeared as an expert witness. My conscience won't let me kill you, and I'll be hanged if I want to cure you. Good day."—Border Cities Star.

AMERICAN MUSIC JUNIOR CAMP OPEN NEW QUARTERS CHEBOYGAN

The American Music Camp, until this year located at Bay View, has installed its Junior Camp in the new quarters near Cheboygan to begin a very busy program for the season. The buildings lie on the shores of Duncan Bay and the cump is reputed to be one of the finest of its kind in the country.

One of the outstanding features of the camp is the huge auditorium, built in rustic style, and so large that it will accomodate a symphony orchestra and a chorus of two hundred at the same time. At the ends of the stage there are two massive log towers fifty feet in height which make the structure an imposing sight. Concerts will be performed on the stage but there is also an orchestra pit to be used in the presentation of opera.

Beside the auditorium there is a number of other buildings in the same style, including a dining lodge, dormitories and faculty cottages.

The faculty of the camp this year includes several very eminent artists such as Leon Sametini, violin virtuoso, Miss Ebba Sundstrom, conductor of the Woman's Symphony of Chicago, Mr. Alexander Schuster, concert violincellist, Dr. Mark Gunzburg, concert pianist and head of the Gunzburg School of Music in Detroit, Frederick Lewis, pianist and head of the American Music Camp, and Miss Zilpha Lewis, violinist.

VAN WAGONER OPPOSED REDUCTION OF GAS TAX

Claims Loss of Revenue Will Block Federal Aid Program

Opposition to the proposed constitutional limitation of gasoline taxes of 2 cents a gallon, coming before the voters this fall, was expressed by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner, on the ground that such a limitation of revenues might be disastrous to Michigan's highway system, and that it would prevent Michigan from taking part in the Federal Aid road building program of the next two years.

"Passage of the Cartwright bill by congress changes federal participation in highway building back to the Federal Aid system after this year. Under the terms of the bill, Federal grants of approximately three and a quarter million dollars will be available, annually, in 1935 and 1936, but must be matched by the state funds or they will be lost.

PRENTISS BROWN TO SPONSOR CALDWELL BILL IF RE-ELECTED

Representative Brown (D), Michigan, member of the Banking and Currency committee of the House of Representatives, has decided to sponsor the Caldwell bill, H.R. 9916, before his committee, if he is returned to the 74th congress. The bill is a short one and reads as follows:

Rep. Brown believes that the 11th congressional district of Michigan will be greatly interested in this legislation. The bill has been favorably received, it is reported, by the President, and is the subject of much favorable comment and support from the southern, western and northern timber areas.

If enacted into law it should be a long step towards carrying on the reforestation program in northern Michigan. It should revive the pulp industry, greatly assist the present mills, and provide raw material for pulp in the future.

During his campaign for congress in 1932, Rep. Brown urged the necessity of government assistance to the pulpwood industry, and with several others, has urged this policy upon the Administration. The favorable reception of the Caldwell bill by the Administration is the result of that agitation, and it is most fortunate that the bill will come before Mr. Brown's committee, where he will be able to exert the greatest influence in its behalf.

Army Worm Control Fight Continues

During the last week, rather strenuous efforts have been made in checking the damage to crops from the army worms. At the present time, it is felt that they are being pretty well checked and that with the program already set up they can be held in control.

Most of the efforts have been in the vicinity of the Loeb Farms and the Orchard Bay Farm. Friday a crew of men numbering twenty were busily engaged in spreading the poison bait which me been found to be the most satisfactory means of control. Thursday, a somewhat smaller group were on the job and by Saturday, most of the territory badly infested was taken care of. Over five tons of the poison bait was distributed from the Charlevoix mixing station last week, which pretty largely indicates the fight that farmers are making to protect their crops. On Beaver Island, two shipments were made of this same material to control grasshoppers.

The army worm has been found on nearly every farm in the Ironton area, but in the majority of cases, are not doing a great deal of damage. During the week, two new territories were found to be infested, one on the peninsula and the other in the Maple Grove section. This means that the campaign will continue until such a time that there is no further cause to worry. The biggest difficulty is the fact that no one knows what their further progress will be. However, they have severely damaged several pasture fields, hay fields and small areas in corn and wheat fields. If they are good for anything, they are very efficient in eliminating quack grass. Fortunately, they do not seem to like alfalfa and sweet clover but do like quack grass and other grasses in the hay fields. One of the best ways to determine if you have army worms is to go through your hay fields and see if the quack grass has been left alone. Hence, here alone is another reason why we should have more alfalfa and sweet clover hay in the county.

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

According to department of state certificate of title records, 77,046 more automobile sales were made in Michigan in 1934 up to June 15 than were made during the same period in 1933.

Records show that this year up to June 15, a total of 65,232 certificates of title were issued on new automobiles as compared with 38,535 certificates of title for the same period last year.

The biggest increase in business, however, is shown in the demand for titles for used cars. This year 177,734 titles were issued as compared with 127,385 titles in 1933.

Another evidence of improved conditions is reflected in the decrease in the number of repossessions. Until June 15, 1934, a total of 4,237 repossessed cars was reported to the department as compared with 5,914 for the same period a year ago.

There were 82,210 more automobiles licensed for use on Michigan highways on June 1 than on the same date in 1933, department of state statistics disclose. The increase is still more remarkable when it is seen that this year there were 6,671 more automobiles licensed than on the same date in 1932.

The reduction in weight tax rates is responsible for a large share of the increase, although records show that many cars have been licensed in 1934 that were not used for several years previous.

On June 1, 1934, a total of 802,671 automobiles had been licensed as compared with 489,894 on the same date in 1933. Because of the reduction in weight tax rates however, the demand for the two-payment plan stickers decreased slightly from 322,628 on June 1, 1933 to 302,061 on the same day this year.

Statistics for trucks, trailers and motorcycles show that the demand for both full-year plates and for two payment stickers increased slightly this year over 1933.

MICHIGAN BELL PAY A BIG SCHOOL TAX

Forty Per Cent of Earning Needed for Tax Burden

Earnings from 195,000 telephones, or nearly 40 per cent of the average number the Michigan Bell Telephone Company operated during 1933, are needed to pay the company's state, federal and municipal tax bill this year. This was revealed when a check for $1,335,436.54, one-half of the total state tax of $2,670,873.98, assessed against the Michigan Bell company was turned over to John K. Stack, auditor general, in Lansing. The balance will be paid by November 1.

The Telephone company this year also will pay the federal government approximately $390,000 in taxes. Miscellaneous local taxes will approximate $45,000, making a total tax payment of more than $3,100,000. This figure represents a payment of $6.26 for each average telephone the company operated during 1933, and nine cents higher per telephone than was paid a year ago.

Under the Michigan law, telephone and telegraph companies, railroads, railway car-loaning companies and express companies pay taxes to the state, in lieu of local taxes, upon property generally used for conducting their businesses. The Michigan Bell Telephone company is the largest individual taxpayers in the group.

The tax money received by the state from public utilities goes into the primary school fund and is distributed among all school districts in proportion to the number of children of school age residing therein. It has been estimated that the Michigan Bell company pays approximately one-fourth of the sum paid into the fund by public utilities.

During the past ten years, the Michigan Bell company has paid into the state primary school fund more than $26,000,000.

AT THE MOVIES

Raft Creator of Charleston

Five years before America went "Charleston" mad, George Raft introduced it to American and European stage and cabaret audiences.

And now the famous dancer is a motion picture star, and is about to introduce America to another sensational dance, titled the "Raftero." It is shown in Paramount's "Bolero" coming on Friday and Saturday to the Palace theatre, in which Raft is starred with Carole Lombard, Sally Rand, the Fan Dancer, and Frances Dunke, featured.

From Famous Play

Paramount's production of "The Working Hour," which comes on Sunday and Monday to the Palace theatre, is the screen adaptation of the famous play by Augustus Thomas, a sensation in New York back in 1907. It was Thomas' "The Copperhead" in which Lionel Barrymore starred for years.

Fields in Role Of Nut Inventor

If W. C. Fields hadn't been such a goofy inventor, he wouldn't have met the foreign princess who was responsible for his ultimate success, and if he hadn't met the princess, his daughter couldn't have married the banker's son.

That, in a few words, is the substance of "You're Telling Me," W. C. Fields' first starring picture for Paramount, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Palace theatre. In addition to Fields, the picture features Larry "Buster" Crabbe, Joan Marsh and Adrienne Ames. It was directed by Erle Kenton from the screen play written by Walter DeLeon and Paul Jones.

Phone Film Is Full of Humor, Romance and Thrilling Action

The romantic and human elements that lie behind the operation of the gigantic telephone system of the country are featured in the new Warner Bros. picture, "I've Got Your Number," which is scheduled to be shown at the Palace theatre on Thursday.

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 8.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I Cor. 10: 16): "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?"

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.33): "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? Then why ascribe this inspiration to a dead rite, instead of showing, by casting out error and making the body holy, acceptable unto God, that Truth has come to the understanding?"

USE OF CITY-OWNED DOCKS BY LOCAL BOAT OWNERS CRITICIZED

A matter called to attention repeatedly and deserving of mention, is the constant use by local boat owners of the city-owned docks at the foot of Antrim street.

When the city of Charlevoix built the docks several years ago the purpose was primarily to serve yachts visiting this harbor, to give them docking facilities and conveniences conveying a welcome to Charlevoix.

It goes without saying that a craft visiting this port cannot make use of the docking facilities when taken up by local boat owners—and this is much the case a greater share of the time. Only a few days ago the slips were completely filled with local-owned boats, all sizes and descriptions.

This article is not written as a rebuke, but rather to point out to our readers that we cannot expect to obtain and hold visiting yachts during the summer season unless accommodations are provided for them, and this provision is impossible as long as local citizens continue their present practices.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Milk Producer Requirements

The present situation in the dairy industry is resulting in a large number of relatively small milk producers going into the retail distribution. Because of this situation, it may be of interest to list the provisions of the state law with which milk producers must comply.

1. Milk must be produced in a stable having an impervious floor, reasonably tight walls and ceiling, a reasonable amount of light and ventilation, and which is kept clean.

2. Milk or cream must be bottled only in a milk house or milk room which is free from contaminating surroundings.

3. Milk containers and utensils must be properly washed and sterilized by immersing for at least one minute in clean, hot water at a temperature of not less than 180 degrees fahrenheit, or in a solution containing not less than 35 parts per million of free chlorine, or by exposure to moist steam for at least 15 seconds.

4. Milk must be cooled promptly after milking to 50 degrees fahrenheit or lower and kept at that temperature, or lower.

5. Milk must be delivered in bottles or in closed cans of not less than one gallon capacity.

6. Milk must be properly strained through a cotton pad strainer.

7. Bottled milk or cream must be sealed with caps furnished in sealed tubes and applied with a mechanical capper.

8. Milk or cream must be sold in containers which carry the name of the dealer, either on the side of the container or on the cap of the cover.

9. Cattle must be free from disease and milk must be handled in a sanitary manner.

10. Milk must contain at least 3% fat, 8.5% milk solids not fat, and must not contain added water, preservative or foreign substance.

Information concerning the proper protection of clean milk or concerning a milk ordinance for your city can be obtained from Dr. A. R. Renwick, sanitary inspector of district health unit No. 3, who is also state dairy inspector of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego.

Is Your Child Prepared to Enter School?

Has your child had a health examination? The physical examination is so vitally important that no child should enter school without it. To assure your child a fair start and continued school attendance, take advantage of the pre-school roundup.

The health examinations reveal tendencies toward many conditions which through knowledge may be warded off but which may easily become serious if they are unrecognized or neglected.

Defects the Doctor May Detect

It is at this time that the doctor may detect eyestrain, malnutrition, ear hearing, diseased tonsils, difficult breathing, incipient conditions. He may even detect the beginning of tuberculosis or of a heart defect.

At this time the doctor can protect the child from such communicable diseases as diphtheria and small pox.

Parent Cooperation

Parents should watch the child's habits of conduct, sleeping, resting and eating, for good habits pave the way for the child through school trials and problems of later life.

WELL KNOWN SUMMER VISITOR DIED SATURDAY

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by

ED. TAYLOR

After slaving in the school room and the like for nine months, 68 campers and 22 staff members have returned to Camp Charlevoix for eight weeks of work and play together. We shall try for the next few weeks to record all the events that we feel will be of interest to the parents and friends of the camp. We hope you'll like it.

This year we have a fine group in camp. We have doubled our quota of boys and many new men have been added to the staff. After several years of depression, prosperity to Camp Charlevoix has come again and we have nearly a full camp. Here's to a prosperous summer and may everyone both young and old benefit by it.

We had many distinguished guests with us over the week end. Lieutenant-Colonel R. M. Lyon, commander of the 5th District C. C. C. camps, spent a short time here Sunday morning. He invited the camp to come over to Wolverine to visit the C. C. C. camp there. The counsellors issued a challenge to the army men for a baseball game which was heartily accepted by the officer.

E. E. "Tad" Wieman, head line coach at Princeton University, was here for a short while. He presented to the camp a book, "Practical Football," which was written by H. O. "Fritz" Crisler and himself. He announced that the boy who was the best versed on the contents of the book and the fundamentals of the game when he returned would be allowed to take the book home with him. We'll wager the book will be pretty well worn out by that time.

Dr. and Mrs. Jean Piccard of Wilmington, Delaware, arrived Sunday, bringing with them their three sons, who will spend the summer here at camp. Dr. Piccard's, who is the brother of the famous Swiss balloonist, [illegible] well-known, both accomplished balloonists. They promised to relate some of their interesting adventures to the boys the next time they visit the camp.

The Fourth of July was celebrated in great style. All through the day a special program was conducted by the staff. In the afternoon there was a treasure hunt for the juniors and a hare and hound chase for the others. Following the afternoon events a barbecue was held on the beach. Jack Hogan, our business manager, conducted the rituals over the fire, acting as cook. A big campfire concluded the events for the day. Camp and college songs were sung and then several of the counsellors told stories and reeled off many interesting yarns. The great day was brought to a close by the singing of taps and everyone went to bed happy.

Saturday evening the first council ring ceremony of the year will be held. At this time all the new boys will be initiated into the tribe of Charlevoix by Chief Reimann. More about this next week.

Sunday morning the first church service was held. The Chief gave a short talk using as his theme the motto of the camp, "I would be true for there are those who trust me." A quintet composed of Larry Quinn, Frank Smith, Johnny Olwin, (pardon, I mean Dr. Olwin), Harlan Bond and Mark Wakefield furnished the music.

Several interesting contraptions have been brought into camp by members of our staff. Wendall Gates brought a small organ which has proven quite popular with the boys as well as with the counsellors. "Brother" Beuhler has a diving helmet and although it has not been tried at camp yet he has a line of requests to go down in it a mile long.

Flash! Chief Reimann and several campers appear at the evening meal in their pajama coats. No, they are just wearing the new western shirts which have just arrived. The shirts are of all different colors and are quite rowdy-dow. The Chief challenged anyone to sport a shirt "hotter" than his. Immediately cabin 6 put up "Highpockets" Harlow and his mysterious shirt (probably a night shirt) against the camp director. The camp will decide the winner of the candy bar which was the prize wagered. Here's to more and classier shirts.

Dr. Johnny Olwin is conducting an acquaintance contest during the first few days of camp. Sunday noon Chief Reimann introduced the members of the staff and they in turn introduced the boys in their cabin. Later in the week there will be a contest to see who can name the most people in camp when they stand up. The business department will give a prize to the worthy winner. Results will be announced later.

Harlan Bond, our new music director, is organizing an orchestra and choir among the boys. Many have their instruments here while others are sending home for theirs. We will be expecting great things from this group later on.

Many of the juniors are great fans of our national game, basehall. They not only know how to play the game well but keep up with events that happen in the big leagues and can tell many of the older men facts about the players that they don't know. Perhaps several of them will be donning major league uniforms before long.

Paul Tornheim, the sailing and boating counsellor, was leading the camp in after dinner songs the other noon when out of nowhere came the voices of cabin 15 with "Out the Window He Must Go." With his ears blushing the "Skipper" took his seat. My! what a sense of humor "Oke's" cabin must have.

We wonder:

Who will win the shirt and acquaintance contests?

Why all of the track men in the senior section can't get to inspection on time?

Why Jim Evans was not at the staff meeting Sunday evening? Oh if you only knew the reason! Tsk! Tsk! Jim.

Why no one likes to clean out the raccoon cage?

Who will succeed the renowned Charles Case and Dick Woodfield as Gumpers kings of the camp?

NEW BOAT HOUSE BEING BUILT ON SOUTH ARM

W. S. Mower's speedboat "Big Boy," a super Belle Isle "Bear Cat," has been brought here for the summer. In addition to a program of landscaping which will make the Mower summer estate near Ironton one of the show places of the region, a large, two-story boat house is under construction in front of the cottage on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix.

All that goes up is bound to come down—taxes excepted.

FIND HEALTH AND PLEASURE IN A MICHIGAN VACATION

The sunshine of Michigan's sandy beaches, and the warm waters of its thousands of lakes, spell health for young and old. And there is no better tonic than the invigorating, pine-scented air of this unexcelled climate.

Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out-of-state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.

NEEDLESS SACRIFICE

Twenty-four human lives in Michigan were snuffed out by accident during the week end of June 24, some going to watery graves and fifteen being victims of motor car accidents. It takes but a cursory examination of the newspaper reports surrounding each death to discover the gruesome toll that is constantly being paid the god of carelessness. Five of those who were drowned went to their deaths because of failure to observe even ordinary precaution while in the water. Mostly they were city folks spending the day at some rural bathing beach. Of the motor accidents enumerated we find the majority were either the result of operating a faulty motor vehicle on the highways or through reckless driving. We shall neither preach a sermon, nor attempt to point out a moral in this connection. At most we might propound a query: Why will some people insist on such foolhardy conduct when they are well aware of the consequences usually resulting? Perhaps you can explain the reason.

THE VANQUISHED

World travelers returning to the United States say thata the Germany of today is an armed camp, ready for war against any European nation at almost a moment's notice. One observer writes that by the end of 1934 she will have 300,000 trained soldiers, half again as strong a force as was formerly considered adequate for the defense of the nation. So much for the efforts of European diplomats, who at the end of the World war sought to forever bind German arms in the strong bonds of submission. Experienced as they were in the wiles of statecraft they were unable to foresee that any nation of people worthy of the name would never consent to have that kind of bondage imposed upon it.

For the sake of comparison, let us go back to the days of the Civil war when Grant and Lee met on the bloody field of Appomattox to bring to an end four years of strife that had threatened to bring disaster to the first great Republic in the western world. Look at the absence of terms which the victor imposed upon the vanquished. Soldiers of the Southland were given back their horses, furnished with food and clothing, and told to return homeward to the great task of binding up the wounds of the Republic. But for the "Carpetbaggers," a replica of which may be seen in modern times, these wounds would have been healed a quarter of a century before they were.

Today we are a united nation of friendly people, the regretted past forgotten, this because the men who dictated those peace terms, during the most crucial hour this nation has known, were after all only brothers under the skin. Had the world drawn a picture of that historic scene in dealing with a conquered foe, the war clouds of Europe would have been banished for a hundred years. They failed to catch that vision—today nobody knows what even an hour may bring forth.

"BIGGEST IN THE WORLD"

Recently in many newspapers throughout the state appeared the photograph of a huge tuberculosis sanatorium nearing completion in Rome, Italy. It was described as "probably the biggest institution of its kind in the world."

Many buildings can be admired for being "the biggest in the world," but not so tubereulosis sanatoriums, says the Michigan Tuberculosis association.

The large sanatorium to which patients can come for hundreds of miles around too often takes the tubereulous sick too far from home. He will not stay where friends and relatives can not visit him occasionally. Instead he will return, against medical advice, to die and to spread infection.

It becomes vitally necessary, then, to localize treatment of tubereulosis, to bring the sanatorium to the patient instead of taking the patient to the sanatorium. Nowhere is this better illustrated in Michigan than in the plight of the forgotten Northern Area to be served some day by the proposed Northern Sanatorium at Gaylord. The distance from the Northern Area to the present state sanatorium at Howell are too great.

Michigan must complete this last step in giving localized—the best possible—treatment to her tuberculous sick. She must build the Northern Sanatorium

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

Without its newspaper the small town American community would be like a school without a teacher or a church without a pastor. In the aggregate, the county newspaper determines the outcome of more elections, exerts a greater influence for constructive community progress, is read longer by more members of the family and constitutes, with its millions of circulation and quadrupled millions of readers, a better advertising medium than any other group of newspapers or periodical publications.

When properly conducted, it cultivates so intensively its home news field that city dailies, farm journals and general magazines circulating in the same territory become only secondary influence.

Through service to its community, the country newspaper will not merely survive; it will continue to flourish as the most representative, most distinctive, most wholesome type of journalism America has produced.—John H. Casey, University of Oklahoma School of Journalism.

THOSE WHO COME

The annual trek of out-siders into Michigan, where they can spend a few delightful weeks or months during the heated summer season, is already under way. Backed by state funds the resort associations will be able to attract thousands of newcomers this year who have never before known the wonderful advantages we have to offer as a resort state. Treated right, these strangers here for the first time, will return year after year, each adding their small part to the golden stream of wealth to be distributed through this great seasonal industry, whose possibilities are now recognized as second to none other in our economic picture. There should be but one slogan: "Treat the tourist with every consideration." Be sure they are never overcharged; that the information given them is authentic and reliable; go just as far out of your way as possible in seeing that every hour of their stay is made enjoyable. all this in a spirit of hospitality that will leave no doubt of your genuine desire to be of service. Try this program for a single season—the results will be surprising.

THE MEETING PLACE

Few of us stop to realize that seldom if ever do all the individuals and groups which make up the life of a community gather together in the same room, but they do meet every week in the printed columns of the community newspaper. Here the farmer of Pleasant Valley talks to the farmer of Pine Ridge. Here the county agent finds an audience of all the farmers of the community. Here the farm wife reads the message from the department store. Here the taxpayer finds the financial statement and proposed budget of his local governing body. Here the church announces its services and meetings for the coming week. Thus does the new-paper spin the web of substantial community life.—Bruce McCoy.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page.

The fruit season is on! The first green apples, the first Bartlett pears, the first Riley Belle peaches are here and if not yet available everywhere, they will be soon. Other fruits which are plentiful and well distributed are the various melons, an assortment of berries, pineapples, plums, grapes, bananas, oranges and grapefruit—as well as the indispensable lemon. Since most fruits are served raw and require little preparation, they are a boon to homemakers who want to make their work as simple as possible in the summer.

Vegetables, too, are plentiful and low-priced. Salad vegetables, like fruits, are labor savers.

Here are three Sunday dinner menus:

Low Cost Dinner

Cold Cuts Mixed Vegetable Salad
Bread and Butter
Sliced Bananas Custard Sauce
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Roast Beef Parsley Potatoes
Tomato and Lettuce Salad
Bread and Butter
Cantaloupe a la Mode
Coffee (hot or iced) Milk

Very Special Dinner

Melon Cup
Broiled Chicken
New Potatoes in Cream
Lima Beans
Tomato and Cucumber Salad
Currant Jelly
Rolls and Butter
Berries with Whipped Cream in Pastry Shell
Coffee (hot or iced) Milk

Artistic Points in Summer Home

Quaint Decoration Made of Wood Straight From Trees.

A certain crudity of decoration is needed in summer cottages which have no plaster. There are also some substantial summer houses in which simplicity is courted even to the verge of crudity. Those who enjoy summering in cottages of this sort should keep in mind the ingenious devices they have seen, for they may prove helpful. The ideas presented today are fascinating in their development and have proved practical.

To suit the decoration to the dwelling, and instill artistic touches through simplicity requires an appreciation of beauty in nature and a power to convert natural elements into ornamental accessories and furnishings. In old settler days it was by virtue of necessity that beauty was wrested from things which were at hand. Today no such necessity stalks, so it is the pleasure of exercising one's own ingenuity, or the business of the trained decorator, to devise unusual ways and means to produce these effects.

The quick eye of one trained camper discovered a good use for small bent branches. He converted them into door handles in lieu of knobs. He selected small bent branches which formed acute or right angles. The ends of each naturally bent branch he sawed so that they would fit against the door, and then he screwed the wood down to it. Some of these handles were larger than others, none of them were duplicates in shape nor had the precise angle of others. It was partly this variety which made them intriguing. All were of sufficiently smooth bark to remain in their natural state and be congenial to the hand.

Before leaving the subject of branches in decoration, let me tell you of a very old little bedside stand which I delight in. A small tree trunk forms the standard and the legs consist of four branches which all separate from this trunk at the same place. I often think of the joy with which the builder must have espied this tree with its four forking branches, or with what pleasure he watched the sapling grow until it was just the right size to be used for the tree trunk. This table was made long years ago, by Plymouth settler folk.

A modern ingenious use of white birch saplings is found in one country farm house decorated in old-time simplicity. Each window in the living and also the dining room has one straight white birch sapling for a curtain rod. The curtain rings are small cross sections of birch trees with the centers hollowed out and smoothed. The wood at the sides between the hole and the birchbark outside is painted to suit the color scheme of the room. The rings do not slide easily, to be sure, but then the quaint textile hangings are for ornament, not use, as is generally the case.

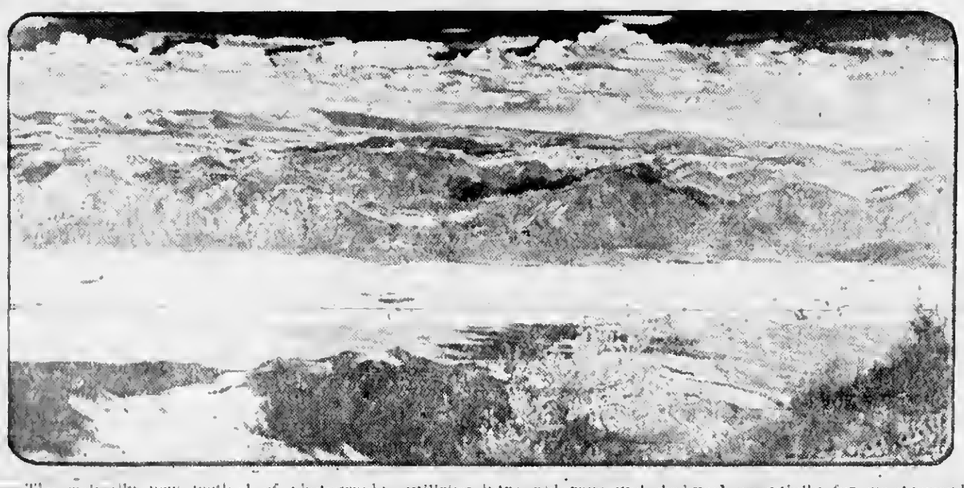
Death Valley Revealed by Infra Red Rays



The radically new method of photography, utilizing infra red rays and designed essentially for spectrascopic and research work, reveals Death Valley in California as it has never been seen by the human eye, reproducing on the plate distant peaks invisible to the photographers. This picture was taken from the ridge of Telescope peak looking toward Las Vegas, Nev. Death Valley appears in the foreground, 9,800 feet below and about ten miles away. The section of the valley shown is Bad Water, 235 feet below sea level, the lowest point in the United States. The mountains looming up on the far side of the valley are the Funeral range, while directly opposite is Dante's View, famous tourist mecca.

Susie Balances the Budget

By MABEL I. CLAPP

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service.

"WHAT this family needs is a budget," said Sam oracularly.

The monthly battle of the bills was over, and Susie in a state of exhaustion reclined on the couch with Sammy on the hearth rug.

"Everyone must choose and judge values in money matters," he went on. "It teaches discrimination, trains one in a sense of values ,and is good for mental development. It would be good for you."

"Then I won't do it," said Susie stubbornly. "I'm not going to undertake any more things that are good for me, because they just lead to nothing but grief. When I did those setting up exercises I sprained my knee, and it was in that class in home economics that I met that horrid Mrs. Budlong who bought things on my charge account and never paid for them."

"Now Sue, don't be a little fathead. You're not likely to sprain yourself putting figures down in a book, and if you developed the practical side of your nature more you wouldn't be so likely to be gypped by your friends."

"I don't like figures," Susie objected.

"This isn't a geometrical theorem, Honey. You can add, can't you?"

"Not long rows," said Susie firmly. "They never come out twice alike."

The battle of the budget was joined, but in the end, Sammy, who was a diplomat as well as an orator, prevailed, for he had Susie persuaded that budgeting was one of life's rosiest pastimes.

"It really isn't any trouble at all," said Susie, displaying the neat little leather covered book to her mother. "You just keep track of what you spend."

"But what for?" insisted Mrs. Jarvis. "Why bother?"

"Well," said Susie doubtfully, "Sammy says then you know where your money goes."

"You know where it goes anyway, if you count your change," said Mrs. Jarvis impatiently.

It was with some pride that Susie displayed her book to Sammy at the end of the first month. "Great work, old girl," was his comment as he surveyed the neat work and added totals with what seemed to Susie lightning speed. "You see, you're beginning to get results already. Most of the time before your allowance has been gone at the end of the month, and now you have $22.70 left over."

"Oh, but I haven't," objected Susie. "I've spent it all and had to borrow $10 from my personal allowance."

Sammy sighed heavily and girded up his loins for the battle of endeavoring to demonstrate statistically that Susie had failed to keep track of all her expenditures and that it was absolutely necessary to do so.

* * *

"I'm celebrating," announced Mrs. Jarvis one sunny morning two months later as she dropped in on her daughter. "I got my dividend check from the Dome mines and we could do a little shopping, have lunch at Bullock's and go to the matinee."

Susie raised a somewhat tense face from a page of figures. "I don't know," she said slowly. "I wanted to get this thing done today and off my mind."

"Good heavens," said her mother. "Are you still struggling with that budget?"

"I'm not going to give it up till I get it," said Susie stubbornly. "Last month I spent too much and made it up out of my own allowance, and this month I've spent $12.43 more than I had to begin with and I have $1.55 left."

"Well, my goodness," said her mother. "I don't see how anyone can expect to do better than that."

"It ought to be even," said Susie wearily. "It should balance. This," Susie indicated a column, "is the food allowance. We set aside 30 per cent for that and it comes to $45.00 a month."

"That's a dollar and a half a day, isn't it?" said her mother. "Well, why don't you just put down a dollar and a half for each day. That would make that column come out right."

Susie raised rather startled eyes to her mother. "I wonder if it would," she muttered.

"Of course it would," said Mrs. Jarvis impatiently. "And if you figure out what the right amount should be for all the other items and put it down it couldn't help but be right. And that would save all this bother of trying to remember and keeping track."

Susie excitedly seized a sheet of paper and began copying figures. "Why didn't I think of that," she cried. "Mother you're a wonder."

It was the work of a short half hour to copy a new budget with its preordained figures. "And how much better it looks, too," said her mother with satisfaction, "with the rows all alike."

* * *

"What did Sammy have to say about the budget?" asked her mother a few days later.

"Well, to tell the truth, he didn't have hardly anything to say. He just seemed at a loss for words," said Susie. "You know, Mother, I think Sammy just wanted to see if I could figure that out for myself. We aren't going to bother with a budget any more," she went on, "and I'm glad of it, for it's a kind of nuisance. But there's no point, really, in keeping on with a thing once you've mastered it."

FRIEND OR ENEMY, WIND REMAINS A MYSTERY TO MAN

Of all nature's forces the wind is perhaps the most intangible. Where it comes from and whither it goes no one knows. It can be a kindly friend or a ruthless enemy. It brings showers, clouds or sunny hours; it caresses with a delicate touch or strikes a devastating blow.

Writers of great literature have recognized the wind and its place in the scheme of things since Bible times, for we find in Genesis 3:8, "the cool of the day," margined to mean the wind of the day.

The Athenians gave names to their winds. There was Boreas, the north wind with an icy breath; Apheliotis, the wind from the east; Notos, the breath of the south, and Zephyros, the west wind. By these names the winds from the four quarters were personalized, and in Athens, near the Acropolis, there is still standing a temple built 22 centuries ago known as the Tower of the Winds.

Shakespeare, who drew so largely from nature, makes more than 200 illusions to the wind in his writings. Dickens in more modern times said in one of his stories, "I am always conscious of an uncomfortable sensation now and then when the wind is blowing in the east." And George Eliot writes, "but certain winds make men's tempers bad." Emerson, the American classicist, among his numerous allusions to this force, referred to "the pious wind . . . forgetting . . . prophetic," and in other ways.

The terrible force of the wind is best described by Conrad, virile writer of the sea, in "Typhoon," when he says, "a furious gale attacks him like a personal enemy, tries to grasp his limbs, fastens on his mind, seeks to rout his very spirit out of him."

To the effects of a terrible wind in West Indies we owe the fact that Alexander Hamilton was brought into American history. Born in the little island of Nevis, a British possession in the West Indies, his youth was spent on the island of St. Croix, a Danish possession. Not yet sixteen he wrote a description of a violent wind before the papers had worn off and while traces of ink were still visible. Printed in the island paper the story made such an impression upon the governor that the anonymous writer was discovered. This incident was the peg upon which his career turned.—Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch.

6. Indemnification. The Borrower will indemnify the Government and all purchasers of the Bonds from the Government against any loss or liability incurred by reason of any inaccuracy or incompleteness in any representation contained herein. In the event that there shall be any such inaccuracy or incompleteness, the Government shall be entitled (in addition to the above right of indemnification and any other right or remedy) to return any or all of the Bonds to the Borrower and recover the price paid therefor by the Government.

7. Use of Government's Name. Without the prior written consent of the Government, the Borrower will not refer to this Agreement or to any purchase by the Government of the Bonds as an inducement for the purchase of any securities (including Bonds repurchased from the Government) of the Borrower, and will not permit any purchaser from it of any such securities to do so.

8. Sale of Bonds by the Government. The Borrower will take all such steps as the Government may reasonably request to aid in the sale by the Government of any or all of the Bonds. Upon request, the Borrower will furnish to the Government or to any purchaser from the Government of 25 per centum of the Bonds, information for the preparation of a bond circular in customary form, signed by the proper official of the Borrower, containing such data as the Government or such purchaser may reasonably request concerning the Borrower and the System.

9. Expenses. The Borrower will pay all costs, charges and expenses incident to compliance with all the duties and obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the cost of preparing, executing and delivering the Bonds and obtaining all legal opinions requested by Counsel for the Government.

11. Waiver. Any provision of this Agreement may be waived or amended with the consent of the Borrower and the written approval of the Engineering Division, Finance Division, and Counsel for the Government, without the execution of a new or supplemental agreement, if, in the opinion of Counsel for the Government, which shall be conclusive, such waiver or amendment does not substantially vary the terms of this Agreement. No waiver by the Government of any such provision shall constitute a waiver thereof as applied to any subsequent obligation of the Borrower or the Government under this Agreement.

12. Agreement Not for the Benefit of Third Parties. This Agreement is not for the benefit of any person or corporation other than the parties hereto, their respective assigns or the successors of the Borrower, and neither the holders of the Bonds nor any other person or corporation, except the parties hereto, their respective assigns or the successors of the Borrower, shall have any right or interest in or under this Agreement, except as expressly provided for herein.

13. Interest of Member of Congress. No member of or Delegate to the Congress of the United States of America shall be admitted to any share or part of this Agreement, or to any benefit to arise thereupon.

14. Validation. The Borrower hereby covenants that it will institute, prosecute and carry to completion insofar as it may be within the power of the Borrower, any and all acts and things to be performed or done to secure the enactment of legislation or to accomplish such other proceedings, judicial or otherwise, as may be necessary, appropriate or advisable to empower the Borrower to issue the Bonds and to remedy any defects, illegalities and irregularities in the proceedings of the Borrower relative to the issuance of the Bonds and to validate the same after the issuance thereof to the Government. If in the judgment of Counsel for the Government such action may be deemed necessary, appropriate or advisable. The Borrower further covenants that it will procure and furnish to the Government, as a condition precedent to the Government's obligations hereunder, a letter from the Governor of the State of Michigan in form satisfactory to Counsel for the Government and expressing the covenant and agreement of said Governor to effectuate insofar as it is within his power the covenant of the Borrower as hereinabove in this Paragraph expressed.

15. Miscellaneous. This Agreement shall be binding upon the parties hereto when a copy thereof, duly executed by the Borrower and the Government, shall have been received by the Borrower. This Agreement shall be governed by and be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Michigan. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto, their respective assigns and the successors of the Borrower, and shall inure to the benefit of the holders from time to time of any of the Bonds; provided, however, that no rights of the Borrower hereunder shall be assignable except with the prior written consent of the Government. All obligations of the Borrower hereunder shall cease upon payment in full of all the Bonds.

16. Promotion of National Recovery. The Borrower covenants to discharge faithfully and with all possible dispatch the duties and obligations imposed upon it by this Agreement, it being the purpose of this Agreement to enable the Borrower to secure the benefits of the Act, foster employment, promote the public welfare and thereby assist in the recovery program of the President of the United States.

17. Undue Delay by the Borrower. The Government shall have the right to rescind the allotment for the Project and annul any obligation to make a loan or a grant to the Borrower unless the Borrower shall within a reasonable time:

(a) Sign and return to the Government three counterparts of this Agreement as provided in Paragraphs 1 and 2, PART TWO, hereof. (For the purposes of this subparagraph 17 (a) a reasonable time shall be deemed to be ten days in the ordinary course of events or such longer period as shall be allowed in the absolute discretion of the Administrator);

NEW SCHOOL FINANCE PROGRAM IS PROPOSED

Commission to Ask State Provide Up to 50% Operating Cost

The Michigan Educational Planning commission at its recent meeting in Lansing recommended that the state government provide new state aid for the public schools up to 50 percent of each school district's operating cost for the preceding year. The maximum aid for any one district would not exceed $34 per child in average yearly membership, in addition to the primary school interest fund distribution. The finance committee of the commission estimates that the new distribution will require approximately $25,000,000.

Revenue suggested by the commission include $15,000,000 allocated from the retail sales tax; $8,000,000 from funds already being distributed to schools; and from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 from a proposed new tax on classified personal property. Further plans suggest a reduction of $400,000 in school costs by eliminating payment to school board members. It is also pointed out that economies in other branches of government would make available at least $10,000,000 for schools.

VIOLATIONS OF FISH LAWS GREAT IN MAY

Arrests During Month Double Those During April

Violations of state fishing laws continued to increase during May, almost doubling the number of the preceding month and establishing a new high mark for arrests during 1934.

According to a report of the division of field administration, department of conservation, a total of 431 arrests were made in May for violations of the fish and game laws. Of this total 385 were for fishing law infractions. The remaining number was made up as follows: fire law violations, 16; hunting, 15; trapping, 10; failure to make fur reports, 3; destroying beaver dam and hindering an officer, one each.

Fines and costs amounting to $4,383.36 were assessed violators. Jail sentences totalled 1,108 days. Three men were acquitted in justice court; seven cases were dismissed; 28 offenders were placed on probation; and the fines of 146 were suspended.

DODGE HAS NEW MODELS WITH LOW PRICE TAGS

Popular Line Further Rounded Out by Introduction Touring Sedans

With seasonal timeliness and meeting a transportation need that assumes greatest urgency during the period of the year in which automobile touring reaches its full vogue, comes the announcement by Dodge Brothers Corporation of new, low-priced Touring Sedans.

The additional cars by which the number of selections available in the 1934 Dodge line is increased to 12—ure designated as Touring Sedans; this name not only distinguishes them from the ten types already comprising the line, but suggests the important extra functions to which consideration has been given in the design of the bodies.

RESORT SEASON IS NOW IN FULL SWING

Summer Camps and Hotels All In Operation—Cottages Filling

With the opening of all Charlevoix summer hotels, the boys' and girls' camps, clubs and many summer places, the 1934 resort season is now in full swing.

While the Fourth of July holiday failed to provide Northern Michigan with the usual number of vacationists due to its falling in the middle of the week, the increase in cottagers and tourists is quite noticeable.

Improvement of business conditions throughout the country is bringing a favorable reaction in the resort region and a feeling of general optimism prevails among the owners of both local and summer business institutions.

MANY COUNTY ROADS RECEIVE DUST LAYER

All Trunk Lines Made Dust-Proof by Maintenance Department

The work of dust-proofing Charlevoix county trunk lines and highways has been completed under the direction of S. A. Tokoly, maintenance superintendent.

Mr. Tokoly spent a considerable portion of last week with a crew of men at Beaver Island, where highways were treated. While trunk lines have been completely covered; the policy this year included oiling portions of roads in front of farm dwellings on county highways. Roads in many of the townships were thus treated.

TAX ALLOCATION IS MADE BY COMMISSION

County Allowed 7½ Mills, Schools from 4.7 to 6.7

Division of the county property tax has been made by the Charlevoix county tax commission, which, at a session late last week, made the final allocation to the various county governmental units.

As provided by statute, eight-tenths of a mill was allocated to the two state universities. The county, last year given .8 mills, producing $72,000, of which only approximately $44,000 was collected due to tax delinquencies, was this year allocated 7½ mills, equal to revenue of $63,000. Figuring tax delinquency at the same rate as last year, the county budget will necessarily have to be pared to avoid a deficit.

The balance of the 15 mill property tax, amounting to 6.7 mills, will be divided between town-ships and school districts. Townships are allowed 2.7 mills and some township budgets require the entire amount. Norwood township again this year was the only precinct not requesting funds for township purposes. The schools of that township will get the entire 6.7 mills. The allocation to the various school districts varies greatly, depending entirely upon the amount asked for township purposes. The range is from 4.7 to 6.7 mills.

EYE TESTING COUNTY CHILDREN IS PLANNED

Dr. Marian Stevenson, M. D., to Start Work About July 16th

Dr. Marian Stevenson, M. D., ophthalmologist with the Children's Fund of Michigan, is coming to District Health Unit No. 3 to examine the eyes of those children showing vision defects. Through vision testing carried on by Miss A. Winnifred Golley, R. N., in the schools, those children having vision defects have been found.

Dr. Stevenson will start her work in Charlevoix county about July 16. All children who have shown defects on being tested at the school and who are unable to pay for glasses will be examined by Dr. Stevenson and the glasses furnished free. Those who can afford to go to their regular physician for this examination will be expected to do so.

MEGGISON RETURNED SCHOOL BOARD

UNANIMOUSLY RE-ELECTED ON MONDAY NIGHT

Voters Approve 2 Mill Tax Addition for Free Text Books, Building Improvements

One trustee was elected, the financial statement and reports of the secretary and librarian read and other important business was transacted at the annual meeting of Charlevoix school district No. 1, city and township, held Monday evening at the high school assembly room. The attendance was very small, only 39 persons being present.

Clarence B. Meggison, president of the board of education the past year, was re-elected trustee for a three-year term. Mr. Meggison's selection was unanimous, the formality of a vote being dispensed with following his nomination. The action of the voters present was n distinct recognition of Mr. Meggison's endeavors in behalf of the district the past year—a period of financial distress. Mr. Meggison expressed his appreciation of the courtesy and extended due credit to his fellow board members for their cooperative endeavors.

By a vote of 32 to 6, a plan to raise 2 mills for a period of one year in addition to the allocated school tax of 4.7 mills and debt service of 5 mills, was adopted. Approval of the additional tax levy was conditional upon assessment on the valuation as set by the board of review, embodying a 20 per cent value reduction. In case the assessment set by the county board of equalization, allowing a two per cent cut, is used, no additional tax levy will be raised.

Purpose of the extra 2 mills, while primarily to make up for a cut in allocation from 5 mills to 4.7 mills and the drop in valuation, is to furnish funds to provide free text books for all school grades, connecting the senior high school to the new heating plant in the grade building, thereby discontinuing the junior high school building, putting thermostatic control in the high school and installation of a fuel stoker. The contemplated outlay for these improvements and extensions of service is $4,300.

The treasurer's report, center of interest due to the remarkable financial record accomplished by the board last year, revealed that schools had been operated the full nine months without a deficit, in fact, with a balance on hand. In addition to regular operating costs, approximately $13,000 in past due obligations were paid. Budgeted items, pared to the bone to keep within anticipated revenues, were exceeded only in the instance of fuel. The outlay for fuel, due to the extremely cold and lengthy winter, was $1,300 higher than the budget.

The atmosphere of Monday night's meeting was one indicating complete satisfaction of taxpayers, over the manner in which school affairs had been conducted the past year.

UNIQUE AND ARTISTIC MAP IS WORK OF MRS. EARL A. YOUNG

The acclaim and praise of local and summer residents of this region alike has been accorded Mrs. Earl A. Young for the artistic perfection of a pictorial and descriptive map of northern Michigan just recently placed in circulation.

The map, depicting a historical and nature study of Charlevoix and portions of Antrim and Emmet counties, was most cleverly designed and drawn by Mrs. Young. Lithographed copies, already in popular demand, have been made and placed on sale.

While unique and beautiful, the map is also most complete in its details. Provisions of nature in wild life and plant form for every portion of the region covered, as well as points of scenic and historic interest. The artist was assisted by Mr. Young, who compiled the data for the project.

Enthusiasts of northern Michigan should insist on a copy of this unique and interesting study of this portion of Michigan known as the "Million Dollar Sunset" region.

FORMAL OPENING OF BATH HOUSE SUNDAY

Many Hundred Inspected Lake Michigan Entertainment Feature

The new bathing pavilion, newest addition to Charlevoix's recreational facilities, was officially opened last Sunday with an informal program.

Attesting to the interest in the new lay-out was the crowd of many hundred persons from this as well as nearby cities in attendance. Those inspecting the building and adjoining playground were lavish in their praise.

The program opened with a parade in which the city band and Legion bugle and drum corps participated. Water sports, swimming contests, a boxing match and an exhibition dive from the lighthouse were interesting features and two fine concerts by the city band, one in afternoon and the other in the evening, were highly praised and drew large audiences.

The bath house, with its facilities, the playground, etc., give Charlevoix one of the most complete bathing beaches in northern Michigan and an entertainment feature long needed.

EAST JORDAN WON SUNDAY BALL TILT

Scored 8 to 6 Victory in Game Featured by Three Home Runs

Poor base running in the 7th inning proved the undoing of the Charlevoix Indians last Sunday afternoon and resulted in an 8 to 6 victory for the East Jordan Merchants at the Legion diamond.

The contest, a close one all the way, was featured by three home runs. Peters, Charlevoix hurler, connected with a circuit clout, while Sommerville and Peck drove out homers for East Jordan.

Charlevoix niched Peck, East Jordan hurler, for three runs in the first and second innings. Amos John, who relieved him in the fourth, allowed six hits and one run in the next five. Peters was touched for eight hits in seven innings, while Zimmerman, his substitute in the eighth, allowed three hits in the remaining two innings.

The Indians meet Mancelona here next Sunday. The Antrim outfit have two victories over Charlevoix to their credit, but Manager Glenn Rose feels his team is set to come through with a win.

A healthy financial condition is revealed by the statement of the Charlevoix County State bank at the close of business June 30, published on page four of this issue.

COUNCIL TO AID BANK REOPENING

AUTHORIZE SUBSCRIPTION TO CAPITAL STOCK

Retirement of Bonds and Repayment Bank Loan Included in Large Semi-Weekly Payroll

Following the lead taken by the board of supervisors at their June session, the city council Monday night moved to aid in the reorganization and re-opening of the Charlevoix State Savings bank.

By unanimous vote, the council adopted n resolution authorizing City Treasurer Robert E. Rife to subscribe for fifteen shares of capital stock in the new bank now being organized. Like the county, the city has a large sum of public money impounded in the State bank, and this action is taken as an emergency measure to aid re-opening of the institution and place in circulation the funds tied up. Under a recent act of the state legislature, municipalities having impounded funds in closed banks are authorized to subscribe to the capitalization.

A payroll aggregating $8,271.39, one of the largest in recent weeks, was approved. The payroll included the retirements of $1,829.10 in general and local improvement bonds and interest, as well as an item of $2,023.33 recently borrowed from the Charlevoix County State bank because of a temporary shortage of city funds.

Authorization for the firm of Greeley & Hanson, engineers furnishing plans for the PWA sewage disposal plant soon to be undertaken here, to draw up plans as specified by Col. Rich, head of the state health department, was granted. Col. Rich, in a recent letter to the council, requested plans include costs of building greenhouse type drying beds at the Wilbur property location of the plant, as well as plans isolating the drying beds to the city dumping grounds. The state health department appeared not wholly satisfied with plans to move this unit away from the central site, thus necessitating hauling of refuse.

The council approved beer license application of Richard Brenner, who will open a beer garden in the Washburn building on the east side of Bridge street.

The week prior to the opening had been filled with preparations with Mr. and Mrs. George R. Swain, directors, supervising the work. A number of the staff were present perfecting plans for the program of the season.

The majority of the staff have been counsellors at the camp from one to four seasons and are loyal to its ideals. Among these are Miss Meriam Cary, graduate of the University of Michigan; Miss Elizabeth Shull, graduate of the U. of M. with a Master's degree from Columbia; Miss Elizabeth Snow, a graduate of Oberlin college; and Miss Lucille Cody, a registered nurse and graduate of the University of Michigan.

Since the opening of the camp there have been n number of visitors, some of them parents of the campers and some interested in examining the camp for enrollment of their daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Swain are anticipating a fuller camp during the month of August.

A lot of enthusiasm is shown over the prospective Jordan river trips and the two or three-day canoe trips on Lake Charlevoix. The Fourth of July was celebrated with a "bean hole" dinner and a dramatic skit, "The Lantern," presented under the direction of Miss Lucille Garriot.

The camp program calls for the usual varied list of activities sponsored in previous years.

Annual Meeting Observed Monday With Outing at Beaver Island

A boat ride and picnic dinner at Beaver Island on Monday was n feature of the annual meeting of the Little Traverse Bay Ministerial association, whose members are clergymen from Mackinaw City south to Bellaire, Mancelona and Gaylord.

The picnic was the closing festivity of a series of monthly luncheon meetings held in the various cities of the district throughout the year. The officers of the association are: President, Rev. G. A. Smock, Boyne City; vice-president, Rev. John Alexander, Bellaire; secretary-treasurer, Rev. W. W. Hurd, Charlevoix.

At this closing festivity for the year wives of members were invited as guests. The secretary had arranged a fine, carefully planned picnic dinner at Beaver Island. The steamer ride on the Marold II, Capt. L. L. Hill, was delightful and every courtesy was extended by the captain and crew. Everyone expressed great appreciation of the pleasure and charm of the water trip and the quaint, interesting sights at Beaver Island. Forty-eight persons enjoyed the picnic dinner.

The next meeting will be held September 13 at Petoskey in connection with the Methodist conference in session there at that time, with speakers from some of the conference "high lights" and attendance at the conference lecture that evening.

DUCK STAMP FUND TO BUY REFUGES

EACH HUNTER ASSESSED DOLLAR TAX THIS FALL

New Federal Measure, First of Kind Attempted, Aimed for Protection of Waterfowl

Under provisions of a new federal act all sportsmen who hunt any species of migratory waterfowl during the coming season will be required to purchase a federal duck stamp at a cost of $1, according to the department of conservation.

The stamp is the first of its kind ever issued. The funds derived from its sale in every part of the United States have been set aside by congress for the purpose of acquiring marsh and water areas as inviolate refuges for ducks, geese and other waterfowl.

Stamp collectors as well as hunters are interested in the new stamp. It will be unique in character as well as design, having an appropriate waterfowl scene.

Every sportsman engaged in hunting migratory waterfowl this autumn must have in his possession a federal migratory waterfowl hunting stamp, valid from July 1 of the year of issue to June 30 of the succeeding year.

It will be possible to obtain the stamps at a cost of $1 at post offices in county seats having populations of 2,500 or more and in certain post offices conveniently located to be designated later. The individual applying for a stamp will be required to fill out an application form to be provided by the postmaster. The stamp must then be affixed to the individual's hunting license. It is not transferable.

Possession of a federal stamp does not prevent the arrest of a holder under state law if he does not have a state hunting license. If he possesses a state license but not a federal stamp while hunting, he is liable to prosecution under federal law, according to the department. If the hunter holds neither a state license nor a federal stamp he may be prosecuted in both federal and state courts.

Under provisions of the federal migratory bird treaty act, hunters who do not have in their possession a duck hunting stamp while hunting migratory waterfowl are subject to a fine of not more than $500 and imprisonment of not more than six months or both upon conviction in federal court.

The federal bureau of biological survey, which has the task of selecting and acquiring the refuge areas as well as administering them, expects that the sale of the stamp will provide a revenue of from $600,000 to $1,000,000 each year.

Naturalists, sportsmen and conservationists have long realized the necessity of an extensive system of waterfowl refuges, not only on the breeding grounds of the north, but on the southern wintering grounds as well. The duck stamp is the result [illegible] on the part of the conservationists who have been growing alarmed at the steady decrease of ducks and geese.

STICKER PERMITS EXPIRE AUGUST 1

The 351,642 Michigan motorists who have been operating their cars under the two-payment permit plan, must pay the second half of the 1934 weight tax and secure 1934 license plates before August 1. Under the law authorizing the windshield sticker permits, the secretary of state is not given power to extend their use after August 1.

The NEW Firestone CENTURY PROGRESS TIRE

Ten Million People HELPED TO BUILD THE TIRE SENSATION of '34!

Beyond Comparison in Quality, Construction, Appearance and Price With Any First Quality Tire Made

THE way to create a TIRE SENSATION is to give the people what they want, and Firestone has done this with the new Firestone Century Progress Tire.

As millions of people visited the Firestone Factory at the World's Fair last year, we asked this question—"What do you value most in a tire?" They answered—"Give us Blowout Protection, Non-Skid Safety, and Long Wear, at a moderate price." This was a big order; but Firestone has a habit of giving car owners what they want when they want it.

We knew there was only one way to build Quality and Value into a tire at a moderate price, and that was by volume production. We built the greatest tire ever made to sell at these low prices. Car owners are profiting because we found out what they wanted and found the way to give it to them.

The new Firestone Century Progress Tire IS EQUAL OR SUPERIOR to any first quality tire built, regardless of name, brand, by whom manufactured, or at what price offered for sale.

Check These Amazing Values

Come in and equip your car with this marvel of tire construction, at the lowest price we have ever been able to make on a tire of this high quality and construction, carrying a Triple Guarantee.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

First Wednesday evening each month at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 15.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 7: 16, 17): "Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.192): "In Science, you can have no power opposed to God, and the physical senses must give up their false testimony. Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable. Evil is not power."

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by
ED. TAYLOR

Saturday afternoon was one that will be remembered by the Charlevoix campers for many a moon. The junior baseball squad, composed of boys under 12 years, journeyed to Camp Algonquin, where they won a 9 to 7 decision. Here at camp the Algonquin senior team was defeated 23-7 by our nine. "Smip" Martin pitched a fine game for the seniors while several of the juniors were on the mound at Algonquin. Although the rivalry was keen good sportsmanship and fair play prevailed in both games and we are hoping that another game can be arranged with the boys from Burt Lake before the summer is over.

The seniors and intermediates received a treat that they will remember a long time, when they journeyed to Traverse City Monday to see the Detroit Tigers play an exhibition game. They left right after breakfast in the truck and staff members' cars and ate their lunch at the ball park. During the intermission between lunch and the game they played soft-ball in a nearby field. Although the Tigers won 9 to 1 the game was very interesting to the boys as many of them had never seen big leaguers in action before. Ed. Lilienfield was the proud possessor of a foul ball which he gained after a mad scramble back of the stand. Chief Reimann, Mark Wakefield, John Gann and Frank Harlow ate lunch with the Kiwanis club and the ball players. Frank collected the autographs of all the players and also several baseball souvenirs off of the table (no silverware). A party composed of "Oke" Oldham, Frank Smith, Louie Baker, Bill Brownell and Brother Beuhler visited the insane asylum. (It's a wonder they let them out again). On their return to camp their imitations of the different lunatics was greatly enjoyed.

Chief, Frank Harlow, Noel Pope, John Gann, and ye editor went sky-riding in a 1934 Stinson plane owned and piloted by Jack Barstow, a brother of one of our former campers. Although he was a fellow townsman of Mr. Harlow no free rides were obtained much to the embarrassment of the above gent who had invited the group to go on the expedition.

While the older boys were enjoying the thrills of the ball game the juniors had a special trip of their own. Soon after clean-up they travelled to Mount McSauba via Ernie Reimann's truck and spent the day on the shores of Lake Michigan. They had their lunch and then swam, dug wells in the sand and last but not least, played "king of the hill." They returned to camp in the evening tired but happy.

Sunday afternoon the intermediate and junior groups were out of camp. Taking their supper with them the intermediates hiked to the old Indian mission which is located several miles from camp. The small boys took the outboards and sailboat to Strawberry bay for a little outing of their own.

Although we have several fishermen in our midst none of them have been able to bring home the bacon as yet. Herm Everhardus, Bob Lyon, Mark Wakefield, Larry Quinn, Ray Pinkham, Bill Martin and Wally Heyman have all visited Susan lake in quest of fish but have always returned with several interesting yarns but no proof.

"Oke" Oldham, veteran counsellor, gave a short talk in church Sunday morning. His subject was "Kindness and its Results." Special music was furnished by Harlan Bond, Frank Smith, Larry Quinn, accompanied by Wendall Gates on the organ. Mark Wakefield read the scripture and Bob Lyon led the group in a word of prayer.

Many large boxes have been coming into camp lately and it seems that they are the musical instruments of the boys. Soon Harlan Bond will be able to start rehearsing the Charlevoix symphony or maybe it will be a jazz band. Who can tell? Mr. Bond is also planning to organize a campers' choir which will sing at the Sunday morning services. This is a fine project and we hope it will be successful.

Many worthwhile projects have been completed or are under way. "Red" Boettcher and his crew have completed the wrestling and boxing ring after spending many hours of hard work on it. Sunday evening Red and Herm Everhardus tried it out with a short bout which the Hon. Mr. Everhardus claims to have won. Now we will be able to see how many Jim London's and Strangler Lewis's we have in our camp. Mark Wakefield, who is known in Indiana as the "Wizard" of basketball, has completely rebuilt the basketball court, and lately some fast games have been held. Brother Beuhler, rifle instructor, has moved the range and has done a fine job of making the new shooting gallery. With all of the crack shots we have in camp Johnny Dillinger had better stay clear of Camp Charlevoix.

John Swisher, a second year camper, won the acquaintance contest which was held last week. Wally Heyman, Phil Huber and were runner-ups. Each boy was given a slip of paper and as the different fellows stood up they wrote down his name. Mrs. Reimann had the best paper among the members of the staff with Oke and Herm Everhardus next in line. It is rumored that Brother Swisher and Uncle "Oke" were in cahoots, but we would not think of accusing the said gentlemen of any such crime.

Frank Smith suggested the other day that all the counsellors be called "Uncle" by the boys and the campers be called "Brother." Now the men will have to get used to being called "Uncle Larry," "Uncle Frank" "Uncle Tim" etc.

After much deliberation the judges of the shirt contest, Wendall Gates, Herm Everhardus and Harlan Bond, awarded Bob Henderson and Bob Huber the prize for having the hottest shirt. George Cunningham was the runner-up. John Kohl and John Gann were chosen as having the most artistic shirts. Ed. Lilienfield was runner-up. The Chief also ran. A new type of contest has been inaugerate by the nature department. It is called a "What Is It Contest." Each morning there is some object mounted with nature on the front porch. Each boy places his ballot in the box and then the next day the name of the object is given. Although this idea is new most of the boys have been regularly contributing their ballots and seem to be interested in the contest. Here's to bigger and better contests.

During the next week many interesting events are in store for everyone. Wednesday evening the opening council ring ceremony will be held after being postponed a few days. Thursday afternoon a big track meet is being planned. Friday night the whole camp will go to the Dramatics camp at Ironton to see a mystery play which will be presented by the players there. Last year the cast came to camp and gave one of Shakespeare's plays, which was greatly enjoyed by all campers, will have a great treat in store for them Friday. Saturday afternoon there will be a swimming meet and canoeing contests under the supervision of "Oke" and his assistants.

Saturday evening the dramatic department will entertain us with a short skit from one of Shakespeare's plays. This is the first home talent show of the year but we are sure it will go over big. The members of the cast are Wendall Gates, Harlan Bond, Rowland McLaughlin, Guy Ackerman, Oscar Boettcher and John Swisher.

This year for the first time in the history of the camp the campers and staff members are being divided into two teams, the greens and the grays. These two groups will compete against each other in all athletic events and other such events where competition can be held and it is hoped that it will add much spirit and zest to camp life.

CWA HIGHWAY WORKERS PAID NEARLY 4 MILLION

CWA workers on state trunk line and county road projects under supervision of the state highway department earned $3,453,464.41, Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner announces. The report of CWA road work in Michigan also shows that $481,894.40 was expended for materials and an additional $50,754.73 was paid for truck and team hire. Thus, nearly $4,000,000 of federal grant CWA money was earned in Michigan under the highway department's program.

MARINE FOODS IN MERMASH

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

THE U. S. BUREAU OF FISHERIES EXHIBIT SAID:

BIG INCREASE SEEN IN FISHING LICENSES

Expect 60,000 More Sales This Year Than Previous Season

The department of conservation may realize $200,000 from the sale of fishing licenses this year or approximately $60,000 more than in 1933, according to a report of the license division.

A total of 460,000 licenses have been distributed to agents in all parts of the state. It was expected that the heaviest sales would come late in June and in early July due to the opening of the inland lakes to fishing. The license division believes that probably 400,000 licenses will be sold before the end of the resort season.

The new 50-cent resident fishing license is having its first full test this year, having become effective May 8 of 1933. Last year the department sold 286,532 resident rod licenses.

Receipts of license sales are placed in the game-protection fund.

CALLA TRAVIS DANCING SCHOOL OPENS FOR ANOTHER SEASON

The Calla Travis Dancing School, a popular summer institution at the Belvedere Club for many years, opened Monday in the casino.

Miss Travis, who will be assisted this season by Mrs. Jeanne Darling, will give lessons daily on every phase of the dancing art. Classes are available for children and adults alike. Evening assembly classes for young boys and girls, beginners and advanced pupils will be held Tuesday and Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Darling, together with her husband, Tom Darling, who is life guard at the Belvedere bathing pier this summer, appeared professionally at the Biltmore and Silver Slipper in Miami, Fla., last winter, winning high acclaim for their presentation of the acrobatic adagio.

Mr. Darling and his wife, the latter a champion swimmer, are giving swimming instruction at the Belvedere in addition to their other activities.

PAID MORTGAGES SHOULD BE PUT ON THE RECORDS

Changes in the Michigan chattel mortgage law, made by the last legislature bring to light the fact that many Michigan farmers have paid such mortgages but have failed to record their discharge and the records still show the mortgages as existing indebtedness, according to members of the farm credit administration.

The new law requires that chattel mortgages given or paid by all Michigan residents, not living in an incorporated city, shall be recorded with the register of deeds. Township clerks formerly were designated as the recording officers.

They talk most who have least to say.

WATER SPECTACLE AMUSES IRONTON'S SUMMER RESIDENTS

Before an audience of friendly and enthusiastic summer residents of Ironton and environs, a spirited race was won last Sunday by a mixed crew paddling the "J. E.," a war canoe.

The course extended from the ferry in a southerly direction, passing Mokoton and ended at the spacious new Mower boat house.

This beautiful spot, with its narrow width, high banks and accessible roads, enabled enthusiastic partisans to view the event and to cheer their entries to super efforts. The finish of the race was at the boat house, where the largest group of guests saw the finish from the observation room.

S. W. Mower, owner of the shells, is the holder of a national record for double oar rowing. He competed in one of his new cedar single seated racing shells.

Frank Robinson, also of Detroit and a member, as stroke, of winning crews, handled another shell.

Ben Harris of Washington University, a rangy oarsman and versatile athlete, rowed in the bow position and stroke.

Miss Edna Mower of New York, a talented and gifted summer guest, handled a paddle from seat number two and showed experienced, finished form.

Miss Elizabeth Mower, who is the present holder of the tennis title at Rollins college and a lover of outdoor sports, performed creditably at number three position.

Charles Bayly Jr., an experienced oarsman and member of the Jonathan Edwards college crew of Yale University, rowed from stern and steered the course.

While racing, primarily, against the canoe, the competition between the two shells was keen, with the ultimate winner in doubt until the end. Less than a length separated them.

Considerable attention was given by the judges of the race, P. A. Harris and C. B. Bayly, in order to fix a proper handicap. Interest ran high. Adherents of both type of craft claimed superiority and loudly backed their entries. The canoe was finally awarded a handicap of one eighth the distance. This, however, proved to be too great an obstacle to overcome.

The shells glided gracefully over the smooth surface of the water and, at times, gained on the canoe.

The mixed crew, which comprised the make-up of the war canoe, rowed beautifully, starting with a long slow rhythmic stroke which they gradually increased as the finishing line was approached. They reached the end of the course three full lengths ahead of the nearest shell.

Simeon Tyler, the photographer, caught a picture at one point of the race, when the canoe was leading the nearest shell by a single length.

The victory for the war canoe seemed to be a popular one. The enthusiasm shown would indicate other events are in contemplation.—Contribution.

AT THE MOVIES

Movie Version of Stage Play, Strong Drama

Adapted from the New York play, by Elizabeth A. [illegible], the current season, Paramount's picture version of "Double Door," comes on Friday and Saturday to the Palace theatre.

"Double Door" features a strong cast including Evelyn Venable, Sir Guy Standing, Kent Taylor and two members of the original Broadway cast, Mary Morris and Anne Revere.

"Melody" Film Presents Star of Air Waves

When the Paramount film "Melody in Spring," comes on Sunday and Monday to the Palace theatre, fans of radio and the motion pictures will have their first opportunity to see Lanny Ross, the young tenor who has risen to national popularity by his singing on a radio network.

For, "Melody in Spring," with Charlie Ruggles, Mary Boland and Ann Sothern marks the screen debut of this handsome chap, recently brought to Hollywood under contract with the Paramount studios.

Some actors carry dried-up spiders in their billfolds; others cherish rabbits' feet taken in a graveyard at full moon. Guy Lombardo has a sane symbol of superstition as his favorite good luck charm.

The popular band leader who makes his initial screen appearance with his Royal Canadians in Paramount's tuneful comedy, "Many Happy Returns," coming Tuesday and Wednesday to the Palace theatre, carries with him the first violin he ever owned—a $12 squonk-box with but one good string, and insists it is more precious to him than that $25,000 Strad is to Rubinoff, although Guy only played the fiddle once.

MICHIGAN WOOL CO-OP. REPORTS GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP, TONNAGE

With its active membership nearly doubled, the Michigan Cooperative Wool Marketing association thus far this year has received a greater tonnage of wool than was received during the whole 1933 season, according to reports to the cooperative division, Farm Credit Administration. Up to June 23, the association had received 349,559 pounds of wool from 886 members, compared with 248,049 pounds from 456 members during 1933.

Results of last year's sales are said to have been very satisfactory to the membership. When final settlement was made, members found they had realized several cents a pound more than they would have received by selling outright at shearing time.

All wool received by the association is delivered to the National Wool Marketing corporation at Boston, Mass., the sole sales agency for the Michigan association as well as for 29 other wool cooperatives throughout the country. The National markets the wool in an orderly manner direct to the mills, of which some 200 are among its regular customers.

Reasonable cash advances are made to each grower at the time he delivers his clip. Each clip is graded by a competent grader and sold on its merits, and final returns rendered when the wool has been marketed.

BROWN GETS COAST GUARD VESSEL FOR CHEBOYGAN HOMECOMING

Representative Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, has announced that he had secured the promise of the U. S. Coast Guard to send a vessel of that service to Cheboygan during the occasion of the home-coming and Jean Nicolet celebration at that place August 2 to 5, inclusive.

At the request of the Cheboygan Boosters Club and citizens of Cheboygan interested in the success of the home-coming celebration, Rep. Brown urged the U. S. Coast Guard Service to send one of their cutters to Cheboygan during the celebration for a demonstration and maneuvers in the harbor off the waterfront.

INDIAN POW WOW HARBOR SPRINGS

Association There July 15th

All the Indian trails of northern Michigan, be they forest, tarvia or concrete, will lead to the tourist park in Harbor Springs on Sunday, July 15, for the first annual Pow-wow and picnic of the Michigan Indian Defense association.

Indians in their war paint and feathers, beads and buck-skin, will gather there for the day to participate in a program full of events, consisting of addresses made in Indian and English by well known men of northern Michigan, games and contests for the children and grown-ups, and dancing. This last feature will see the Indians of this day and age harking back to the days of their forefathers, to stage a real christening ceremony (not a make-believe) done in the true Indian fashion of years ago.

There will be a membership campaign on during the day.

The highlight of the day's events will be an all-star Indian ball game. Players will be selected from the best of all the Indian players in northern Michigan.—Emmet County Graphic.

GASOLINE TAXES ARE INCREASING

Expect $1,600,000 Greater Revenue Than Previous Year

Michigan's revenue from gasoline taxes this year is expected to be approximately $1,600,000 greater than in 1933.

This estimate is obtained from department of state statistics which show that $7,604,095 was collected in gasoline taxes during the first five months this year as compared with $6,919,759 during the same period last year.

The records also indicate that the increase is due to the fact that the weight tax reduction placed more automobiles on the highway. The gasoline tax for January 1934 was below that of January 1933, while each succeeding month has shown an increase over the corresponding month a year ago.

KILLING BARBERRY CUTS RUST LOSSES

The loss of grain from rust in 13 north central states is reported as decreasing from an average of 51,279,000 bushels a year in the period 1916-21 to an average loss of 3,471,000 bushels yearly in the period 1928-33, according to the leader of barberry eradication at Michigan State college.

The work of destroying the common barberry plant, which is one host of grain rust, began in 1918 and has proceeded in Michigan since that time, as rapidly as funds have permitted. All counties in the lower peninsula have been surveyed and the bushes found were destroyed. Similar work has been finished in three upper peninsula counties.

The surveys and destruction of bushes has furnished employment to 150 men during two or three months this year. School children have learned to identify the barberry and many of them have located and have reported isolated bushes which had escaped the attention of adult workers. Youngsters who help the work by making these reports are awarded a button in the "Rust Busters Club."

FITZGERALD DECLARES PLACES IN HIS OFFICE ARE OUT OF POLITICS

Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, last week emphatically told employes of his office their jobs are not dependent on support of his candidacy.

In a letter to all employes of the office of secretary of state Mr. Fitzgerald said:

"In connection with my candidacy for the office of Governor I wish to state my position clearly so that there may be no misunderstanding. Employment in the Secretary of State's office is not predicated upon political support, but, on the contrary, upon ability and willingness to perform the various tasks assigned to you.

"Every associate of mine in the Department of State can feel absolutely free to support as openly as he or she wishes any candidate for any office. Absolute political freedom is yours. The only support I want in my campaign is support that my followers feel I have earned. In the Department of State, I want you to continue as you have in the past — carry out the tasks assigned you promptly, efficiently and courteously."

MANY COUNTY ROADS TO BE DUST-PROOFED

Road Commission Outlines Program Covering Total 38½ Miles

At the last meeting of the Charlevoix county road commission an extensive program of dust-proofing Charlevoix county highways was outlined and is now under way.

A total of 31 miles of roads, including principal county roads where traffic is heaviest, will be treated with oil, and 7½ miles with calcium chloride. It is the most extensive program undertaken in recent years.

At the next regular meeting of the commission, mayors of the several cities of the county will be invited to attend and present their views on highway requirements. Other groups will be called in at future meetings. The move is aimed to bring the public and road commission in better accord and understanding.

OPEN REPUBLICAN RACE LOOKED FOR

SEVENTEEN PETITIONS OUT FOR NINE COUNTY OFFICES

Only Two Have Been Actually Filed All Present Office Holders Will Seek Nomination

Not until Tuesday, July 24th, the deadline for filing nomination petitions for the September primary election, will the line-up of Republican candidates be actually known.

Seventeen petitions are now in circulation for the eight county and one legislative office to be filled. Up to the present time only two petitions have actually been filed with the county clerk.

However, with six days remaining before petitions must be in, it is anticipated the number will be greater. While no formal announcements have been made up to the present time, it is positively known that all present office-holders will seek nomination, the line-up including Fenton R. Bulow for clerk, Miss Lillis Flanders for treasurer, Frank F. Bird for register of deeds, Floyd W. Ikens for sheriff, Arthur L. Fitch for prosecuting attorney, S. B. Stackus, Boyne City, and F. F. McMillan, Charlevoix, for coroners, Frank H. Wangeman, East Jordan, for road commissioner, and Douglas D. Tibbitts for representative in the state legislature from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district.

Willard A. Smith has formally announced his candidacy for sheriff and it is understood petitions are in circulation for Henry Steimel of Boyne City, former sheriff and present deputy. L. G. Corneil of East Jordan, has announced his candidacy for county treasurer, and Rollie L. Lewis, Charlevoix city attorney, will seek the office of circuit court commissioner, resigned by James Winters.

It is understood petitions are in circulation for Samuel E. Rogers of East Jordan, for road commissioner, and the petition of R. G. Watson, also of East Jordan, has been filed for the same office, indicating a three-way fight for the job. It has been intimated Edward S. Stacks of Boyne Falls, present county surveyor, will oppose Frank F. Bird for the nomination for register of deeds, and that Attorney C. M. Bice of East Jordan, will contest the nomination of A. L. Fitch for prosecuting attorney.

NEW PAVING JOBS NEARLY COMPLETED

Stretch North of Boyne Falls On U. S. 131 to Be Opened Soon

Paving work on the new route of U. S. 131 south of Petoskey was resumed the first of this week.

There remains about a mile and a half to be completed on the Emmet county section of the job. Once the concrete paving is completed the work of shouldering the road will be undertaken.

The concrete work on the Charlevoix county section of the job was to be finished Monday, unless there is some unexpected delay. There the concrete machine is being worked on the last intersection. There will then be the shoulders to fill and improve before the job is finished.

It is expected the state will open this stretch of paving within a week or two after the concrete work is finished. One week's time is usually necessary for the concrete to harden.

Petoskey Portland cement is being used on the entire job.

COMSTOCK PAROLES SET A HIGH RECORD

More Lifers Have Been Commuted In Past Two Years

Life sentences have been commuted under the Michigan administration of the last 18 months more than four times as fast as under the five governors who preceded Gov. William A. Comstock, parole records show.

Sentences of 30 "lifers" have been commuted since Comstock came into office 18 months ago, an average of 20 per year. In the 20 years of the five preceding administrations, 91 life sentences, an average of 4.55 per year, were commuted.

Under Gov. Woodbridge N. Ferris, 16 life sentences were commuted. There were 17 under Albert E. Sleeper, 26 under Alex J. Groesbeck, 30 under Fred W. Green, and five under Wilber M. Brucker.

Prisoners whose sentences were commuted during the Ferris administration served an average of 24 years. Under Sleeper they served an average of 23, under Groesbeck 12.3, Green 15, Brucker 22. This compared to an average of 10 and one-half years for life-term prisoners whose sentences were commuted since W. Alfred Debo became commissioner of pardons and paroles.

HILARIOUS FARCE OFFER THIS WEEK

DRAMA CAMP PRESENTING "SCRAMBLED MATRIMONY"

"Ghost Train," Last Week's Production, Well Received by Large Audiences

Thrills! Chills! Shrieks! Grinding of brakes and the clang of signal bells marked the tempo at the National Dramatic camp at Ironton last week, when the company so adequantely produced the thrilling play "The Ghost Train."

All of the members of the company appeared in this play and it was of great interest for Ironton fans to greet their old friends who were members last year, and to welcome the talented new members of the group.

Acting honors last week went to Maury Tuckerman in the role of the English detective who pretends stupidity in order to explode the local crime that motivated the actions of "The Ghost Train." Dorothy Fritz was effectively cast as the feminine leader of the crooks and was dramatically responsible for the exciting ending of the second act.

Other members of the cast were Gretcher Rickel, Hazel Allen, Elvera Baker, Lester Griffith, David Houman, Dell Hughes, Harry Young, William Kimball and Gregory Miller.

Exciting scenic effects and off stage noises were well executed by Murry Roth.

The week of July 18, 19 and 20 the players will present an hilarious farce, "Scrambled Matrimony," that is said to be one of the fastest moving, funniest plays of the day.

Great enthusiasm and large audiences mark the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening productions at the theatre by the lake on Route 66.

DEPARTMENT HOLDS REFUND WARRANTS

At least 1,000 Michigan motorists have not received their weight tax refund warrants because they moved without leaving a proper forwarding address.

This number of warrants was returned to the department of state and are being held in a special file until motorists write to the department and give the proper address. Inquiries are being received at the rate of 25 a day.

REGISTER OFFICE PAYS CO. PROFIT

RECEIPTS OF RECORDING EXCEEDS SALARY PAID

Period from Last December to June 30th Sets New Record for Number Transactions Handled

For a seven-month period, starting with December, 1933, and ending June 30, 1934, the office of the Charlevoix county register of deeds has turned over the greatest volume of business in its history, according to records made available by Frank F. Bird.

A flood of approximately $200,000 in loans to county farmers through the National Farm Loan association and the Federal Land bank has accounted for the great increase—an increase which has put the office on a money-making basis for the county in addition to providing funds for payment of back taxes and the release of farm mortgages held by county banking institutions.

According to Mr. Bird, fees for transactions of the office for the seven-month period mentioned above have totalled $2,070.65. Of this amount $1,488.65 has been actually collected and the balance is due for the recording of federal loans which are now in the process of completion. The cost to the county during the same period was approximately $1,175 for salary and office clerk hire, leaving a profit of $895.65. All fees of the office go to the county, the register of deeds now being strictly on a salary.

It is worthy of mention that Charlevoix county has received a greater number of loans than some other counties of the district. This fact is attributed largely by those representing the federal loan agencies to the promptness with which work has been handled in the office of the register of deeds.

BAN ON "TRAP" NET FISHING IS SOUGHT

Gill Net Fishermen Seek Closing of Lake Michigan Waters

Gill net fishermen plan to petition the state department of conservation to close Lake Michigan waters from St. Joseph to Mackinaw City to trap fishing to "save the whitefish supply which is endangered."

The Western Michigan Fishermen's Protective association called a meeting for last Sunday at Frankfort to conclude the drive against the trap netters.

PRENTISS M. BROWN SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Cites Record of Supporting President's Recovery Program

Citing his record of supporting President Roosevelt's administration, Rep. Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, Saturday announced his candidacy for re-election on the Democratic ticket as representative in congress from the 11th congressional district.

He is completing his first term, with a fine record for participation in President Roosevelt's national recovery program. He announced that he has supported every effort of the administration to raise wages and provide greater security for those who have aged in industry.

In addition he has given his attention and devoted his efforts to measures for reforestation and conservation, public employment, farm relief, improving the fishing industry and agriculture, and safeguarding bank deposits.

He cited that this district has more CCC camps than any comparable district in the country. He promised that if re-elected, he will continue his program for which he worked during his past term, and to do his part in aiding national economic recovery.

1934 AUTO PLATES ARE NOW AVAILABLE

DEADLINE FOR HALF RATE STICKERS IS AUGUST 1

Necessary Information to Obtain Plates Is Outlined by Manager of Local Branch Office

Owners of passenger and commercial automobiles and trailers may purchase 1934 license plates at half price on and after July 25, 1934 (Wednesday) regardless of whether or not they have previously purchased a half-year sticker, or whether or not their car has been licensed for the preceding year.

Every applicant for plates must bring a certificate of title covering the car which he desires to license. Every applicant who purchased a half-year sticker, extending the use of the 1933 license plates, should bring in the certificate of registration that he received at the time the ticker was purchased in addition to the certificate of title. Such certificate of registration is required to be attached to the new application for 1934 plates at half rate so as to show how much was paid for the first half.

If you purchase a second-hand car, be sure that the certificate of title covering this car is properly assigned to you by the owner—completely filled out and notarized—before you present the certificate for license. Have all trucks and commercial vehicles (except passenger cars used as taxis) properly weighed on official scales and bring in the official weight ticket for same.

Try and observe the office hours set by the branches and do not come around noon or after quitting time at night without first making special arrangements over the telephone or in person. This will save embarassment and delay and help to expedite the sale of licenses. The hours at the Charlevoix office will be from 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

ANNUAL RIVIERA TENNIS TOURNAMENT AUG. 6-12

Advance Entries Indicate Event Will Be Largely Patronized

Over six hundred invitations have been issued and the early receipt of entries is an indication that the tournament will be well patronized this year. The dates, set and sanctioned by the Western Lawn Tennis association, are August 6 to 12, inclusive.

Several players of national ranking have made known their intention of entering competition this year, and Petoskey, Bay View and other northern Michigan resorts will furnish their usual quota of stars.

DEMOCRATS NAME LIST CANDIDATES

ANNOUNCE FULL TICKET FOR ELECTION CAMPAIGN

With No Opposition Within Party, Names Will Not Appear Until November General Election

A full ticket of Democratic candidates for state and county offices of Charlevoix county and district was named Monday evening.

At a party caucus held at East Jordan, a committee previously appointed to contact and line up candidates for the fall election campaign, reported the following selections which were endorsed by the meeting:

For state representative, Charlevoix-Leelanau district—E. E. Cross, Charlevoix.

For sheriff—George Hanson, East Jordan.

For county clerk — William P. Hicken, Charlevoix.

For county treasurer—Harold Saffron, Boyne City.

For register of deeds—L. W. Ellis, East Jordan.

For county surveyor—Robert F. Sloan, Charlevoix.

For coroners—Dr. George King, Charlevoix, and Dr. James B. McGregor, Boyne City.

For county road commissioner — Daniel Swanson, East Jordan.

While the names of the above candidates will not appear on the primary election ballot of Tuesday, September 11, due to the fact there is no opposition within the party, they will appear in opposition to the Republican nominees at the November general election.

The meeting Monday evening was the largest attended of any Democratic gathering held so far in Charlevoix county. In addition to selection of candidates, preliminary plans for the fall campaign were arranged to carry the party's office-seekers to the public.

JACK KELLY STOCK CO. HERE THURSDAY

Start Four-Night Engagement at Legion Grounds, Garfield Avenue

Starting Thursday, July 26, the Jack Kelly Stock company, which has long been a big favorite in this city, will return for an engagement of four nights and one matinee playing under the auspices of the American Legion and the big beautiful tent theatre will be erected next to the Legion home on the hill.

While this has been an off season for many shows, Jack Kelly went right ahead and engaged the best company he has had in years and the selection of plays this year is the very best.

On Thursday night the entire strength of the company will be seen in the latest comedy success, "Awakening Of Johnny Slater." This play has had a long run in both New York and Chicago and if you like a good laugh you don't want to miss this play Thursday night. It will also serve to introduce local theatre-goers to Billy Carnish, one of the youngest and best of the comedians of the stage today and as a special feature for this night Mr. Kelly will admit one lady free with each paid adult ticket.

Between the acts this year you will have many surprises as there will be from five to seven acts each evening and many of them having appeared in the leading vaudeville theatres of this country. This list is headed by Lloyd and Lola Connelly, the clever musical acts seen here last season with Mr. Kelly.

On Saturday afternoon a special feature for the children, a new version of "Little Orphan Annie." This performance will start at 2:30, so send the kiddies as they will love "Little Annie" with the kidnappers. During the engagement the plays and vaudeville will be changed nightly.

How Lovers Bungled Their Perfect Murder

Discussing the case of a woman and her sweetheart who tried, at first, to hire assassins to "kill" her husband, then did it themselves—but a smart policeman noticed that the gun was left in the wrong place and the bed was not rumpled. THE TIRE SENSATION OF '34

Sells on Sight!

TO SEE it is to buy it! That's the way extra value stands out in the new Firestone Century Progress Tire. We found out what car owners wanted most in a tire—then we gave it to them. Out of more than ten million visitors to the Firestone Factory at the World's Fair last year, we obtained this opinion: "Give us Blowout Protection, Non-Skid Safety, and Long Wear, at a Moderate Price."

That was a large order, and the price part of it was our biggest problem. We said to ourselves: "Surely, if millions of people could get the tire they wanted, they would BUY!" We could see volume production . . . resulting in unbelievably low prices — and savings for millions of car owners who wanted the safety, long wear, and dependability of a first quality tire, at a price that would permit them to replace not only one tire but all four tires.

So we built the greatest tire ever made to sell at these low prices. Then the wave of buying started—car owners from Coast to Coast bought — not just one or two tires — but complete sets!

Go to the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store in your community TODAY! See the new Firestone Century Progress Tire—just look at the broad, husky shoulders, massive flat tread, deep-cut non-skid and Gum-Dipped cords. Did you ever see so much tire for so little money? WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

ED. TAYLOR

The first council ring ceremony of the season was held last Wednesday evening. It was sort of an initiation service for the new boys and men so that they might be acquainted with the requirements for entrance to the tribe of Charlevoix. All of the new campers and counsellors were led to the sacred ring blindfolded. After the fire lighting ceremony the Great White Chief gave a resume of the history of the tribe of Charlevoix. Larry Quinn then told about the necessary requirements a boy must live up to to become an Indian which is the lowest award. The requirements for the highest award, the Warrior, were given by Tim Neal. Oke Oldham then told how a member could become a Young Eagle and a Young Chief. In camp this year there are three young chiefs and three young eagles. Frank Harlow, Tim Neaf and Curt Matthews are Young Chiefs, while Bob Beuhler, Louie Baker and Ed. Taylor are Young Eagles. The records of last year which were buried at the final council ceremony, were then dug up by Young Chief Harlow and Young Eagle Taylor. The great White Chief then read the records and some of the quotations made by different boys at the end of last season. The meeting was ended by the singing of the Omaha tribeual prayer.

Friday was a day that will long be remembered by everyone in camp. Right after rest hour the whole camp went over to Ironton, the site of the old camp and which is now the home of the Dramatics camp, to spend the rest of the day. Some went by canoe while the rest went on the truck and in cars. After having several ball games everyone went in for a dip. Although Skid Livingstone sat on the sandwiches everyone enjoyed their supper of lemonade, fruit and sandwiches. A game of "Swat the Kaiser" was then played but since it is very complicated the details will be omitted. At 7:45 everybody gathered in the little theatre located at the Dramatics Camp and witnessed the play, "The Ghost Train." The play was both mysterious and funny, so it was enjoyed by all.

Tuesday competition between the Greens and the Grays was started. Captains were appointed for each side in each section. "Red" Boetticher and George Cunningham were selected for the greens and the grays respectively, in the senior section. In the intermediate section George Hain leads the Grays while Bob Bennett is the Green commander. Bob Henderson was chosen as captain of the junior Grays and Eddie Robertson the junior Greens. Tuesday afternoon a track and field meet opened the competition. Five events, the high jump, broad jump, shot put, dash and an obstacle race were held. The Grays were victorious in the junior section, winning 26-14. The Greens turned the tables in the intermediate section by scoring 29 points to their rivals 26. The senior meet ended with the Grays on the winning end by a score of 28-21. In the senior meet "Red" Boetticher, Ted Mattson and Jim Daniels scored five points for the Greens while Keith Wright, Ray Pinkham and Bill Brownell tallied five markers for the Grays. In the intermediate section Jim Karn was the only man to score five points and he represented the Grays. In the junior events Bob Henderson, John Wright, Bob Lausten, Billy Sill and Scotty Woods scored five tallies for the Grays and for the Greens Alger Sheldon and Tommy Drueckmiller scored five points.

The Grays defeated their rivals in a baseball game held at the Dramatics Camp Friday afternoon by a score of 17-15. George Hain and Bill Martin pitched for the winning side while Dave Wilson and John Swisher shared the hurling duties for the Greens.

Saturday afternoon competition among the two teams was resumed with an obstacle race and a swimming meet being held. The Greens won the obstacle race by two minutes. The course was laid out all over the camp and all of the boys in camp competed. The race included running, swimming, basket shooting, riflery, canoeing, rowing, bicycling, eating, pushing an orange with one's nose, wheelbarrow racing and other events. The course was covered in an hour and ten minutes. In the senior swimming meet the Grays were victorious 23-22. Boetticher led the losers, scoring 12 points, while Ray Shewell was high scorer for the Grays with six points. In the intermediate meet the Greens won 28-17, Dave Wilson scored 12 points for the winners while Borden scored nine for the losers. The Grays won the junior events 16-11. Bob Camp was high scorer for the Grays while Bob Henderson led the Greens.

Saturday evening an all camp night was held with the entire group gathering on the beach for an informal get-together. Harlan Bond led the group in singing a few familiar songs, after which Bob Lyon told an Indian story. Bond and Larry Quinn then sang a few cowboy songs, accompanied by Wendall Gates at the organ.

Each section had its own special program for Sunday afternoon and evening. The juniors took the truck and went to Young state park where they had a great time swimming and playing ball. Frank Smith and Bob Beuhler took their cabin to Mt. McSauba on the horses while the rest of the intermediates went to Charlevoix where they swam in Lake Michigan. The seniors stayed in camp using the boats and playing tennis. Herm Everhardus, the demon fisherman, led another unsuccessful fishing trip to Susan lake. At the senior camp fire Sunday evening Herm Everhardus told the boys of his experiences playing football and answered all the questions which were hot at him by his interested listeners.

Mark Wakefield gave a short talk in church Sunday morning using as his subject, "Suggestions to Make Friendships." Dr. John Olwin read the scripture while Frank Smith gave a short prayer. Paul Van Kneren and Wiley Hitchcock sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Reimann. Sidney Frohman offered a piano solo while the collection was being taken.

"Tad" Wieman will arrive Thursday to begin his instruction in football. During the next ten days most of the activities of the camp will be centered around him. We feel that we are very fortunate in having him with us and know that his stay will be beneficial to everyone in camp.

Monday evening four cabins were out on overnights, the first of the season. Cabins 12 and 13 went to Mt. McSauba via the truck, while cabins 9 and 10 took the canoes and the sailboat and went down the lake.

Saturday Charlevoix will be hosts to Camp Fairwood. The lads from Torch lake will come to play baseball with us and be our guests for supper. One game will include all the boys 13 and under while the other will be for the older boys and assistant counsellors. Here's hoping that we will be able to strike up athletic relations with Fairwood as friendly as those with Camp Algonquin.

SOW RYE TO KEEP STOCK ON PASTURE

Fall and Early Spring Forage Will Conserve Supply of Winter Feed

Reports from the field show that farmers have adopted many expedients to replace the shortage of hay and other forage in the state and many will want to use the suggestion of the farm crops department at Michigan State college to plant rye for fall pasture to keep the herds out of the barn as long as possible.

County agricultural agents and seed dealers say that the sale of sudan grass, soybeans, millet and fodder corn have been the greatest in years. This was occasioned by plantings made by farmers after the drought had injured alfalfa and clovers. All three crops are recommended by crops experts but the Michigan season for planting them successfully is past and other measures must be used.

Early sown rye will furnish both fall and spring pasture, and the indications are that pasture will be needed early next year. Rye can be sown on disked stubble fields where seedings are unsatisfactory or in corn fields after the last cultivation.

The sowing can be done in July and all following months and the seed will germinate any time there is sufficient moisture in the ground.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page.

There has been little change either in the selection or price of fruits and vegetables during the past week. Several vegetables which are suitable for stuffing and baking are available, among them squash, cucumbers, tomatoes, egg plant and green peppers. The stuffings may be of seasoned vegetable pulp and bread crumbs, or a combination of these with chopped meat or bacon. Other vegetables — such as green and wax beans, carrots, beets and potatoes—may be cooked in the cool of the morning and reheated for dinner service or else served as salads. Green peas and lima beans also help to make attractive and substantial salads. Eggs are moderately priced and, when hard-cooked, turn the vegetable salad into a main dish.

Here are three Sunday dinner menus:

Low Cost Dinner

Pressed Beef Potato Salad
Whole Pickled Beets
Bread and Butter
Chocolate Pudding
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Veal Cutlet Creamed Potatoes
Green Peas
Bread and Butter
Green Apple Pie
Coffee (hot or iced) Milk

Very Special Dinner

Stuffed Celery
Roast Beef
New Potatoes Green Beans
Tomato and Lettuce Salad
Peanut Butter Muffins Butter
Peach Bavarian
Coffee (hot or iced) Milk

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 7: 13,14): "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadth unto life, and few there be that find it."
